Certificate from H. Williams, Esq., Treasurer of the Worcester Railroad.
BOSTON, Oct. 22, 1867.
MR. HILL:—I have used Warren's ELASTIC VENTILATING INNER SOLES through a portion of the last winter with great satisfaction, as a means of keeping the feet warm and dry.
Being troubled with tender feet, I have continued their use with tighter boots through the summer, and found them very satisfactory in keeping them DRIER and COOLER in hot weather, and giving an agreeable elasticity in walking.
Very truly yours,

THE SMACK IN SCHOOL.

BY WM. PITT PALMER.

A district school not far away,
'Mid Berkshire hills, one winter's day
Was humming with its wonted noise
Of threescore mingled girls and boys;
Some few upon their task intent,
But more on furtive mischief bent,
That while the master's downward look
Was fastened on a copy-book;
When suddenly, behind his back,
Rose sharp and clear a rousing SMACK!
As 'twere a battery of bliss
Set off in one tremendous kiss.
What's that? the startled master cries;
That thir, a little imp replies,
With William Willith, if you pleathe—
I thaw him kith Thuthannah Peathe!
With frown to make a statue thrill,
The master thundered "Hither Will!"
Like wretch o'ertaken in his track,
With olden chattels on his back,
Will hung his head in fear and shame,
And to the awful presence came—
A great, green, bashful simpleton,
The butt of all good-natured fun—
With smile suppressed and birch upraised,
The threatener faltered—"I'm amazed
That you, my biggest pupil should
Be guilty of an act so rude!
Before the whole set school to boot—
What evil genius put you to't?
"'Twas she herself," sobbed the lad,
"I didn't mean to be so bad—
But when Susannah shook her curls,
And whispered I was 'fraid of girls,
And durs'n't kiss a baby's doll,
I couldn't stand it, sir, at all,
But up and kissed her on the spot!
I know—boo boo—I ought to not,
But somehow from her looks—boo hoo—
I thought she kind o' wished me to!"

☞ Bulwer Lytton says that a refined gentleman may always be known by the perfume he uses. In American society it is regarded as a mark of elevated taste to patronize Phalon's Night-Blooming Cereus. Its purity, freshness, and delicacy commend it to all persons of poetic taste and feeling.—Concord Patriot.

MISSES.

Unlucky Vulcan! Venus tricked him;
A fashion with the ladies this is.
I'm not amiss; but I'm a victim
To a whole host of wicked misses.

Miss Fit supplies my boots and coats,
And vain is all my indignation;
My cash-book and my gold and notes
Are managed by Miss Calculation.

Miss Take has played me many a trick;
Miss Spell will always write my letters;
Miss Trust declines to give me tick;
Miss Manage lets off all my debtors.

Miss Print is wont to spoil my rhyme—
A very wicked habit is hers:
And if they quote me any time,
Miss Quote's the girl to use the scissors.

When Christmas bumpers overflow,
And bells ring loud from many a minster,
I can't get near to Miss L To Save with some very ancient spinster.

Well, easy 'tis down hill to glide,
And vain Paren to importune;
So let me wed my bonny bride—
A charming child she is—Miss Fortune.

Echoes from the Clubs.

A CONSISTENT DINNER OF HORSE FLESH.—A few days ago Mr. W. Forsyth partook in the French capital of a banquet of five courses, all horseflesh from beginning to end—the very vegetables being dressed with "horse-oil" instead of butter, to secure uniformity in the entertainment. The dinner, he assures the London Times, was excellent. Every dish was palatable, appetizing and nutritious. It is not pretended that the meat was actually better than ox-beef, but it was every bit as good, and in fact, except for a little darkness of color, was not to be distinguished from the sirloin of the shope. The "horse-oil" will probably be regarded as the most doubtful article in the bill of fare, but our correspondent adds that two bottles of the neat extract were put upon the table for inspection, and that the olive oil could not have been sweeter, clearer, or more perfectly free from all objectionable qualities.

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified enconiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.

Caution
To Females in Delicate Health.
DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No. 7 Endicott St., Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri or Fluor Albus, Suppression and other menstrual derangements, are all treated on new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a very few days. So invariably certain is this new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women than any other hysician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations for those who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1867.

A GOLDEN BIRTH DAY PARTY.—On Friday, Nov. 8, a social, festive and joyous party was assembled at the well known old Sanborn place in Hampton, near Exeter, at the invitation of Miss Clara Ann Sanborn, to celebrate the 50th anniversary of her birth. We would have been glad to say we met in the old Sanborn mansion, which was so long the home of abundant hospitality and cheerful piety; but this is impossible, for the old house was burnt to the ground something more than three years ago, and the present mansion, where we met, has risen from its ashes.

The kindness of many friends at the time of distress, and their continued friendship since, induced the sisters living there to select this day as the occasion for a social festival; and accordingly they invited about an hundred and forty persons to become their guests on that day and evening.—Nearly all responded by their presence; and over one hundred were present at one time during the evening.

The services began by a noble country dinner, for which the Lord sent the meat,—but for which Diabolos did NOT send the cooks; and this was partaken of, by a score of guests, with a relish which was more eloquent than words in praise of the repast.

Then the company began to gather in, and by supper time, which was at early candle-light, (as we used to say about evening meetings,) we sat with tableful after tableful of guests, till all had eaten to the full and left.

Miscellaneous conversations followed, in which old acquaintances were renewed and new ones formed; and as many guests had not come empty-handed, the presents were displayed in some variety, of the useful and convenient more than of the fanciful, tho' there was much good taste. The literary friends brought a few choice books; other friends the needful silver ware; some had brought furniture,—and one friend had given a present which most of the evening guests did not see, viz., a roasting pig that had adorned and enriched the dinner.

Laighton's Song of the Old Folks was sung in Old Lang Syne,—remarks were made by two of the ministers present, and by another guest, and a prayer closed the formal exercises. And then, from 9 o'clock and onward, tea and coffee and cake and talk, with some laughter, were the order of the day—or rather of the night—for an hour or two, more or less, when the company, having sung Sweet home, gradually dispersed.

In the house, beside the old familiar faces, (which thank God were preserved from the destroyer) there were only a few things to remind us of what used to be there, such as the old tall clock, some ancient chairs, &c., and all else were new.

Among the guests were four ministers, viz., Messrs. Dodge and Dargin, pastors in Hampton, Eldredge of Kensington, formerly a pastor in H., and Miller of Portsmouth. But the most interesting guest, by far, to us, was the fine old architect and builder, Joshua Pike, now 88 years of age, who planned and built the new house where we were assembled, and who had, with his own hands, just finished some of the best apartments in it, which were first used on this occasion. He had, as he told us, worked in Portsmouth many years ago, and among other things said he boarded with John Miller on a rising ground a few rods north of the Parade, when he built the New Hampshire Bank, in 1803 or 4. He was not the original architect or master builder; but when this man's health failed, Mr. Pike took his place and completed the building, which is now used as the First National Bank.

Here, then, we talked with a healthy, intelligent, active man, who was a boarder and workman with the writer's father, making houses, sixty years ago, and who is making houses and planning a winter's work now. A rare instance of active longevity rarely paralleled. Many other guests were interesting, but he, to our view, exceeded them all. U. T.

☞ The Congregationalist says:

The Society at Durham have doubled the salary of their pastor, Rev. A. Tobey, D.D., thus showing such interest that he consents to remain with them instead of going West.

If any laborer is worthy of his hire, then Alvan Tobey, by steadfast integrity, pastoral faithfulness, and patient waiting for the fruit of his labors, richly deserves to have his hitherto small salary doubled.—And if the honorary title of D. D. be a proper and honorable title, in his case it is well earned. But we hold that such a man does not need it, and that its propriety, in view of the New Testament, is doubtful at best.

GOLD, Monday, 130 7-8.

— An application was made at one of the banks in Augusta, some time since, by a man who inquired, "Have you any stocks for sale?" "Certainly, sir; what do you wish—U. S. 7-30's?" "Well, I want a good, durable stock, the right length for my neck!"

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—Mr. Jonathan S. Page, son of J. S. Page of Raymond, while at work on the Railroad at St. Albans, Vt., shackling cars, had his right arm caught between the bunters, receiving a severe wound and fracture at the elbow joint. After two months' suffering he was brought home, and on Tuesday of last week his arm was amputated just below the shoulder joint, by Drs. Gould of Raymond and Burnham of Epping. He is now doing well.

On Wednesday last Mrs. Taskor of East Concord, a widow, in the seventy-ninth year of her age, and lame, started from her home to walk to Nashua to see some relatives. Unable to pay her fare in a public conveyance, she decided to take the highway. The first day she walked to Hookett, twelve miles, on Thursday to Manchester, nine miles further, and on Friday resumed her journey to Nashua. Charitable persons gave her food and lodgings on her journey. She exhibits pedestrian enterprise fully up to Weston, all things considered.

Messrs. Henry M. Morse and J. V. Gardner, of Haverhill, Mass., shot 51 woodcocks in a day and a half, last week, in the neighborhood of Hampstead.

A SEPTENARIAN WEDDING.—We read of silver weddings, when the parties have been married 25 years; and of golden weddings, when they have lived together 50 years; but here is a case rarer still, and we have no name for it. On the 7th day of November, A. D. 1867, at North Hampton, the venerable Mr. John Pike and wife celebrated the 70th anniversary of their marriage. Mr. Pike is nearly 92 years old, and is somewhat known. He was formerly keeper of Fort McClary,—and he is a brother of Joshua Pike who is mentioned in the account of the Golden Birth Day Feast at Hampton.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—Gen. Grant has issued a circular stating that much property abandoned by the rebels during the war has since been occupied by them without making the required application. All such property will be formally taken possession of by the Government on the first of January next, and rented to refugees and freedmen.

Gen. Howard has gone on an extensive tour of inspection South, concerning the freedmen.

Senator Sherman, who is now in Washington, says it the Presidential election was to take place in Ohio, a week hence, either Gen. Grant or Chief Justice Chase could carry the State on the Republican platform. Senator Sherman is much disgusted with the present timidity of the Republicans.

The Washington Star says Mrs. Senator Sumner will preside over the Senator's mansion in Washington the coming winter if her health permits. His residence on Lafayette Avenue has not been sold as reported. [This latter item, if correct, shows that the stories about Mrs. S. and her husband were only a small part of the Washington babble, sent out to influence the late elections. Verily, those who made the stories have their reward.]

☞ Miss Ellen E. Vans, a teacher of elocution in New York city, accidentally poisoned herself last week. The deceased had on her bureau with the tincture of rhubarb, a vial containing cyanite of potassium, which she used in removing ink stains from her clothing and fingers. Wishing to take a dose of the rhubarb, by mistake she opened the bottle of potassium and swallowed a quantity of the poison. After screaming for help the unfortunate lady was soon reduced to insensibility, and expired in a few minutes afterward. Deceased, who was a lady of unusual intelligence, was a native of Boston, where she has a mother and other relatives living.

☞ The Boston Herald says the gossips have enjoyed a malicious gratification recently in a reported disagreement, or something worse, between Senator and Mrs. Sumner, which is now set at rest. It was stated that Mrs. Sumner went abroad alone, but the truth of the matter is that she was accompanied by her brother, and her absence was prolonged until her husband finished his lecturing tour through the West. While in Paris she was continually in the company of her sister, and sailed for New York on the same vessel with her.

— There are fifteen thousand printers in this country of which, about six thousand belong to the unions.

— An irreverent exchange suggests that the Te Deum in many churches continues throughout the service.

— The Charleston Courier of the 5th rightly thinks it a "most hopeful indication of the growing prosperity of Charleston" that obligations amounting to more than one-half the whole banking capital of the city, were met on the 4th without any borrowing from the banks or a single failure to pay. The aggregate sum which changed hands during the day fell only a little short of a quarter of a million dollars, and this did not include a large amount, represented by notes in the hands of private bankers which was paid with equal promptness.

☞ The N. Y. Herald's Washington special says Gen. Emory has issued an order disbanding all the military companies, black and white, in the District, by order of Gen. Grant.

Though the Secretary of the Treasury has received large orders for Ten-Forty bonds, he has decided not to accept them at present.

☞ The Democracy talk of carrying New Hampshire in March by 10,000 majority. We hope they won't carry the old State far from Union and Liberty.

A GREAT LUNG MEDICINE.—There is one medicine which has been prepared for the cure of affections of the lungs, which has been very largely used and tested, which we wish to recommend to the public for the reason that we can do it in all truth and sincerity, believing as we do, that it is not and never has been surpassed for excellence and thorough efficiency.

That medicine is "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM." It is prepared by a chemical process and apparatus of more than ordinary costly nature, and it is beyond all question a never failing and thoroughly complete cure for coughs and affections of the lungs, even when the latter are of a very serious and threatening character. One excellent physician goes so far as to state publicly over his own signature that he has a perfect conviction that deep seated pulmonary consumption has been cured by the use of Allen's Lung Balsam; and there are an abundance of the most respectable testimonials that it has in innumerable instances effectually cured very severe coughs of long standing, accompanied with cold chills, night-sweats and diarrhœa—the system of the sufferer being, in some cases very much prostrated.

We do not hesitate to say, from our knowledge of the virtues of this Balsam, and from the entire confidence we have in the character of its proprietors, and the statement of certain citizens who have repeatedly used the medicine, that it is really one of the best things ever yet discovered for the cure of the peculiar maladies for which it is designed. We will only add that every one who has an affection of the lungs, get a bottle of "Allen's Lung Balsam," and give it a fair trial. Having done this, they will need no testimonials to convince them of its extraordinary merits.—Providence Advertiser.

— It is said that in New York those branches of trade in which the longest credit is given are the dullest, and those firms who do nearly a cash business not only feel the least inconvenience in meeting their obligations, but have the best trade.

Dyspeptic persons, would you be cured of this dreadful disease, and all others arising from the use of common Saleratus? Also, have white, light and healthy bread and biscuits? Do not fail to procure a paper of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus, after which you will never use any other. Sold by grocers in the world. Try it. Call on your grocer for it. 500 MILES OF THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD.

Running West from Omaha

ACROSS THE CONTINENT, ARE NOW COMPLETED.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company have built a longer line of railroad in the last eighteen months than was ever built by any other company in the same time, and they are now pushing the work with the same energy until it is completed. The Western Division is being pushed rapidly eastward from Sacramento by the Central Pacific Company of California, and it is expected that to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.—More than one-half of the work now remaining to be done, more than one-third of the whole line is now in running order, and more laborers are now employed upon it than ever before.

THE ENTIRE GRAND LINE

Forty Million Dollars in Money

have already been expended by the two powerful companies that have undertaken the enterprise, and there is no lack of funds for its most vigorous prosecution. When the United States government found it necessary to secure the construction of the Union Pacific Railroad to develop and protect the Pacific coast, it gave the company ies authorized to build it such ample aid as would render its speedy completion beyond a doubt.—The available value of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, derived from the Government and its own stockholders, may be briefly summed up as follows:

1.—UNITED STATES BONDS

Having thirty years to run and being six per cent. currency interest at the rate of $16,000 per mile for the whole line, from Omaha to Ogden; then at the rate of $48,000 per mile for 150 miles through the Rocky Mountains; then at the rate of $32,000 per mile for the remaining distance, for which the United States has taken a second lien as security. The interest on these bonds is paid by the United states government, which also pays the company one-half the amount of its bills for transportation service of its freight, troops, mails, &c. The remaining half of these bills is placed to the company's credit, and forms a sinking fund which may finally discharge the whole amount of this loan. The claims against the government since April of the current year amount to four and one-half times this interest.

2.—FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS.

By its charter the Company is permitted to issue first mortgage bonds to the same amount as the bonds issued by the Government, and no more, and only as the road progresses. The Commissioners who receive orders are the Hon. D. Morgan, U. S. Senator from New York, and the Hon. Oakes Ames, Member of U. S. House of Representatives, who are responsible for the delivery of these bonds to the Company in accordance with the terms of the law.

3.—THE LAND GRANT.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company has a land grant or absolute donation from government of 12,800 acres to the mile on the line of the road, which will not be worth less than $1.50 at the lowest valuation.

4.—THE CAPITAL STOCK.

The authorized capital of the Union Pacific Railroad Company is $100,000,000, of which over $5,000,000 have been paid on the work already done.

The Means Sufficient to Build the Road.

Contracts for the entire work of building 914 miles of first-class railroad west from Omaha, comprising much of the most difficult mountain work, and embracing every expense connected therewith, have been made with responsible parties (who have already finished over 500 miles), at the average rate of eight thousand and sixty-eight dollars ($68,068) per mile. This price includes all necessary shops for construction and repairs, engines and cars, stations and all other incidental buildings, and also locomotives, passenger, baggage and freight cars and other requisite rolling stock, to an amount that shall not be less than $5,000 per mile. Allowing the cost of the remaining one hundred and eighty-six of the two hundred miles assumed to be built by the Pacific Company to be $68,000 per mile,

THE TOTAL COST OF ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES WILL BE AS FOLLOWS:

914 miles, at $68,068.....$62,245,012
186 miles, at 80,000..... 14,740,000
Add discounts on bonds, surveys, &c.' 4,500,000

Amount.....$82,445,012

As the U. S. Bonds are equal to money, and the Company's own First Mortgage Bonds have a ready market, we have as the

AVAILABLE CASH RESOURCES for BUILDING ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES:

U. S. Bonds.....$62,245,012
First Mortgage Bonds.....20,323,000
Capital stock paid in on the work now done..... 5,389,750
Land Grant, 11,059,000 acres, at 1.50 per acre..... 21,120,000

Total.....$85,145,755

The Company have ample facilities for supplying any deficiency that may arise in means for completing the line to be done during the year by additional subscriptions to capital stock.

Active inquiry has already been made for a portion of these bonds, and arrangements have been proposed to offer a part of them for sale. While their whole value will not be available for some years to come, they are now, and other bonds will be, a source of revenue to the Company. The lands of the Illinois Central Railroad Company are selling at from $12 to $20 per acre, and other land grant companies in the west are receiving equal prices for similar properties.

Future Business.

The most skeptical have never expressed a doubt that when the Union Pacific Railroad is finished the immense business that must flow over it, as the only railroad connecting the two grand divisions of the North American continent, will be one of the wonders of railway transportation; and as it will have no competitor, it can always charge remunerative rates. The Pacific Mail Steamship Company of New York is now running a regular line of its splendid steamers between San Francisco and China and Japan, which is doubtless the pioneer of other lines, that will traverse the Pacific Ocean laden with the rich products and manufactures of Eastern Asia. Excepting some very heavy or bulky articles of comparatively low values, shortness of time decides the direction of travel and most of these cargoes will find their natural transit over the Union Pacific Railroad.

It is quite within bounds to say that its traffic will be limited only by the capacity of the line, and that no other road will find a double track to necessary. California and Oregon must not only be supplied with means of transport for passengers, mail, treasure and other freights, but the inhabitants of Dacotah, Colorado, Utah, Idaho and Montana will communicate with the older States almost entirely by this road. It will be the avenue to all the great mining district, which is only awaiting these means of transport and protection to receive a population that will develop its vast mineral and other resources, and which of itself would furnish ample business for a railway line.

Earnings from Way Business.

While the through business of the Company will be amply remunerative, it is still in the future, for the present the business on the part of the road in operation has been most satisfactory.

During the quarter ending July 31, an average of 225 miles of the Union Pacific Railroad was in operation. The Superintendent's Report shows the following results:

EARNINGS.

Passengers, Freight, Telegraph, Mails, $723,755 54
Transportation of Contractors' Material and men..... 479,283 41

Total.....$1,203,038 95

EXPENSES.

Fuel, Repairs, Offices, Conductors, Trains, &c.....$395,530 92
Net Earnings to balance..... 807,508 03

Total.....$1,203,038 95

The net operating expenses on the commercial business for the quarter were $227,986 60. The account for the COMMERCIAL BUSINESS stands as follows:

Earnings for May, June and July..... $733,755 54
Expenses " " " 227,986 60

Net Profit.....$485,789 0[illegible]

The amount of bonds the company can issue on 225 miles at $16,000 per mile is $3,600,000. Interest in gold, three months, at 6 per cent. on this sum is $78,000; add 40 per cent premium, to correspond with currency earnings, is $109,200—showing that the net earnings for this quarter were more than four times the interest on the First Mortgage Bonds on this length of road.

First Mortgage Bonds,

whose principal is so amply provided for, and whose interest is so thoroughly secured, must be classed among the safest investments. They pay

Six Per Cent. in Gold,

and are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, and accrued interest at Six Per Cent. in currency from July 1.

Many parties are taking advantage of the present high price of Government stocks to exchange for these bonds, which are over FIFTEEN PER CENT. CHEAPER, and at the current rate of premium on gold, pay

Over Nine Per Cent. Interest.

SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received in Portsmouth by FIRST NATIONAL BANK, and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau street, and by

CONTINENTAL NAT. BANK No. 7 Nassau St.
CLARK, DODGE & CO., Bankers, 51 Wall St.

And by the Company's advertised Agents throughout the United States, of whom maps and descriptive pamphlets may be obtained on application. Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. n5wdm

THE SECOND LECTURE

Will be given

AT THE TEMPLE, PORTSMOUTH,

TUESDAY Evening, Nov. 12.

—BY—

MRS. E. D. Rockwood, of Natick, Mass.

Subject—"The Yankee Girl's Thoughts."

To be followed by

WENDELL PHILLIPS, Monday, Nov. 18.
ALLEN W. EVERSON, Wednesday, Nov. 27.
JOHN LORD, LL.D., Tuesday, Dec. 3.
H. R. OLIVER, Tuesday, Dec. 10.
JAMES DENORMANDIE, Tuesday, Dec. 17.
J. G. HOLLAND, Thursday, Dec. 26.

The Lecturers have been selected by our most prominent citizens, and the Lyceum this season promises to be highly interesting and entertaining.

The Temple has been much improved by painting and graining the seats. One hundred and fifty reserved Seats have been prepared for those who desire good places with their families, who cannot leave their business to spend an hour at the door. Ushers will be in attendance to show the holders of reserved tickets to their seats.

TICKETS for balance of the Course unsold, Reserved Seats, $2.50; Lower Floor, $1.50; Gallery, $1.00.

Evening Tickets for Lower Floor, 50 cents; Gallery, 35 cents.

DOORS will be open at 6 1-2 o'clock. Lectures to commence at 7 1-2 o'clock.

Tickets for sale at W. R. Preston's, C. N. Shaw & Co.'s Millinery store, E. A. Joy's Music Store, at the Temple every day, and at the door on the evenings of the Lecture.

Portsmouth, Nov. 6, 1867.

The Temple presents a very neat and inviting appearance; and with the reduced rate for tickets advertised, every one should be taken up.

The next lecture will be by a lady, who is spoken of as follows by those who know her well and are fully capable of judging:

LETTER FROM WENDELL PHILLIPS.—To the Editor of the Chicago Tribune:

Many Lyceums have made inquiries of me in regard to the new woman speaker mentioned in the extract which I enclose. I can think of no better method of answering that question than to ask you to republish this tribute to her from the New York Standard. By so doing you will not only do justice to an eloquent speaker, but aid the Lyceums if making their courses next season more interesting. WENDELL PHILLIPS.

Mrs. Ella Davis Rockwood gave her lecture, "A Yankee Girl's Thoughts," to a large and attentive audience at School House Hall, Natick, Mass., on Wednesday evening, March 6th. A correspondent says: 'The lecture evinced earnest thought on the subjects on which she spoke. We were surprised that one so young, a woman too, should have dared to speak so bravely and boldly. Mrs. R. labored under peculiar difficulties, as she was addressing for the first time her own townspeople and early companions, who seemed astonished that the school girl of yesterday had grown into the plain, outspoken woman of today.'

Mrs. R. is very prepossessing in appearance, but of slight and delicate structure, and possesses an energy and will that will force her into the front rank of our reformatory lecturers. In announcing this lecture, the Natick Times spoke of Mrs. R. as follows:

"Mrs. Rockwood has lived in Natick since her childhood. Her sudden marked success as a lecturer in temperance meetings and on the Lyceum platform has been no surprise here, where her energy and ability are well known. Nowhere has her success been hailed with more cordial satisfaction than here in her home. After speaking to full houses, many times a week for the last fifteen months, in different parts of New England and New York, she has been invited to address her neighbors, and will do so on the 6th of March next, in the School House Hall. We are sure he will have a cordial welcome. The lecture, 'A Yankee Girl's Thoughts,' has won a high reputation as thoughtful, well reasoned and elegant. We can easily believe it, for Mrs. Rockwood, though so young, has had a varied experience, and was always an original thinker. If Watertown is proud of its Harriet Hosmer; if Philadelphia always gives its Anna Dickenson the largest audiences she ever addresses: Natick, we are sure, will show its young and popular lecturer that she has the sincerest welcome and most enthusiastic recognition here, from her life long neighbors."

Still more from other sources.

Mrs. Rockwood delivered a lecture on Thursday evening, to a large audience. Many were unable to gain even a standing place in the hall and went away disappointed. Mrs. R. is a young woman, not more than twenty-one years of age, and a widow. She spoke for one hour without notes and with wonderful eloquence and power, holding the entire assemblage spell-bound from the beginning to the end. Young, handsome, graceful and perfectly self-possessed, and thoroughly baptised with the spirit of her theme, she won all hearts.—Salem Register.

We were surprised that one so young, a woman too, should have dared to speak so bravely and boldly.—New York Standard.

Fine bursts of eloquence that would have done credit to a Patrick Henry or a Webster, and which strongly reminded one of the polished oratory of her venerated uncle, served still farther to fix the attention and awaken a livelier interest in her remarks, generally, whether believing with her or not. The interest naturally excited by the appearance on the stage of a fine looking woman, together with the novelty—a novelty at least in this town—of the subject, caused that degree of stillness, almost painful, that a single inadvertent whisper actually disturbed all in the immediate vicinity.—Bristol (R. I.) Phenix.

Wendell Phillips, in writing to Mr. Norton, says of her, "She is 21 years old, handsome, eloquent, and a successful lecturer."

Music by Cornet Band.

HENRY C. BARNABEE'S

Concert Series,

Mr. Barnabee would respectfully announce that the FIRST CONCERT of the Course will take place on MONDAY EVENING, Dec. 2, 1867,

AT THE TEMPLE,

When he will be assisted by MRS. H. M. SMITH, the eminent Vocalist.

MR. WM. J. WINCH, the favorite Tenor.
MR. H. M. DOW, Pianist and Accompanist, and
PROF. WALLACH, the wonderful performer on the "Mouth Harmonion."

TICKETS for the series of THREE CONCERTS and an "EVENING WITH BARNABEE," at $1, may be had at the usual places on and after Monday, Nov. 11. Nov. 9.

THE REMEDY FOR CURING

Consumption, Asthma, Croup, Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppressions of the Chest or Lungs, Difficult Breathing, and all Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

Its action is expectorant, alterative sudorific, sedative, diaphoretic and diuretic, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration and assists the life blood to throw off the phlegm; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS and PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action and imparts strength to the whole system. It is warranted to subdue the most distressing cough in the most confirmed cases of consumption, and it not to produce costiveness (as do most remedies) or effect the head, as all opium is opium in any form. It is PERFECTLY HARMLESS in the most delicate child, although an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. There is no necessity for so many deaths by consumption, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

DR. T. ALLCOCK, Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart, and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. DR. SCHENCK, THE LUNG DOCTOR.

☞ The Proprietor of SCHENK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, the inventor of SCHENK'S RESPIROMETER, the only instrument that can to a certainty detect the slightest murmur of the respiratory organs.

This is of great importance to DR. SCHENCK, to know the exact condition of the lungs, whether it is Tuberculous, Pulmonary, Bronchial, Pleuritic, or Dyspeptic Consuption, and whether it is both lungs or only one that are diseased.

It requires constant and long practice to become familiar with every sound or rattling of a diseased bronchial tube. Patients come to DR. SCHENCK to get examined from head to foot examined by their family physician, who told them that their lungs were almost gone; when by a close examination with the Respirometer, it is often found that it is an affection of the bronchial tube; and by getting a healthy action of the liver and tone of the stomach, the sufferer is soon restored to health. Sometimes medicine that will stop a cough is certain death to the patient. It locks up the livers, stops free circulation of the blood—hemorrhage follows, and, in fact, stopping the action of the very organs that cause the cough.

Dr. Schenck will be professionally at his rooms every week, 32 Bond street, New York, and 25 Hanover street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer the charge is $5. His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers, also a good supply at all times at his rooms. Local.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE has long been the oldest paper in the country; and with the enlargement this week, is now the largest in the State—and the cheapest, at $2 per year, six copies for $10. The number for Nov. 16th, in quarto form, and containing 48 columns, will be ready for delivery at the Chronicle Office on Thursday, at six cents per copy. New subscribers for 1868 will receive the paper until Jan. 1st free of charge. The Gazette contains all Local items from the Daily Chronicle, and will be found especially interesting to natives of Portsmouth abroad. Copies in wrappers for mailing may always be had at the office.

☞ Mrs. C. V. Waite, in her new book on the Mormons, pays the following compliment to a former well known and talented resident of Portsmouth:

Dr. FRANK FULLER was Secretary of the Territory about two years, and was succeeded by Mr. Reed in the fall of 1863.—Dr. Fuller is from New Hampshire, and a dentist by profession and practice. He was attentive and obliging in his official intercourse with all parties. He is a polished gentleman also in social intercourse.

He was one of the few federal officers in Salt Lake at that time, who was so fortunate as never seriously to offend Brigham Young. Doubtless his position brought him less in collision with that gentleman than was the case with other officers. If he saw any difficulties approaching, by a little shrewd management he carefully avoided them. If, in thus steering between Scylla and Charybdis, he did not always meet the approbation of his fellow-officers, he managed at least to avoid any open differences, and thus kept up the appearance of friendship with all.

He enjoyed for a long time the confidence and apparent respect of Brigham, to a greater degree, perhaps, than Kinney himself. From Salt Lake he went to San Francisco, where he engaged in dealing in mining stocks. From the time of Dawson's hasty departure in the fall of 1861, until Governor Harding's arrival in July, 1862, he acted as Governor of the Territory, and his administration gave general satisfaction to the Mormons.

☞ Post No. 1, Grand Army of the Republic, Department of New Hampshire, was organized in this city on Friday evening last, with the following list of officers: Capt. M. T. Betton, Commander; Capt. Geo. E. Sides, Senior Vice Commander; Lieut. Charles L. Tidd, Junior Vice Commander; Lieut. Edwin A. Tilton, Post Adjutant; Reuben Kimball, Quartermaster.

NAVAL.—First Assistant Engineers George D. Emmons, James H. Morrison and Elijah Laws; Second Asst. Engineer John A. B. Smith; and Acting 3d Asst. Engineers John Grimes and William T. Lougee, have been ordered to temporary duty connected with the trial of the machinery of the new steamer Contoocook, now at this Naval Station.

☞ The second Lecture of the Lyceum course will be given this (Tuesday) evening, by a lady who is highly endorsed as fully capable of telling all about a "Yankee Girl's Thoughts"—which some of our young gentlemen readers we know would like to learn. The tickets are now put at very low figures—for particulars of all which, see advertisement.

☞ "A Poor Widow," after reading of the Bannington Gold Mine swindle in our Chronicle last week, says it was not to be named the same day with the Eagle Coal Mine swindle about two years since.

☞ The News Letter says the Rockingham County Poultry Club Show at Exeter last week, was a success—and the National Horse Fair in this city was a fizzle, because it was held on the same days as their hen show. Show! you don't say!

POLICE COURT, Nov. 11.—James Reynolds, for an assault upon Patrick Mullen, was ordered to give $500 bonds for his appearance on the 14th inst., to which date his case was continued. In default of bail Reynolds was committed.

☞ The City Debt of Portsmouth has been decreased over $30,000 the past nine months, under Mayor Dearborn's administration. See the new City Book.

LIQUOR CASES IN MASSACHUSETTS.—Some remark having been made in opposition to the action of the Superior Court in Lawrence in permitting persons charged with offences to enter the plea of "nole contendere," equivalent in substance to the plea of "guilty," and ordering the continuance of the cases for judgement, the parties being held to bail for their appearance —the Sentinel says in explanation:

"Should the Legislature grant amnesty to this class of offenders, that will be the end of the cases—otherwise the parties will be brought up and sentenced. Had the Court refused this action they would have been litigated, at great expense to the Commonwealth, and delayed by legal tactics until after the assembling of the Legislature, so that the final result would have been the same. The action of the Court was wise and sensible and prompted by intelligent regard for the interests of the Commonwealth. Besides, this disposition of the cases was made with the approval of some of the staunchest and most influential supporters of the prohibitory law."

WESTON, the walker, arrived at Syracuse, N. Y., Monday morning at 9 o'clock, from Oneida, 28 miles, all right.

☞ At St. Thomas, it is said thousands of people are houseless, and 300 dead bodies were fished up in the harbor.

—The lawyers of Troy have challenged all the editors and printers to dispute the question of championship at a game of base ball.

— The fashion now is, at church weddings, to stretch a broad white ribbon across the aisle up which the bridal party pass, above which none but invited guests are allowed to sit.

AMERICAN
WALTHAM
WATCHES.

The true value of Machinery applied to Watchmaking is not that by its use watches are rapidly made, but that they are made correctly. Very few people know why a Waltham Watch should be superior to any other. In the first place, at Waltham the Watch is regarded as only a machine, to be constructed like any other machine, on mechanical principles. If the watches are good, it is because the machinery is good, of course there must be no defect in the principle or plan of the movement—no mistake in the sizes or shapes of the pieces of which it is composed—nothing wanting in their properties, and no error in their positions. These points once thoroughly settled, it rests wholly with the machinery, constructed with infinite diversity of form and function expressly for the purpose, to produce the finished pieces. By means of multiplying gauges and microscopes, tests and inspection for the detection of wear in the cutting tools, and for faults and flaws in steel or stone, are made to accompany the work in every stage from beginning to end. As a necessary result, the watch goes and gether a perfect machine. Every part is formed to fit properly in its place. Every pin may be pushed till it pinches, and every pivot turned loose. Instead of a sluggish and feeble action, the balance, even under the pressure of the lightest mainspring, vibrates with a wide and free motion, and the beat has the clear, ringing sound always characteristic of the Waltham Watch. The machine is a timekeeper from date start.

This system of watchmaking is unknown in foreign countries, and is entirely original with the Waltham Company. It therefore may claim that if it they produce watches that cannot be equalled for every quality which makes a watch valuable. Simple in plan and correct in principle, the movements not only beautifully finished, substantial, accurate and cheap, but is uniform in the minutest details, not easily damaged, and when repaired always of as good an one. Any variation in degree of finish in the different varieties of watches made by the Waltham Company, as there are different sizes and shapes to suit tastes and purses, but every watch that bears the genuine trade-mark of "WALTHAM" is guaranteed to be a good one, and nobody need be afraid to buy it.

Every Watch fully Warranted.

For Sale by all First-Class Dealers in the United States and British Provinces.

NOT GOLD ONLY,

BUT

RICH, FRUITY, LUSCIOUS

WINES!

California is making grand strides in her agricultural products, and is fast withdrawing herself as a purchaser for the manufactures of the various branches of industry she once demanded. She sends a warning voice to the time-worn vineyards of Europe, and enters the lists as a fresh, young combatant for the production of wines from her own rich and increasing vineyards.—The time has come when it is simply ridiculous for any one house to lay claim to especial advantages or peculiar privileges for the sale of

THE WINES OF CALIFORNIA.

As well might they claim a monopoly of the cotton trade.

C. A. RICHARDS & CO.

do not receive or sell all the wines which California produces, but they do claim to have at all times a very large quantity on hand of all the best kinds, and their advantages for getting the best, and getting them at the lowest market value, are such as to enable them to offer them at prices which to-day are lower than any other house which sells California Wines of equality. We bottle five kinds. They are,—

"Angelica,"
"Muscatel,"
"Still Champagne,"
"Hock" and
"Port,"
Also "California Brandy."

They are all perfectly pure, and may be relied upon in sickness or in health. The Angelica and Muscatel are rich, sweet wines. The Hock is fully equal to the medium grades of Rhine wines. The Port is actually better than many of the high cost Ports from Oporto. We sell these wines in any required quantity, from a single bottle to a THOUSAND CASES, and are ready at all times to exhibit samples, or to send them to any address.

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS.

THE
CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,
THE WESTERN HALF OF THE
GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

being constructed with the AID and SUPERVISION OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD, as it is the last link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense Overland travel must pass, and the Principal Portion of the Main Steam Line between the Two Oceans.

Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Pacific, eastward across the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, contiguous to all the great Mining Regions of the Far West, and will meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. About 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the summit of the Sierra Nevadas. Within a few days 35 miles, now graded, will be added, and the track carried entirely across the mountains to a point in the Great Salt Lake Valley, whence further progress will be easy and rapid. Iron, materials and equipment are ready on hand for 300 miles of road, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction.

The local business upon the completed portion surpasses all previous estimate. The figures for the quarter ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS,	OPERATING EXPENSES,	NET EARNINGS,
$487,579 64	$86,548 47	$401,031 17

or at the rate of two millions per annum, of which more than three fourths is net profit on less than 100 miles worked. This is upon the actual, legitimate traffic of the road, with its terminus in the mountains, can with only the normal ratio of government transportation, and is exclusive of the materials carried for the further extension of the road.

The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $125,000.

Add to this an ever-expanding through traffic and the proportions of the future business become immense.

The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain ranges.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between the San Francisco and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the United States will have issued in the completion of 965 miles $28,952,000, or at the average rate of $35,000 per mile—not including an absolute grant of 10,000,000 acres of the Public Lands. By becoming a joint investor in the magnificent enterprise, and by waiving its first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bondholders, the GENERAL GOVERNMENT VIRTUALLY INVITES THE CO-OPERATION OF PRIVATE CAPITALISTS, and has carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

The Company offer for sale, through us, their

First Mortgage, Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds,

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York city. They are in sums of $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are selling for the present at 95 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st, added in currency, at which rate they yield nearly

Nine per Cent. upon the Investment.

These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as the Bonds granted by the Government; and represent, in all cases, the first lien upon a completed, equipped and productive railroad, in which have been invested Government subsidies, stock subscriptions, donations, capital upon a completed, equipped and productive railroad, in which have been invested Government subsidies, stock subscriptions, donations, capital and earnings, and which are worth more than three times the amount of First Mortgage Bonds which can be issued upon it.

The Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds have all the assurances, sanctions and guaranties of the Pacific Railroad Act of Congress, and have the additional and valuable advantages over all other classes of railroad bonds, in

First—They are the superior claim upon altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the through line.

Second—Beside the fullest benefit of the Government subsidy, (which is a subordinate lien,) the road receives the benefit of large donations from California.

Third—Fully half the whole cost of grading 300 miles eastward of San Francisco is concentrated upon the 150 miles now about completed.

Fourth—A local business already yielding three-fold the annual interest on the entire, with advantageous rates payable in coin.

Fifth—The principal as well as the interest of its Bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds to Trustees, Executors, Institutions and others as an eminently sound, reliable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

Morning Chronicle.

TRADE IN NEW YORK CITY.—A letter says, dry goods have not been as low since 1860 as now. The auctions are glutted with goods, which can be bought, with currency, very much below what it cost to buy them, with gold, in Europe. All classes of dry goods and fine dress goods are lower than they were at any time before the war. The city is placarded in every direction with offers to sell less than cost. The manufacturers over the water are obliged to send their goods here. Provisions are still high, because speculators control the market. Thousands of workmen are out of employment, but will not work for less than four or five dollars a day. Real estate is at a standstill. It is usually the last thing to go up and the last to fall. The prospect is that the winter will be a hard one, not only for the poor, but for laborers and tradesmen. Many parties took houses last May, who have had to abandon them this autumn. Large stores that were leased at great rents are deserted. One firm, which made more noise than any other in the city, who, on one of the side streets did an immense business, came up on Broadway in the spring and took a mammoth store at a mammoth rent. I passed the store yesterday. The sign is still on the building; the doors are locked; the blinds down; the great rooms deserted; and the suggestive placard meets the eye: "This store and lotts to let."

WHAT NEXT?—A woman in Detroit has been arrested for smuggling tea in her stockings.—Express.

In North Carolina the women carry nails in their stockings.—Raleigh Progress.

Nothing wonderful. The ladies of Forsythe carry calves in their stockings; 'cause one devil says he's seen 'em do it.—Salem (N. C.) Observer.

And one of our ladies carries her corn in hers.—Rome, (Ga.) Commercial.

The ladies in this section who sympathise with Andy Johnson in his fight with the Radicals, carry V-toes in theirs—which are seldom passed over their heads.—Vincennes Sun.

All the women down our way carry splendid ELEGIES (l-e-g-s,) in their stockings.—Kentucky News.

The ladies here all carry 'eels (heels) in their stockings.—St. Joe Vindicator.

Down this way some of them not only carry calves in their stockings, but they also carry bran to fatten them.—Mexico Messenger.

The ladies "over the left" here carry real estate in their stockings. Our ladies think it a dirty business, however.—Waverly Advocate.

Out this way those "stockings" carry more than a few of the sweetest, prettiest, most beautiful, perfectly bewitching angels, this side of sunset. T-h-e-r-e now.—Dundee Herald.

All very wonderful, but none of you can beat the ladies of Schenectady. They carry bear skins, spruce limbs and dancing Belles in theirs. The literary ladies carry the Works of Nature and Bunyan's bound in calf.—What's more, when they appear on the street "when the breezes gently blow" they carry the hearts of all the young men in their stockings.—Schenectady (N. Y.) Dorpian.

IF A MAN desires to have his antecedents "raked up" and laid before the public, all he has to do is to consent to run for some office. If his own record is good, the politicians will discover something that the father or brother of the candidate has done that was not very creditable, and the unfortunate candidate will be held responsible for their acts. No man should be held responsible for something he knows nothing about.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE.

Prescribed by Physician for FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS AND INVALIDS.

As a Tonic, it has no equal, causing an appetite and building up the system of the most debilitated.

As a Diuretic it imparts a healthy action to the Glands, Kidneys and Urinary Organs very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

As a Blood Purifier, it is superior, being one of the best alterative known in the medical pharmacopœia.

The qualities of SAMBUCI are "emulsum in potentia," being at once a Tonic, Diuretic, Alterative, Diaphoretic and Soporific.

N. B.—Unsurpassed for the sacramental purposes.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI is a pure juice wine with a fine flavor, rich body and pleasant taste. It is peculiarly adapted for weak and debilitated persons, the aged and infirm, and benefitting ladies and children.

Be sure the signature of ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J., is over the cork of the bottle.

THE RICHEST MAN IN THE WORLD.

Extract of a Letter from Baron Solomon Rothschild, Paris, 5th April, 1864, 25 Rue Fauby. St. Honore.

Will you be kind enough to have forwarded to me here 200 bottles of your Indian Liniment; it you will send at the same time your account, I will remit you the amount through Messrs. BELMONT & CO., New York.

Baron Solomon Rothschild having recommended to many of his friends Major LANE'S LINIMENT, and they being desirous to procure it, he should advise him to establish a depot in Paris.

THE INDIAN LINIMENT,

As a relief, ever ready; as a killer of pain, taken inwardly, or outwardly applied, has no equal. For the relief and cure of Rheumatic and Neuralgic Affections, Sprains, Bruises, &c., it is unequalled.—It is also most efficacious taken inwardly in the cure of Cholera, Cramps and Pains in the Stomach, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, &c., and is without exception the Most Wonderful Remedy the world affords. No FAMILY should be without it. Every TRAVELER by land or sea should have a bottle. Sailors and FARMERS should keep it at distance from Physicians should keep it constantly on hand. In case of accidents and sudden attacks of Stomach Complaints, its value cannot be estimated. Inquire for Major LANE'S INDIAN LINIMENT, and take no other. Price 50 Cents per bottle. For sale by Druggists and Grocers generally. BENJ. T. LANE & CO., Proprietors, 163 Broadway, N. Y. Send for circular.

ANGELINE.*

BY COMMANDER WILLIAM GIBSON, U. S. N.

"Other refuge have I none?"
Carve ye this on my head-stone,
This, and my poor name alone,
Angeline—plain Angeline;
And I ask no text divine
To illustrate life of mine;
Neither gloze Death's truth nor garble;
Simply on the milk-white marble
Write—and should some lone bird warble
The same burden, in the gray
Of the glamoured eve, I pray
That you drive it not away,
But permit its music mean
Utterance for the dumb, cold stone—
"Other refuge have I none!"

"Angeline!" no other name,
Adjunct, antecedent, fame,
Style, nor title do I claim.
Maid or matron, widow, bride,
Of what lineage, how allied,
Tell not to my shame or pride.
Green the branch or grayly mossed,
It must fall; white death, a ghost,
Comes in spring or autumn frost.
Give no date for either face;
God's design is consummate,
Die we early, die we late.
So of me be nothing shown,
Save that here, where I lie alone,
"Other refuge have I none!"

*In the Congressional Burying Ground is a tomb on which is simply the name "Angeline" and "Other refuge have I none."

A WISE MERCHANT.—The following incident is not without its lesson to a large class who think that "fine feathers make fine birds."

A servant girl went to a leading dry goods house in a city to purchase a cloak. The clerk who waited upon her, after displaying one or two patterns, rudely refused to show her any more, and she left the store. The facts came to the knowledge of her employer, who communicated them to the proprietor of the establishment. This led to an interview between the parties, and the offending clerk was pointed out by the girl and instantly dismissed by his employer. "I want you, and all in my employ, to understand," said the dry goods millionaire, "that a servant girl who comes into my store to purchase goods, is of as much importance to me as the richest lady in the city. The people are my customers, and it is to their support that I owe my business success."

A CHURCH TROUBLE.—The Congregationalist says, "We learn that the Second Church in Keene, after hearing read Rev. Mr. Woodworth's article in the Congregational Review, have voted to adopt the free seat system. A correspondent writes us in regard to this church, which was lately organized, that 'no friendly consultation was held by the seceding party with the rest of the church,' and that they rejected a proposal for a mutual council, using meantime every effort to increase the number of names on their list. We have several letters on the subject, but cannot see that any good end will be promoted by further allusion to the matter." This looks as if some heresy had formed a schism in the old parish, formerly Dr. Barstow's.

THE NEW ACQUISITION.—The remoteness of Russian America makes it an ice-o-lated country.—Boston Post.

Its Northern latitude makes it an ice-o-lated country.—St. Paul Pioneer.

Its perpetual snow and lack of vegetation make it a white, bear country.—Los Angelos Republican.

Yes but a good boaring country, for all that.—Sacramento Record.

Its fisheries will set many people to codgitating.—Amador Ledger.

Ladies, if you visit that country, be sure and take along your umbrellas,—to protect you from the rain, dears.—San Jose (Cal.) Mercury.

— Pithole City, Pennsylvania, once containing fourteen thousand inhabitants, polled ninety-two votes at the late election.

—There are 195 professional proof-readers in London. They are paid, on an average, $10 a week, and generally starve to death, or leave the world in some way, at the age of forty.

— A French girl, who had six teeth extracted by a dentist at Lewiston, Me., the other day, told a companion who acted as her interpreter, that though she did not understand the language, she had got the English of hurt to her satisfaction.

— At a recent fashionable wedding in New York the officiating clergyman made a very ludicrous mistake; placing himself in front of one of the groomsmen, he came near uniting him and one of the bridesmades in marriage in place of the bride and groom; in fact he had progressed half way through the ceremony before the mistake was discovered and the minister set right.

—There are over 250,000 acres of abandoned property on the books of the Freedmen's Bureau which Congress has ordered to be restored to former owners, and would have been turned over to them long ago had they made proper application. All property of this kind remaining unclaimed after the first of January will be taken possession of and rented out to freedmen and refugees for the ensuing year.

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in everr respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encoiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.

Adams' Novelty Skirt.
PATENTED JUNE 18, 1867.
This celebrated Patent Skirt is pronounced by hundreds of ladies who have given it a thorough trial, to excel all Skirts ever offered to the public. The chief merits of its excellence are, PERFECTION IN FIT, upon a new principle just invented. Elasticity of Steels, Fabrics around the waist-band, so that every skirt is PERFECTLY BALANCED. Entire Freedom from injury to Under Clothing. The Elastic Springs are fastened together in front, and made as one complete hoop. A double support down the front of the skirt where support is most needed. PREVENTS the Skirt from SAGGING. Every Skirt is stamped with its positive waist size and length upon the band, and the relative proportion of the hoops to the waist-band is perfect in every Skirt. It is Absolutely IMPOSSIBLE for the Hoops to work up around the wearer while standing or sitting in a crowd. Sold at BACHMAN & CO.'S,

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.
No. 78 State street, (opposite Kilby street,)
Boston, Mass.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, Bonds, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with dispatch. Research made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, BEFORE APPEALS; every one of which was decided in his favor by the Commissioner of Patents.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can employ a man more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,"
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made forme THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend all inventors to applyto him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1867

A SOBER VIEW.—Every sober man, (says Uncle Toby) and every man who wishes his sons to be sober men, should look the recent rum victories squarely in the face, and see what they signify. They encourage the Drunken Man's Government, and cheer the hearts of all the sots who fancy themselves to be temperate drinkers, from the noted (and blosted) D. D. in Boston who took the rum side in the great Hearing last year, down to the noted and eminent sots in Washington; but they carry sorrow and fear into many a drunkard's family, sentencing his wife to receive blows and cursing ad libitum, and his children to neglect, and abuse, and shame.

The great license victory in Massachusetts makes an entire change in the legal and political aspects of the Temperance Reform. But it changes no principls in nature or in morals. Drunkenness is no less a calamity; Moderate drinking is no safer than before; and the 50,000 total abstinent voters there, probably will not drown their sorrows in strong drink!

The Constable law in that State will surely be repealed; and the same thing will probably be done in Maine. New Hampshire has none, as the bill for that purpose was indefinitely postponed last June session, and will not be revived this year, if ever.

The prohibitory law in Massachusetts is also sure to be repealed; but either License or free rum will take its place. And the true wisdom and prudence of whatever temperance men happen to be in their legislature, would lead them to say to the combined forces of P. L. L. and the democratic party,—Gentlemen, we are outvoted; our law was too stringent for your appetites or purses, or your ideas of liberty, or your party success;—now go on and make such a law as you think best,—we shall not vote for it or against it; we have not much faith in license laws to promote temperance; but if you lay an excise tax on liquor, we shall not oppose the law, and the tax will not hurt us, for we don't drink the stuff.

And then, as to moral effort, the 50,000 total abstinent voters, with 100,000 women, a large Band of Hope in the pledged children, and the general aid of most churches and ministers,—are a moral force not to be despised by foes; nor ought it to be neglected by friends.

With far less power than we have now, great good was accomplished years ago, and its good effects have not yet been lost.

All this, said of Massachusetts, is in the main as true in New Hampshire. Our advice is, therefore, to temperance men, Don't beat the air in vain effort where success is hopeless. Don't attack the enemy on his political or legal side where he is strong, and so waste your powder; but save it for an attack on his moral status, where he is miserably weak.—There is no good reason, that we can see, why the most earnest temperance man should suffer himself to be drawn or driven into a false position in this matter,—but using his utmost moral efforts to abate the vice and folly of bibbers and tipplers, should omit all other such action as might really defeat his own purposes.

THE SEXTON'S TALE, and other Poems, by Theodore Tilton,—is a beautiful little volume, just published by Sheldon & Co., New York, and sold by J. H. Foster in this city. And the contents of the book are as beautiful as the dress in which it appears. The poems are grave and gay, humorous and sentimental, every one with a moral, not always expressed, but always easy to be understood.—Its deserves a wide circulation, and will have it.

☞ A Snow Storm at St. Albans, Vt., lasted all Monday night, and continued at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning.

—A Chicago clergyman calls the opera "a handmaid of the church."

—At the burning of the Richmond, Ind., Water Cure, the thirsty citizens drank up several gallons of whiskey in which snakes, beetles and other reptiles had been preserved.

—It is stated that all the difficulties that existed in the way of arranging the affairs of the late Emperor Maximilian have been overcome; and it appears that the Prince, to the great surprise of the court at Vienna, has left a considerable fortune.

— Owing to the fact that the distillery business, under existing regulations, does not pay, all of the distilleries, save one, in and around Richmond, Va., have suspended operations. Many of the tobacconists have also stopped work, because they find it unprofitable to continue under existing circumstances.

THE adulteration of food has been attended with results so fatal, and been so alarmingly on the increase, that France and many other countries have enacted laws making it a criminal offence. In the absence of such wholesome laws it behooves the heads of families to know what enters into the family diet. Hurrick Allen's Gold Medal Esterates is warranted not only pure and health-giving, but economical. It makes one-third more bread, cakes, &c., from the same quantity of flour than when other saleratus or soda is used. 1

— A lady visiting New York city found a ragged, cold and hungry child gazing wistfully at some cakes in a shop window. She took the little forlorn one by the hand, led her into the shop, bought her a cake, and then took her elsewhere, supplying her more needed wants. The grateful little creature looked the benevolent woman full in the face, and with artless simplicity inquired, "Are you God's wife?"

Communication.

CONCORD, Nov. 11.

Editors Chronicle: The "Stars and Bars" seems to be in a terrible rage about the "several thousand dollars" expended by the State "by means of the nonsensical splurge in Concord" on the 29th ult., and its "devil" launches out in one of his characteristic tirades against our State officials, and wants to know "who authorized anybody to expend the money of the State in a loyal bust at Concord? What right had Governor Harriman, Natt Head & Co. to dive into the public treasury for money to squander in a spree at the capital? What business had they ordering the soldiers out for a useless parade at the public expense?"

To which we reply,—No one authorized them to expend the money of the State; nor did they do so. Not a single dollar, not a single cent was expended by the State in what this Pop-in-jay is pleased to term a "loyal bust."

Whatever expenses attended the demonstration made on that day, were borne by the City of Concord and private individuals alone. "Governor Harriman, Natt Head & Co. had no right to dive into the public treasury for money to squander in a spree at the capital;" nor did they do it. Governor Harriman had nothing to do with the matter whatever, and was absent from the State at the time.

General Head was simply a member of the Military Committee as a citizen, and in nowise represented the State. He was chosen Chief Marshal, and did much to assist our citizens to make, so far as our arrangements were concerned, the occasion a success, but did not "dive into the State treasury" for a single dollar.

The "Co." of which he speaks, we know nothing about, and shall have to ask him to be more explicit in this respect.

They had no business "ordering the soldiers out for a useless parade at the public expense," and no such thing was done. The city made arrangements with the several Railroads to transport certain companies to and from Concord free of expense, and extended to those companies an invitation (they were not ordered) to be present and participate in the ceremonies; which invitation was accepted with alacrity and enthusiasm, giving unmistakable evidence of the respect and admiration in which this falsehood diffuser's "Shenandoah barn-burner" is held by the soldiers of this State.

It is not strange that this man, or his peer, the "Patriot," should herald throughout the State these vile falsehoods and insinuating lies; for they are so addicted to the vice that to do aught else would be strange indeed.

They must continually harp on the "stealing from the treasury," as they believe that to be the most tempting bait with which to fish for votes in the coming March election; but if they know anything, (which is a matter of some doubt,) they must know that no sensible man will bite at it, or any other such hollow gudgeon which they can throw out. The people know them too well. They know that of all conjurers of lies, these two are the chiefs.

ST. CLAIR.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—Levi Green of Danville sold potatoes to John W. Morrill, and there arose some dispute in regard to the quantity purchased. Green sued and took pay; Morrill asserts for one bushel more than he purchased. In a subsequent dispute Morrill beat Green severely, but now says he was in an intoxicated state and he is both sorry and repentant, and stands ready to make all the amends which may lie to his power.—Rum did it, then, er potato whiskey.

On Monday the trains on the Concord Railroad commenced running over the new and elegant double track bridge at Goff's Falls.

Parties in Manchester, who found $2000 in U. S. Treasury Notes a fortnight since, are unable to find an owner.

A coroner's verdict at Rochester, is that Amos E. Bradley aged 28 years, and Melvin Bradley son of Amos E. aged 10 years, came to their death by coming in collision with the locomotive of the evening train over the Dover and Winnipiseogee Railroad on Saturday evening Oct. 26, about quarter past six o'clock P. M. at the corossing of said Railroad with the highway, and that the collision was the result of gross carelessness on the part of the father Amos E. Bradley—that he was in their belief in a state of intoxication, and that neither the railroad company nor its servants are in any way culpable.

On Friday morning Leavitt Clough, a respected citizen of Loudon, was found dead in his bed.

The fire at the Concord Poor Farm seems not to have been accidental. The money stolen at the time of the fire, $700—has been refunded. The wife of the keeper, Gilman acknowledges the theft, but will not confess to setting the fire. The belief is that she did it. A plan to leave for California with a paramour existed, and the woman has sold herself for naught, and no man has bought her. The way of the transgressor is hard.

CABLE ITEMS.—After three days's interuption, we get a variety of news from beyond the Atlantic. A London dispatch of the 8th, at midnight, says the bread riots at Torquay, Exmouth and other places have been suppressed, and all parts of Devonshire are now quiet.

But another dispatch of the evening of the 9th, reads that disturbances have again broken out in Devonshire. There was a bread riot in Barnstable to-day which exceeded in ferocity the riots at Exeter. The police and military were obliged to fire upon the mob.

CAPTAIN BOB.—Everybody knows the captain, and the fund of humor that is forever cropping out in his walks and conversation. He is so full of illustrations, that, stick a pin in him anywhere they will ooze out, like maple juice in spring, to crystallize into the sugar of wit and wisdom. If he tells you a story, he has some pertinent thing by which to enforce his narration; in this respect resembling the late President Lincoln, but in no other, as he is but five feet six in height. In a letter to us, in illustration of something, he told us the following:

"A man had a field of potatoes that was some distance from his house, and he employed two or three men to go and hoe them. They started, taking a bottle of O-be-joyful with them; and as the weather was warm, they were quite tired when they arrived at the field. There was a good cool spring on the premises, and they sat down and took a little of it, dashed with the 'critter,' and discussing the necessity of hoeing potatoes more than twice. After another drink, they settled it that twice was as good as three times; and, with some more talk and then another drink, they concluded that, as it was about dinner time, they wouldn't go to hoeing till afternoon.

Then washing down their dinner, as the weather was hot, they laid down in the shade to rest a bit, after which they discussed the necessity for hoeing potatoes more than once, and, after a drink all round, came to the conclusion that once was enough for any reasonable potato to expect to be hoed. It was pretty well along in the day; and, as the bottle had now given out, the necessity for hoeing the potatoes at all was discussed, and it was decided unanimously, that hoeing potatoes was not necessary, and they went home."

We saw the captain, last summer, enjoying all the immunities and dignities of the office of pound-keeper of his native town. We congratulated him on this proof of public confidence.

"Yes," said he, "fortune has turned with me; heretofore I have prospered only by driblets—now I flourish by the pound."—Every cow in town knows him.—American Union.

"COMETH UP AS A FLOWER" is the title of an autobiographical story of the richest kind just published by D. Appleton & Co., New York. The London Times speaks of it with great praise. Its chief merits consist of the powerful and rigorous manner in which it is told, in the exceeding beauty and poetry of its sketches of scenery, and in the soliloquies, sometimes quaintly humorous, sometimes cynically bitter, sometimes plaintive and melancholy, which are uttered by the heroine. It is written by a lady—a new hand, and is said to be so extraordinarily good, that whenever you begin it you cannot lay it down again, hardly even when it is finished. New York: D. Appleton & Co. Price 60 cents. Sold in this city by J. H. Foster.

☞ The Manchester & Lawrence Railroad have given notice of their intention to ask the Legislature of Massachusetts to give them authority to extend their road from the N. H. State line at Methuen to the city of Lawrence, to connect with other roads in that city. The cars now run on what is called the Methuen Branch, owned by the Boston & Maine Railroad.

AMERICAN WALTHAM WATCHES.

The true vaine of Machinery applied to Watchmaking is not that by its use watches are rapidly made, but that they are made correctly. Very few people know why a Waltham Watch should be superior to any other. In the first place, at Waltham the Watch is regarded as only a machine, to be constructed like any other machine, on mechanical principles. If the watches are good, it is because the machinery is good. Of course there must be no defect in the principle or plan of the movement—no mistake in the sizes or shapes of the pieces of which it is composed—nothing wanting in their proportions, and no error in their positions. These points once thoroughly settled, it rests wholly with the machinery, constructed with infinite diversity of form and function expressly for the purpose, to produce the finished pieces. By means of multiplying gauges and microscopes, tests and inspection for the detection of wear in the cutting tools, and for faults and flaws in steel or stone, are made to accompany the work in every stage from beginning to end. As a necessary result, the watch goes together a perfect machine. Every part is formed to fit properly in its place. Every pin may be pushed till it pinches, and every screw turned home. Instead of a sluggish and feeble action, the balance, even under the pressure of the lightest mainspring, vibrates with a free and full motion, and the best has the clear, ringing sound always characteristic of the Waltham Watch. The machine is a timekeeper from the start.

This system of watchmaking is unknown in foreign countries, and is entirely original with the Waltham Company. The Company claim that by it they produce watches that cannot be equalled for every quality which makes a watch valuable. Simple in plan and correct in principle, the movement is not only beautifully finished, substantial, accurate and cheap, but is uniform in the minutest details, not easily damaged, and when repaired always as good as new. There are different grades of finish in the different varieties of watches made by the Waltham Company, as there are different sizes and shapes to suit all tastes and purses; but every watch that bears the genuine trade-mark of "WALTHAM" is guaranteed to be a good one, and nobody need be afraid to buy it.

Every Watch fully Warranted.

Special Notices.

CHILDREN'S LIVES SAVED For 50 CENTS. Thousands of Children die annually of Croup.—Now, mothers, if you would spend 50 cents, and always have a bottle of Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment in the house, you never need fear loosing your little ones when attacked with this complaint. It is now 20 years since I have put up my Liniment, and never heard of a child dying of Croup when my Liniment was used; but hundreds of cases of cures have been reported to me, and many would think it was $10 per bottle they would not be without it. Besides which, it is a certain cure for Cuts, Burns, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throat, Swellings, Mumps, Colds, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Sprains, Old Sores, and Pains in the Back and Chest. No one once tries it who is ever without it. It is warranted perfectly safe to take internally. Full directions with every bottle.—Sold by the Druggists. Depot 56 Cortland street, N. Y. m5dwlm

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!
THE REMEDY FOR CURING
Consumption, Asthma, Croup, Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest or Lungs, Difficult Breathing, and all Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.
Its action is expectorant, alterative sudorific, sedative, diaphoretic and diuretic, and therefore it is one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration and coughing, which throw off the phlegm; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS and PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the ulcerated parts; gives strength to the whole system; brings the liver to the proper action and imparts a reught to the whole system. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction, even in the most confirmed cases of consumption, and not to produce costiveness (as do most remedies) or effect the head, as it contains no opium in any form. It is PARTICULARLY BENEFICIAL in the cure of nervous debility, although an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. There is no necessity for so many deaths by consumption, as ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.
Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

WHAT NORAH SAID.
THE REPLY OF "NORAH O'NEAL," as sung with great applause at Public Concerts. The music by W. C. WILLMAN, Jr.
"Is it lonely ye are then without me,
Only wait, and I'll come bye and bye;
For myself 's just entirely as lonely,
And darling, I give sigh for sigh.
* * * *
And would ye then wait till to-morrow,
While the moon shines in heaven so bright,
And the lane and the kiss so convanient,
Wont I meet you, my darling, to-night."

THE REALLY GREAT PLASTER.

ALLCOCK'S POROUS,

Have the compactness of kid, and the flexibility of a silk glove.

DR. I. P. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

FARNVILLE, Louisiana, March 3, 1865.

DR. T. ALLCOCK, Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart, and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. D.'s; but truth prompts me to say that your Plasters have given me more permanent relief than anything I ever have used, and I believe will produce a permanent cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your Plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and with such mild but obnoxious diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours very truly,

DR. SCHENCK, FREE LUNG DOCTOR.

☞ The Proprietor of SCHENK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, the inventor of SCHENK'S RESPIROMETER, the only instrument that can to a certainty determine the slightest murmur of the respiratory organs.

This is of great importance to Dr. SCHENCK, to know if the disease has reached the lungs, whether it is Tuberculous, Pulmonary, Bronchial, Neuralgic, or Dyspeptic Consumption, and whether it is both lungs or only one that are diseased.

It requires constant and long practice to become familiar with every sound or rattling of a diseased bronchial tube. Patients come to Dr. SCHENCK to be examined with the Respirometer, it often found that it is an affection of the bronchial tube; and by getting a healthy action of the liver and tone of the stomach, the suffering soon restored to health. Sometimes medicine that will stop a cough is certain death to the patient. It locks up the fluids, stops the circulation of the blood—hemorrhage follows, and, in fact, stopping the action of the very organs that cause the cough.

Dr. Schenck will be professionally at his rooms every week, 32 Bond street, New York, and 35 Hanover street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer the charge is $5. His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers, and also a good supply at all times at his rooms. Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.—GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover street, Agents for Boston. THOMAS BURNSIDE.—Thomas Burnside was one of those who composed the celebrated Battalion of Royal American Rangers whose exploits contribute a very important portion to the history of the seven years war in America. If His Majesty, Frederick the Second, King of Prussia, was in that war, in Europe, the General, as it might be termed, of his cousin George of England, there were humbler individuals in America striving to obtain the same object, —that of humbling the power of France.

Among those individuals was Thomas Burnside. He, although reported as wounded January 21st, 1757, in the bloody skirmish near Ticonderoga, volunteered as an attendant of Lieut. Stark to convey the account to Fort McHenry, a distance of 40 miles, and procure sleighs to bring in the wounded men.

After the peace of 1763, he settled at Stratford, Coos county, N. H., and soon afterwards that town contained two inhabitants, Thomas Burnside and a neighbor.—Mr. Burnside wished to become a Justice of the Peace, and inquired of Col. Barr of Londonderry, as to the manner he should obtain it. The latter advised him to purchase a piece of Londonderry Linen, a firkin of Scotch Irish Butter from Londonderry, as a present to Governor Wentworth, and with these appliances he proceeded to Portsmouth and called upon his Excellency at his seat at Little Harbor. He stated his business. The Governor inquired how many inhabitants the township contained. Burnside answered, only myself and my friend, and they could not live without a Justice of the Peace. The Governor then inquired which of them was the fitted person for the appointed merit. Myself, was the reply, my neighbor is no more fit for it than the devil.

The Governor, amused at the singularity of the application, directed the commission to be made out, and when that was prepared and the new justice qualified, the latter, observing upon the sideboard several decanters and glasses, said to his Excellency, should my neighbor ask me what your Honor gave me to drink, what should I tell him? Help yourself, Mr. Justice, said Gov. W. After this, the justice took leave and returned to the northern mountains, very much gratified with his easily acquired official dignity, and by his visit for the first time to a Provincial capital.

In the charters given by Gov. Wentworth, the recipients always set aside a liberal allowance of farm lots for the Governor and his Secretary, to them and their heirs forever. The charters were of course, as the matter was well understood by both parties, obtained in most cases without much difficulty—but alas! the American Revolution—a proceeding unlooked for, before unheard of, cut off these projective anticipations of family wealth.

☞ Sheldon & Co., New York, have just published, in very tasteful form, a book of 360 pages, entitled "Waiting for the Verdict." It is one of the most readable romances issued of late, and the author—Rebecca Harding Davis—has deftly handled some of the questions raised by the late war. The story has been published as a serial in the "Galaxy," and has been read with deep interest by all who have followed it in that magazine. For sale by J. H. Foster.

500 MILES

OF THE

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD,

Running West from Omaha

ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

ARE NOW COMPLETED.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company have built a longer line of railroad in the last eighteen months than was ever built by any other company in the same time, and they will continue the work with the same energy until it is completed. The Western Division is being pushed rapidly eastward from Sacramento by the Central Pacific Company of California, and it is expected that

THE ENTIRE GRAND LINE

to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.—More than one-third of the work has already been done, more than one-third of the whole line is now running order, and more laborers are now employed upon it than ever before. More than

Forty Millions Dollars in Money

have already been expended by the two powerful companies that have undertaken the enterprise, and there is no lack of funds for its most vigorous prosecution. When the United States Government, finding it necessary to aid in the construction of the Union Pacific Railroad to develop and protect its own interest, it gave the companies authorized to build it a charter which should render its speedy completion beyond a doubt.—The available means of the Union Pacific Railroad Company are derived from the Government and its own stockholders, may be briefly summed up as follows:

1.—UNITED STATES BONDS

Having lawful years to run and bearing six per cent. currency interest at the rate of $16,000 per mile for 667 miles on the Plains; then at the rate of $32,000 per mile for 150 miles through the Rocky Mountains; then at the rate of $48,000 per mile for the remaining distance, for which the United States takes a second lien as security. The interest is paid semi-annually in gold by the United Government, which also pays the company one-half the amount of its bills in money for transporting the mails, troops, munitions, &c. The remaining half of these bills is passed to the company's credit, and for this a sinking fund which may finally discharge the whole amount of this lien. The claims against the government thence accruing for the current year amount to four and one-half times this interest.

2.—FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS.

By its charter the Company is permitted to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to the same amount as the bonds issued by the Government, and no more, and only as fast as the Commissioners, Trustees for the bondholders are the Hon. E. D. Morgan, U. S. Senator from New York, and the Hon. Oakes Ames, Member of U. S. House of Representatives, who are responsible for the delivery of these bonds to the Company in accordance with the terms of the law.

3.—THE LAND GRANT.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company has a land grant or absolute donation from government of 12,800 acres to the mile on the line of the road, which will not be worth less than $1.50 at the lowest valuation.

4.—THE CAPITAL STOCK.

The authorized capital of the Union Pacific Railroad Company is $100,000,000, of which over $5,000,000 have been paid on the work already done.

The Means Sufficient to Build the Road.

Contracts for the entire work of building 914 miles of trans-ocean railroad west from Omaha, comprising the whole branch of the great mountain work, and embracing every expensive excavation, leveying, have been made with responsible parties who have already built and stocked over 500 miles, at the average rate of sixty-eight thousand dollars per mile. This price includes all necessary stops for construction and repairs of engines, depots, stations, and all the accidental buildings, and also locomotives, passenger, baggage and freight cars and other requisite stock for the work, to an amount that will not be less than $5,000 per mile. Allowing the cost of the remaining one hundred and eighty-six of the 914 miles of railroad assumed to be built by the Pacific Company to be $89,000 per mile,

THE TOTAL COST OF ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES WILL BE AS FOLLOWS:

914 miles, at 68,000.....$62,225,012
186 miles, at 90,000.....16,740,000
Add discounts on bonds, surveys, &c.: 5,500,000

Amount.....$82,445,012

As the U. S. Bonds are equal to money, and the Company's own First Mortgage Bonds have a ready market, we have as the

AVAILABLE CASH RESOURCES for BUILDING ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES:

U. S. Bonds.....$27,225,000
First Mortgage Bonds.....25,225,000
Capital Stock paid in on the work now done.....5,349,750
Land Grant, 11,059,000 acres, at $1.50 per acre.....21,120,000

Total.....$85,145,755

The Company have ample facilities to supply any deficiency that may arise in means for construction. This may be either done in part by additional subscriptions to capital stock.

Active inquiry has already been made for a portion of the bonds, and arrangements are now proposed to offer a part of them for sale. While their whole value will not be available for some years to come, they will remain a profitable investment source of revenue to the Company. The lands of the Illinois Central Railroad Company are selling at from $2 to $3 per acre, and other land grant companies in the West are receiving equal prices for similar properties.

Future Business.

The most skeptical have never expressed a doubt that when the Union Pacific Railroad is finished the immense business that must flow over it, as the only railroad connecting the two grand divisions of the North American continent, will be one of the wonders of railway transportation; and as it will have no competitor, it can always charge remunerative rates. The Pacific Mail Steamship Company of New York is now running a regular line of its splendid steamers between San Francisco and China and Japan, which is doubtless the pioneer of other lines that will traverse the Pacific Ocean laden with the rich products and other products of Eastern Asia. Excepting some very heavy or bulky articles of comparatively low values, shortness of time decides the question of freights, and most of these cargoes will find their natural transit over the Union Pacific Railroad.

It is quite within bounds to say that its traffic will be limited only by the capacity of the road to transport, and that no other road will find a double track necessary. California and Oregon must not only be supplied with means of transportation for passengers, mail, treasure and other freights, but the inhabitants of Dacotah, Colorado, Utah, Idaho and Montana will communicate with the older States almost entirely by this road. It will be the avenue to all the great mining district, which is only awaiting this ready means of communication to receive a population that will develop its vast mineral and other resources, and which of itself would furnish ample business for a railway line.

Earnings from Way Business.

While the through business of the Company will be amply remunerative, it is still in the future, but the local business on the part of the road in operation has been most satisfactory.

During the quarter ending July 31, an average of 328 miles of the Union Pacific Railroad was in operation. The Subscriptendent's Report shows the following results:

Net Profit.....$445,789 04

The amount of bonds the company can issue on 235 miles at $16,000 per mile is $3,760,000. Interest in gold, three months, at 6 per cent. on this sum is $73,600; add 40 per cent premium, to correspond with currency earnings, is $103,200—showing that the net earnings, if the road had been more than four times the interest on the First Mortgage Bonds on its length of road.

First Mortgage Bonds,

whose principal is so amply provided for, and whose interest is so thoroughly secured, must be classed among the safest investments. They pay

SIX Per Cent in Gold,

and are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, and accrued interest at Six Per Cent. in currency from July 1.

Many parties are taking advantage of the present high price of Government stocks to exchange for these bonds, which are over FIFTEEN PER CENT. CHEAPER, and at the current rate of premium on gold, pay

Over Nine Per Cent. Interest.

SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received in Portsmouth by FIRST NATIONAL BANK, and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau street, and by

CONTINENTAL NAT. BANK No. 7 Nassau St.
CLARK, DODGE & CO., Bankers, 51 Wall St.

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS.

THE

CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,

THE WESTERN HALF OF THE

GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE

ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

being constructed with the AID and SUPERVISION OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is pushed to the east from Sacramento, and will meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. About 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the sum mit of the Sierra Nevadas. Within a few days 35 miles, now graded, will be added, and the track carried entirely across the mountains to a point on the Great Salt Lake Valley, whence iron rails and equipment are ready at hand for 300 miles of the road, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction.

The local business upon the completed portion surpasses all previous estimate. The figures for the quarter ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS,	OPERATING EXPENSES,	NET EARNINGS,
$487,879 61	$86,548 47	$401,031 17

or at the rate of two millions per annum, of which more than three fourths are net profit on less than 100 miles worked. This is upon the actual, legitimate traffic of the road, with its terminus in the mountains, and with only the normal rate of government transportation, and is exclusive of the materials carried for the further extension of the road.

The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $125,000.

And to this an ever expanding through traffic and due proportions of the future business become immense.

The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain ranges.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between Sacramento City and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the United States will have invested in the completion of 950 miles $27,350,000, or at the average rate of $35,000 per mile—not including as a bonable grant of 10,000,000 acres of the Public Lands. Every dollar of joint investor in the magnificent enterprise, and by waiving its first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bonds, the GREAT GOVERNMENT, IN EFFECT, INVITES THE CO-OPERATION OF ALL CAPITALISTS, and has carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

The Company offer for sale, through us, their

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds.

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York or San Francisco. Each $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons at 6 per cent. And are selling for the present at 90 per cent: and accrued interest from July 1st added in currency, at which rate they yield nearly

Nine per Cent. upon the Investment.

These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as the Bonds granted by the Government, and represent, in all cases, the first lien upon a completed, equipped and productive railroad, in which have been invested Government subsidies, stock subscriptions, donations, surplus earnings, etc., and which is worth more than three times the amount of First Mortgage Bonds which can be issued upon it.

These First Mortgage Bonds have all the assurances, sanctions and guarantees of the Pacific Railroad Act of Congress, and have a Government subsidy and position advantage over all other classes of railroad bonds.

First—They are the superior claim upon altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the road, and receives the benefit of large donations from California.

Third—Fully half the whole cost of grading 800 miles eastward of San Francisco is constructed upon the 150 miles now about completed.

Fourth—A local business already yielding three-fold the annual interest liabilities, with advantageous rates payable in coin.

Fifth—The principal as well as the interest of its Bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds to Trustees, Executors, Institutions and others as an eminently sound, reliable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

Morning Chronicle.

From "The Mormon Prophet and his Harem."

BRIGHAM YOUNG'S 29TH WIFE.

AMELIA, OR THE LAST LOVE.

Amelia Folsom is a native of Portsmouth, N. H. She is tall, and well formed, with light hair and gray eyes, and regular features. She is quite pale, owing to ill health. She has but little refinement of manner.—When at the theatre, sitting in the King's box with her husband, the observed of all observers, she may be seen eating apples, throwing the skins about, chatting with Brigham, and occasionally leveling her glass at some one in the assembly.

She plays and sings but with indifferent skill and taste. She was, for a long time, unwilling to marry the President, but he continued his suit with a pertinacity worthy a better cause, and by repeated promises of advancement made to herself and her parents, finally succeeded. For several months he had urged his suit, during which time his carriage might be seen, almost any day, standing at her father's door, for hours at a time. He told her she was created expressly for himself, and could marry no one else on pain of everlasting destruction. She plead, protested and wept, but he persevered, and at length, when all other arguments failed, he told her he had received a special revelation from Heaven on the subject. She had always believed in Mormonism, and had been taught to have faith in revelations. "Amelia," he said, "you must be my wife; God has revealed it to me; you cannot be sav d by any one else. If you will marry me, I will save you and exalt you to be a queen in the celestial world; but if you refuse you will be destroyed, both soul and body."

The poor girl believed this hellish impostor, and yielding to his wishes, became his wife. For several months after her marriage Amelia was sad and dejected, but of late she has rallied, and now appears the gayest of the gay. This marriage took place on the 29th day of January, 1863,—more than six months after the passage by Congress of the anti-polygamy law—and it was public and notorious. Here was perpetrated in one act the double crime of destroying forever the happiness of a young lady, and setting before his people the example of an open violation of a law of the land. Yet for both crimes he goes unpunished, and continues to sit in his chair of state, clothed in authority and power, not only the wonder, but the admiration of thousands outside of the Mormon Church!

Amelia is evidently living under restraint, and acting an assumed character.—She is playing the role of a happy wife, with a breaking heart. At the time of her marriage, her heart had been given to another, to whom she should have been married. That she compromised her character in marrying Young under the circumstances, is a fact too notorious to be concealed,—and this connection has brought more odium upon polygamy than any the President ever formed.

Nevertheless, Amelia stands the recognized Queen of the Harem. She leads the ton, and is the model woman for the saints. Thousands bow low as she passes, and think themselves happy to receive her passing recognition. She is now a Queen, and is to be a goddess in the celestial world. The new wife sometimes becomes restive and impatient, and treats her liege lord rather shabbily. She is at times notional and imperious, and somewhat coquettish,—to all of which her husband submits with good grace for the present, and pets her as a child.

The Bee-Hive House, formerly occupied by Mrs. Young and her family, has been vacated for Amelia. Servants are at her disposal, and her establishment is extensive and imposing.

Brigham spends much of his time with his new wife, and often dines with her.—One evening a friend was taking tea with the newly-married couple. Amelia behaved quite naughtily towards her lord. After the tea was finished, they remained at the table eating nuts and confectioneries. Amelia threw her shells through an open window, on the opposite side of the room. Her husband said: "Amelia, don't do that; put your shells by your plate." "I sha'n't do it," replied the fair one; "I'll throw them where I please." Young was silent for a time, but became so annoyed that he again said: "Amelia, I wish you wouldn't do that any more." "I don't care," replied the spouse, pettishly, "I'll throw the shells where I please, and I'll do as I please, and you may help yourself." Then pulling her guest by the dress, she said: "Come, let 's go up stairs, and let him grunt it out."

The theatre was dedicated by prayer and a grand ball. This was in the winter of 1862—63. Brigham led off in the dance with Amelia, and all was smiles and sunshine. On another occasion, he honored another one of "the women" with his hand for the first cotillion. This so displeased Amelia, that she refused to dance with him at all. He coaxed, she shrugged her shoulders and shook her head. It was only after much condescension and solicitation on his part that she granted her forgiveness and consented to dance with him. This gay Lothario of sixty-three then led forth his blushing mistress, and "all went merry as a marriage-bell."

Amelia has lovers still, for one of whom she entertains considerable feeling. He was sent to "Dixie," or the Cotton District, in Southern Utah, on a mission. He soon returned, however, to Salt Lake, and by his presence in the city, causes the Prophet considerable anxiety.

Amelia is tyrannical, and rules the women of the Harem with a strong hand. Poor Emeline is quite broken-hearted. Naturally very sensitive, this blow prostrated her upon a bed of sickness, from which it was feared she would never recover. But she lives to drag out a miserable life,—neither wife nor mistress, but a castaway.

In fact, all the women are miserable and unhappy. A common remark, in reply to the usual salutation, is: "Oh, I've got the blues to-day."

THE RICHEST MAN IN THE WORLD.

Extract of a Letter from Baron Solomon Rothschild.

PARIS, 8th April, 1864. 35 Rue Faubourg St. Honore.

Will you be kind enough to have forwarded to me here 200 bottles of your Indian Liniment: if you will send at the same time your account I will forward you the amount through Messrs. BELMONT & CO., New York.

Baron Solomon Rothschild having recommended to many of his friends Major LANE'S LINIMENT, and they being desirous to procure it, he should advise him to establish a depot in Paris.

THE INDIAN LINIMENT,

As a relief, ever ready; as a killer of pain, taken inwardly, or outwardly applied, has no equal.—For the relief and cure of Rheumatic and Neuralgic Affections. Sprains, Bruises, &c., it is unequalled.—It is also most efficacious taken inwardly in the cure of Cholera, Cramps and Pains in the Stomach, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and in fact all complaints of the Most Wonderful Panacea the world affords. No FAMILY should be without it. Every TRAVELER by land or water should have a bottle. Boatmen and FARMERS residing at a distance from Physicians should keep it constantly on hand. In case of accidents or sudden attacks of Stomach Complaint, Pleurisy, its value cannot be estimated. Inquire for Major LANE'S INDIAN LINIMENT, and take no other. Price 50 Cents per bottle. Wholesale and retail by Demas Barnes & Co., 21 Park Row, N. Y.; Gale & Robinson, 156 Greenwich street, N. Y.; C. Wells & Co., 16 Fulton street, N. Y.; Chas. N. Crittenden, 36 6th Ave. N. Y., and by respectable Druggists throughout the world. None genuine unless signed by JAMES F. SHORES, Jr., and countersigned by J. T. LANE & CO., Proprietors, 163 Broadway, N. Y. Send for circular.

DR. WISHART'S PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL—Nature's great remedy for Throat and Lung Diseases.

Consumption has been and can be cured by Dr. Wishart's Pine Tree Tar Cordial, even in apparently hopeless cases. It is also confidently said to be the best remedy extant for the cure of Bronchitis, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Blind and Bleeding Piles, Asthma, Whooping Cough and Diphtheria. Price $1.50 per bottle; $11 per dozen. For sale by all druggists.

DR. WISHART'S GREAT AMERICAN DYSPEPSIA PILLS AND PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL—A positive cure for Dyspepsia in its most aggravated form, and no matter of how long standing. Price $1 per box. Sent by mail on receipt of price. For sale by all druggists, and by the proprietor, L. Q. C. WISHART, M. D., No. 36 South Second street, Philadelphia, Pa. Circulars mailed to any address on receipt of stamp.

NEW MARRIAGE GUIDE.—An Essay for Young Men on Physiological Errors, Abuses and Diseases, Incident to Youth and Early Manhood, which create impediments to Marriage, with sure means of relief. Sent in sealed letter envelope free of charge. Address Dr. J. SKILLIN HOUGHTON, Howard Association, Philadelphia, Pa.

They may be worn inside of Rubber Boots without slippers, and will prevent the bad results of the perspiration of the feet.

They can be worn with thin soled leaky boots in any walking with perfect safety.

They are of GREAT VALUE to the health of Soldiers, Sailors, Travellers, and all persons with damp, cold feet, and sew the seed of disease.

They are the Cheapest Inner Soles in the Market.

One pair will outwear eight pairs of any other Inner Sole known to us.

Sold by Boot and Shoe Dealers. Retail price $1 per pair. Circulars and Certificates sent free. At wholesale only by E. A. HILL, Proprietor, No. 7 Dale street, Roxbury, Mass.

Certificate from H. Williams, Esq., Treasurer of the Worcester Railroad,

BOSTON, Oct. 22, 1867.

MR. HILL:—I have used PATENT ELASTIC VENTILATING INNER SOLES through a portion of the last winter with great satisfaction, as a means of keeping the feet warm and dry.

Being troubled with tender feet, I have continued their use with tighter boots through the summer, and find them to answer my expectations, keeping them warm and cooler in hot weather, and giving an agreeable elasticity in walking.

Very truly yours,

THE NEW "MILK MAID."—The American Artisan thus describes a patent milking machine, which is worked by hydraulic power. Like other inventions of the kind, this latest one will, doubtless, prove impracticable, as these appliances tend to weaken the cows and cause them to lose their milk:

"The principle by which the milking is done is by suction, which is nature's own plan, and it is done in exact imitation of the sucking of the calf; and the idea of employing water as a means of producing this action is to have the effect exactly where it is wanted, upon the teats of the cow. At the right of the machine is seen a pulley, to which motion is communicated, actuating the pumbs placed, one for each cow, upon the framework which supports the stanchions. By means of a horizontal bar several of these pumps may be operated upon in unison, and a volume of water is thus worked back and forth in the pipes attached to the pumps. At the other end of this pipe is the milker, which is attached to the cow's teats, and is supported in place by the pipe, by which it is connected to the pump. The milker consists of four rubber tubes, which inclose and clasp the teats of the cow, and are connected to a vessel made by attaching two iron plates, and so formed, that at the base of each tube which incloses the teat there is a globular-shaped reservoir, and placed between the plates and dividing the reservoir horizontally is a rubber diaphragm, which forms an elastic partition. All the space from the diaphragm to the pump and the stanchion is filled with water, which remains there constantly, and when the pump is in motion this body of water oscillates in the tube, causing the rubber diaphragm to oscillate correspondingly to the motion of the pump; and at each motion from the diaphragm a vacuum is produced, which draws the milk from the udder of the cow; and this milk, by means of proper valves, is discharged into a pipe and conducted to a can partly sunk in the floor, so as to be as much out of the way as possible, and so arranged that it is impossible to waste any of the milk or get dirt in it.

The milkers are self-adjusting, will fit any cow, large or small, milking the four teats of the cow at the same time, and milking three-teated cows as well as any. The milkers imitate the calf very perfectly; they draw, and stop drawing to swallow, moving up and down under the cow's bag, giving a bunting motion in imitation of the calf while sucking. Suction, rightly applied, is a more natural process of milking than the application of the hand, and more agreeable to the cow."

A WESTERN RAT STORY.—The Cairo Democrat is responsible for the following lively rat story, with a natural Western denouement:

If there was one person for every two rats in the place, Cairo would be as populous as the city of New York. The other evening a stranger arrived in the city, and was astonished to see droves of rats pass across the walk before him. Wherever he went he saw rats—great fat fellows with nimble feet and bright eyes.

Strange to say, although he had a cane, he did not strike at the "pets" that gave him so much annoyance.

Finally he took a friend by the arm, and walking aside with him in a mysterious manner, he said:

"Have you seen any rats on the sidewalk this evening?"

"Thousands of them," replied his friend. The stranger's face brightened in an instant. He said:

"It's all right; you see the truth is I have been drinking like a fish lately, and when I saw so many rats I was fearful they were creatures of my imagination, and not bona fide rats; in short, I was afraid that I had the delirium. You have taken a weight from my mind."

— The Detroit papers announce that winter has fairly begun in that latitude.

— There is a volume in the following question and answer, found in the proceedings of a Grand Lodge of Good Templars in the West: Question—Is the regular use of opium as a stimulant, occasioning intoxication, a violation of our pledge? Answer—No; but care should be taken in such case.

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous patronsers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all other of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.

Caution
To Females in Delicate Health.
DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No. 7 ENDICOTT St., Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri or Floor Albus, Suppression and other menstrual derangements, are all treated on new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a very few days. So invariably certain is this new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience the cure of diseases of women than any other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations for those who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1867.

NEW HAMPSHIRE THANKSGIVING.

GOVERNOR HARRIMAN'S PROCLAMATION.

In accordance with wise and Christian usage, I do, by the advice of the Council, appoint THURSDAY, the twenty-eighth day of November instant, to be observed by the people of this State as a Day of Public Thanksgiving and Praise.

Under a sense of our dependence on Almighty God, let us assemble on that day, in places devoted to worship, and reverently lay our offerings of gratitude upon His altar:

That the watchcare of Him whose goodness crowns the year, has been continued over us:

That neither gaunt famine nor wasting pestilence, nor desolating war, has afflicted us:

That in our several homes, through the protection of Him without whom not a sparrow can fall, joyous life and buoyant health have been so generally preserved:

That the Union of these numerous States in one common government has not been broken:

That neither criminal ambition in our rulers, nor ignorance and passion among the ruled, have been permitted to destroy the fair fabric inherited from our fathers:

That the sentiments of liberty and justice throughout our beloved county have been so greatly strengthened:

That the public credit, the honor, and the good faith of the several States and of the Nation, remain unimpaired:

That sound learning has continued to shed its blessed light upon our hearts, our homes, our pathways in life:

That School and College, liberally sustained by the generous offerings of a wise and forecasting people, have proffered their varied instruction to all our youth, and exerted a benign influence in moulding the rising generation of freemen:

That our Churches have been blessed with the ministrations of the gospel and the sanctifying influences of the Holy Spirit:

That a growing appreciation of the unity of human interests has quickened our sympathy for the unfortunate of every class, and begotten a more generous and charitable spirit towards all who are in the dark ways of error:

Since, though Paul may plant and Apollos water, it is God that gives the increase, let us bring to Him our sincere and hearty thanks that he has brought up to this new harvest season:

That hill-top and valley have poured forth their abundant treasures, gladdening the heart of the husbandman with a suitable reward for his toil:

That labor has again vindicated its divine claims through the ample recompense it brings on sea and on land, from rugged soil and the marts of trade.

Finally, in remembrance of every special mercy, and above all of the great redemption through Jesus Christ, let us worship Him who is blessed forevermore.

CABLE ITEMS.—Charles Dickens sails in the steamer Cuba for Boston.

The news of the great loss of shipping and property by the hurricane at St. Thomas created a feeling of depression in mercantile circles, as British shipping merchants and underwriters are heavy losers by the calamity.

A dispatch from Glamorgan, Wales, states that a terrible explosion took place in one of the mines of the Ferndale Colliery. All the miners, 300 in number, were at work at the time. At last accounts the mine was on fire, and but few of the miners were saved.

Rev. W. J. Butler was appointed by the Archbishop of Canterbury to succeed Dr. Colenso as Bishop of Natal, but Mr. Butler has declined.

A great change has been made in the Italian situation, but no adjustment. Great distrust is felt about relations between France, Italy and Rome, which are regarded as liable to rupture at any moment.

The French Government has asked the Papal authorities to release the insurgents who have been taken prisoners, but the request has been refused.

The Italia says King Victor Emanuel, having fulfilled all the obligations imposed upon Italy by the September Convention, now demands of the Emperor Napoleon the departure of the French troops from Italian soil, and the recall of the French fleet from the Italian coast.

The Monitour Des Soir admits that French infantry, armed with the Chassepot rifle, and artillery supplied with rifled cannon, took part in the battle of Monte Rotondo, and their coming to the assistance of the Pontifical forces decided the fate of the day against Garibaldi.

The Italia says the King, in his communications with the French Emperor, firmly protests against a European conference composed only of Catholic Powers for the settlement of the Roman question.

Gen. Fully, commander of the French expedition force to Rome, reports that the French in the fight at Monte Rotondo lost 40 in killed and wounded. The Papal troops lost only 12 men. The Garibaldians had 600 killed and as many wounded, 2200 were taken prisoners. Gen. Fully says the great slaughter of the rebels is due to the Chassepot rifle. The rebels were only half armed.

Victor Emanuel has extended aid to the families of the Garibaldians who were killed and wounded in the recent engagement.

There is a general discontent throughout Italy, and a state of siege is threatened in every large town.

GOLD Wednesday, 139 1-4.

— A Democratic meeting was held in Montgomery, Alabama, on the 9th, composed exclusively of men who supported the rebellion. Various speeches were made, introducing wild exultation over the recent Democratic successes in the North; and resolutions were adopted, sending greetings to their brethren in that section, and denouncing the Constitutional Convention, assembled in Alabama by act of Congress, as "composed of ex-Federal officers, unknown adventurers and illiterate negroes."

NARROW ESCAPE OF CHARLES SUMNER.—On Tuesday, while Senator Sumner was passing over the Southern Michigan Railroad, he was asked to inspect one of the Crystal Palace Sleeping Cars upon a train which was at the depot. He had looked through the car and reached the platform, when the train started. Mr. Sumner, under the impression that it had not acquired sufficient momentum to render such an act dangerous, stepped off, and was thrown quite a distance, striking the ground with his head. He wore a stiff black hat, which protected him in a great degree from the severity of the fall, but his head was badly cut and his arm and thigh much bruised. Mr. Sumner still bears the marks of the accident, which but for the hat could scarcely have failed of a fatal result.

AT ST. THOMAS, on the morning of the 29th, there being indication of a storm, the passengers of the old steamer Conway, Capt. Hammack, did not feel safe to go to sea in her, and wished to be transferred to the Rhone, a new steamer of the line, where they might consider themselves safe in case of a storm. They were accordingly transferred, and both vessels put to sea; but during the Rhone struck on Peter's Island, her boiler exploded and all hands were lost, with the exception of twelve or fifteen. The Conway was thrown on Tortoise Island and all hands were saved.

NEW YORK.—The Tribune says the Democratic majority creeps up slowly, and is now nearly 38,000—some make it over 40,000.—They have also one or two more Assemblymen. The few complete returns at hand from interior counties in this State show no actual gains in the number of Democratic votes, but a heavy staying at home on the part of the Republicans. Probably the aggregate vote will be 100,000 less than that for Governor last year.

LONDON ITEMS, NOV. 10.—The latest accounts from Wales state that 200 lives were lost in the Ferndale mine.

The London Times on Fenian trials, says the American nativity of Gen. Nagle will save him from a conviction.

France is seeking to raise a loan of £28,000,000, which it is represented the Government wants for peace uses.

MEXICO.—Maximilian's remains were to be given up Nov. 6, to Admiral Tegithoff.

The Mexican Congress has a majority favoring Juarez.

EXIT BRADLEY.—The Supreme Court for the District of Columbia having stricken Bradley's name from the roll of attornies, and as he is thus debarred from practicing in any courts under its control, he has resigned his office of Attorney for the Corporation of Washington.

The decision of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia sustaining Judge Fisher's act striking Bradley from the bar roll for his insolence during the Surratt trial, gives general satisfaction. Bradley's course was as a bully and a blusterer, trained up under the old pro-slavery regime, and confident of strong local support. The lesson of his fate will be of wide and much needed application. The despotism of legal practitioners has not been wholly confined to Washington, but we have all met with instances of it which ought to have been held intolerable long ago.

A lawyer should be a candid man and a gentleman, as some lawyers are; but some impudent puppies in the profession ought to have been kicked out long ago—as Judge Fisher has disposed of Bradley.

THE PARAGUAYAN WAR—DEFEAT OF THE BRAZILIANS.—Rio Janeiro correspondence of Oct. 10th says: The Chief of Staff to the Marquis de Caxias has arrived from Paraguay, and after a short stay departed again for the seat of war. Rumor has it that he brought proposals for peace from Lopez, but the truth was that he was sent solely to inform the Government of the increasing enmity between the Argentine and Brazilian troops. Reinforcements were consequently being rapidly forwarded, and it was even stated that the able-bodied slaves were to be drafted, their owners being paid for them at $600 a head. The rumored propositions for peace purporting to come from Lopez, were in reality prepared in Buenos Ayres for effect on the market. A fight occurred about the 24th of September, in which the Brazilians were defeated, reporting a loss of a thousand men and 40 officers. They were compelled to abandon the field. Gen. Porte Allegro was blamed considerably for the disaster.—Mr. Gould, the Secretary of the British Legation, was attempting to patch up a peace between the rival powers, but so far without success. The papers stated that no mediation could be accepted by Brazil except it came from the United States.

☞ Peterson's Magazine, for December, is a splendid number, with two steel engravings, fashion plate, a colored pattern and nearly fifty wood-cuts of braiding and other patterns, and late fashions. The Publisher says that in 1867 "Peterson's Magazine had more subscribers than all the other Ladies' Magazines combined." The terms will remain $2 a year. Address, Charles J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

— The Memphis Avalanche declines to rain its digestion by partaking of good things on the occasion of Mr. Johnson's Thanksgiving, on the ground that the South has nothing to thank God for.

☞ On Saturday, November 16, T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, Penn., will issue Colonel J. W. Forney's Letters from Europe, in one volume duodecimo, 408 pages. These letters, now collected, carefully revised, were written literally "on the wing," while their author was making a rapid tour months' tour in Europe, and originally appeared in The Press: Colonel Forney trusted largely to his own observation, and very little to guide-books and hand-books of travel, and put his impressions upon paper as they arose. Hence came that freshness of thought and ease of expression, which, nearly as much as the large amount of information which they communicated, has won a popularity for these letters, which, we believe, will be increased and made permanent by their appearance in book form. Colonel Forney, not looking merely at the surface, inquired into causes and effects and collected valuable statistics of several subjects, particularly illustrative of the operation of Free Trade in Europe, and its injurious action upon labor and wages. The result is a readable and very reliable book, the key to which is an unusually full alphabetical index, in double columns, covering eight pages. A good portrait of Col, Forney, engraved by Mr. Sartain from a photograph by Gutekunst, is given as a frontispiece, and the volume is got up in a very handsome manner.

☞ Of all the medicines in the world, perhaps none is wider or better known than Perry Davis' Pain Killer,—and probably few have really done so much service to suffering humanity, as this. Such being the case, it only remains to be added, that the manufacture of this staple and standard article is still carried on by the original proprietors, so that its purity and truth to the old standard can be relied on, although the business has increased a thousand fold, and grown to be really immense. A new advertisement of the Pain Killer will be found among our new special notices this morning; and we have no doubt it possesses more interest than politics to many a reader.

☞ The swan pours out her sweetest song when dying. In like manner, the fragrance of Phalon's Night-Blooming Cereus grows more exquisite as it becomes fainter. This is not the case with the ordinary extracts for the handkerchief. Their original scent soon lapses into a decidedly repulsive odor.—New Haven Palladium. 5

—Frank J. Poor of Manchester, and James Wallace of Litchfield, N. H., found about $2000 of U. S. Treasury notes near the Manchester depot on the day Gen. Sheridan passed through that city, and have been unable to find any owner of them.

—The people of the Southern States are recommended to turn their attention to the culture of the olive. This tree, it is said, will thrive anywhere from the northern boundary of Virginia to the Gulf of Mexico.

— Rev. Robert G. Chase, the Episcopal clergyman from Philadelphia, who was lost last summer by drowning, near Mount Desert, had life insurance to the amount of $11,000, a policy of $10,000 being the gift of his people.

— The United States Attorney of Philadelphia has prosecuted a man named Herzel, who has been in the habit of offering himself as bail in the courts, although not possessed of property. The charge is perjury.

— It is related that a Cincinnati pork packer told a friend, who wished a little pure lard for bair dressing for his private use, to send a bottle as large as he pleased and it should be filled. Number two applied to a glass blower and had a vial made which held over one hundred pounds. Number one fulfilled his promise, and the lard was then presented to an orphan asylum.

— Recently new spurious 25 cent notes have been put in circulation. They are the best executed of any of that denomination that have yet been made, and well calculated to deceive even experts. They may be detected by the paper being a trifle thicker than the genuine, and the green on the back is a trifle lighter. The vignette of Fessenden is at first glance fully as correct as that of the genuine, but a close scrutiny shows that it is a good wood cut and not a steel engraving.

"How is it wife, the bill for flour
Has fallen off of late,
And yet the price, instead of lower,
Is at a higher rate."
"Gold Medal Saleratus does it,
And Allen takes the praise,
For flour since I began to use it,
Does go a wondrous ways!"
It is always of uniform strength, and will do one-third more work than English Bi-Carb. Soda or other saleratus. 2

NINE POINTS OF THE LAW.—Possession is said to be "nine points of the law": but the cook who has possession of a package of Pyle's Saleratus has the whole law of bread, biscuit and cake making in her own hands. Be sure that you get the right kind. Sold by grocers everywhere, in pound packages. 28

Where are you going?
I am going into CARTER'S Saloon, to get a dozen Providence River Oysters, on half shell.
Has he got Providence River Oysters?
Yes; and has made arrangements to have a supply of them all the time.
Does he cook them?
Yes, any way you desire; Fried in Crumbs, Batter, Roasted or Stewed. So come along and see if you do not get suited at CARTER'S, Corner Congress and Chestnut streets. n24 — Six new Republican Senators take seats in the Fortieth Congress, heretofore occupied by Copperheads or Johnson men.

— Mrs. Mary T. B. Gladding, who for forty years kept a private school at Bristol, R. I., died suddenly on Wednesday last, at the age of eighty-five years.

— On Monday morning a brakeman named Howard slipped and fell between two passenger cars, while in motion, at White River Junction, Vt., was run over and instantly killed. He was about 35 years old and leaves a widow and two children.

— Government officers recently seized about 3000 barrels of high wines at Hennepin, Illinois, the owners, it is alleged, having attempted to defraud the Government. The names of the parties owning the spirits have not yet transpired. The value of the property is about $300,000.

— A Washington dispatch says that the old secesh element in the district has grown ugly and defiant since the New York election. Men who were recently or openly with the rebellion are bragging that the negro population will be degraded, and that the capitol will soon be too hot for radicals to live in.

AMERICAN
WALTHAM
WATCHES.

The true value of Machinery applied to Watchmaking is not that by its use watches are rapidly made, but that they are made correctly. Very few people know why a Waltham Watch should be the best watch in the first place, as Waltham the Watch is regarded as only a machine, to be constructed like any other machine, on mechanical principles. If the watches are good, it is because the machinery is good. Of course there must be no defect in the principle or plan of the movement—no mistake in the sizes or shapes of the pieces of which it is composed—nothing wanting in their properties, and no error in their positions. These points once thoroughly settled, it rests wholly with the machinery, constructed with infinite diversity of form and function expressly for the purpose, to produce the finished pieces. By means of multiplying gauges and microscopes, tests and inspection for the detection of wear in the cutting tools, and for faults and flaws in steel or stone, are made to accompany the work in every stage from beginning to end. As a necessary result, the watch goes together in perfect machine. Every part is formed to fit properly in its place. Every pin may be pushed till it pinches, and every screw turned home. Instead of a sluggish and feeble action, the balance, even under the pressure of the lightest mainspring, vibrates with a wide and free motion. And the best has the clear, ringing sound always characteristic of the Waltham Watch. The machine is a timekeeper from the start.

This system of watchmaking is unknown in foreign countries, and is entirely original with the Waltham Company. The Company claim that by it they produce watches that cannot be equalled for every quality which makes a watch valuable. Simple in plan and correct in principle, the movement is not only beautifully finished, substantial, accurate and cheap, but uniform in the minutest details, not easily damaged, and when repaired always as good as new. There are different grades of finish in the different varieties of watches made by the Waltham Company, as there are different sizes and shapes to suit all tastes and means; but every watch that bears the genuine trade-mark of "WALTHAM" is guaranteed to be a good one, and nobody need be afraid to buy it.

Every Watch fully Warranted.

NOT GOLD ONLY,
BUT
RICH, FRUITY, LUSCIOUS
WINES!

California is making grand strides in her agricultural products, and is fast withdrawing herself as a purchaser for the manufactures of the various branches of industry she once demanded. She needs a warning voice to the Eastern wine vineyards of Europe, and enters the lists as a fresh, young combatant for the production of wines from her own rich and increasing vineyards.—The time has come when it is simply ridiculous for any one house to lay claim to especial advantages or peculiar privileges for the sale of

THE WINES OF CALIFORNIA.

As well might they claim a monopoly of the cotton trade.

C. A. RICHARDS & CO.

do not receive or sell all the wines which California produces, but they do claim to have at all times a very large quantity on hand of all the best kinds, and their advantages for getting the best, and getting them at the lowest market value, are such as to enable them to offer them at prices which to-day are lower than any other house which sells California Wines of equality. We bottle five kinds. They are,—

"Angelica,"
"Muscatel,"
"Still Champagne,"
"Hock" and
"Port,"
Also "California Brandy."

They are all perfectly pure, and may be relied upon in sickness or in health. The Angelica and Muscatel are rich, sweet wines. The Hock is fully equal to the medium grades of Rhine wines. The Port is actually better than many of the high cost Ports from Oporto. We sell these wines in any required quantity, from a single bottle to a THOUSAND CASES, and are ready at all times to exhibit samples, or to send them to any address.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!
THE REMEDY FOR CURING
Consumption, Asthma, Croup, Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppressions of the Chest or Lungs, Difficult Breathing, and all Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

Its action is expectorant, alterative sudorific, sedative, diaphoretic and diuretic, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS and PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action and imparts strength to the whole system. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction, even in the most confirmed cases of consumption, and not to produce costiveness (as do most remedies for that affection), as it contains no opium in any form. It is PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although an active and powerful remedy for destroying the system. There is no necessity for so many deaths by consumption, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.
Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

Have the compactness of kid, and the flexibility of a silk glove.

DR. I. T. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

FARNVILLE, Louisiana, March 8, 1865.

DR. T. ALLCOCK—Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hysterrophy of the heart, and have tried everything known to the profession of medicine from the very best M. D's; but truth prompts me to say that your Plaster have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a permanent cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your Plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours very truly.

DR. SCHENCK, THE LUNG DOCTOR.

☞ The Proprietor of SCHENK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, the inventor of SCHENK'S RESPIRETER, that instrument that can be used entirely detect the slightest murmur of the respiratory organs.

This is of great importance to Dr. SCHENCK, to know the exact condition of the lungs, whether it is tuberculous, Pulmonary, Bronchial, Pleuritic, or Dyspeptic Consumption, and whether it is both lungs or only one that are diseased.

It requires constant and long practice to become familiar with every sound or rattling of a diseased bronchial tube. Patients come to Dr. SCHENCK to get examined that have been examined by their family physician, who told them that their lungs were almost gone; when a close examination with the Respirometer, it is often found that it is an affection of the bronchial tube; and by getting a healthy action of the liver and tone of the stomach, the sufferer is soon restored to health. Sometimes medicine that will stop a cough is sent down to the lungs, and it looks up the liver, stops the circulation of the blood—hemorrhage follows, and, in fact, stopping the action of the very organs that cause the cough.

Dr. Schenck will be professionally at his rooms every week, 32 Bond street, New York, and 67 Hanover street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer the charge is $5. His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers, also a good supply at all times at his rooms. Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each, $1 per bottle, or $7.50 per half dozen; Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.—GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover street, Agents for Boston. SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT, PORTSMOUTH—Doe, Judge.—Wednesday.—In Mathews vs. Sawyer, the case was taken from the jury and will be transferred on a question of law.

194. Batholomew Holland vs. Charles H. Kimball. Action of debt to recover $100 damages for the bite of a dog kept by said Kimball, which bit the plaintiff, and has since kept him in great anxiety for fear of hydrophia. Verdict for plff. for one cent. Goodall for plff., Hackett for deft.

Wm. Laighton vs. Nathan Godfrey, was tried by the Court in the afternoon. Action for medical services rendered the deft. Submitted at the adjournment. William H. Hackett for plff., Hatch and Frink for deft.

☞ Rather an unusual sight of late years in our best of harbors, is that now to be seen from Pier Wharf—three splendid new specimens of marine architecture, all hailing from this port, and being fitted for sea. The bark Quickstep will probably go to Savannah, the ship Merrimac to Mobile, and the Yosemite to New Orleans or some other Southern port. They will do credit to the shipwrights who have constructed them, and will further enhance the reputation which Piscataqua-built ships have now in all parts of the world.

POLICE COURT, Nov. 12.—Elwood Hutton entered a complaint against James Deverson and others for an assault upon John Grimshaw, with intent to kill. This was the stabbing case which occurred at the Portsmouth House on Saturday night last, wherein Grimshaw received two frightful knife wounds in the face. The other assailants named in the warrant are Joseph Cornelius, Alfred Tucker, John W. Stott and James Gilchrist. Deverson gave bail in $1000 for his appearance before the S. J. Court.

George Manning, convicted of being drunk, paid a fine of $3 and $3 86 costs.

Elwood Hutton, for an assault upon Jas. Davidson, was fined $5 and $6.86 costs; from which he appealed and gave bonds in $50 to prosecute the same.

Nov. 13.—Frank Norton, found drunk on Pleasant street, was unpleasantly reminded that he was guilty of a misdemeanor, by the imposition of a fine of $3 and $3.86 costs.

William P—s, found drunk on Water street, received a similar sentence for overheating himself with fire water.

☞ The storm on Tuesday evening did not prevent the attendance of a respectable audience to hear the lecture of Mrs. Rockwood on "A Yankee Girl's Thoughts."—With a great many pointed truths, some of which were so terse as to be Emersonian in their style, much was lost to the audience by the frequent dropping of the voice by the lecturer, rendering it next to impossible for those at any distance to catch the words enunciated. We should judge Mrs. R. to be a fluent and pleasing talker in a drawing-room, but the capacity of the Temple requires a severe tax upon the vocal organs.

SUITS AGAINST THE BOSTON & MAINE R. R.—Messrs. Wm. H. Belknap, Frank H. Hervey and Wm. B. Chapman of Exeter, have each entered suit against the Boston & Maine Railroad, before the Supreme Judicial Court now in session at Portsmouth, claiming that they each, as members of the Masonic Lodge at Exeter, held a ticket issued to members of the Lodge by the Railroad marked "Special ticket, Masonic celebration, June 24, 1867. Good for one person from Exeter to Boston, and return." It seems that while returning to Exeter on the 25th, these parties offered their tickets for their fares, which were refused, and they were ejected from the train between Boston and Lawrence, the conductor having no orders to pass persons on such tickets. The ejected men contend there was no limit to the time when the return passage could be made.

☞ Bigelow, Brothers & Kennard, Boston, for thirty years well-known dealers in jewelry and silver ware, have sought larger accommodations to meet the wants of themselves and their customers, in a splendid new store of four stories, of white Glouces. ter granite, situated on the corner of West and Washington streets.

—The Republican State Central Committee of Minnesota state that "impartial suffrage was voted for by nearly nine-tenths of the Republicans of the State."

These Confederates think they can now afford to tell a good deal of truth of each other.

—The Countess Dannar, morganatic wife of the late King Frederick VII. of Denmark, has just died. She was born in 1814, and was at first a teacher in Norway and afterward an actress in France. It was at a later period, in Copenhagen, in a magasin des modes, that Frederick, then Crown Prince, saw her for the first time. On his accession to the throne in 1848, he conferred on her the title of baroness, afterwards creating her Countess Dannar, and married her publicly in the church of Frederickesburg on April 17, 1850.

DON'T STAND ON YOUR HEAD.—A boy named Edgerton, in attempting to stand on his head at New London, Saturday, strained his neck in such a way that he has been unable to hold his head in an upright position since.

—Rev. Wm. H. Green, of Cornwall, Ct., who poisoned his wife last May, was convicted of murder in the first degree, at Litchfield, Saturday.

— George W. Hodgdon, Town Treasurer of Barnstead, N. H., has been arrested for alleged defalcation of town funds. So says a dispatch.

— A Charleston, S. C., dispatch says that the heads of the various Union Leagues in that city recently met and expressed their unanimous preference for Chief Justice Chase for the Presidency.

—The New York Day Book, an intensely Democratic organ, says that "any man who thinks that Grant is not in perfect accord with Congress, is green enough to be eaten up for grass."

—The New York Times complains of the telegraphic fuss about Weston, the Pedestrian, and hopes that nobody will tempt him, on a wager, to walk back from Chicago to Portland.

500 MILES
OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD,
Running West from Omaha
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
ARE NOW COMPLETED.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company have built a longer line of railroad in the last eighteen months than was ever built by any other company in the same time, and they will continue the work with the same energy until it is completed. The Western Division is being pushed rapidly eastward from Sacramento by the Central Pacific Company of California, and it is expected that

THE ENTIRE GRAND LINE

to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.—More than one-third of the work has already been done, more than one-third of the whole line is now in running order, and more laborers are now employed upon it than ever before. More than

Forty Million Dollars in Money

have already been expended by the two powerful companies that have undertaken the enterprise, and there is no lack of funds for its most vigorous prosecution. When the United States Government found it necessary to secure the construction of the Union Pacific railroad to develop and protect its own interest, it gave to the companies authorized to build it such ample aid as would render its speedy completion beyond a doubt—The available means of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, derived from the Government and its own stockholders, may be briefly summed up as follows:

1.—UNITED STATES BONDS

Having thirty years to run and being six per cent. currency interest at the rate of $16,000 per mile for 517 miles on the Plains; then at the rate of $48,000 per mile for 150 miles among the Rocky Mountains; then at the rate of $32,000 per mile for the remaining distance, for which the United States takes a second lien as security. The interest on these bonds is paid by the United States government, which also pays the company one half the amount of its bills in money for transporting its freight, troops, mails, &c. The remaining half of these bills is placed to the company's credit, and forms a sinking fund which may finally discharge the whole amount of this lien. The claims against the government since April of the current year amount to four and one-half times this interest.

2.—FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS.

By its charter the Company is permitted to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to the same amount as the bonds issued to the Government, and no more, and only as the road progresses. The Trustees for the bondholders are the Hon. E. D. Morgan, U. S. senator from New York, and the Hon. Oakes Ames, Member of U. S. House of Representatives, who are responsible for the delivery of these bonds to the Company in accordance with the terms of the law.

3.—THE LAND GRANT.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company has a land grant or absolute donation from government of 12,800 acres to the mile on the line of the road, which will not be worth less than $1.50 at the lowest valuation.

4.—THE CAPITAL STOCK.

The authorized capital of the Union Pacific Railroad Company is $100,000,000, of which over $5,000,000 have been paid on the work already done.

The Means Sufficient to Build the Road.

Contracts for the entire work of building 914 miles of the Pacific railroad west from Omaha, comprising much of the most difficult mountain work, and embracing every expense except surveying, have been made with responsible parties who have already finished over one hundred, the average rate of sixty-eight thousand and fifty-eight dollars ($68,058) per mile. This price includes all necessary shops for construction and repairs of cars, depots, stations and all other incidental buildings, and also locomotives, passenger, freight and baggage cars for the entire completed rolling stock, to an amount that shall not be less than $6,000 per mile. Allowing the cost of the remaining one hundred and eighty-six of the seven hundred miles assumed to be built by the Pacific Company to be $90,000 per mile,

THE TOTAL COST OF SEVEN HUNDRED MILES WILL BE AS FOLLOWS:

914 miles, at $68,058..... $62,205,012
186 miles, at 90,000..... 16,740,000
Add discounts on bonds, surveys, &c.' 4,500,000

Amount..... $82,445,012

As the U. S. Bonds are equal to money, and the Company issues its First Mortgage Bonds have already market, we have as the

AVAILABLE CASH RESOURCES for BUILDING ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES:

U. S. Bonds, 16,000 per mile..... $9,328,000
First Mortgage Bonds..... 29,328,000
Capital stock paid in on the work now done..... 5,389,750
Land Grant, 14,080,000 acres, at 1.00 per acre..... 21,120,000

Total..... $85,145 750

The Company have ample facilities for supplying any deficiency that may exist in the cost of construction. This may be done wholly or in part by additional subscriptions to capital stock. A large amount has already been made from a portion of these lands, and arrangements are now proposed to offer a part of them for sale. While their whole value will not be available for some years to come, they will remain a very large and sure source of revenue to the Company. The lands of the Illinois Central Railroad Company are selling at from $8 to $12 per acre, and the land grant companies in the West are receiving equal prices for similar properties.

Future Business.

The most sceptical have ever expressed a doubt that when the Union Pacific Railroad is finished the immense business that must flow over it, as the only railroad connecting the two grand divisions of the North American Continent, will be one of the wonders of railway transportation; and as it will have no competitor, it can always charge remunerative rates. The Pacific Mail Steamship Company of New York is now running a regular line of its splendid steamers between San Francisco and China and Japan, which is doubtless the pioneer of other lines, that will traverse the Pacific Ocean laden with the teas, spices and other products of Eastern Asia. Excepting some very heavy or bulky articles of comparatively low values, shortness of time decides the direction of freights, and most of these cargoes will find their natural transit over the Union Pacific Railroad.

It is quite within bounds to say that its traffic will be limited only by the capacity of the line, and that no other road will find a double track so necessary. California and Oregon must not only be supplied with means of transit for passengers, mail, treasure and other freights, but the inhabitants of Dacotah, Colorado, Utah, Idaho and Montana will communicate with all other States almost entirely by this road. It will be the avenue to all the great mining district, which is only awaiting this ready means of communication to receive a population that will develop its vast mineral and other resources, and which of itself would furnish ample business for a railway line.

Earnings from Way Business.

While the through business of the Company will be amply remunerative, it is still in the future, but the local business on the part of the road in operation has been most satisfactory.

During the quarter ending July 31, an average of 325 miles of the Union Pacific Railroad was in operation. The Superintendent's Report shows the following results:

EARNINGS.

Passengers, Freight, Telegraph, Mails, $723,755 54
Transportation of Contractors' Material and men..... 479,283 41

Total..... $1,203,038 95

EXPENSES.

Fuel, Repairs, Offices, Conductors, Trains, &c..... $395,630 92
Net Earnings to balance..... 807,508 03

Total..... $1,503,038 95

The net operating expenses on the commercial business for the quarter were $727,956 50. The account for the COMMERCIAL BUSINESS stands as follows:

Earnings for May, June and July..... $733,755 54
Expenses " " " 227,956 50

Net Profit..... $485,789 04

The amount of bonds the company can issue on 325 miles at $16,000 per mile is $5,200,000. Interest in gold, three months, at 6 per cent. on this sum is $78,000; and 40 per cent premium, to correspond with currency earnings, is $109,200—showing that the net earnings for the quarter were more than four times the interest on the First Mortgage Bonds on this length of road.

First Mortgage Bonds,

whose principal is so amply provided for, and whose interest is so thoroughly secured, must be classed among the safest investments. They pay

Six Per Cent. in Gold,

and are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, and accrued interest at Six Per Cent. in currency from July 1.

Many parties are taking advantage of the present high price of Government stocks to exchange for these bonds, which are over FIFTEEN PER CENT. CHEAPER, and at the current rate of premium on gold, pay

Over Nine Per Cent. Interest.

SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received in Portsmouth by FIRST NATIONAL BANK, and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau street, and by

CONTINENTAL NAT. BANK No. 7 Nassau St.
CLARK, DODGE & Co., Bankers, 51 Wall St.
JAMES D. CAMP & SON, Bankers, 58 Wall St.

And by the Company's advertised Agents throughout the United States, of whom maps and descriptive pamphlets may be obtained on application. Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. n8—3m

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS.

THE
CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,
THE WESTERN HALF OF THE
GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

being constructed with the AID and SUPERVISION OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD, as it is the only link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense Overland travel must pass, and the Principal Portion of the Main Steam Line between the Two Oceans.

Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Pacific, eastward across the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, carrying to all the great Mining Regions of the Far West, and will meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. About Fifty Miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the summit of the Sierra Nevadas. Within a few days 55 miles, now graded, will be added, and the track pushed rapidly across the mountains to a point in the Great Salt Lake Valley, whence further progress will be easy and rapid. Iron, materials and equipments are ordered for 300 more miles of road, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction

The large business upon the completed portion surpasses all previous estimate. The figures for the quarter ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS.	OPERATING EXPENSES.	NET EARNINGS.
$187,379 64	$86,344 27	$401,035 17

or at the rate of two millions per annum, of which more than three fourths are net profit on less than 100 miles worked. This is upon the necessarily difficult portion of the road, with its terminus in the mountains, and with only the usual ratio of government transportation, and is exclusive of the materials carried for the further extension of the road.

The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $125,000.

Add to this an ever-expanding through traffic and the proportions of the future business become immense.

The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain ranges.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between the San Francisco and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the United States will have invested in the completion of 855 miles $28,592,000, or at the average rate of $33,000 per mile—not including any absolute grant of 10,000,000 acres of the Public Lands. By becoming a joint investor in the magnificent enterprise, and by waiving its first lien in favor of the bonds granted for construction, the United States will direct their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

The Company offer for sale, through us, their

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds,

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York city. They are in sums of $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are selling for the present at 95 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st added in currency, at which rate they yield nearly

Nine per Cent. upon the Investment.

These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as is fixed and required by the Government; and represent, in all cases, the first lien upon a completed, equipped and productive railroad, for which have been received Government subsidies, stock subscriptions, donations, surplus earnings, etc., and which is worth more than three times the amount of First Mortgage Bonds which can be issued upon it.

The Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds have all the privileges, sanctions and guaranties of the Pacific Railroad Act of Congress, and have in addition several noticable advantages over all other classes of railroad bonds.

First—They are the superior claim upon altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the through line.

Second—beside the fullest benefit of the Government subsidy, (which is a subordinate lien,) the road receives the benefit of large donations from California.

Third—Fully half the whole cost of grading 800 miles eastward of San Francisco is concentrated upon the 150 miles now about completed.

Fourth—A local business already yielding three-fold the annual interest liabilities, with additional business pledged to the line.

Fifth—The principal as well as the interest of its Bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds to Trustees, Executors, Institutions and others as an eminently sound, reliable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

FAITHLESS SALLY BROWN.

Young Ben he was a nice young man,
A carpenter by trade;
And he fell in love with Sally Brown,
Who was a lady's maid.

But, as they fetched a walk one day,
They met a press-gang crew;
And Sally she did faint away,
While Ben he was brought to.

The Boatswain swore, with wicked words,
Enough to shock a saint,
That, though she did seem in a fit,
'Twas nothing but a feint.

"Come, girl," said he, "hold up your head;
He'll be as good as me;
For, when your swain is in our boat,
A boatswain he will be."

So, when they'd made their game of her,
And taken off her elf,
She roused, and found she only was
A-coaxing to herself.

"And is he gone?" and is he gone?"
She cried, and wept outright;
"Then I will to the waterside,
To see him out of sight."

A waterman came up her:
"Now, young woman," said he,
"If you weep on so, you will make Eye-water in the sea."

"Alas! they've taken my beau Ben,
To sail with old Ben-how;"
And her woe began to run afresh,
As if she had said "Geo woe!"

Says he, "They've only taken him
To the tender-ship you see;"
"The tender-ship!" cried Sally Brown—
"What a hardship that must be!

O! would I were a mermaid now,
For then I'd follow him;
But oh! I'm not a fish-woman,
And so I cannot swim."

Alas! I was not born beneath
The Virgin and the scales,
So I must curse my cruel stars,
And walk about in Wales."

Now Ben had sailed to many a place
That's underneath the world;
But in two years the ship came home,
And all her sails were furled.

But when he called on Sally Brown,
To see how she got on,
He found she'd got another Ben,
Whose christian name was John.

"Oh Sally Brown! oh Sally Brown!
How could you serve me so!
I've met with many a breeze before,
But never such a blow!"

Then, reading on his 'bacco box,
He heaved a heavy sigh,
And then began to eye his pipe,
And then to pipe his eye.

And then he tried to sing "All's Well,"
But could not, though he tried;
His head was turned, and so he chewed
His pig-tail till he died.

His death, which happened in his berth,
At forty odd befell:
They went and told the sexton and
The sexton tolled the bell!

Thomas Hood.

"FLIES IN AMBER."

Picked out for the Chronicle.

—Moderation is the silken string running through the pearl-chain of all virtues.

—There never was any party, faction, sect or cabal in which the most ignorant were not the most violent.

—A short and certain way to obtain the character of a reasonable and wise man is, whenever any one tells you his opinion, to comply with him.

—A man should never be ashamed to own he has been in the wrong, which is but saying, in other words, that he is wiser to-day than he was yesterday.

—Conversation is golden fruit when suffered to grow gradually on the tree of knowledge; but if precipitated by forced and unnatural means, it will in the end become vapid in proportion as it is artificial.

—The drouth in Illinois continues. In the country many wells are dry, and nearly all cisterns empty. The trouble farmers and others are undergoing, in consequence, is very serious. Some are obliged to haul water many miles.

Recommended in confidence by thousands for the past five years.

From M. S. BURR & CO., the oldest Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Proprietary Medicines, Perfumery, &c., in New England:

"We have sold large quantities of Dr. WARREN'S BILLIOUS BITTERS during the past five years, both at Wholesale and retail, and have yet to learn of a single instance wherein they have failed to give perfect satisfaction. From personal knowledge, as well as from the reports of our numerous customers, we confidently recommend Dr. WARREN'S BILLIOUS BITTERS to the public as a safe, reliable and very valuable Family Medicine. M. S. BURR & CO."

N B.—Observe a fac-simile Signature of the Proprietor, (JOHN A. PERRY), on the wrapper, without which none is genuine.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.
RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 6.

Our hearts, as well as eyes, were made glad by receiving your paper, and while reading it, we could not realize that we were so far from our own dear city.

Before telling you of our work here, will tell you something of our journey down. We took the steamer at Wasington for Aquia Creek on the morning of the 24th of October, and a most glorious morning it was. Truly, we shall never forget that sail down the Potomac. The scenery along the shore on both sides is so varied, that the eye never wearies. There are several places of interest to be seen, but the one most interesting to us was Mount Vernon; our only regret was, that we could not spend a few hours there.

We reached Aquia Creek at ten o'clock, and took the cars at once for Richmond. The road lay directly through Fredericksburg. If the town—with its shattered buildings, earthworks and trenches, touch your heart and bring back to you most vividly the terrible struggle that ensued there, how much more vividly will it be recalled as your eye rests upon the National Cemetery, with its long rows of graves. Then, indeed, can you begin to realize how many homes were made desolate, how many hearts stricken. The Cemetery is situated on a high hill, a little apart from the town. The "Star Spangled Banner" was floating over the resting place of those who gave their lives rather than have one star blotted out. Here again we longed to linger.

The road now lay principally through forests; now and then we passed a cotton plantation, or long rows of white-washed cabins, until we reached Richmond. Being obliged to remain here through the day, we roamed around the city, visiting the places so familiar to us all, as Libby Prison, Castle Thunder and the home of Jefferson Davis—now headquarters of Gen Schofield. The city was alive with soldiers, a band was playing marshal music in the public square, and altogether it seemed like some grand gala-day; we believe, however, it was only election day.

We left Richmond at 4 A. M., arriving in Raleigh at 4 P. M., weary enough. Rev. F. A. Fiske, Superintendent of Schools in N. C., was very kind in procuring a home for us.

Raleigh is a very pleasant city—spread over a vast extent of country. It is very rough and hilly. Everything about it has the appearance of neglect.

We had a very heavy rain storm soon after reaching here; then, if never before, I realized the meaning of homo-sickness.

Commenced school Tuesday, the 29th.—The building is but just raised, not yet boarded, so that we have plenty of ventilation. The carpenters go on with their work, and we with ours, which is rather odd. It is really what one would call keeping school under difficulties, but we do not mind it, the children are so eager to learn. We now number 58 pupils and the number increases each day. C. C. H.

NO DEFALCATION.—A Washington letter says the rumors which have been circulating for a day or two past relative to an alleged defalcation in the accounts of John W. Forney as Secretary of the Senate have led to an examination of his accounts with the Treasury Department as disbursing officer, and it has been ascertained that there is a balance of over fifty thousand dollars on hand to his credit, which indicates that there is no truth in the rumors. As Secretary of the Senate he acts as paymaster to the Senators, draws their pay and disburses the money for this and contingent expenses; but it does not appear that any of the Senators have allowed him to retain the custody of their cash for any length of time, or that there are irregularities in his accounts which warrant any suspicion of dishonesty.

—The cost of the registration of Virginia was $239,000. The cost of the military establishment in the State for the last ten months is $5,000,000.

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.
No. 78 State street, (opposite Kilby street,) Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, Bonds, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with despatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS; every one of which was decided in his favor by the Commissioner of Patents.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can not employ a man more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges JOHN TAGHART."

TAXATION.—One of the most important documents which will be submitted to Congress is the forthcoming report of Mr. Special Commissioner Wells of the Treasury Department on internal and external taxation. Mr. Wells has visited Europe and many of the States of the Union during the recess, and will report an entirely new system of taxation, by tariff and by excise, reducing the number of articles to be taxed, and calculated to provide for the pecuniary wants of Government in a manner less expensive and less burdensome than the present system. It is to be hoped that the Pennsylvania high tariff men will give Mr. Wells a fair chance, and not assail his report in advance, as they did last year.

THE PRESIDENT'S SERENADE AND SPEECH.—A Washington letter of the 18th says:

The serenade to President Johnson this evening called out all the old Pro slavery Democrats, with the numerous returned rebels who are now holding or seeking office here. The National Resident Committee did not, it is understood, approve of the demonstration; but Col. Tom. Florence and the local associations carried the day. Arriving at the White House, where there was a large crowd of both sexes, the bowitzers were fired, the bands played and the boys cheered.

The President at last came out from the front door and mounted the pedestal of the portico, where he made his famous twenty-second of February speech. Col. O'Beirne read an address from a soldier's political club, and the President then pulled out a manuscript, which he proceeded to read in a low tone, amid such loud cheering that not fifty people heard a word of it. Often as Mr. Johnson has addressed public assemblages, he has never been known to prepare and read his remarks.

The speech rejoiced over the recent elections as an endorsement of Johnson and his policy of saving the Republic, in his peculiar way, and was so much more cautious than his usual spirit-inspired speeches, as to seem flat and tame. It begins, however, in his usual way by saying:

It is not my intention to make an address on this occasion, but simply to tender you my thanks for this demonstration.

WESTON'S WALK.—At Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 13, Weston, the pedestrian, had a handsome reception, and started at 11:20 for Buffalo. There was a slight fall of snow, which melted and left the roads in a muddy and very unfavorable condition; but Weston declared it was his purpose to reach Buffalo at 3 o'clock Thursday morning. He denies indignantly the statement of the Providence Post that he is in league with those who have bet that he will not make 100 miles in 24 hours. He declares that he has no understanding whatever with John Morrissey, and that he will make the 100 miles in 24 hours soon after leaving Buffalo.

DARING ATTEMPT AT ROBBERY.—On the night of the 3d inst. an attempt was made to enter the house of Mr. Jase Prescott, situated on Elm street in Newmarket. Mrs. Prescott is very aged, and has for a companion a maiden lady named Eliza Hanscom, who is also advanced in years.—At the time of the attempt, Mrs. Prescott was away from home, and Miss Hanscom the only occupant of the house. She was aroused by a window being raised in the lower part of the house, and arming herself with a hatchet she immediately gave the alarm, when the villains fled. Miss Hanscom is known to be possessed of a considerable sum of money, and as it was also known that she was alone, it is supposed that plunder was their object; but owing to her great courage and presence of mind, the bold attempt was frustrated.—Exeter News Letter.

THIEF CAPTURED.—On Friday night of last week the store of E. A. Shattuck of Townsend, Mass., was opened and about one thousand dollars' worth of goods taken. On Saturday morning, having examined the premises, learned that the goods were carried in a wagon, of a wider running gauge than common, and with a suspicion of one George Nichols, who had been about there for some days, Sheriff Scott of Peterborough started with a clerk of the store in pursuit.

He traced him through Mason, Temple, Peterborough and Hillsborough, keeping back roads as much as possible, and about 6 o'clock Sunday night he found the entire stock of goods at Newbury, and took possession of them. They were at a private house in a wagon, and were supposed to be a peddler's stock. Nichols himself had gone to a prayer meeting in the other part of the town.

Scott sent a messenger to Deputy Sheriff Dodge, but arrived on the ground himself just as Nichols was going into the meeting. He told him he wanted to know about a horse that had been stolen in Bennington; whereupon the thief, feeling safe, said he would show at once that he was clear.—Dodge soon came up, when the bracelets were put upon the fellow, and the real object of his arrest was told him. He owned up, was taken to Cambridge, Mass., and for want of $2500 bail was committed. It is suspected others are connected in the matter.

Nichols formerly lived in Manchester, and has since gained a reputation for meeting with accidents on highways and making towns pay damages.—Mirror.

SIR WILLIAM PEPPERRELL.—The editor of the Salem Register was among the crowd who visited Kittery recently, when the Salem Institute made their researches, natural and historical. From his account we extract the following:

The chief points of attraction were the U. S. Navy Yard and the ancient estates of Sir William Pepperrell, the commander of the forces at the capture of Louisburg, Cape Breton, in 1745; the wealthiest and most eminent merchant of his day; the first native of New England ever made a Baronet of Great Britain; connected with Massachusetts, Essex County and Salem by many ties; and of whom a full length, original portrait, of life size, has for nearly fifty years been the most prominent picture in the gallery of the Essex Historical Society and the Essex Institute.

The ancient Pepperrell mansion is at Kittery Point. It was built by the father of Sir William about the year 1680. Here the son was born in 1696, and when he was married, in 1723, he took his bride to the family mansion, which was enlarged at that time by an addition to the north end, giving the whole a stately appearance.

The ride to the point, through Kittery Foreside, was full of interest. The road passes by the old garrison house, now modernized, built for protection against the Indians; the ancient graveyard, containing many quaint inscriptions affording material for curious study; the antique parsonage, where the mother of Rev. Joseph Stevens Buckminster was born, with the church adjoining; the dilapidated mansion built by Lady Pepperrell after her husband's death, and the Sparhawk mansion erected by Sir William for his daughter upon her marriage.

The Pepperrell mansion shows but little of its former grandeur. One room and the spacious hall or entry remain pretty much as they were in Sir William's day and indicate the owner's style in which he lived; but the house has been curtailed in its dimensions and its surroundings are not what they were. It is still a comfortable residence, however, and a most interesting relic. The old mansion was plain in architecture, but contained a great many rooms, and was well adapted to the extensive domains and hospitalities of its former owners. The lawn in front (now, in part, a kitchen garden) extends to the sea; and the restless waves, over which Sir William sought fortune and fame, still glitter in the sunbeams and dash around the abode. The hall is spacious and well finished; the ceiling ornamented and the richly carved banisters bear traces of former elegance. On ascending the staircase paintings of angels' heads decorate the hall window.

In this mansion, where he was born and died, the Baronet always lived suitably to his rank, and extended hospitality to the numerous visitors who flocked to see and to converse with the victor of Louisburg. His walls were hung with costly mirrors and paintings; his sideboards and cellars were filled with the choicest viands, and his park was stocked with deer. He had a retinue of servants, costly equippage, and a splendid barge with liveried oarsmen. His dress was of the expensive kind worn by the noblemen of that day—scarlet broadcloth trimmed with gold lace, a cocked hat similarly trimmed, and a large powdered wig—as he is represented in the portrait which hangs in the hall of the Institute. At the meeting a lady exhibited a rich satin vest formerly worn by Sir William, and the high heeled satin shoes which belonged to his wife.

Sir William owned real estate in nearly every town on the seaboard from Hampton to Portland, and also in the towns bordering on the Piscataqua river. It is said that he could travel from Piscataqua to Saco river, nearly thirty miles, on his own soil. In Saco alone, he owned 5,500 acres, including the site of that populous town and its factories. But all his vast fortune was dissipated and scattered at the time of the Revolution. His grandson, who inherited the bulk of it, took the loyalists' side, and the property was confiscated by the legislative act of 1778.

No descendant bearing the Pepperrell name is now living, and two of the Baronet's daughter's grandsons have since been saved from the poor house by the bounty of some individuals on whom they had no claims for favor. The splendid service of plate presented to Sir William for his conquest of Louisburg, was exempted from confiscation, and was sent under guard to Boston for shipment to England, whither his exiled heir had gone. Sir William's Louisburg service sword is in the possession of Dr. Parsons. Another sword, richly mounted with gold and jewels, given to him by Admiral Sir Peter Warren, is in the possession of Dr. Jarvis, of Claremont, N. H. A superb gold snuff box, having upon the cover, in bass relief, a representation of the interview between Alexander and Diogenes, presented to him by King George II., was owned by Mr. Ward of Salem.

The Pepperrell tomb is in a field in the rear of the mansion, and contains the remains of Sir William and Lady Pepperrell, his father and mother, and many members and servants of the family, now mingled in an indiscriminate mass. A few years ago, it became greatly dilapidated, and but for the respect entertained for the memory of the illustrious dead, by a female remotely descended from the baronet, the whole structure would long since have fallen into ruins. By her exertions and limited means the tomb was put in good repair. The marble structure that now stands over the vault was erected by Sir William in 1736, soon after the death of his father. It was ordered from London, and cost, when completed, £34. 11s. 4d. It bears upon the top the Pepperrell arms, which are described in the Herald's office as "argent a chevron gules between three pine-apples, slipt verte. No crest is to be found to the above mentioned arms, being an ancient coat before crests were used." Beneath the coat of arms is the following inscription:

Here lyes the Body of the Honourable
WILLIAM PEPPERRELL Esq.
who departed this Life the 15th of Feb'y Anno Domini 1759. in the 87th Year of his age.

With the remains of great part of his Family.

No inscription in memory of Sir William himself or any other of the family has ever been added. Sir William was born in 1696 and died in 1759. Dr. Parsons states that his funeral obsequies were attended by a vast concourse. The drooping flags at half-mast on both shores of the Piscataqua, the solemn knell from neighboring churches, the responsive minute-guns from all the batteries, and the mournful rumbling of muffled drums announced that a great man had fallen and was descending to the tomb. The funeral discourse, preached by Rev. Dr. Stevens on the next Sabbath, was published by Lady Pepperrell, and a copy sent to each member of the house and council. He was chosen a member of the Massachusetts legislature from Kittery, in 1726, and the next year was appointed a Councillor, the appointment being renewed, until his death, for thirty-two successive years, during eighteen of which he served as President of the Board.

In the field containing the tomb, and but a short distance from it, is a single, small, slate gravestone, bearing on the top a death's head rudely carved, and bearing this inscription:

Miriam Jackson
Dau'r to George
& Joanah
Jackson aged
17 days Died
Augt ye 11th 1720

This was undoubtedly a child of Sir William's elder sister, Joanah, who was born in 1692, married Dr. George Jackson, and died in 1725.

Lady Pepperell survived her husband for thirty years, until 1789. After Sir William's death she left the old mansion and built a neat house in more modern style, near that of her daughter Mrs. Sparhawk, (hereafter alluded to,) and the village church, and here she died. This house appears to be more dilapidated than either of the others. Upon returning from Kittery Point the company visited the mansion erected for the residence of Sir William's daughter Elizabeth, a famous belle and heiress, highly accomplished, who was married to Nathaniel Sparhawk in 1742. This house was apparently superior in style to the old mansion. It is now undergoing repairs, the present occupants having been only a few weeks in possession. The spacious hall retains its original form and the walls their ancient paper, which must have been of rare richness and costliness.

One of the rooms is still, in general appearances, very much the same as when occupied by the Sparhawks. The chimney piece, with its little, square, porcelain, pictured tiles, covered with colored birds and quaint devices, is almost as perfect as ever. One of the tiles bears a representation of a fortune teller or astrologer, who had been consulted by two young ladies, one of whom, all smiles and joy, holds in her hand a card just received from the man of fate, bearing the motto "A brisk husband soon;" and the other is turning away with every indication of grief and dismay, holding her handkerchief to her weeping eyes, her card telling her that she is "Never to be married."

In another room is one of the old-fashioned "buffets," or cup-boards, curiously fashioned and well preserved, which, could it speak, would doubtless reveal the secrets of many a banqueting scene where the courtly ladies and gentlemen of the last century figured. A few years ago there was a fine avenue of trees leading to this house, and a portion of the tesselated pavement in front is still preserved. When in its prime the large walls of the entrance hall were covered with portraits of the Pepperell and Sparhawk families, and of the friends and companions in arms of Sir William. Some of these are in the possession of Rev. Dr. Burroughs of Portsmouth.

Sir William in his day must have frequently visited Salem and Danvers. His sister Mary married for her third husband Rev. Benjamin Prescott of Danvers, and in journeys to and from Boston he no doubt was accustomed to stop there. He certainly did in the Spring of 1759, the year of his death. Upon his return from Louisburg he was received in Boston with great pomp, and on the 4th of July, 1746, attended by divers officers and gentlemen, set out for his seat in Kittery. He was met at Lynn by a troop of horses and entertained, and was there received by a company of gentlemen and conducted to Salem; on entering which he was saluted with cannon and ringing bells, and conducted to the town hall to partake of a magnificent entertainment. After dinner the royal healths were drank, Gov. Shirley's, Sir William's, Admiral Warren's, Brigadier Waldo's, and those of all the officers and men at the siege of Cape Breton; at each health the cannon were fired, and a treble discharge made by the troop of horse. On leaving Beverly ferry a cavalcade met him from Ipswich and Newbury, and so he made a triumphal progress home, being every where received with extraordinary honors.

We have devoted so much space to these historical reminiscences which, we trust, will lead our readers to regard with new interest the valuable portrait of Sir William, now in the hall of the Salem Essex Institute—that our remaining comments must be brief. This portrait was received by the Historical Society in 1821 from William P. Sparhawk, Esq., of Kittery, a nephew of the last Sir William, and a great grandson of the hero of Louisburg, Lieut. Gen. Sir William Pepperell, Baronet.

OUR recent English visitor, Charles Vincent, in his address at Bedford, England, after paying high encomiums to our institutions and enterprise, remarked "that in Arts and Manufactures, England will soon be distanced by her republican daughter. A few years ago no Englishman could endure the bill of fare at an American hotel, from the disgusting alkalies then in use, but now I hold in my hand an article which has worked a great reform. It is Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus, and will soon supersede in our own market our best New Castle soda."

AMERICAN
WALTHAM
WATCHES.

The true value of Machinery applied to Watchmaking is not that by its use watches are rapidly made, but that they are made correctly. Very few people know why a Waltham Watch should be superior to any other. In the first place, at Waltham the Watch is regarded as only a machine, to be constructed like any other machine, on mechanical principles. If the watches are good, it is because the machinery is good. Of course there must be no defect in the principle or plan of the movement—no mistake in the size or shapes of the pieces of which it is composed—nothing wanting in their properties, and no error in their positions. These points once thoroughly settled, it rests wholly with the machinery, constructed with infinite diversity of form and function expressly for the purpose, to produce the finished pieces. By means of multiplying gauges and microscopes, tests and inspection for the detection of wear in the cutting tools, and for faults and flaws in steel or stone, are made to accompany the work in every stage from beginning to end. As a necessary result, the watch goes together a perfect machine. Every part is formed to fit properly in its place. Every pin may be pushed till it stops, and every screw turned home. Instead of a sluggish and feeble action, the balance, even under the pressure of the lightest mainspring, performs with a wide and free motion, and the best has the clear, ringing sound always characteristic of the Waltham Watch. The machine is a timekeeper from the start.

This system of watchmaking is unknown in foreign countries, and is entirely original with the Waltham Company. The Company claim that by it they produce watches that cannot be equalled for every quality which makes a watch valuable. Simple in plan and correct in principle, the movement is not only beautifully finished, substantial, accurate and cheap, but is uniform in the minutest details, not easily damaged, and when repaired always as good as new. There are different grades of finish in the different varieties of watches made by the Waltham Company, as there are different sizes and shapes to suit all tastes and purses; but every watch that bears the genuine trade-mark of "WALTHAM" is guaranteed to be a good one, and no body need be afraid to buy it.

Every Watch fully Warranted.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!
THE REMEDY FOR CURING
Consumption, Asthma, Croup, Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppressions of the Chest or Lungs, Difficult Breathing, and all Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.
Its action is expectorant, alterative, sudorific, sedative, diaphoretic and diuretic, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the matter; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS and PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action and imparts strength to the whole system. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction, even in the most confirmed cases of consumption, and not to produce costiveness (as do most remedies) or effect the head, as it contains no opium in any form. It is PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. There is no necessity for so many deaths by consumption, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

CHILDREN'S LIVES SAVED For 50 Cents.
Thousands of Children die annually of Croup.—Now, mothers, if you would spend 50 cents, and always have a bottle of Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment in the house, you never need fear loosing your little ones when attacked with this complaint. It is now 29 years since I have put up my Liniment, and never heard of a child dying of Croup when my Liniment was used; but hundreds of cases of cures have been reported to me, and many state it was $50 per bottle rather than would not be without it. Besides which, it is a certain cure for Colds, Burns, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throats, Swellings, Mumps, Rheumatism, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Spasms, Old Sores, and Pains in the Back and Chest. No one once tries it who is ever without it. It is warranted entirely safe to take internally. Full directions with every bottle.—Sold by the Druggists. Depot 56 Cortland street, N. Y. n8d4wlm

THE REALLY GREAT PLASTER,
ALLCOCK'S POROUS,
Have the compactness of kid, and the flexibility of a silk glove.
DR. I. T. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

FARNVILLE, Louisiana, March 8, 1850.

DR. T. ALLCOCK, Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hysterics of the heart, and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. D's; but truth prompts me to say that your Plasters have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a permanent cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your Plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours very truly,

DR. SCHENCK, THE LUNG DOCTOR.

☞ The Proprietor of SCHENK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, the inventor of SCHENK'S RESPIROMETER, the only instrument that can to a certainty detect the slightest murmur of the respiratory organs.

This is of great importance to DR. SCHENCK, to know the exact condition of the lungs, whether it is Tuberculous, Pulmonary, Bronchial, Pleuritic, or Dyspeptic Consumption, and whether it is both from one or more diseases at the same time.

It requires constant and long practice to become familiar with every sound or rattling of a diseased bronchial tube. Patients come to DR. SCHENCK, and are examined that have been examined by their family physician, who told them that their lungs were almost gone; when by a close examination with the Respirometer he is often found that it is an affection of the bronchial tube; and by getting a healthy action of the liver and tone of the stomach, the sufferer is soon restored to health. Sometimes medicine that will stop a cough is certain death to the patient. It locks up the disease in the circulation of the blood—hemorrhage follows, and, in fact, stopping the action of the very organs that cause the cough.

Dr. Schenck will be professionally at his rooms every week, 32 Bond street, New York, and 25 Hanover street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer the charge is $5. His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers, and need no puffing at all times and seasons. Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT, PORTSMOUTH: Doe, Judge.—Thursday, Joel B. Smith vs. Town of Newcastle, was opened to the jury, and they visited Great Island to view a house, the lease of which by the town to Mr. Smith, for which rent was payable in repairs and alterations to be made by plaintiff, is the matter in controversy.—J. J. Bell and C. V. Bell for plaintiff, Goodall and Frink for defendant.

179. Oliver B. Tuttle vs. Newhall & Waldron. Action brought by Mr. Tuttle for making a lot of shoes for the defendants, who are shoe manufacturers at Lynn. Defence, payment after suit was brought, to the plaintiff's agent, and the plaintiff denies the right of agent to collect it. Small for plaintiff, William H. Hackett for deft.—Verdict for plaintiff, $26.76.

☞ In Mr. Shores' window, at the Congress Block Bookstore, are some ears of Egyptian Corn, containing 18, 20 and even 22 rows of kernels—raised at Lincoln Hill in this city. The seed came from Virginia, but was not planted early, and the yield did not ripen, though the stalks grew to the average height of thirteen feet. And this is not the only thing of interest to be seen in Mr. Shores' beautiful window.

☞ When Messrs. Main & Winchester left this city for San Francisco, a few weeks since, Mr. Main disposed of his fine pair of horses, we believe for between $4000 and $5000. One of Mr. Winchester's span was left here at his farm, and the other, valued at $1500 or more, was placed with a dealer in Boston for sale, but we learn has since died there.

☞ The trial of one of the rioters who sacked the States and Union office, resulting in a verdict against the defendant, is a very creditable exhibition of radical fairness The judges and three-fourths of the jury were Republicans, but they decided the case on its merits, laying aside all partizan considerations.—Portland Press.

The above coming from the Portland Press, is a severe rebuke to Judge Tapley, who showed no such radical fairness in the Bangor Democrat case; but unlike the States and Union case at Portsmouth, decided it on partizan considerations, and not on the merits of the case.—Saco Dem. —

As Judge Doe presided at the trial of the Standard case in Dover, last September, when the jury disagreed, the inference would seem to be rather that the rebel sheet at Portsmouth had a stronger case than its Concord brother, or was more fortunate in bringing its action against an individual than against the city where the alleged outrage was perpetrated. The ruling of the Judge, in both cases, was doubtless "according to the law and the evidence," and the verdict of the jury ditto.—Dover Enquirer.

☞ The ladies of the Congregational Society of Hampton have purchased a fine organ, costing about $1100, and presented it to the Society. It was built by the Messrs. Hook, of Boston, and is pronounced a fine instrument.

☞ We were yesterday shown some counterfeit five franc pieces which have recently been put in circulation by some foreign gentleman. The Government Treasury Detectives, however, "nipped the affair in the bud," and the "silvery tongued" gents will probably "while away" many an hour in the Hotel de State.

POLICE COURT, Nov. 14.—James Reynolds, for assault upon Patrick Mulleg, gave bonds in $500 for his appearance at the S. J. Court.

James Ramsay was fined $3, and $3.86 costs, for being intoxicated. He appealed, and gave $50 bonds to prosecute his appeal.

John E. Batchelder, on a charge of keeping a disorderly house, was ordered to give bonds in $200 for his appearance at the S. J. Court.

☞ There is a rich story going about town, for the truth of which we shall not vouch, but it is worth telling at any rate. It is well known that a certain newspaper editor here, who formerly lived in Dover, and is reported to be "worth nothing" there nor here—recently gained a verdict of $1000 for damages to his office by a mob. This was in a suit against a man who was in the building, but whom we believe is plucky enough to acknowledge the deed if he had aided in the sacking; and the story is, that he has, since his nonsuit, visited Dover and bought up enough old "paper" of his suitor, at 5 per cent. to pay his fine—$50 for the $1000.—This is peculiarly rich, if true, because the real proprietors of the gangrenous paper only put said editor forward to pull their chestnuts from the fire, and have thus got singed themselves. And whether this be true or not, we know of a claim for $4 worth of printer's ink of two years' standing against said concern, which might be bought at that rate.

—Gen. La Marmore has announced to the French Government that Garibaldi and his two sons will go to the United States. The old hero may rely on a rousing reception. None of the prominent men of the Old World is so endeared to the hearts of the American people as Garibaldi.

—The Turkish Government has again refused to accept the advice of the Great Powers of Europe, and makes grand preparations for war. If, as a cable dispatch states, England, France and Austria have come to a new understanding about the Eastern question, their alliance is undoubtedly directed against the plans attributed to Russia.

PEACE.—A Treaty of Peace between Brazil and Paraguay, has just been made by the Generals in the field. Each party pays its own costs—prisoners all exchanged, no ransom, no indemnity. Each will hereafter be more liberal to the other.

DULL TIMES.—It is stated that nine out of ten of the merchants in New York complain that they are not making money enough to pay clerk hire or store rent.

GOLD, Thursday, 189 3-4.

—At Montreal, Nov. 13,—Messrs. Seneeol & Meigs, largely interested in the United States lumber trade, failed. Liabilities estimated at $400,000.

—It is stated that as Mr. Bradley has been dismembered from the bar, and therefore is no longer a counsel for John H. Surratt, that the eminent criminal lawyer, James T. Brady, is about to volunteer as counsel for the defence.

500 MILES
OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD,
Running West from Omaha
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
ARE NOW COMPLETED.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company have built a longer line of railroad in the last eighteen months than was ever built by any other company in the same time, and they will continue the work with the same energy until it is completed. The western division is being pushed rapidly eastward from Sacramento by the Central Pacific Company of California, and it is expected that

THE ENTIRE GRAND LINE
to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.—More than one-third of the work has already been done, more than one-third of the whole line is now in running order, and more laborers are now employed upon it than ever before. More than

Forty Million Dollars in Money
have already been expended by the two powerful companies that have undertaken the enterprise, and there is no lack of funds for its most vigorous prosecution. When the United States Government found it necessary to secure the construction of the Union Pacific railroad to develop the resources of the Rocky Mountain region, it gave the companies authorized to build it such ample aid as should render its speedy completion beyond a doubt.—The whole interest of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, derived from the Government and its own stockholders, may be briefly summed up as follows:

1.—UNITED STATES BONDS
Having thirty years to run and being six per cent. currency interest at the rate of $16,000 per mile for 247 miles on the Plains; then at the rate of $48,000 per mile for 150 miles across the Rocky Mountains; then at the rate of $32,000 per mile for the remaining distance, for which the United States takes a second lien as security. The interest on these bonds is paid by the United States government, which also pays the company one-half per cent. Stamp duty on all drafts in favor of the United States Government for transporting its freight, troops, mails, &c. The remaining half of these bills is placed to the company's credit, and forms a sinking fund which may finally discharge the whole amount of this lien, or the claims against the government since April of the current year amount to four and one-half times this interest.

2.—FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS.
By its charter the Company is permitted to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to the same amount as the bonds issued by the Government, and no more, and only as the road progresses. The Trustees for the bondholders are the Hon. E. D. Morgan, U. S. Senator from New York, and the Hon. Oakes Ames, Member of U. S. House of Representatives, who are responsible for the delivery of these bonds to the Company in accordance with the terms of the law.

3.—THE LAND GRANT.
The Union Pacific Railroad Company has a land grant or absolute donation from government of 12,800 acres to the mile on the line of the road, which will not be worth less than $1.50 at the lowest valuation.

4.—THE CAPITAL STOCK.
The authorized capital of the Union Pacific Railroad Company is $100,000,000, of which over $5,000,000 have been paid on the work already done.

The Means Sufficient to Build the Road.
Contracts for the entire work of building 914 miles of first-class railroad were let in advance, comprising much of the most difficult mountain work, and embracing every expense except surveying, have been made with responsible parties (who have already finished over 600 miles), at the average rate of sixty-eight thousand and fifty-eight dollars ($68,058) per mile. This price includes all necessary shops for the construction and repairs of cars, depots, stations and all other incidental buildings, and also locomotives, passenger, baggage and freight cars, equal to and for the eleven hundred miles assumed to be built by the Pacific Company to be $80,000 per mile.

THE TOTAL COST OF ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES WILL THEREFORE BE AS FOLLOWS:

914 miles, at $68,058	$62,205,012
186 miles, at 90,000	16,740,000
Add discounts on bonds, surveys, &c.	4,560,000
Amount	$82,445,012
As the Company's bonds equal to money, and the Company's own First Mortgage Bonds have a ready market, we have as the
AVAILABLE CASH RESOURCES FOR BUILDING ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES:
U. S. Bonds	$32,228,000
First Mortgage Bonds	29,825,000
Capital stock paid in on the work now done	5,360,750
Land Grant, 14,080,000 acres, at 1.00 per acre	21,129,000
Total	$85,145,750

The Company have ample facilities for supplying any deficiency that may arise in the means for construction. This may be done wholly or in part by additional subscriptions to capital stock.

Active bonds are already being issued for a portion of these lands, and arrangements are now proposed to offer a part of them for sale. While these lands are valuable, and will become more so as years to come, they will remain a very large permanent source of revenue to the Company. The lands of the Illinois Central Railroad Company are selling at from $8 to $12 per acre, and other land grant companies in the west are receiving equal prices for similar properties.

Future Business.
The most skeptical have never expressed a doubt that when the Union Pacific Railroad is finished the immense business that must flow over it, by the only railroad connecting the two grand divisions of the North American continent will be one of the wonders of railway transportation; and as it will have no competitor, it can always charge remunerative rates. The Pacific Mail Steamship Company of New York is now running a regular line of its splendid steamers between San Francisco and China and Japan, which is doubtless the pioneer of other lines, that will traverse the Pacific Ocean laden with the teas, spices and other products of Eastern Asia. Excepting some very heavy or bulky articles of comparatively low values, shortness of time decides the direction of freights, and most of these cargoes will find their natural transit over the Union Pacific Railroad.

It is quite within bounds to say that its traffic will be limited only by the capacity of the line, and that no other road will find a double track to necessary. California and Oregon must not only be supplied with means of transit for passengers, mail, treasure and other freights, but the inhabitants of Dacotah, Colorado, Utah, Idaho and Montana will communicate with the Atlantic states almost entirely by this road. It will be the avenue to all the great mining district, which is only awaiting this ready means of communication to receive a population that will develop its vast mineral and other resources, and which of itself would furnish ample business for a railway line.

Earnings from Way Business.
While the through business of the Company will be amply remunerative, it is still to the future, but the local business on the part of the road in operation has been most satisfactory.

During the quarter ending July 31, an average of 225 miles of the Union Pacific Railroad were in operation. The Superintendent's Report shows the following results:

EARNINGS.

Passengers, Freight, Telegraph, Mails	$733,765 54
Transportation of Contractors' Material and men	479,283 41
Total	$1,203,038 95

EXPENSES.

Fuel, Repairs, Offices, Conductors, Trains, &c	$295,539 92
Net Earnings to balance	907,608 03
Total	$1,203,038 95

The net operating expenses on the commercial business for the quarter were $27,960 60. The account for the COMMERCIAL BUSINESS stands as follows:

Earnings for May, June and July	$733,765 54
Expenses	327,960 50
Net Profit	$405,789 04

The amount of bonds the company can issue on 225 miles at $16,000 per mile is $3,600,000. Interest in gold, three months, at 6 per cent. on this sum is $75,000; add 40 per cent premium, to correspond with currency, makes $105,000—showing that the net earnings for this quarter were more than four times the interest on the First Mortgage Bonds on this length of road.

First Mortgage Bonds,
whose principal is so amply provided for, and whose interest is so thoroughly secured, must be classed among the safest investments. They pay

Six Per Cent. in Gold,
and are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, and accrued interest at Six Per Cent. in currency from July 1.

Many parties are taking advantage of the present high price of Government stocks to exchange for these bonds, which are over FIFTEEN PER CENT. CHEAPER, and at the current rate of premium on gold, pay

Over Nine Per Cent. Interest.
SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received in Portsmouth by FIRST NATIONAL BANK, and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau street, and by

CONTINENTAL NAT. BANK No. 7 Nassau St.
CHASE, DODGE & CO., Bankers, 51 Wall St.
JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, 33 Wall St.

And by the Company's advertised Agents throughout the United States, of whom maps and descriptive pamphlets may be obtained on application. Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. n8—3m

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS.
THE
CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,
THE WESTERN HALF OF THE
GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
being constructed with the AID and SUPERVISION OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD, as it is the only link between the Pacific Ocean and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense Overland travel must pass, and the Principal Portion of the Main Steam Line between the Two Oceans.

Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Pacific, eastward across the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, continuing to the great Mining Regions of the Far West, and will meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. Almost 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the summit of the Sierra Nevadas. Within a few days 38 miles more are graded, will be added, and the track carried entirely across the mountains to a point in the Great Salt Lake Valley, whence further progress will be easy and rapid. Iron, materials and equipments for the remaining 300 miles of road, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction.

The general business upon the completed portion surpasses all previous estimate. The figures for the quarter ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS.	OPERATING EXPENSES.	NET EARNINGS.
$737,357 61	$336,315 44	$401,031 17

or at the rate of two-millions per annum, of which more than three fourths are net profits, on less than 100 miles worked. This is upon the actual, ultimate traffic of the road, with its terminus in the mountains, and with only the normal ratio of government transportation, and is exclusive of the materials carried for the further extension of the line.

The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $150,000.

And this surplus exceeding through traffic and the proportions of the future business become immense.

The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain ranges.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between the San Francisco and the Missouri River, or, as now seems probable, the United States will have invested in the completion of 585 miles $28,592,000, or at the average rate of $35,000 per mile—not including the absolute grant of 10,000,000 acres of the Public Lands. By becoming a joint investor in this magnificent enterprise, and by waiving its first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bondholders, the GENERAL GOVERNMENT, IN EFFECT, INVITES THE CO-OPERATION OF PRIVATE CAPITALISTS. Among whom it proffered their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

The Company offer for sale, through us, their

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds,

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York city. They are in sums of $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are selling for the present at 90 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st (gold) currency, at which rate they yield nearly

Nine per Cent. upon the Investment.

These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the amount of only one-half the cost thereof by the Government; and represent, in all cases, the first lien upon a completed, equipped and productive line of road, which have been invested Government subsidies, stock subscriptions, donations, surplus earnings, etc., and which is worth more than twice the amount of First Mortgage Bonds which can be issued upon it.

The Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds have all the guarantees, sanctions and guaranties of the Pacific Railroad Act of Congress, and have in addition several noticable advantages over all other classes of railroad bonds.

First—In the superior claim upon altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the through line.

Second—Beside the fullest benefit of the Government subsidy, which is exclusively for the road receives the benefit of large donations from California.

Third—Fully half the whole cost of grading 800 miles eastward of San Francisco is concentrated upon the 150 miles now about completed.

Fourth—A local business already yielding threefold the annual interest liabilities, with advantageous rates per mile in coin.

Fifth—The principal as well as the interest of its Bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds to Trustees, Executors, Institutions and others as an eminently sound, reliable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

Morning Chronicle.

SUBJUGATING AN ELEPHANT.—Tuesday of last week, a Cincinnati paper says, a circus elephant, 36 years old, 10,000 pounds weight, and named Tippoo Saib, while in winter quarters at Connorsville, Indiana, became surely on account of a change of his keeper, and went to war against all mankind. He would allow no one in his quarters, and struck at everybody who approached with his trunk and tusks most violently. His keeper determined to subdue him, and the process and result are thus described:

"The new keeper, with nine assistants had fully equipped himself with chains and cables for tying, and spears and pitchforks for subduing Tippoo. The first thing done was to fasten a brickbat to the end of a rope and throw it over the end of the tusk-chain, which latter is fastened to one leg and one tusk. By means of this rope, a twenty-ton cable chain (formerly used to subdue the famous Hannibal) was slipnoosed around the tusk. Next an excavation three feet deep was made under the sill of the house, and while the elephant's attention was attracted to the other side of the room by a pail of water poured into his trough, the cable chain was passed through the excavation and fastened to heavy stakes outside. All this time the infuriated monster struck all around him with terrible ferocity, and tugged at his chain with incredible momentum. The next thing accomplished was the snaring of his hind legs. This was consummated by the slinging fresh ropes around those two stately pillars of elephant flesh, bone and muscle, and finally, by the stealthy strategy of the keeper and another man, these ropes were fastened to stumps outside. The elephant was now sufficiently pinioned to allow the order, "charge pitchforks," to be given. Ten men, armed with these ugly implements of offence, plunged them into the rampaging beast, taking care, of course, to avoid penetrating his eyes or joints. The tenderest spot in an elephant is just behind the fore legs, and that locality was prodded unmercifully. By means of a hooked spear sunk into his back, Tippoo was brought to his knees, but he surged up again with such awful strength that he swept his tormentors off their feet and made his chains whistle like fiddle-strings. After and hour's fighting he was brought down on his side, but for two hours longer he tugged at his chains with frenzied obstinacy. He pulled so hard at times that his hind legs were straight out behind him, and three feet of the ground. At the end of the three hours the giant gave in by trumpeting, which is the elephant way of crying enough. The moment this peculiar cry was heard the battle ended. The keeper made Tippoo get up and lie down a number of times, and he was as obedient to the word of command as a gentle poney. The animal was then groomed and rubbed off with whiskey. He allowed all manner of liberties without so much as flapping an ear. He was a subjugated elephant."

NOVEMBER.

The mellow year is hasting to its close;
The little birds have almost sung their last;
Their small notes twitter in the dreary blast—
That shrill-piped harbinger of early snows.
The patient beauty of the sentless rose,
Oft with the morn's hoar crystal quaintly glass—
Hangs a pale mourner for the summer past, fed
And makes a little summer where it grows.
In the chill sunbeam of the faint, brief day
The dusky waters shudder as they run,
The russet leaves obstruct the straggling way
Of oozy brooks, which no deep banks define;
And the gaunt woodman, ragged, scant-attired,
Wrap their old limbs with sombre ivy twine.

Communication.

Messrs. Editors:—I send you the Answer to Question for Bank Cashiers, in your paper of some time since. The sums loaned were $820 at 6 1-2 per cent. and $610 at 5 per cent. I likewise send an analysis of the same.

THE RICHEST MAN IN THE WORLD.

Extract of a Letter from Baron Solomon Rothschild.

Paris, 8th April, 1864, 25 Rue Fauby St. Honore.

Would you kindly send me by return of post, half a dozen more 200 bottles of your Indian Liniment; if you will send at the same time your account, I will remit you by this amount through Messrs. Belmont & Co., New York.

Baron Solomon Rothschild having recommended to many of his friends Major LANES LINIMENT, and they being desirous to procure it, he should advise him to establish a depot in Paris.

THE INDIAN LINIMENT.

As a relief, ever ready; as a killer of pain, taken inwardly, or outwardly applied, has no equal—for the speedy cure of all Rheumatic and Neuralgic Affections Sprains, Bruises, &c., it is unequalled—It is also most efficacious taken inwardly, in the cure of Colic, Cramps and Pains in the Stomach, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, &c., and is without exception the Most Wonderful Remedy the world affords. No FAMILY should be without it. Every TRAVELER by land or sea should have a bottle. MINERS and Those residing at a distance from a Physician should keep it constantly on hand. In case of accidents and sudden attacks of Stomach Complaints, its use cannot be estimated. Inquire for Major LANES INDIAN LINIMENT, and take no other. Price 50 Cents per bottle. For sale at wholesale and retail by Dennis Barnes & Co., 24 Park Row, N. Y.; Gale & Robinson, 186 Greenwich street, N. Y.; F. C. Wells & Co., 192 Fulton street, N. Y.; Chas. N. Crittenton, 38 4th Ave. N. Y., and by respectable Druggists throughout the world. None genuine unless signed by JOHN THOS. LANE and countersigned by T. T. LANE & CO., Proprietors, 163 Broadway, N. Y. Send for circular.

DR. WISHART'S PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL—Nature's great remedy for Throat and Lung Diseases.

☞ In the Boston Municipal Court, Tuesday, Sophia Stevenson, wife of D. D. Stevenson, of East Boston, was charged with being a common railer and brawler.—Stevenson and Erskine were neighbors adjoining each other for sixteen years, and a dispute had taken place between them relative to a strip of land. During the past six months Mrs. Stevenson had, from thirty to fifty times, whenever she saw Mr. or Mrs. Erskine out of doors or at their windows or doors, shouted after them, danced, called them by indecent and vulgar names, with profane language, and crowds of children and grown people were drawn together thereby. The lawyer for the defence plead that railing and brawling at one family did not make the prisoner a common railer and brawler; but the judge did not see it, and fined the scold $20 and costs.

☞ On Wednesday afternoon, at Manchester, a fire broke out in the dressing room of Mill No. 5 of the Amoskeag Corporation, but was extinguished in about an hour. The fire was chiefly confined to the upper story of the building. The whole mill was thoroughly flooded with water, which must have caused considerable damage to the machinery. Loss not ascertained here.

☞ Godey's Lady's Book, for December, has a beautiful steel engraving, The Broken Window,—also, Old Father Christmas, a Christmas Party, Bob Cherry, and other embellishments, with stories of interest, by popular writers.

☞ The swan pours out her sweetest song when dying. In like manner, the fragrance of Phalon's Night-Blooming Cereus grows more exquisite as it becomes fainter. This is not the case with the ordinary extracts for the handkerchief. Their original scent soon lapses into a decidedly repulsive odor.—New Haven Palladium. 5

LIBEL.—Mr. Henry St. Paul has been indicted by the Grand Jury of Mobile county for libeling Mr. Horton, the worthy Mayor of Montgomery, Alabama. The special libel selected in this case is the speech against Gen. Grant which St. Paul published in the Times and attributed to Mr. Horton. It was a forgery from beginning to end, and bears every mark of having been concocted by St. Paul himself.—At any rate, he published, and editorially asserted its genuineness. The result was that it was copied and commented on all over the Union.

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.

Adams' Novelty Skirt.
PATENTED JUNE 18, 1867.
This celebrated Patent Skirt is pronounced by hundreds of ladies who have given it a thorough trial, to excel all other Skirts ever offered to the public. The chief points of its excellence are, PERFECTION IN FIT, upon a new principle just invented. Equal distribution of weight around the waist-band, so that every skirt is PERFECTLY BALANCED. Entire Freedom from injury to Under Clothing. The Bustle Springs are fastened together in front, and made as one complete hoop. A double support down the front of the skirt where support is most needed. PREVENTS the Skirt from SAGGING. Every Skirt is stamped with its positive waist size and length upon the band, and the relative proportion of the hoops to the waist-band is perfect in every Skirt. It is Absolutely IMPOSSIBLE for the Hoops to work up around the wearer while standing or sitting in a crowd. Sold at BACHMAN'S & CO.'S,

"Unquestionably the best austrined work of its kind in the World."
HARPER'S
New Monthly Magazine.
Critical Notices of the Press.
The most popular Monthly in the world.—New York Observer.
We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellence of HARPER'S MAGAZINE—a journal which has a circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the culture of the American people; and the popularity it has acquired is merited.—Each number contains fully 144 pages of reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood cuts; and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—Trubner's Guide to American Literature, London.
We can account for its success only by the simple fact that it meets precisely the popular taste, furnishing a variety of pleasing and instructive reading for all.—Zion's Herald, Boston.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1867.

THE STATE CONVENTION of the Democratic party met at Concord on Thursday, and was very numerous. Lewis W. Clark of Manchester was President. The result of the first ballot was: Whole number of votes 663; necessary for a choice 332. Franklin Pierce of Concord, 1; John Bedel of Bath, 2; Ira A. Eastman of Concord, 3; E. S. Cushing of Charlestown, 1; Wm. C. Sturoc of Sunapee, 1; Horatio Kimball of Keene, 3; Hiram E. Roberts of Rollinsford, 31; Ellery A. Hibbard of Laconia, 303; John G. Sinclair of Bethlehem, 312, and there was no choice.

When the figures were given the excitement was great. In all parts of the hall there arose cries for favorite candidates.—"Sinclair is the man," and "Hibbard and 10,000 majority," were continually heard.

Mr. Clark said he had been placed in the chair to preserve order, and that he should not proceed until there was order in the room. Comparative quiet was then restored, and the Convention proceeded to a second ballot.

Notwithstanding the remarks of the presiding officer, there was loud talk and considerable excitement during the balloting. As the delegates were passing over the platform it partially broke down, which made some confusion, and did not look like a good omen.

The second ballot was as follows:—Whole number of votes cast, 600; necessary for a choice, 301. Ellery A. Hibbard of Laconia had 269, John G. Sinclair of Bethlehem had 331, and Mr. Sinclair was nominated.

On motion of Mr. Page of Warren, Walter Harriman was invited to stump the State with Mr. Sinclair. [But as this was done last year, it is not probable that Gov. Harriman will comply with such a polite invitation.]

The Platform Resolutions were the usual talk of the copperhead papers, with one exception, which exception we copy as follows:

Resolved, That we are in favor of equal taxation of all the property of the State and nation, so far as that result can be attained without a violation of the national faith, and with a scrupulous regard to the Constitution.

To this no reasonable man will object, and it copied word for word into the Republican platform, it would be unanimously adopted.

THE SHOOTING STARS seem not to have been observed in Boston Wednesday night; but the watchmen on our Navy Yard saw a goodly number. Prof. Loomis, at Yale College, says, "The display attained its greatest magnificence about 4 1-2 o'clock, [Thursday A. M.] I counted 500 meteors alone in one hour, which would indicate 2000 per hour for the entire heavens, and that, too, in the presence of a full moon, which probably eclipsed two-thirds of the whole number. So far as the numbers are concerned, the exhibition was, therefore, more remarkable than that seen in Europe last November, and was but little inferior to that seen in the United States in 1863." They were also observed in large numbers at Albany, Wilmington, Del., Richmond, and Charleston, S. C.

DESTRUCTIVE TORNADO.—Indiana and Kentucky were visited by a terrific rain and wind storm on Friday night last. At Franklin, Simpson county, Ky., a large two story tobacco warehouse was completely demolished; the roof was torn from the Baptist church, and several other buildings were injured. At Greencastle, Ind., over $25,000 worth of property was destroyed. The Baptist church was blown down, and the Methodist church unroofed. Many other houses in the town were partially unroofed or otherwise badly damaged. In the country much valuable timber was blown down, the largest trees snapping like pipestems before the fury of the fierce wind.—Barns and houses were unroofed, fences prostrated, hay and grain stacks overturned, and other damage done to property.

—A Washington special says Secretary McCulloch lately tendered his resignation, when the President asked him to withdraw it, which was complied with.

Gen. Sherman comes to Washington on Indian affairs, and not politics.

It is understood that Secretary McCulloch will recommend the issue of a new consolidated 5 per cent. loan, and Senator Sherman will introduce a bill forthwith giving authority to do so.

A TUMBLE DOWN BRIDGE.—At Yantic, Conn., on Thursday evening, the bridge lately erected across the Yantic river fell down with a great crash. A wagon with five horses attached, and three men, were passing over at the time, and went down, but none were injured. The bridge cost upward of $25,000, and had only been open for travel a short time. What folly, to spend $25,000 on a crazy bridge that could not stand alone.

WESTON, the walker, arrived at Buffalo Nov. 14, at 1 o'clock, P. M. An immense crowd turned out to welcome him. He is in good condition, and was to commence the last one hundred mile attempt that night, as the item reads.

STATE DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS.—At Concord, Wednesday evening, the delegates who had arrived held a caucus, of which Jonas Livingston was chosen chairman.

Hon. Charles J. Smith of Mont Vernon moved that the sense of the meeting be taken by ballot, regarding the propriety of the renomination of Mr. Sinclair, or the selection of a new candidate.

Hon. Harry Bingham of Littleton in a pleasant manner questioned the expediency of Mr. Smith's motion, as only a portion of the delegates had arrived.

Col. John H. George of Concord said that the great objects of the Convention were to represent the views of the New Hampshire Democracy and to whip out the Republican party. He said that any man who did not feel it in his boots that they could clean out the Republicans next March by 5000 majority, was not fit to be a member of the Convention. He wished the people to be convinced that the Republican party is wrong and the Democratic party right. A white man's government and the equality of taxation must be the principles of the Democratic candidate.

E. D. Rand of Lisbon opposed the motion, as he thought it would operate unjustly toward Mr. Sinclair.

J. Q. Roles of Ossipee supported the motion. He said Carroll county was for a new candidate. In his opinion the men who voted against Mr. Sinclair last March would not vote for him next spring. To carry the election the Democrats must gain the support of about two thousand men who voted against Mr. Sinclair last year. Mr. Roles also stated that if Mr. Sinclair was renominated he did not think that Carroll county could make her proportion of the Democratic gain that would be necessary to elect him.

This statement called forth hisses from the Sinclair men, followed by considerable confusion. Several gentlemen at once attempted to get the floor. Thos. Sullivan of Newcastle succeeded, and supported Mr. Sinclair.

Col. Ezra Glidden of Unity then spoke and abusively assailed Mr. Smith of Mont Vernon, whose motion for a ballot was still under consideration. Mr. Glidden said that Mr. Smith's course was adopted out of spite for Mr. Sinclair, on account of certain oil stock operations, in which Mr. Smith claimed that he had been dirtily used.

This statement was received with loud hisses from all parts of the room and emphatic indications of disapproval. General confusion next ensued, and Mr. Glidden could no longer be heard, and gentlemen in all parts of the room endeavored to get the floor, and it was some time before quiet could be restored.

GENS. SHERMAN AND HOWARD.—At St. Louis, Nov. 13, Gen. Sherman, in his address to the army of Tennessee, detailed the operations of that army while under his command, beginning at Chattanooga and ending with its arrival at Washington. He also took a philosophical view of the causes of the war, attributing it mainly to the acts of extreme men North and South, but looked hopefully to the future, urging every man to do his duty to the country. He scouted the idea of another attempt to destroy the nation, and said the next Northern invasion of the South would not destroy it, but fructify and regenerate it.

Gen. Howard followed in a beautiful tribute to the private soldiers.

— During the tornado at Greencastle, Ind., last Friday, the top of a hack, which contained a wedding party, was torn off, and the occupants tumbled out in the mud.

—Rev. Peter Randolph, the colored preacher in Richmond, denies the statement that the negroes at the South were preparing for insurrection. He says, "There is but one thing which would tempt the bracks to rebel, and that is the attempt to enslave them again."

— Burglaries and highway robberies are frequent at Cincinnati of late. A few nights since a lawyer riding into town from the suburbs, was stopped by two highwaymen armed with pistols, who robbed him of $100 in money, notes to a large amount and other articles of value.

—An extensive combination of the whiskey rings of New York city and other parts of the country has been formed to effect the removal of Mr. Rollins, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, and a powerful lobby at Washington is operating to bring it about. Very great favor for the whiskey ring may reasonably be expected from the White House.

— A Bridgeport, Ct., woman lately lost $5000 in government bonds, and after accusing one of her boarders of the robbery, and making a great commotion generally about the affair, employed a professional detective, who found them sewed up in the folds of an old dress, which the careful but forgetful woman had hung away in a closet.

—Leonidas Moses, a mail carrier in Arkansas, was assassinated recently by some unknown person, while riding along a lonely road. His body was not found until eight days after the murder, and all this time his mule stood guard over the corpse. The faithful animal had to go a mile and a half for water, but invariably returned and resumed his singular vigil.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—On Thursday, at Nashua, the Grand Lodge of Independent Good Templars of New Hampshire closed its second annual session. One hundred took the Grand Lodge degree. The old officers were re-elected. The increase of the year was 32 lodges and 3000 members. Total lodges 72, members 7000. The next session will be held at Portsmouth, May 13.

The Strafford County Temperance League held its annual meeting at American Hall, Dover, on Thursday. Delegates were present from every town in the county. Jonathan Cartland of Lee presided. The speeches were generally moderate in tone, there being but little disposition, since the recent elections, to urge radical legislation. Prominent politicians of both parties generally avoided the Convention, yet the discussions were well sustained. The resolutions expressed sympathy for the friends of temperance in Massachusetts, "now under the wave," and adherence to the doctrines heretofore advocated, including prohibition. The unfavorable state of the weather and the proximity of a political campaign of more than usual earnestness, combined to render the Convention smaller than usual in the number of attendance.

On Wednesday, at Lancaster, T. J. Lary was convicted of a murderous assault upon two Frenchmen at Dummer last winter. The case will go up to the full bench on exceptions.

The steamer Lady of the Lake was burned to the water's edge at 4 o'clock Thurday morning, while lying at the wharf at Wolfeborough.

As a token of their appreciation of the faithful and efficient services of City Marshal Vickery and Officer Warren, who, in addition to their other duties, have discharged that of Night Watchmen, a number of the citizens of Dover have presented to each of them a splendid silver watch.

A Town Fair was held in the town of Strafford, Monday, Nov. 11th, which was fully attended by the people of that and neighboring towns. They had a string of 56 yoke of cattle, horse and foot races, &c., and a good time generally; and are going to repeat it annually.

GEN. SCHOFIELD ON PRIZE FIGHTS. Gen. Schofield declares there shall be no more prize fights in Virginia. The action of his soldiers on Tuesday last in surrounding and arresting a couple of hundred persons who had gone down from Washington to witness a display of fists, indicates that he is in earnest in the matter, and the desperate attempts of both principals and spectators to escape from the hands of their military arrestors, proved well enough that they know the business was not reputable, and that they feared the consequences of arrest and exposure.

HAVE you secured a Certificate of the WASHINGTON LIBRARY COMPANY of Philadelphia in aid of the Riverside Institute for educating orphans? Each Certificate costs a dollar with a beautiful engraving worth more than a dollar at retail, and secures besides, a person to the Great Distribution of the Company, and an equal chance that your present may be worth thousands of dollars. You may become rich by doing a benevolent act. Read advertisement.

THE Arabs are accustomed to say, if Mohammed had tasted the waters of the Nile, he would have asked of God immortality on earth; what extravagant metaphor could they find to express their admiration of food prepared with Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus? It also makes flour go farther, and takes less to do the work than of soda or other saleratus. 4

MEDICAL AUTHORITIES have announced that not less than one-fifth of the entire population of the United States are afflicted with Neuralgia in some form. Surely the man who can safely remove such a vast aggregate of pain, is a great public benefactor. Such is Doctor Turner of Boston, in Massachusetts. His "Universal Neuralgia Pill" is pronounced on all hands to be an entirely harmless and perfectly certain remedy for this most torturing of all known diseases. —Kenelm Winslow, the youngest son of the late Rev. Hobbard Winslow, formerly of Boston, died in Paris on the 24th ult.

—The Maine State Temperance Convention at Lewiston unanimously adopted resolutions pledging the temperance men of Maine to support prohibition and the amendment ratified by the people, and favoring the principle of a State police force.

—A Louisville special says a squad of regulators in Henry County burned the cabins of the negro laborers on the Louisville & Lexington Railroad, Monday night, and threatened the contractor's house. Fifty shots were fired and one negro killed.

—It is rumored in New York that the clerks in the wholesale dry goods trade are to have their salaries reduced thirty per cent. after the first of January. The cause is the ruinous decline in all goods pertaining to that trade.

AMERICAN WALTHAM

WATCHES.

The true value of Machinery applied to Watchmaking is not hint by its use watches are rapidly made, but that they are made correctly. Very few people know why a Waltham Watch should be superior to any other. In the first place, at Waltham the Watch is regarded as only a machine, to be constructed like any other machine, on mechanical principles. If the watches are good, it is because the machinery is good. Of course there must be no defect in the principle or plan of the movement—no mistake in the sizes or shapes of the pieces of which it is composed—nothing wanting in their properties, and no error in their positions. These points once thoroughly settled, it rests wholly with the machinery, constructed with infinite diversity of form and function expressly for the purpose, to produce the finished pieces. By means of multiplying gauges and microscopes, tests and inspection for the detection of wear in the cutting tools, and for faults and flaws in steel or stone, are made to accompany the work in every case from beginning to end. As a necessary result, the watch goes together a perfect machine. Every part is formed to fit properly in its place. Every pin may be pushed till it pinches, and every screw turned home. Instead of a sluggish and feeble action, the balance, even under the pressure of the lightest mainspring, vibrates with a wide and free motion. and the best has the clear, ringing sound always characteristic of the Waltham Watch. The machine is a timekeeper from the start.

This system of watchmaking is unknown in foreign countries, and is entirely original with the Waltham Company. The Company claim that by it they produce watches that cannot be equalled for every quality which makes a watch valuable. Simple in plan and correct in principle, the movement is not only beautifully finished, substantial, accurate and cheap, but is uniform in the minutest details, not easily damaged, and when repaired always as good as new. There are different grades of finish in the different varieties of watches made by the Waltham Company, as there are different sizes and shapes to suit all tastes and means; but every watch that bears the genuine trade-mark of "WALTHAM" is guaranteed to be a good one, and nobody need be afraid to buy it.

Every Watch fully Warranted.

NOT GOLD ONLY,

BUT

RICH, FRUITY, LUSCIOUS

WINES!

California is making grand strides in her agricultural products, and is fast withdrawing herself as a purchaser for the manufactures of the Eastern States, and enters the lists as a producer. She needs a warning voice to the time-worn vineyards of Europe, and enters the lists as a fresh, young combatant for the first position of wines from her own rich and increasing vineyards.—The time has come when it is simply ridiculous for any one house to lay claim to especial advantages or peculiar privileges for the sale of

THE WINES OF CALIFORNIA.

As well might they claim a monopoly of the cotton trade.

C. A. RICHARDS & CO.

do not receive or sell all the wines which California produces, but they do claim to have at all times a very large quantity on hand of all the best kinds, and from advantages for getting the best, and getting them at the lowest market value, are such as to enable them to offer them at prices which to-day are lower than any other house which sells California Wines of equality. We bottle five kinds. They are.—

"Angelica,"
"Muscatel,"
"Still Champagne,"
"Hock" and
"Sherry,"
Also "California Brandy."

They are all perfectly pure, and may be relied upon in sickness or in health. The Angelica and Muscatel are rich, sweet wines. The Hock is very similar to the medium grades of Rhine wines. The Port is actually better than many of the high cost Ports from Oporto. We sell these wines in any quantity, from a single bottle to a THOUSAND CASES, and are ready at all times to exhibit samples, or to send them to any address.

THE REALLY GREAT PLASTER,

Have the compactness of kid, and the flexibility of a silk glove.

DR. L. F. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

FARMVILLE, Louisiana, March 8, 1865.

DR. T. ALLCOCK, Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart, and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. D.'s; but truth prompts me to say that your Plaster has given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a permanent cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your Plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon the nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!
THE REMEDY FOR CURING
Consumption, Asthma, Croup, Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppressions of the Chest or Lungs, Difficult Breathing, and all Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

Its action is expectorant, alterative, sudorific, sedative, diaphoretic and tonic, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS and PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action and gives strength to the whole system. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction, even in the most confirmed cases of consumption, and not to produce costiveness (as do most remedies) or effect the head, as it contains no opium in any form. It is PERFECTLY HARMLESS in the most delicate state, though an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. There is no necessity for so many deaths by consumption, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT, Friday.—In the case of Smith vs. Newcastle, a verdict was rendered for the plaintiff in the sum of $600. J. J. and C. U. Bell for plaintiff, Frink and Goodall for defendant.

238. John Dow v. Town of Epping.—An action to recover for stone work used in repairing a bridge over a highway in Epping. Defence, the surveyor of highways was not duly authorized to contract for the stone. Small for plaintiff, Frink for Epping.

POLICE COURT, Nov. 14.—John E. Batchelder, on a charge of keeping a disorderly house, gave $200 bonds for his appearance at the S. J. Court.

Nov. 15.—The case of James Deverson for assault on John Grimshaw, came up on continuance, and Deverson recognized in $200 for appearance at the S. J. Court.

Robert Harrington, for drunkenness, was fined $3 and $3.86 costs.

☞ Auct. Wendell sells at 10 o'clock this morning, a large assortment of elegant furniture and housekeeping articles. Also, at noon, the house and land on the corner of Jefferson and Mast streets.

Betton & Co. have their regular semi-weekly sales of miscellaneous articles.

☞ We are to have a series of first-class Entertainments here next week, rather extraordinary with us. On Monday evening comes Wendell Phillips to lecture before the Lyceum; Wednesday, Concert by LaRue's Carnival Minstrels; Thursday, another Concert by Camilla Urso and others; and now we have announced for Friday and Saturday, the renowned Hanlon brothers, with the irrepressible Rufe Somerby for manager.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE has long been the oldest paper in the country; and with the enlargement this week, is now the largest in the State—and the cheapest, at $2 per year, six copies for $10. The number for Nov. 16th, in quarto form, and containing 48 columns, will be ready for delivery at the Chronicle Office on Thursday, at six cents per copy. New subscribers for 1868 will receive the paper until Jan. 1st free of charge. The Gazette contains all Local items from the Daily Chronicle, and will be found especially interesting to natives of Portsmouth abroad. Copies in wrappers for mailing may always be had at the office.

WONDERFUL ENTERTAINMENT COMING TO OUR CITY.—The famous Hanlon Brothers, who, with their new Transatlantic Combination, have crowded to repletion the spacious Boston Theatre, will appear in our city, at the Temple, Friday and Saturday evenings next, for two nights only. The Boston papers contain extended complimentary notices of this grand entertainment, and we fully believe the hall will not be sufficiently capacious to accommodate all who will desire to greet these wonderful gymnasts. Full particulars are given, with a list of the great attractions. A miniature circus is nightly introduced, in conjunction with the new monster programme of the Hanlons. Mr. C. Amory Bruce is the business agent of the Company.

☞ Henry C. Wright of Boston, the great Apostle of Peace and other reforms, will address the citizens of Portsmouth on afternoons and evenings of Sundays Nov. 17th and 24th, at 2 1-2 and 7 o'clock, at the New Congress Hall. The public are invited.

☞ At the San Jose (California) Races, a blood running horse, Wilbur, fell dead after winning a mile heat in 1:50—from lockjaw, caused by tearing a large piece of flesh from his hoof while running.

The ladies' tournament was the chief feature of the meeting, of course, as it would be anywhere. There were fourteen entries, and among the premiums awarded to maids and matrons, were a $250 watch, a $300 shawl, rich jewelry sets, furniture, &c., from various parties, and a $150 English sidesaddle offered by Main & Winchester.

☞ The Editors and Publishers of Vermont recently met in convention at Montpelier, and took initiatory steps to form an Association like that of Maine, New York, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin. The Concord Monitor recommends one for this State. Well, why don't you Capital publishers start the ball?

500 MILES
OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD.
Running West from Omaha
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
ARE NOW COMPLETED.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company have built a longer line of railroad in the last eighteen months than was ever built by any other company in the same time, and they will continue the work with the same energy until it is completed. The Eastern Division is being constructed rapidly eastward from Sacramento by the Central Pacific Company of California, and it is expected that

THE ENTIRE GRAND LINE
to the Atlantic will be completed in the year 1870.—More than one-third of the work has already been done, more than one-third of the whole line is now in running order, and more laborers are now employed upon it than ever before. More than

Forty Million Dollars in Money

have already been expended by the two powerful companies that have undertaken the enterprise, and there is no lack of funds for the most vigorous prosecution. When the United States Government found it necessary to secure the construction of the Union Pacific railroad to develop and protect its own interests, it gave the companies authorized to build it such ample aid as should render its speedy completion beyond a doubt.—The available means of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, derived from the Government and its own stockholders, may be briefly summed up as follows:

1.—UNITED STATES BONDS

Having thirty years to run and being six per cent. currency interest at the rate of $16,000 per mile for 667 miles on the Plains and in the mountains $48,000 per mile for 150 miles through the Rocky Mountains; then at the rate of $32,000 per mile for the remaining distance, for which the United States takes a second lien as security. The interest on these bonds is paid by the United States government, which also pays the company one half the amount of its bills in money for transporting its freight, troops, mails, &c. The remaining half of these bills is placed to the company's credit, and in no case is sinking fund withheld from the charge the whole amount of this lien. The claims against the government since April of the current year amount to four and one-half times this interest.

2.—FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS.

By its charter the Company is permitted to issue first-lien or first mortgage bonds to the same amount as the bonds issued by the Government, and no more, and only as the road progresses. The Trustees for the bondholders are the Hon. E. D. Morgan, U. S. Senator from New York, and the Hon. Oakes Ames, Member of U. S. House of Representatives, who are responsible for the delivery of these bonds to the Company in accordance with the terms of the law.

3.—THE LAND GRANT.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company has a land grant or absolute donation from government of 12,800 acres to the mile on the line of the road, which will not be worth less than $1.50 at the lowest valuation.

4.—THE CAPITAL STOCK.

The authorized capital of the Union Pacific Railroad Company is $100,000,000, of which over $5,000,000 have been paid on the work already done.

The Means Sufficient to Build the Road.

Contracts for the entire work of building 914 miles of first-class railroad across the mountains, comprising much of the most difficult mountain work, and embracing every expense except surveying, have been made with responsible parties (who have already finished over 600 miles), at the average rate of sixty-eight thousand and fifty-eight dollars ($68,058) per mile. This price includes all necessary shops for construction and repairs of cars, depots, stations and all other incidental buildings, and also locomotives, passenger, baggage and freight cars and other equipments, rolling stock, to an amount that shall not be less than $25,000 per mile. Allowing the cost of the remaining one hundred and fifty miles of the eleven hundred miles assumed to be built by the Pacific Company to be $30,000 per mile,

THE FIRST FIVE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-SEVEN HUNDRED MILES WILL BE AS FOLLOWS:

914 miles, at $68,058	$62,206,012
186 miles, at 30,000	16,740,000
Add discounts on bonds, surveys, &c. -	4,500,000
Amount	$83,446,012

As the U. S. Bonds are equal in every way, and the Company's own First Mortgage Bonds have a ready market, we have as the

AVAILABLE CASH RESOURCES FOR BUILDING ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES:

U. S. Bonds	$29,328,000
First Mortgage Bonds	29,328,000
Capital stock paid in on the work now done	5,329,750
Land Grant, 11,089,000 acres, at 1.00 per acre	21,120,000
Total	$85,145,750

The Company have ample facilities for supplying any deficiency that may arise in means for construction. This may be done wholly or in part by additional subscriptions to capital stock.

Active inquiry has already been made for a portion of these lands, and arrangements are now proposed to offer a part of them for sale. While the whole value will not be realized for some years to come, they will remain a very important source of revenue to the Company. The lands of the Illinois Central Railroad Company are selling at from $6 to $12 per acre, and other land grant companies in the West are receiving equal prices for similar properties.

Future Business.

The most skeptical have never expressed a doubt that when the Union Pacific Railroad is finished the immense business that must flow over it, as the only railroad connecting the two grand divisions of the North American continent will be one of the wonders of railway transportation; and as it will have no competition, it can always charge remunerative rates. The Pacific Mail Steamship Company of New York is now building a regular line of its splendid steamers between San Francisco and China and Japan, which is doubtless the pioneer of other lines that will traverse the Pacific Ocean, bringing the tens, spices and other products of Eastern Asia. Excepting some very heavy or bulky articles of comparatively low values, steamers, at all time decides the direction of freights, and most of these cargoes will find their natural transit over the Union Pacific Railroad.

It is quite within bounds to say that its traffic will be limited only by the capacity of the line, and that no other road will find a double track so necessary. California and the Pacific coast not only be supplied with means of transport for passengers, mail, treasure and other freights, but the inhabitants of Nebraska, Dacotah, Colorado, Utah, Idaho and Montana will communicate with the older States almost entirely by this road. It will be the avenue to the great mining districts, and the only awaiting this ready means of communication to receive a population that will develop its vast mineral and other resources, by which of itself would furnish ample business for a railway line.

Earnings from Way Business.

While the through business of the Company will be amply remunerative, the way business, the local business on the part of the road in operation has been most satisfactory.

During the quarter ending July 31, an average of 325 miles of the Union Pacific Railroad was in operation. The Superintendent's Report shows the following results:

EARNINGS.

Passengers, Freight, Telegraph, Mails, Transportation of Contractors' Material and sundries	$733,755 54 479,283 41
Total	$1,203,038 95
EXPENSES.
Fuel, Repairs, Offices, Conductors, Trains, &c.	$295,590 92
Net Earnings to balance	807,508 03
Total	$1,203,038 95

The net operating expenses on the commercial business for the quarter were 36.56 per cent. The account for the COMMERCIAL BUSINESS stands as follows:

Earnings for May, June and July	$733 755 54
Expenses " " "	267,966 50
Net Profit	$465,789 04

The amount of bonds the company can issue on 235 miles at $16,000 per mile is $5,520,000. Interest to gold, three months at 6 per cent. on this sum is $82,800, add 20 per cent premium, to correspond with currency earnings, is $165,600. showing that the net earnings for this quarter were more than four times the interest on the First Mortgage Bonds on this length of road.

First Mortgage Bonds,

whose principal is so amply provided for, and whose interest is so thoroughly secured, must be classed among the safest investments they pay

Six Per Cent in Gold,

and are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, and accrued interest at Six Per Cent. in currency from July 1.

Many parties are taking advantage of the present high price of Government stocks to exchange for these bonds, which are over FIFTEEN PER CENT. CHEAPER, and at the current rate of premium on gold, pay

Over Nine Per Cent. Interest.

SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received in Portsmouth by FIRST NATIONAL BANK, and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau street, and by

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS.
THE
CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,
THE WESTERN HALF OF THE
GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
being constructed with the AID and SUPERVISION OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES for commercial purposes IN THE WORLD. It is the sole link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense Overland travel must pass, and the Principal Portion of the Main Steam Line between the Two Oceans.

Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Pacific, eastward across the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, contiguous to all the great Mining Regions of the Far West, and will meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. Upon 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the summit of the Sierra Nevadas. Within a few days 35 miles, now graded, will be added, and the track carried entirely across the mountains to a point in the Great Salt Lake Valley, whence further progress will be pushed rapidly. Iron, materials and equipment are ready at hand for 200 miles of road, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction.

The local business upon the completed portion surpasses all previous estimate. The figures for the quarter ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS,	OPERATING EXPENSES,	NET EARNINGS,
$187,579 65	$53,834 87	$401,744 17

or at the rate of two millions per annum, of which more than three-fourths are net profit on less than 100 miles worked. This is upon the actual, legitimate traffic of the road, with its revenue in the mountains, and with only the normal ratio of government transportation, and is exclusive of the materials carried for the further extension of the road.

The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $150,000.

Add to this an ever-expanding through traffic and the proportions of the future business become immense.

The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain Company.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between the San Francisco and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the United States will have invested in the completion of 865 miles $28,592,000, or at the average rate of $33,000 per mile, including an absolute grant of 10,000,000 acres of the Public Lands. By becoming a joint investor in the most valuable enterprise by having its first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bondholders, the GENERAL GOVERNMENT, IN EFFECT, BECOMES THE CO-OPERATOR AND MANAGING CAPITALISTS, and has carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

The Company offer for sale, through us, their

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds.

Principal and interest payable in Gold in the City of New York. They are in sums of $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are selling for the present at 95 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st added in currency, at which rate they yield over

Nine per Cent. upon the Investment.

These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, bear the same relation to the progress, and to the same amount only as the Bonds issued by the Government; and represent, in all cases, the first lien upon a completed, equipped and productive railroad, in which have been invested Government subsidies, stock subscriptions, donations, the road's earnings, etc., and which is worth more than three times the amount of First Mortgage Bonds which can be issued upon it.

The Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds have all the same safeguards and guaranties of the Pacific Railroad Act of Congress, and have in addition several noticeable advantages over all other issues of railroad bonds.

First—They are the superior claim upon altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the through line.

Second—Beside the fullest benefit of the Government subsidy, (which is a subordinate lien,) the road receives the benefit of large donations from California.

Third—Fully half the whole cost of grading 800 miles eastward of San Francisco is concentrated upon the 150 miles now about completed.

Fourth—A local business already yielding three-fold the annual interest liabilities, with advantageous rates payable in coin.

Fifth—The principal as well as the interest of its Bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds to Trustees, Executors, Institutions and others as an eminently sound, reliable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

Morning Chronicle.

SOCIETY AT ST. JOHN.—A correspondent of the N. Y. Evening Post thus hits off society at St. John, New Brunswick:

"Society here is not yet equalized. It comprises many grades. The garrison's officers are the first 'chop.' Then come those families who enjoy the privilege of giving good dinners to the garrison officers. Next, those who hope some day to enjoy the privilege of giving good dinners to the garrison officers. Fourth, those who neither have nor expect to have ditto.—Fifth, plebian tradesmen in general, who are proud to have small-pay officers buy their goods on credit. Sixth, everybody else.

It is very difficult for a stranger to get into that indefinite circle known as 'society.' When one makes his (or especially her) appearance, the question is immediately raised, 'who is she?' She becomes the observed of all observers. Every movement is watched, every action is criticised. But no one receives her, because each grade fears to lose caste by so dangerous a venture. At last she is seen speaking to some poor lieutenant, who is living on his pay and a hundred a year, when presto! the ice breaks, and there is a general advance with open arms.

There is no card of introduction so good as the acquaintance of an officer. The officers lead the 'ton,' whatever that may be. I suppose it is nothing under two thousand pounds. Nothing can be done en regle except under the patronage of the Colonel commanding. No concert or lecture can be guaranteed a success unless sanctioned by the royal patronage, the Colonel, of course, representing her majesty here. No ball or party is complete without the royal presence. It is the Colonel's band that plays twice a week on the public square, and it is the Colonel's inventive genius that gives life to half the town.

The subordinate officers of the garrison 'get themselves up' elegantly for promenade. A single one of them is a host in himself, occupying most of the sidewalk; two together are stunning; but three abreast are awe-inspiring. Common folks then stand aside to make room for such an aggregation of quality and gentility.—I am sure if they were to meander up our Bowry there they would find they had made a mistake in their pleasure. But it is not so here.

Their usual costume when off duty is a round hat with orange or purple ribbon; a bobtail coat outgrown; trowsers stuffed into long boots; a glass stopple in the left eye; half a cane, and a terrier dog. The style of all is pretty much the same, though some have two terriers and more boots. The other morning I encountered three of them taking a morning ramble.—One had his small straw hat swathed with tarletan, a white blouse bordered with purple tape, white pantaloons, and white canvas shoes. Another was noteworthy as having his white pants tucked into a pair of drab leggings a la Zouave. All had pipes.

Some of the ladies feel much honored to receive a nod or a passing glance from these splendid creatures, but are usually disappointed, as they always talk loud and earnestly, and can't see anybody, owing to chronic strabismus; in such event said ladies are proud to be noticed by their terriers. Most of the rank and file copy their superiors, and affect canes and dogs."

— The majority against colored and female suffrage in Kansas will reach six thousand in a vote of twenty-three thousand.

— A Sabbath school teacher in Columbus, Ga., offers circus tickets as rewards of merit.

—A few nights ago, as the family of W. Dickinson of Frederick county, Md., were about retiring for the night, they were aroused by the smell of fire. On searching they found smoke coming out of a rat hole. They at once cut away some wood work and discovered a rat's nest on fire and a piece of a match that had not been consumed. Half an hour later, and the house and perhaps lives, would have been lost, while the cause of the fire would have ever remained a mystery.

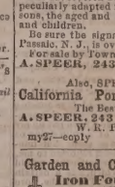
SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE.

Prescribed by Physicians for FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS AND INVALIDS.



As a Tonic, it has no equal, causing an appetite and building up the system of the most debilitated. As a Diuretic, it imparts a healthy action to the Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections. As a Blood Purifier it is superior, being one of the best alterative known in the medical pharmacopœia.

The qualities of SAMBUCI are "wisdom is power," being at once a Tonic, Diuretic, Alterative, Diaphoretic and Soporific.

"Bonum vinum laetificat cor hominis."

SPEER'S SAMBUCI is a pure grape wine with a fine flavor, rich body and pleasant taste. It is peculiarly adapted for weak and debilitated persons, for aged and infirm, and benefiting ladies and children.

Be sure the signature of ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J., is over the cork of the bottle.

GOVERNMENT BONDS.—The Mirror & Farmer offer the following suggestions:

In a critical period of the war, when rebellion was rampant, when the loyal heart of the nation was sad, the funds of the treasury too low to pay off the soldiers who perilled their lives to save the Union and the Constitution, it became necessary for the general government to take to its aid State credit, bank credit, to add to and save its own at home and abroad. Self-defence is the duty of nations as well as individuals. In this emergency, as a last resort, as a national necessity, it exempted its bonds from taxation. That act brought hundreds of millions of dollars to the rescue. That emergency has passed. The credit of the country is unquestioned. The time has fully come when the doctrine of equal taxation should prevail. * * * *

Take the sense of the people of New Hampshire to-day, and nineteen-twentieths of the voters would say "make government bonds taxable." What I are you for repudiation? Far from it. We would have every dollar of government indebtedness paid exactly according to agreement. We would have our government issue long bonds payable in gold at maturity, the interest in gold, at a low rate, say four or five per cent., and have them exchanged for the present bonds, and have these long bonds taxable as much as other property. The time has come when the project is feasible.

The action of Gen. Butler and Thaddeus Stevens has created distrust as to whether our bonds will finally be paid in gold, and all foreign capitalists, and most of our own, would prefer bonds that stand for gold on their faces to those which may possibly be paid in paper. Such an act would bring specie payment, reduce the price of living, give activity to business, and permanent credit to our government. We trust and believe that among the first things introduced into Congress will be a bill for converting government bonds into those that can be taxed.

— Santa Anna's good fortune (if so we may call it) has not yet forsaken him. He has arrived at Havana, having been liberated from the imprisonment to which he was condemned after he failed of being shot. He is again an exile, as he has often been before, and has again the opportunity to resume those plottings for power in which, though he often fails, he frequently succeeds.

— The "colored man," said to have eloped with a white woman from Providence on Monday, has put a different color on the matter. The man referred to is Dr. Congdon, a native Indian physician, who states in explanation that he was going to Boston, and took with him, at her own request and for her protection, a young woman whose sister wanted to force her into a house of ill-fame in Providence.

— The great freight depot building in St. John's Park, New York, by the Hudson River Railroad Company, will be the largest structure of the kind in this country and cost nearly two millions of dollars. Over four acres will be covered under a single roof, and the building made absolutely fireproof.

—Hon. Charles Sumner has recently given a collection of pamphlets and over 400 valuable books to Harvard University. For a long series of years Mr. Sumner has been a benefactor of the library, and within five years he has given to it more than 7000 pamphlets and 1000 volumes.

—Voltaire, after being on terms of friendship with the King of Prussia, owing to his wit, gave some offence: when the King said to some of his courtiers: "When we squeeze the orange and have sucked the juice, we throw the rest away." "Then," said Voltaire, "I must take care of the peel," and quitted his Prussian majesty's dominions.

—In New York, a woman has made application for a divorce from her husband on account of danger to her soul. Probably he tickled her feet.

THE NEW-HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE.

is the oldest paper in the country; and with the enlargement last week, is now the largest in the State—and the cheapest, at $2 per year, six copies for $10. It is now printed in quarto form, and containing 48 columns, and is ready for delivery at the Office of the Daily Chronicle, at six cents per copy. New subscribers for 1868 will receive the paper until Jan. 1st free of charge. The Gazette contains all Local items from the Daily Chronicle, and will be found especially interesting to natives of Portsmouth abroad. Copies in wrappers for mailing may always be had at the office.

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1867.

A MARE'S NEST.—A day or two ago, the agent of the Associated Press telegraphed from Richmond that the cost of registration in Virginia was $239,000, and that the military government of that State had cost $5,000,000 for the last ten months.

This was a nice mare's nest; the thing was itemized; and in a coppery exchange now before us, the item appears twice in one column, viz., at top and bottom. But alas, the eggs are broken, and the agent seems to be one of the relic-able gentlemen. The Boston Advertiser's Washington special says:

Official figures on the Paymaster General's books, show that only $200,000 had been sent into the State on account of reconstruction expenses up to October 12, which was several weeks after the completion of registration, and that up to that date less than $150,000 had been used. Figures at the War Department will show no additional expense on account of troops serving in Virginia, over the usual expense attending the same number stationed elsewhere, while the report of General Howard, just made, shows the total expense of the Freedmen's Bureau in all the States, for eleven months previous to September 1st, to be only $3,500,000.

WEST INDIA NEWS.—A Havana special of the 18th says Haytien advices state that Geffrard is to be permanently exiled.

The same special contains advices from Porto Rico to the 7th inst. A terrible hurricane had visited the southern portion of the island, destroying all the crops. Two hundred lives were lost and four thousand families were destitute. Provisions were to be landed, duty free, for two months.

Subscriptions have been opened in Havana for the relief of the sufferers at St. Thomas. The Liverpool steamer which was sunk during the hurricane carried down $5,000,000 in specie and merchandise.—loss of the steamship company at St. Thomas will amount to $12,000,000. Five hundred bodies remaining unburied have been burnt on the island.

Tortola, one of the smaller British West India Islands, between Virgin Gorda and St. John's, containing an area of 48 square miles, has been completely submerged by the flood following upon the great gale of the 7th inst., and it is reported that ten thousand lives have been lost.

[The whole population of Tortola was a little over 1000 a few years since.]

☞ A Concord item of Friday says, at the Merrimac County Republican meeting in Concord to-day, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Convention be tendered Hon. John G. Sinclair for his herculean efforts, and for his alleged contribution of $5000 of the "Petroleum fund," to secure his renomination as the Democratic candidate for Governor of New Hampshire.

Considerable dissatisfaction has been expressed by Democrats in Concord to-day over the result of their State Convention yesterday.

IMPORTANT INSURANCE CASE.—At Hartford an interesting case, involving very nice questions of law, has been on trial this week before the U. S. District Court. It is the N. Y. Transportation Company's suit against the Western Massachusetts Insurance Company. In April, 1866, the steamer City of Norwich collided with a schooner on the Sound, and soon after took fire and sank in 110 feet of water. She was raised after several months, and taken to New York and repaired. There was an insurance of $75,000 on the steamer in various companies, the policies covering fire risks only. The insurance companies declined to pay on the ground that they did not take marine risks, and that the loss was occasioned by the peril of the sea. The plaintiffs claim that the vessel would not have been lost except for fire; that but for the burning of the upper works of the vessel she would not have gone down. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiffs for $4908 20.

AT WASHINGTON, the President's hand-organ comes out with a conspicuous communication nominating Gen. Sherman for President and John Potter Stockton of New Jersey for Vice President. It is evident that the Democratic ring now in favor at the White House is troubled by the demonstrations in favor of General Grant as the Republican candidate.

It is asserted that the Loyal Leagues which control the politics of every Southern State, are nearly all pledged to the support of Chief Justice Chase as the Republican candidate for the Presidency.

☞ On Friday forenoon a large and spirited meeting of prominent Republicans of Merrimac county was held in Concord to perfect a county organization for the coming political campaign. E. H. Rollins presided. After the transaction of business, addresses were made by various gentlemen who congratulated those in attendance on the encouraging prospects of the Republicans in that county, and on the result of the Democratic State Convention.

—The Democracy of Nashville are about to invite Pendleton and John Quincy Adams to visit that city.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—At Laconia, the high price of wood has driven many people to use coal. The Belknap Mills find it much cheaper, as they used some 2920 cords of wood per year, or eight cords per day. The other Mills are doing this also. It is estimated that a ton of good Lehigh coal is equal to two cords of hard wood. The coal costs, in the cellar, $12,50 per ton. A cord of hard wood, first class, ready for the stove, cost $9 last winter, making it an expensive luxury. The effect of this change is, that good hard wood can now be bought for $6 which twelve months ago cost $7 and $8.

Mr. John P. Davis of Laconia, has met with an accident which caused permanent blindness. He was driving a nail, when it broke and struck him in the left eye, cutting through the surface, causing it to flatten, destroying its sight permanently. His right eye was destroyed some time since by being burnt by melted iron. He is now totally blind, a sad condition indeed.

A lady of Concord, N. H., riding in a Boston horse car, was surprised to see a long rent in her dress; but supposing she had torn it getting in, closed the aperture by keeping her hand upon the severed parts, that others in the vehicle might not see the rent. Upon reaching her destination her city cousins explained the affair. The rent was made by a pickpocket. Keeping her hand upon the severed parts saved her purse.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—The Concord Statesman says, one of the happiest men seen on Main Street lately, was a day-laborer, who last June knocked off work, and went on a fishing excursion to the banks of Newfoundland, and returned the last of October with $300 as his share of five months' work.

There is living in Goshen a lady of 85 years, who does all her work; milks her cow, from which last year she made 127 lbs. of butter. She owns a sugar orchard, from which she made from one to two thousand pounds yearly. She makes her half of the syrup into sugar, sells it at retail, and keeps an account of every pound. She buys a pig, which she feeds until it weighs about 200 pounds. She keeps a portion of the wool from her sheep, which she spins and knits into stockings. She raises plenty of chickens for Thanksgiving and some to give away. She has been a widow 15 years, has out-lived all her progeny, but one child, two grand-children and one great-grand-child, yet her faith in God is unshaken; and when the time for her departure arrives, it can be said, both as to her spiritual and temporal work, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

Hay sells at Lebanon from $15 to $18 per ton. Potatoes $1 per bushel.

The Rochester Courier says a new device in the shape of a well is being introduced. It consists simply of an iron tube or pipe which is sunk or drove into the ground, then opened, and the pump is fastened to it, and the water is secured without any digging. What makes the curiosity greater, is the fact that the patentee (Mr. E. M. Roberds) has sunk a number by the side of hard water wells, and procured the softest of water in every instance, and he will warrant such a result in every trial or no pay is asked.

All the Schools in Great Falls are closed for a vacation of three weeks.

The Freewill Baptist Church of Northwood has lately been enlarged and repaired.

KILLED BY THE CARS.—Mr. Charles K. Chew was instantly killed by the Portland express train, on the Boston and Maine road at Plaistow, on Saturday evening last. He left a low neighboring groggery and beer shop, a short time before his death, saying that he was going to Plaistow Centre, but was too much under the influence of liquor to know the points of the compass, and took the railroad track towards Haverhill. His body was horribly mutilated, so much so as not to be identified except by papers found in his pocket. Chew served during the war in the 4th N. H. V., and leaves a wife and family of young children at Plaistow. But for his habit of occasional intoxication he was a respectable man. He had been drinking during the afternoon and evening at the above named groggery, and it is presumed that the proprietors made from 12 1-2 to 25 cents on the liquor that got him drunk and cost him his life. "No blame attached to any one."—of course not.—Manchester Mirror.

NORTHERN MIGRATION TO VIRGINIA. The Abingdon Virginian says there is a large and growing influx of Northern settlers into the lower Valley of Virginia, adding much wealth and population to Frederick, Shenandoah, Rockingham, Augusta and other counties. Under the influence of Northern demand, lands are becoming ready of sale in those counties, and large landholders are dividing up their estates, selling one part so get capital with which to work the rest. Much of this is due to the activity of the land agencies.

☞ Attorney General Stanberry has published an opinion against the legality of the coming adjourned session of Congress, but it is regarded as unofficial and it is not addressed to the President.—Exchange.

Exactly so; it is really addressed to the copperheads and soft heads, as an electioneering document.

—In Quakertown, Pa., recently, a vicious horse seized a boy by the head, and with such a sudden jerk as to dislocate the the lad's neck and kill him.

—It is a melancholy fact that all efforts of strictly legitimate charcter to found "Homes" in the various States for the crippled and disabled veterans in the late war—such as England has in the Chelsea Hospital and France in the Palace of the Invalides—have heretofore proved utter failures.—Exchange.

In England and France the "Homes" are not provincial or county institutions—but National. Besides this, our war against the rebels was not carried on chiefly by classes of perpetual soldiers—but by citizens, who have homes, or make them.

CRIMES AT WORCESTER, MASS.—On the 15th Nov., Mrs. James E. Shepard was shot by her husband at Curtis' farm, three miles from the city. She had been living in the family of Mr. Curtis as a nurse.—Her husband went there that morning and had high words with her. He then went to the city, bought a pistol and returned. He fired several shots at her, from the effects of which she died a few minutes after. The murderer was still at large.

James A. Rawson, a hack driver, was arrested as accessory to the death of Mrs. Cynthia Newton, who died on Tuesday from the effects of an abortion.

☞ It is creditable, says the New York Commercial Advertiser, to the memory of the late Governor Andrew, that he realized no personal profits from the misfortunes of his country during the civil war. He left office poorer than he entered it, and was obliged to decline a re-election as Governor of Massachusetts in order to support his family by his practice as a lawyer. He had a life policy of $10,000, and beyond this leaves but little to his family except a reputation that is beyond all price—to them and his countrymen. Last year his friends proposed to send him to Congress, and contribute a purse of money that would place him above the necessity of legal practice, but he refused to sacrifice his independence, and declined the offer.

FROM SAVANNAH, Nov. 15.—The report so extensively circulated that a true bill had been presented by the Grand Jury in the United States Circuit Court against Hon. Foster Blodgett for perjury in taking the official oath at Augusta, is untrue.—District Attorney Fitch stated in the Court that no case against Mr. Blodgett was before the Court. It is reported that action will be taken against the instigators of this affair for malicious prosecution. It is said to be an attempt of Blodgett's political enemies to destroy his influence as the leader of the radical party in Georgia.

☞ The Bangor Democrat pitches lustily into the Maine Standard editor and the democracy of Augusta generally, for participating in the reception of Sheridan.—The Democrat professes to disbelieve the report of the Augusta Journal that E. F. Pillsbury, Esq., was one of the speech-makers of the occasion, saying, "Mr. Pillsbury is not the man to thus attempt to degrade and insult the Democracy of Maine,—who last September gave him such a generous support at the polls as their candidate for Governor,—by countenancing this Radical political raid of Sheridan through the North."

☞ At the afternoon session of the Maryland Baptist Union Association, now being held at Washington, the colored members were plainly told that the whites would never tolerate social equality between the races. Rev. Mr. Williams, a colored preacher, denied that it was the desire of colored people to be put upon social equality with white people. Quality, he said, would, like water, find its own level.

—Thirty bakers in Baltimore have been arrested, charged with violating the city bread ordinance, and several thousand loaves of bread seized and confiscated by the public authorities.

—Hermann Schartz arrived at Richmond the other day, from the Wilderness, and attempted to pass a twenty dollar Confederate note, not knowing, it is said, that the war was over.

—The Boston Nation says when it was ascertained, Monday night, that the P. L. L's had carried the Massachusetts Legislature, that liquor shops which had been closed for a long time were very generally opened, and there was more drunkenness in the city than has been known for a long while. In the vilest parts of the city a procession of roughs, male and female, was formed, and Pandemonium reigned supreme. A notorious brothel, the same place where a murder was nearly consummated several weeks since, was also illuminated in honor of the victory. Suggestive, very!

SAFETY consists not in escape
From dangers of all frightful shape—
Earthquakes may tremble 'neath your feet,
Yet you may die from what you eat;
Lightnings may flash around your head,
Yet you find death from eating bread.

THE REALLY GREAT PLASTER,
ALLCOCK'S POROUS,
Have the compactness of kid, and the flexibility of a silk glove.
DR. I. T. HENDERSON'S LETTER.
FARNVILLE, Louisiana, March 8, 1860.
DR. T. ALLCOCK, SIR: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart, and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine, from the very best M. D.'s; but truth prompts me to say that your Plaster has given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a permanent cure.
The counter-irritant effect of your Plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours very truly,

AMERICAN
WALTHAM
WATCHES.
The true value of Machinery applied to Watchmaking is not that by its use watches are rapidly made, but that they are made correctly. Every one people know why a Waltham Watch should be superior to any other. In the first place, at Waltham the Watch is regarded as only a machine, to be constructed like any other machines, on mechanical principles. If the watches are good, it is because the machinery is good. Of course the most perfect machinery is the principle or plan of the movement—no mistake in the size or shapes of the pieces of which it is composed—nothing wanting at their operation, and no error in their positions. These points once thoroughly settled, it rests wholly with the machinery, constructed with the minute accuracy of

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

THE REMEDY FOR CURING

Consumption, Asthma, Croup, Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppressions of the Chest and Lungs, Whooping Cough, and all Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

Its action is expectorant, alterative sudorific, sedative, diaphoretic and diuretic, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm. ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM WEAKENS and PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; builds up the whole to its proper health and imparts strength to the whole system. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction, even in the most confirmed cases of consumption; and not to produce costiveness (as do most remedies) or effect the head as it contains no opium in any form. It is PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is the most powerful remedy in subduing the system. There is no necessity for so many deaths by consumption, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

CHILDREN'S LIVES SAVED For 50 CENTS. Thousands of Children die annually of Croup.—Now, mothers, if you would spend 50 cents, and always have a bottle of Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment in the house, you never need fear losing your little ones when attacked with this complaint. It is now 39 years since I have put up my Liniment, and never heard of a child dying of Croup when my Liniment was used; but hundreds of cases of ourse have been reported to me, and many state it is worth $100 per bottle they would not be without it. Rheumatism will yield to the cure for Cuts, Burns, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throat, Swellings, Mumps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Spasms, Old Sores, and Pains in the Back and Chest. No one once tries it who is ever without it. It is warranted perfectly safe to take internally. Full directions with every bottle. Sold by the Druggists. Depot 56 Cortland street, N. Y. n8dwim

DR. SCHENCK ON DYSPEPSIA.—SYMPTOMS, CAUSES AND REMEDY.

Symptoms of Dyspepsia—A sense of fullness, tightness, and weight in the stomach, together with flatulency, acidity, sour, offensive belching of wind, water-brash and vomiting, and a great deal of what a person will call sick feeling at the pit of the stomach: frequently there is also palpitation of the heart, which physicians mistake for heart disease, and when the stomach is in this condition it is coated with a mucus or slime. The rough fibrous portions of the stomach resemble to what we see in the sea, and throws out the gastric juice, and when the stomach gets a thick coat of slime on it, it prevents the gastric juice from forming, and digestion ceases. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic dissolves this mucus or slime, and restors the stomach to its natural condition.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills are also required to carry off this morbid matter. Two-thirds of the cases of Consumption are caused from this diseased state of the stomach; the liver becomes torpid, it ceases to throw out bile, and in a short time the whole system is deranged. The mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes sympathizes for the time

SUPREMACY OF THE PRESS.

In this century a new empire has arisen, greater already than the Rome of the Cæsars or the Popes, yet only in its infancy. It is the empire of the Press. The world has seen many systems of power; that of the Freemasons, who have secretly influenced all Christendom; the Society of the Jesuits; the Priesthood, both Catholic and Protestant; the Army; the Law; but none of these possesses the terrible power of the Press. The Pulpit is even now a second-rate means of influencing the masses of mankind; the Army is at the best mere brute force; the Law is now nothing but an umpire in disputes; but the Newspaper is everything. It takes the place of the Parliament, of the Courts, of the Church.

There is no method of acting upon the mind, of revolutionizing the convictions of a nation, of inspiring new ideas and directing popular movements, which compares with it in rapidity, directness and extent. All other methods are clumsy or imperfect, but this is almost like the light of the sun, so swift, electric, and universal is its influence. Yet how young and undeveloped is the new empire. Journalism as a profession is a creation of the last thirty years; as a great profession it is no older than the telegraph. But to-day it is the supreme power of the world. Thirty years ago the orators ruled America; to-day it is ruled by the editors.

This sway will become far more absolute than any of us can realize. See what has already been done. We have put a newspaper into the hand of every man in the United States who reads. For a mere trifle the news of the whole world is spread out before him, day after day. Can the Pulpit or the Forum do as much? They, at the most, can but proclaim absolute truths, which were the same three hundred years ago, but the newspapers give the facts. We have brought the telegraph, the steamboat and the railroad into our service, and with other inventions will come more varied means of obtaining information and distributing it rapidly and cheaply.—This secures us the entrance to every household—and then follows the use of the opportunity. The orator and the preacher have not this invaluable advantage. They must ask for a hearing; we obtain it by force. The people can avoid the lecture-room or the church, but they cannot avoid the newspapers. Thus we compel our audience, and may say to it what we please. And though the speaker has none of our advantages, we have all of his. The newspaper can be as eloquent as the orator, and can preach as earnestly as the clergyman.

We duplicate all their functions as teachers of mankind, and have others of our own which they are forever denied.—Henry Clay or Daniel Webster, in the days when their names were on every tongue, did not exert one-third of the influence over men that the newspapers of New York do to-day. Why! What is the ambition of the orator now? Not to make his speeches, but to get them published. Mr. Collax and Mr. Seymour cared very little for the audiences their voices reached at the recent meetings in this city, for behind the few thousand people there they beheld the million readers of the Tribune and the Herald. The object of the speaker as the leader of men has perished forever. Demosthenes is dumb; in his stead is "the pale and silent man, who, writing alone at midnight, holds the fate of empires upon the point of his pen."

Therefore, it will no longer do for the novelist or the satirist to present the Hon. Jefferson Brick or the Eatanswill Gazette as types of journalism. There are mean and miserable men in all professions—from soldiers like McClellan, thieving lawyers at the Tombs, quacks in medicine, and Judases who betray Christ in the pulpit—and journalism is no exception. But no one who is not hopelessly stupid can revive in this day the old talk about Bohemia and Grub-street.

There is a class of men among bankers and merchants and lawyers, who affect a condescension towards the journalist which is intensely amusing. The writer for the newspaper appears to their blinking eyes a kind of literary adventurer, who is to be tolerated for his genius, but not to be trusted in business. They are ignorant that it is the newspaper that sells their goods, furnishes all their facts, and presents them gratuitously with their opinions. They do not know, as Jay Cooke does, that the newspapers of America sold two thousand millions of national bonds. They do not know, as Edwin M. Stanton knows, that the newspapers of America sent five hundred thousand men to the war.

They do not know that the newspapers of America will nominate the candidates for the Presidency, determine the election, dictate the legislation of Congress, and decide whether Andrew Johnson is to be impeached. Newspapers lead them by the nose wherever they go, but they do not feel the pressure, which is the particular reason why we give to them this especial tweak.

We write this article for the good of our profession. That it will be read by the public is something we cannot help, nor do we care, though the argument may appear too much of a boast. But we are in earnest in the declaration that journalism is the greatest of all professions, the most powerful influence in the present, destined to be triply powerful in the future. Its destiny in America is especially noble, for this is a nation of readers. Journalism would be a tyranny were it not for the impossibility of a monopoly. The independence of thought and the rivalry of journalists make it the permanent ally of progress and freedom. It moves with the people, and as its influences them is influenced in return. Thus, it will grow with the nation.

Every man who edits a paper, even if it be so obscure sheet on the borders of civilization, should know his responsibility.—He should remember the dignity of his profession, and sustain it. We make public opinion, and the men who make the laws and execute them are appointed by our will. The newspaper is the engine which moves and directs the masses of mankind. We foresee the day when all other professions will be, in confession as they are in fact, dependencies of this absolute empire over thought.—Wilkes' Spirit.

BONDS.—The rumors from Washington that Secretary McCulloch will ask Congress to give him power to consolidate the national debt in a new five per cent. forty year bond, are in the main correct. The main trouble is upon the point of excepting the bonds from taxation, and some influential Republicans say it is not wise to except any new bonds from local taxation. The plan is to declare in explicit terms that the new bonds are payable, principal and interest, in coin, and then the fact that a large class of politicians hold that the six per cent. bonds are not payable at maturity in coin, will facilitate the exchange and will settle in a satisfactory manner a vexatious and dangerous question. Some of the strongest Republicans in the Senate will favor the scheme of McCulloch, but it will have enemies in the House.

JOSH BILLINGS says: Munny has done one thing for the world that nothing else could have done so well—it has developed the phools.

If a man must be poor aul his life, I ain't sure but it wood be sum munny in his pocket to be ignorant.

Fust class virtue is always anxious to avoid temptashun.

I enjoy a good laff, one that rushes out of a man's soul like the breaking up of Sunday School; but a laff that cums out ov a man like the struggles ov a chicken choked up with a chunk ov half wet doe, I utterly lament.

There ain't no poetry in poverty, but en ny number of feet of blank verse.

Enny man who kin kompell a woman tu make a shirt for 20 cents, ought to be filled full of fish hooks and be used for bait to ketch other sharks with.

Silence is one ov the negative virtues.

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.
The following names from its large list of purchasers are given for reference:

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington
under the Act of 1836.
No. 78 State street, (opposite Kilby street,)
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, Bonds, and all papers or drawings for Patents, prepared on reasonable terms, with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS; every one of which was decided in his favor by the Commissioner of Patents.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."—THOS. EWBANK, Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can not employ a man more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.—JOHN TAGHART.

Adams' Novelty Skirt.
PATENTED JUNE 18, 1867.
This celebrated Patent Skirt is pronounced by hundreds of ladies who have given it a thorough trial, to excel all other Skirts ever offered to the public. The only point of the excellence are, PERFECTION IN FIT, upon a new principle just invented. Equal distribution of weight around the waist-band, which is made in one complete hoop. A double support down the front of the skirt where support is most needed. PREVENTS the Skirt from SAGGING. Every Skirt is stamped with its positive waist size and length, upon the band, and the relative proportion of the hoops to the waist-band is perfect in every Skirt. It is Absolutely Self-Adjusting. Hoops will not turn up around the wearer while standing or sitting in a crowd. Sold at BACHMAN & CO.'S,

WHAT THEY SAY OF US.—A Convention of Young Men's Christian Associations has just been held in New York city.

Judge Smith of Boston congratulated New York Christians that they had only to contend with worldliness and sin; while Boston had all this, and had also to meet the general denial of the divinity of Christ with all the "isms" of the age, which concentrated in Boston.

Among the speakers was Rev. Mr. Church of New Hampshire, Presiding Elder, who stated to the Convention that in New Hampshire there were fifty towns which had not settled ministry, and not settled worship; that one third of the population were as heathenish as Pagans, and if something was not done immediately, the State would be a wide waste.

What Elder Church says about fifty towns not having settled ministers, is true; and that saying about the lack of settled worship may be true, though we don't know exactly what is meant by settled,—perhaps it means regular or constant. But his fears of New Hampshire's becoming "a wide [moral] waste" may as well be dismissed first as last.

The Register for 1867 contains the names of 560 ministers. This number includes some Methodist local preachers, several old ministers who are not preaching much, and a number of ordained ministers who are chiefly employed in teaching and other duties, but who preach occasionally, and some of them constantly.

The last Annual Reports of most denominations in the State, note an increase of membership; some of them a large increase. Those things do not look like a waste.

There was, to be sure, some time in the late war, a "vermillion edict" sent out from some miscalled democratic presses,—advising their adherents to forsake the ministry of political parsons. And this edict was obeyed to a great extent. Their secession, however, did not greatly weaken the Societies they left, as to their moral force, though in some cases it did as to numbers. Its greatest effect has been to damage the men who seceded, and to injure their families; inasmuch as in most places they could find no Christian assembly led by a minister after their own hearts. But there is not enough of such people to make the State a waste, though they waste their own sweetness on the desert air. All of the democrats, however, did not obey the edict.—The best of them, in almost every place, held on to their pews, retained their membership and outlived the storm. The chaff blew away—the wheat remained. U. T.

AN INTERESTING CASE.—Mr. Seward has referred to the Attorney General a new and interesting question, arising under the Emancipation amendment to the Constitution. It appears that the captain of a British vessel recently brought into the port of Key West, Florida, three black sailors, whereupon the local authorities indicted him under the State laws, which prohibit the importation or emigration of free negroes.—The captain appealed to Mr. Food, Charge d'Affaires for Great Britain, who immediately addressed a note to Secretary Seward. Pending the action of the Attorney General, proceedings have been stopped.—Exc.

These State negro laws of Florida are a bundle of rubbish now, the indictment is ludicrous, and the proceedings against the British captain will not be resumed. The Attorney's opinion will come with all due gravity, but it is of no consequence. Some way will be found to go round such a mouldy relic of slavery's rule.

☞ On Friday night, at St. Louis, Seymour Voullaire, a prominent criminal lawyer, was shot by Isaac M. Ruth, clerk in the Post-office. The affair grew out of unpleasant relations between Voullaire and his wife, resulting in a divorce last week, Ruth being her most important witness.—Yesterday Voullaire and Ruth met in the Post Office. Angry altercation followed, and Voullaire threatened to shoot Ruth the first time he should meet him on the street. Ruth accompanied the divorced wife to the theatre, and when returning home they were met by Voullaire, who fired at Ruth, missing him. Ruth returned the fire, the ball entering Voullaire's right breast and inflicting a dangerous wound. He now lies in a critical condition. Ruth gave himself up and was released on bail. The affair created a great sensation, all the parties occupying highly respectable positions in society.

☞ At Binghampton, N. Y. Saturday morning, a freight engine of the Binghampton and New York Railroad exploded, instantly killing the engineer and fireman. A large piece of the boiler, weighing 150 pounds, was hurled about twenty rods. Another piece cut a limb, three inches in diameter, from a pine tree in a lot ten rods beyond. Another piece, weighing about sixty pounds, was found forty rods distant. The explosion was heard and felt five miles from the city.

☞ The Lady's Friend for December has two fine steel engravings in addition to its fas ion novelties. $2.50 a year, with a premium engraving. Deacon & Peterson, publishers, Philadelphai.

GOOD TEMPLARS.—The Grand Lodge I. O. of G. T. of New Hampshire held its second annual session in Nashua on Wednesday and Thursday of last week. More than 76 Lodges were represented and the Order is reported to be in a prosperous condition throughout the State. Over 50 Lodges have been instituted during the year past, and the membership has increased from 4000 to over 7000 during that time. At the public meeting Wednesday evening, able remarks were made by Rev. Mr. Smith of Nashua, A. O. Dillingham of Manchester, Mr. Babcock, Agent of the State Temperance Alliance, Hon. Peter Sanborn of Concord, and others. The following officers were installed for the coming year:

G. W. C. T.—A. O. Dillingham, Manchester.
G. W. C.—Rev. E. E. Cummings, Concord.
G. W. V. T.—Mrs. J. D. Scott, Newmarket.
G. W. S.—J. L. Odell, Lake Village.
G. W. T.—W. S. Taylor, Lake Village.
G. W. C.—Rev. E. R. Wilkins, Nashua.
G. W. M.—Mrs. E. E. Farr, Littleton.
G. W. D. M.—Mary E. Greenwood, Nashua.
G. W. I. G.—Rebecca C. Randall, Conway.
G. W. O. G.—Eugene Strong, Portsmouth.
G. W. A. S.—Emma P. Whittier, Lake Village.

A. O. Dillingham, Manchester, and Dr. Edward Aiken, Amherst, were elected Representatives to the R. W. Grand Lodge of the United States. The semi-annual meeting of the Lodge will be holden at Portsmouth, May, 1868.

☞ Eliot Academy gave an exhibition on Thursday evening, Oct. 31, in the Congregational Church. The occasion was one of unusual interest; more so than any since Mr. Israel Kimball was principal.—The church was well filled, the speaking good. The exercises were appropriately closed with the presentation by the pupils, of a gold chain, to Mr. Albert B. Putney, the able and deservedly popular principal, who, to the regret of the whole community, closed his connection with the school with the present term. He found the school in a languishing condition, and leaves it highly flourishing; his first term numbering but thirty pupils, his last over one hundred, and this was done in five terms.

☞ At Roxbury, Mass, on Sunday morning, about 5 o'clock, a fire broke out and destroyed the well known manufactory of phosphate of lime and bone manure, located near Pine Island, together with nearly all its contents. The fire originated near the engine. Two men were at work at the time, and as soon as the fire was discovered were quick to give the alarm. The factory occupied a space of about two acres. The loss is estimated at about $65,000. The splendid engine of 25 horse power, with all the machinery, was destroyed. Total loss $100,000 to $125,000; about $30,000 insurance.

☞ The State Department has received from the U. S. Vice Commercial Agent at Matamoras an account, dated Oct. 12, of the effect of the tornado on the 7th and 8th. The amount of losses in Matamoras cannot yet be computed. $500,000 would be a low estimate. At least 600 houses have been destroyed, including many valuable warehouses containing large stocks of goods. So far as heard from all the Ranches are thrown down for thirty miles around Matamoras. At the mouth of the river the destruction was great. Scarcely a house is left standing. All the river steamers were wrecked or disabled, except Tamaulipo No. 2. The number of casualities is not large—probably 20 killed and 40 or 50 more or less injured.

☞ At Washington, on Friday, a communication appeared in one of the city papers, arguing the meeting of the Fortieth Congress prior to the first Monday in December is unconstitutional. Being signed "H. S.," the communication was without other evidence than the initials attributed to Henry Stanbery, Attorney General, and so published in newspapers in Washington and elsewhere. In a letter, Mr. Stanberry says he is not the author of the communication in question, nor did he ever see it until he read it in print. So it appears from this that the copper-johnson rascals of the Washington press belie not only their opponents but their own partizans.

ANOTHER FAILURE BY WESTON.—A dispatch from Conneaut, Ohio, says Weston abandoned his third trial of the 100 mile feat at 12 minutes past 8 Saturday night, after going 90 miles and having 2 hours and 38 minutes in which to make the 10 miles. Cause, soreness and swelling of feet. He remained at Conneaut over Sunday.

☞ At St. Louis, Nov. 15, two men died of trichinæ at the City Hospital. A post mortem examination was made, and at a meeting of the Medical Society muscles of the deceased were shown, which contained a great number of viscera. One of the deceased had been treated for consumption and the other for typhoid fever.

☞ They do things in a droll way in Mexico. All the members of the court martial which tried Santa Anna, with the exception of the prosecutor, have been sentenced to six months' imprisonment for the mildness of their verdict, and have been already incarcerated in the Fortress of San Juan de Ulloa.

COLD WEATHER AND SNOW.—Sunday and Monday here were cold, windy days. The hills to the north are capped with snow. A Bangor item of Sunday says: "sleighs have appeared in our streets and exceeding cold weather for the season prevails. There is every indication to-night that navigation will close immediately, although many are hopeful that we shall have two or three weeks of moderate weather, and an open river to compensate for the cold snap we are now experiencing. The harbor is full of vessels. Many cargoes of goods are on the way to this port, and the closing of the river will be attended with great loss and inconvenience, especially to lumbermen, who are entirely unprepared for cold weather. The docks are full of lumber and many vessels are now loading."

☞ On Thursday last three persons were dangerously, if not fatally injured, at Westminster, Carroll County, Md., by the bursting of a cannon, while firing a salute in honor of the recent Democratic victories. One man had his leg torn off, and another had his side penetrated by a large fragment of the gun.

The Democratic majority in New York rests at about 49,000. The Senate appears to stand 17 straight Republicans, 14 Democrats and 1 Independent.

OIL TRAIN BURNT.—On Sunday morning about one o'clock, near the Calsicom Station on the Erie Railroad, an oil train bound east was run into by a freight train as it was being run upon a siding, to allow the freight train to pass. The locomotive of the freight train was disabled and some oil cars demolish ed.—The oil took fire and destroyed twenty-one cars and the locomotive. The accident occurred on a down grade, and it was impossible to remove any of the cars that were behind the fire. No one was injured. Loss very heavy.

KANSAS.—Eighty-three Representative districts elect twenty-two Democrats, and the remainder are Republicans and Independents. Forty counties give the following result: For negro suffrage 7591, against 16,114; for female suffrage 6670, against 16,863; for disfranchising disloyalists 11,390, against 10,368.

KEROSENE EXPLOSION.—At St. Paul, Minnesota, the explosion of a kerosene lamp at a party given by Gen. Sibley, on Thursday night, resulted in the death of a servant girl, named Maggie Murphy, and serious injury to Miss Gussel Sibley, who will lose the use of one arm. Other persons were burned, but not seriously.

BALLOU'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE.—This very popular and exceedingly cheap Magazine presents an attractive table of contents for December. Among the articles is an illustrated poem by B. P. Shillaber, one of Portsmouth's worthiest sons. The illustrations are also good. Published by Elliott, Thomes & Talbot, Boston, Mass.

BURGLARY IN PORTLAND.—The house of Henry K. White, on Congress street above India, was, as he reports, robbed by burglars, Saturday evening between 8 and 9 o'clock, of $1800 in gold, $800 in silver, $300 in greenbacks, and other articles.

—In reply to a paper which called Gen. Sherman "the coming man," a Georgia journal pettishly says it hopes he is not coming that way again.

—Thackeray speaks of a place in Ireland, where the sense of elegance was so keen that the servants brought up the coals for the parlor grate on a clean plate.

— G. Augustus Sala says an American who can only speak English will make his way on the Continent better than an Englishman who speaks half a dozen languages.

—The brig L. Wadsworth of Portland, loaded with guano from Novassa and bound for Baltimore, was blown ashore at Santiago in a leaky condition, having been abandoned by her crew four days before.

THE WASHINGTON LIBRARY COMPANY of Philadelphia is established in the confidence and affections of the people. The reason is obvious. The design is worthy and creditable to the patriotic hearts who are laboring to benefit a too much neglected class. The funds go into responsible hands, and the public have no fears that they will be mis-directed. The plan adopted satisfies the scruples of the most conscientious, and has the endorsement of eminent legal authority. It is by its distinctive features entirely removed from the taint of eatchpenny schemes which have so often been the means of imposing on the public. It gives to purchasers of its stock a full equivalent for the consideration paid, besides equal and impartial participation in a great distribution of presents, worth in the aggregate $300,000,—All its transactions are open and above board. It has no concealments, and the reputation of the managers is such that they cannot afford to be dishonest in this transaction. Read advertisement.

DEPRAVITY.—It is contended by some religious creeds that the human heart is totally depraved, and when we notice the influence which avarice wields over it, we do not wonder at the doctrine. It is now the universal order of the day to adulterate nearly every article of living which is susceptible of such fraud. The article of Saleratus stands foremost in the list. Herrick Allen's Gold Medal is strictly pure and healthy. A fair trial will insure its use. 6 ☞ Good Wine makes good blood. See advertisement of Speer's Wines in another column,—the best for Table, Family and Medicinal Use.

NINE POINTS OF THE LAW.—Possession is said to be "nine points of the law": but the cook who has possession of a package of Pyle's Saleratus has the whole law of bread, biscuit and cake making in her own hands. Be sure that you get the right kind. Sold by grocers everywhere, in pound packages. 2S

☞ On Sunday noon, at Buffalo, the propeller Antelope, with a cargo of 1700 bushels of wheat and 600 barrels of flour, caught fire and burned to the water's edge. The vessel was valued at $50,000, on which there is an insurance of $44,000. The cargo was valued at $100,000 and insured at $50,000. The fire is supposed to have originated near the boilers. Part of the cargo had been discharged.

— Among the foreign passengers who arrived home in the Java, were William Lloyd Garrison, Rev. Dr. S. K. Lothrop, and Mrs. Charles Sumner.

The articles upon public questions which appear in Harper's Weekly from week to week form a remarkable series of political essays. They are studied attentively by clear and pointed statement, by good common sense, by independence and breadth of view, and by the expression of mature conviction, high principle and strong feeling and take their place among the best newspaper writing of the time.—North American Review.

NOT GOLD ONLY,
BUT
RICH, FRUITY, LUSCIOUS
WINES!
California is making grand strides in her agricultural products, and is fast withdrawing herself as a purchaser for the manufactures of the various branches of industry she once demanded. She sends a warning voice to the time-worn vineyards of Europe, and enters the lists as a fresh, young competitor for the production of wines from her own rich and increasing vineyards.—The time has come when it is simply ridiculous for any one to claim to possess especial advantages or peculiar privileges for the sale of
THE WINES OF CALIFORNIA.
As well might they claim a monopoly of the cotton trade.
C. A. RICHARDS & CO.
do not receive or sell all the wines which California produces, but they do claim to have at all times a very large quantity on hand of all the best kinds, and their advantages for getting the best, and getting them at the lowest market value, are such as to enable them to offer them at prices which to-day are lower than any other house which sells California Wines of equality. We bottle five kinds. They are,—
"Angelica,"
"Muscatel,"
"Still Champagne,"
"Hock" and
"Port,"
Also "California Brandy."
They are all perfectly pure, and may be relied upon in sickness or in health. The Angelica and Muscatel are rich, sweet wines. The Hock is fully equal to the medium grades of Rhine wines. The Port is actually better than many of the high cost Ports from Oporto. We sell these wines in any required quantity, from a single bottle to a THOUSAND CASES, and are ready at all times to exhibit samples, or to send them to any address.

THE REALLY GREAT PLASTER,

Have the compactness of kid, and the flexibility of a silk glove.
DR. I. T. HENDERSON'S LETTER.
FARNVILLE, Louisiana, March 8, 1850.
DR. T. ALLCOCK, Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the liver, and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. D.'s; but truth prompts me to say that your Plasters have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a permanent cure.
The counter-irritant effect of your Plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they do not aggravate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours very truly,

AMERICAN
WALTHAM
WATCHES.
The true value of Machinery applied to Watchmaking is not that by its use watches are rapidly made, but that they are made correctly. Very few people know why a Waltham watch should be superior to any other. In the first place, at Waltham the Watch is regarded as only a machine, and is constructed on other machine, on mechanical principles. If the watches are good, it is because the machinery is good. Of course the machinery must be so defined or plan of the movements—no mistake in the sizes or shapes of the pieces of which it is composed—nothing wanting in their properties, and no error in their positions. These points once thoroughly settled, it rests wholly with the machinery, constantly turning out unlimited diversity of form and function expressly for the purpose, the most perfect finished pieces. By means of multiplying gages and microscopes, tests and inspection for the detection of wear in the tools used, and for faults and flaws in steel or stone, are made to accompany the work in every stage from beginning to end, so as to succeed in putting the screw to gether a perfect machine. Every part is formed to fit properly in its place. Every pin may be pushed till it pinches, and every screw turned home. Instead of a sluggish and feeble action, the balance, even under the pressure of the lightest mainspring, has the full and free vibration. and the beat has the clear, ringing sound always characteristic of the Waltham Watch. The machine is a timekeeper from the start.
This system of watchmaking is unknown in foreign countries, and is entirely original with the Waltham Company. The Company claim that if they produce watches that cannot be equalled for every quality which makes a watch valuable. Simple in plan and correct in principle, the movement is not only beautifully finished, substantial, accurate and cheap, but is uniform in the minutest details, not easily damaged, and when repaired always as good as new. There are different grades of finish in the different varieties of watches made by the Waltham Company, as there are different sizes and shapes to suit all tastes and means; but every watch that bears the genuine trade-mark of "WALTHAM" is guaranteed to be a good one, and nobody need be afraid to buy it.
Every Watch fully Warranted.
For Sale by all First-Class Dealers in the United States and British Provinces.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!
THE REMEDY FOR CURING

Consumption, Asthma, Croup, Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppressions of the Chest or Lungs, Difficult Breathing, and all Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

Its action is expectorant, alterative sudorific, sedative, diaphoretic and diuretic, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites copious expectoration, and purifies the blood, and throws off the phlegm; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS and PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives tone to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action and imparts strength to the whole system. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction, even in the most advanced cases of consumption, and not to produce costiveness (as do most remedies) or effect the head, as it contains no opium in any form. As a PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system, there is no remedy for so many deaths by consumption, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

CHILDREN'S LIVES SAVED For 50 CENTS. Thousands of Children die annually of Croup.—Now, mothers, if you would spend 50 cents, and always have a bottle of Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment in the house, you never need fear loosing your little ones when attacked with this complaint. It is four years since I have put up my Liniment, and never heard of a child dying of Croup when my Liniment was used; but hundreds of cases of croup have been reported to me, and many state it it was $10 per bottle they would not be without it. Besides which, it is a certain cure for Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Swellings, Throat, Swellings, Mumps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Spasms, Old Sores, and Pains in the Back and Chest. No one once tries it but will be with it. It is without perfectly safe to take internally. Full directions with every bottle.—Sold by the Druggists. Depot 56 Cortlandt street, N. Y. s8dwlm

DR. SCHENCK ON DYSPEPSIA.—SYMPTOMS, CAUSES AND REMEDY.

Symptoms of Dyspepsia.—A sense of fullness, tightness, and weight in the stomach, together with the most acidity, sour, offensive belching of wind, water-brash and vomiting, and a great deal of what a person calls an ill-gone feeling at the pit of the stomach; frequently there is a palpitation of the heart, which physicians mistake for heart disease, and when the stomach is in this condition it is coated with a tough mucus or slime. The real fibrous portions of the stomach, similar to what we see in tripe, is what throws out the gastric juice, and when the stomach gets a thick coat of slime on it it prevents the gastric juice from flowing, and digestion ceases. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic dissolves this mucus or slime, and restores the stomach to its natural condition.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills are also required to carry off this morbid matter. Two-thirds of the cases of Consumption are caused from this diseased state of the stomach; the liver becoming torpid, it causes so much bile on the stomach, that time the whole system is deranged. The mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes sympathizes with the diseased organs, and before the patient is aware of it, he or she has Bronchial or Pulmonary Consumption.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup cannot act freely through the blood when the system is in this locked up condition, without the aid of the Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills. The Liver has all the work to do in this train, and when it gets in a morbid condition, blood and bile run through the system mixed, and the whole body becomes so low, and the blood so thick it can hardly run through the veins. In a majority of cases hemorrhages occur from this thick condition of the blood. The Mandrake Pills act on the Liver similar to calomel, or they do what that does—it unlocks the gall bladders, starts the bile, and the food begins to digest as nature intended through the veins, and the hemorrhages cease. If, when persons are attacked with hemorrhage, they would take a few Mandrake Pills every night, that would act on the liver, they would soon be relieved from bleeding from the lungs, and it is the only way. Cough mixtures are only temporary, and irritate the bronchial tubes, and lay the groundwork for consumption.

DR. SCHENCK will be professionally at his rooms every week, 32 Bond street, New York, and 35 Hanover street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Resprometer, the charge is $5.

His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers. And will supply at all times at his rooms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7 00 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

Local.

☞ Monday was the coldest day of the season—and cold enough for any season.—The mercury was only down to 15°, but the wind was keen, clear and searching.

☞ We are indebted to Mr. Albert Emery, first officer of bark Niobe, for late New Orleans papers. His many friends in this city will be pleased to learn that he has recovered from an attack of the yellow fever by which he has been prostrated since his arrival in the Crescent City.

☞ Philharmonic rehearsal this week Wednesday evening at half-past 7. The Cantata of the Haymakers, which is in rehearsal, is very popular with the Society, and will be with the public when presented to them by and by.

☞ The Supreme Judicial Court, Judge Doe presiding, entered upon the fifth week of the present term on Monday.

☞ The members of Sagamore S. F. Engine Co. are to have their eighth annual Ball, at Congress Hall, on Thanksgiving Eve, 27th inst.

QUICK WALKING.—A gentleman of our acquaintance, a chronic gymnast, on Thursday evening last, feeling in the humor, and the weather and roads being favorable, undertook to time himself, and fairly walked, heel and toe, from the second mile-stone on the Middle road, at the Plains, to the first mile-stone near the Pound, (a somewhat hilly and on the average, slightly descending road,) without especial training, and merely on his habits, one mile in 7 minutes and 40 seconds,—a rate of little more than 8 1-10 miles an hour.—Journal.

☞ Mr. Wendell's large Auction sale of good Furniture, &c., postponed by the storm of Saturday, stands now adjourned to Wednesday.

—We stated that at the fire last week of the barn of Mr. A. K. Warren, he lost five acres of rye, the result of eight bushels sowed. There was also consumed four acres of corn stalks and butts; his farm tools and a good winnowing mill, a quantity of good shingles, and other articles.—The barn with contents was worth about $1000—insured for $500. The barn was closed at 4 o'clock that afternoon. Evidently the fire was the work of an incendiarv. Journal.

A PORTRAIT OF GOV. BARTLETT, recently placed in the Executive Chamber at Concord, is full size, copied very skilfully from a fine life size picture by Trumbull, by a lady of Greenland. The original painting is in possession of the Bartlett family in Stratham, and those who have examined both pronounce the copy very accurate.

☞ The Federal dead at Tyler, Lavacca and Hempstead, Texas, are to be removed to the military cemetary at Galveston.—Portsmouth claims at least one of the dead at the first named place, among her "Sons."

POLICE COURT, Nov. 18.—An elderly man charged with rudely insulting a woman upon the street, was fined $3 and $5.81 costs, against which judgment he has entered an appeal, stoutly maintaining his innocence of the offence.

☞ A Washington item of Nov. 17, says an earnest effort will be made at an early day to secure the repeal of the cotton tax. Some Southern lobbyists hope also to secure the repayment of this year's tax, one-half of which they expect to pocket as their fee.

☞ A London dispatch of last Sunday says the British government has received from the West Indies no official advices of the submersion of the Island of Tortola, as reported there by a cable dispatch from New York.

☞ On Saturday morning, the freight train on the Ogdensburg and Lake Champlain Railroad ran off the track near Patterson, precipitating the engine and cars down an embankment, and killing a brakeman.

☞ A statue of Edward Everett was placed on its pedestal in the Public Garden, Boston, early Monday morning. This statue with a marble bust and a portrait of Mr. Everett, were all purchased by a subscription of about $33,000.

☞ St. Domingo City is reported to be destroyed by earthquake; and a rebellion is reported in Hayti; also the fear of a negro revolt in Jamaica.

☞ At Louisiana, Mo., Friday night, two blocks of stores were burnt. Loss $210,000. Insurance $60,000.

—Some children set fire to a pile of leaves eight miles west of Chicago the other day, and the flames spread over a very large tract of country several miles in extent, taking in its course some three hundred tons of hay in stacks. All the towns in the neighborhood of Chicago were illuminated all night.

—The conference proposed by the Emperor Napoleon for the settlement of the Roman question, seems to be attended with difficulties. The Pope objects to any conference in his behalf, and the several Powers which have been invited to participate, are divided on the question of necessity for a conference. It is asserted that Spain is the only nation that supports the Imperial power of the Pope in any event.

GOLD, Monday, 140 1-2.

—The Indiana State Fair left over $100,000 in Terre Haute.

—The Cambridge Divinity School has 23 members, a larger number than for many years.

—At the International Hotel, St. Paul's, a couple recently got married because they could not be accommodated with seearate rooms.

—They are having a nice floral display at the Fair Grounds in New Orleans. Of Japonicas alone there are fifty-three of the choicest varieties.

—Henry Ward Beecher's "Norwood" ends happily in last week's New York Ledger, and Sylvanus Cobb, Jr., begins a new story called "The Foundling of Milan, a Romance of the days of the Guelphs and Ghibellines." That title has the old smack of Ledger romance. And what other paper but Bonner's can present in one number such a trio of contributors as Beecher, Greeley and Parton—not to mention Saxe and the rest.

500 MILES
OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD.

Running West from Omaha
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
ARE NOW COMPLETED.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company have built a longer line of railroad in the last eighteen months than was ever built by any other company in the same time, and they will continue the work with the same energy until it is completed. The Western Division is being pushed rapidly eastward from Sacramento by the Central Pacific Company of California, and it is expected that

THE ENTIRE LINE

to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.—More than one-third of the work has already been done, more than one-third of the whole line is now in running order, and more laborers are now employed upon it than ever before. More than

Forty Million Dollars in Money

have already been expended by the two powerful companies that have undertaken the enterprise, and there is no lack of funds for the most vigorous prosecution. When the United States Government found it necessary to secure the construction of the Union Pacific railroad to develop and protect its own interest, it gave the companies authorized to build it such ample aid as should render its speedy completion beyond a doubt.—The available means of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, derived from the Government and its own stockholders, may be briefly summed up as follows:

1.—UNITED STATES BONDS

Having thirty years to run and being six per cent. currency interest at the rate of $16,000 per mile for 247 miles on the Plains; then at the rate of $48,000 per mile for 150 miles through the Rocky Mountains; then at the rate of $32,000 per mile for the remaining distance, or when the Pacific United States takes a second lien as security. The interest on these bonds is paid by the United States government, which also pays the company one half the amount of its bills in money for transporting its freight, troops, mails, &c. The remaining half of these bills is placed to the company's credit, and to me a sinking fund which may finally discharge the whole amount of this lien. The claims against the government since April of the current year amount to four and one-half times this interest.

2.—FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS.

By its charter the Company is permitted to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to the same amount as the bonds issued by the Government, and no more, and only as the road progresses. The interest for the bondholders and the Hon. E. D. Morgan, U. S. Senator from New York, and the Hon. Oakes Ames, Member of U. S. House of Representatives, who are responsible for the delivery of these bonds to the Company in accordance with the terms of the law.

3.—THE LAND GRANT.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company has a land grant or absolute donation from government of 12,800 acres to the mile on the line of the road, which will not be worth less than $1.50 at the lowest valuation.

4.—THE CAPITAL STOCK.

The authorized capital of the Union Pacific Railroad Company is $100,000,000, of which over $6,000,000 have been paid on the work already done.

The Means Sufficient to Build the Road.

Contracts for the entire work of building 914 miles of first-class railroad west from Omaha, comprising much of the most difficult mountain work, and embracing every variety of surveying, have been made with responsible parties (who have already finished over 600 miles), at the average rate of sixty-eight thousand dollars (68,000) per mile. This price includes all necessary shops for construction and repairs of cars, depots, stations and all other incidental buildings, and also locomotives, passenger, baggage and freight cars and other requisite rolling stock, to an amount that shall not be less than $20,000 per mile. And the cost of the remaining one hundred and eighty-six of the eleven hundred miles assumed to be built by the Pacific Company to be $80,000 per mile.

THE TOTAL COST OF ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES WILL BE AS FOLLOWS:

914 miles, at $68,000 ..... $62,235,000
186 miles, 80,000 16,740,000
Add discounts on bonds, surveys, &c. 4,500,000

Amount $82,445,012

As the U. S. Bonds are equal to money, and the Company's own First Mortgage Bonds have a ready market, we have as the

AVAILABLE ASSETS AND RESOURCES FOR BUILDING ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES:

U. S. Bonds ..... $ 27,828,000
First Mortgage Bonds 29,828,000
Capital stock paid in on the work now done 6,369,750
Land Grant, 14,080,000 acres, at 1.00 per acre 21,120,000

Total $85,145,750

The Company have ample facilities for supplying any deficiency that may arise in means for construction. This may be done wholly or in part by additional subscriptions to the capital stock.

Active inquiry has already been made for a portion of these lands, and arrangements are now proposed for the sale of a part of them. At what their whole value will not be available for some years to come, they will remain a very important source of revenue to the Company. The lands of the Illinois Central Railroad Company are selling at from $6 to $12 per acre, and other land grant companies in the West are receiving equal prices for similar properties.

Future Business.

The most skeptical have never expressed a doubt that when the Union Pacific Railroad is finished the immense business that must pass over it, as the only railroad connecting the two grand divisions of the North American continent will be one of the wonders of the world's transportation; and as it will have no competitor, it can always charge remunerative rates. The Pacific Mail Steamship Company of New York is now running a regular line of its splendid at ramers between San Francisco and China and Japan, which is doubtless the pioneer of many lines that will traverse the Pacific Ocean laden with the teas, spices and other products of Eastern Asia. Excepting some very heavy articles, the cost of transportation, low values, shortness of time decides the direction of freights, and most of these cargoes will find their natural transit over the Union Pacific Railroad.

It is quite within bounds to say that its traffic will be limited only by the capacity of the line, and that no other road will find a double track necessary. California and Oregon must not only be supplied with means of transport for passengers, their treasure and their products, but the inhabitants of Dacotah, Colorado, Utah, Idaho and Montana will communicate with the older States almost entirely by this route. The great avenue to all the great mining district, which is only awaiting this ready means of communication to develop a population that will give employment and other resources, and which of itself would furnish ample business for a railway line.

Earnings from Way Business.

While the through business of the Company will be amply remunerative, it is still in the future, but the local business on the part of the road in operation has been quite satisfactory.

During the quarter ending July 31, an average of 325 miles of the Union Pacific Railroad was in operation. The Superintendent's Report shows the following results:

EARNINGS.

Passengers, Freight, Telegraph, Mails, $723,755 54
Transportation of Contractors' Material and men 479,283 41

Total $1,203,038 95

EXPENSES.

Fuel, Repairs, Offices, Conductors, Trains, &c $395,530 92
Net Earnings to balance 807,508 03

Total $1,203,038 95

The net operating expenses of the commercial business for the quarter were $227,966 50. The account for the COMMERCIAL BUSINESS stands as follows:

Earnings for May, June and July $733,755 54
Expenses " " " 237,966 50

Net Profit $485,789 04

The amount of bonds the company can issue on 235 miles at $16,000 per mile is $3,760,000. Interest is gold, three months per cent. on this sum is $75,000; add 40 per cent premium, to correspond with currency earnings, is $100,200—showing that the net earnings for this quarter are more than four times the interest on the First Mortgage Bonds on this length of road.

First Mortgage Bonds,

whose principal is so amply provided for, and whose interest is so thoroughly secured, must be classed among the safest investments. They pay

Six Per Cent in Gold,

and are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, and accrued interest at six Per Cent in currency from July 1.

Many parties are taking advantage of the present high price of Government stocks to exchange for these bonds, which are over FIFTEEN PER CENT. CHEAPER, and at the current rate of premium on gold, pay

Over Nine Per Cent. Interest.

SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received in Portsmouth by FIRST NATIONAL BANK, and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau street, and by

CONTINENTAL NAT. BANK No. 7 Nassau St.
CLARK, DODGE & CO., Bankers, 51 Wall St.
JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, 33 Wall St.

And by the Company's advertised Agents throughout the United States, of whom maps and descriptive pamphlets may be obtained on application. Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. n8—3m

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS.

THE

CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,

THE WESTERN HALF OF THE

GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE

ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

being contemplated with the AID and SUPERVISION OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD, as it is the sole link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense Overland travel must pass, and the Principal Portion of the Main Steam Line between the Two Oceans.

Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Pacific, eastward through the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, contiguous to all the great Mining Regions of the Far West, and will ultimately connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. About 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running order to the base of the mail of the Sierra Nevadas. Within a few days 35 miles, now graded, will be added, and the track carried entirely across the mountains to a point in the Great Salt Lake Valley, whence further progress will be easy and rapid. Iron, materials and equipment are ready at hand for 300 miles in addition, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction

The local business upon the completed portion surpasses all previous estimates, and for the quarter ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS.	OPERATING EXPENSES.	NET EARNINGS.
$187,519 61	$86,548 47	$101,031 17

or at the rate of two millions per annum, of which more than three-fourths are net profit on less than 100 miles worked. This is upon the actual, legitimate traffic of the road, with its terminus in the mountains, and with only the normal ratio of government transportation, and is exclusive of the materials carried for the further extension of the road.

The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $125,000.

Add to this an ever-expanding through traffic and the proportions of the future business become immense.

The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain ranges.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between the San Francisco and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the Company will have completed by the completion of 865 miles $28,592,000, or at the average rate of $35,000 per mile—not including the subsidy bonds—and will have received of the Public Lands. By becoming a joint investor in the magnificent enterprise, and by waiving its first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bondholders, the GREAT GOVERNMENT, IN EFFECT, INVITES THE CO-OPERATION OF PRIVATE CAPITALISTS, and has carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

The Company offer for sale, through us, their

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds,

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York city. They are in sums of $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are sold for the present at 95 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st added in currency, at which rate they yield nearly

Nine per Cent. upon the Investment.

These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as the Bonds granted by the Government, and are secured by a first mortgage lien upon a completed, equipped and productive railroad, in which have been invested Government bonds, stock subscriptions, donations, surplus earnings, etc., and which is worth more than three times the amount of First Mortgage Bonds which it has received upon it.

The Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds have all the assurances, sanctions and guaranties of a Special and Individual Act of Congress, and have in addition several noticable advantages over all other classes of railroad bonds.

First—They are the superior claim upon altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the through line.

Second—Beside the fullest benefit of the Government bonds, (which is to subordinate them to the road receives the benefit of large donations from California.

Third—Fully half the whole cost of grading 800 miles in advance of the San Francisco is concentrated upon the 150 miles now about completed.

Fourth—A local business already yielding threefold the annual interest liabilities, with advantageous rates payable in coin.

Fifth—The principal as well as the interest of its Bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds to Trustees, Executors, Institutions and others as an eminently sound, reliable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

A FASHIONABLE REFORM.

Now Reason in a measure reigns
O'er female dress; some girls with feet
And ankles gifted, and with brains,
Wear skirts that do not sweep the street.

The wearer thus her brains doth show,
Exhibits feet and ankles too;
Without her dress held up as though
On purpose to afford the view.

Now you can see a form of grace,
Whose outlines were before concealed;
Draped simply, and, besides the face,
With judgment other charms revealed.

Old times return; emotions old
Back with sweet recollections bring;
The dull blood feels, in winter's cold,
As though revisited by spring.

Our very youth, serene through smoke
And self-sufficient as are they,
With some sensation may be woke
By damsels clad in neat array.

Ye fair ones, blest with minds and souls,
Effect just one amendment more;
Discard those chignons from your polls,
And you'll be objects to adore! —Punch.

☞ The Haverhill, (Mass.) Musical Union gave their first concert of the season last week, assisted by Mrs. Jennie Kempton, Miss A. M. Faunce, and Mr. H. C. Barnabee. Their programme included "Crowned with the Tempest" and "The Heavens are Telling," &c. The Gazette says, "Mrs. Kempton rather disappointed the audience, not but that she sang very well, despite a little huskiness of voice, a probable result of the weather, but too much was expected of her, which is a very unfortunate position for one to occupy.—Miss Faunce has a charming sweet voice, and pleased the audience very much. Mr. Barnabee is, was and will be a very welcome assistant and a great favorite. He can hardly be spared. In humorisms he is capital, and in sacred and sentimental music he is winning a high position."

— Henry Ward Beecher says: "I have given thousands of dollars to people in distress, with the understanding that it was to be paid back, but I never received but three dollars back, and that was from a black woman."

— The granite found at Sauk Rapids, in Minnesota, has been tested by the government geologist at Washington, and pronounced to be equal, if not superior, to any in the United States, and fully equal to Russian granite, known as the finest building material in Europe.

— Alexander H. Stephens, Vice President of the defunct Confederacy, in response to a request signed by Mr. Peter Cooper and a number of eminent citizens of New York city, will deliver a lecture in that city early in December, on the present condition of the South and its social and political prospects.

THE RICHEST MAN IN THE WORLD.

Extract of a Letter from Baron Solomon Rothschild, PARIS, 8th April, 1864, 26 Rue Fauby St. Honore.

Will you be kind enough to have forwarded to me 200 bottles of your Indian Liniment; I think you will send at the same time your account, I will forward you the amount through Messrs. LAMONT & Co., New York.

Baron Solomon Rothschild having recommended to many of his friends Major LANE'S LINIMENT, and they being desirous to procure it, he should advise him to establish a depot in Paris.

THE INDIAN LINIMENT,

As a relief, ever ready; as a killer of pain, taken inwardly, or outwardly applied, has no equal.—For the relief and cure of Rheumatic and Neuralgic Affections Sprains, Bruises, &c., it is unequalled. It is also most efficatious taken inwardly, in the cure of Cholera, Cramps and Pains in the Stomach, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, &c., and is without exception the Most Wonderful Panacea the world affords. No FAMILY should be without it. Every TRAVELER by land or sea should have a bottle. MINERS and FARMERS residing at a distance from Physicians should keep it constantly on hand. In cases of accidents and sudden attacks of Stomach Complaints, its value cannot be estimated. Inquire for MAJOR LANE'S INDIAN LINIMENT, and take no other. Price 50 Cents per bottle. For sale at wholesale and retail by Demas Barnes & Co., 21 Park Row, N. Y.; Sale & Robinson, 186 Greenwich street, N. Y.; F. C. Wells & Co., 192 Fulton street, N. Y.; Chas. N. Rev. R. P. Ambler of this city is to preach at the Union Meeting House in Fremont on Sunday, Dec. 1.

Early Tuesday morning, at Upper Gilmanton, a fire broke out in the stable of the El Dorado Hotel, and destroyed the stable, the hotel, and the meeting house of the Christian society. Also the stock of A. C. Sanborn's grocery, under the hotel, a good horse belonging to the same owner, and a horse valued at $1000, belonging to Chas. S. Harper of Concord. Whole loss about $8000.

Among the patents recently issued to New Hampshire men are the following to gentlemen residing in Nashua: An improvement in Railroad cars, by which those used in carrying cattle are so constructed as to afford the poor crowded animals the comfort of food and water while on their way; the invention of Mr. J. H. Aldrich. An ingenious device for scouring marble, insuring important advantages in the tedious working of grave stones, &c., and a very ingeniously contrived combination bench for the shaping of marble; both invented by Mr. Wm. Weaver.

Lake Winnipiseogee was rougher on Wednesday, Nov. 13, than it has been for many years. The storm was so furious that Capt. Wiggin of the Chocorua did not deem it safe to run the steamer on her customary trip.—There was an insurance of $12,000 on the steamer Lady of the Lake, destroyed by fire at Wolfeborough on Thursday morning.

— A good painting is a perpetual joy in a house; but it mustn't be a woman's face.

— The Mormon Church has property worth $2,000,000.

— The house in which Gen. Zachary Taylor was born, near Orange Court-House, Virginia, is now used as a barn.

— He don't like them.—A correspondent of the Boston Gazette says: "I confess these French funerals especially please me."

— Wm. A. Darling, the Republican candidate for Mayor of New York city, is a well known business man of high character who was chosen a member of Congress in 1854 over Fernado Wood.

— The Manchester American says that a gentleman engaged in trade in that city came into the printing office and ordered the printing of labels for his boxes and drawers. Among others was one marked "H. Pepper." Said the printer, "what is this for?" "Whole Pepper," said the trader, "any boy who has been to school ought to know that."

THE NEW-HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE.
is the oldest paper in the country; and with the enlargement last week, is now the largest in the State—and the cheapest, at $2 per year, six copies for $10. It is now printed in quarto form, and containing 48 columns, and is ready for delivery at the Office of the Daily Chronicle, at six cents per copy. New subscribers for 1868 will receive the paper until Jan. 1st free of charge. The Gazette contains all Local items from the Daily Chronicle, and will be found especially interesting to natives of Portsmouth abroad. Copies in wrappers for mailing may always be had at the office.

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified enconiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.
The following names from its large list of purchasers are given for reference:

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1867

WHAT KIND OF MEN ARE THEY?—The Haverhill (Mass.) Gazette says:

The Prohibitionists, as a rule, take their defeat most gracefully.

That is exactly what we should expect. The Prohibitionists are sober men, most of them drinking neither distilled nor fermented liquors. As a matter of course, when an election goes in their favor, they do not make night hideous with yells and shouts; and when defeated, as recently they have been in Massachusetts, by being outvoted, they don't break the neighbors' windows, nor their heads, nor burn their barns,—as some opponents of prohibition have sometimes done, having heated their blood and crazed their brains by intoxicating drinks.

No: the prohibitionists, being generally teetotallers, are so thoroughly satisfied with their own comfort and safety, ensured by thorough temperance; and their heads are so cool, from the same cause, that they only pity the mass of dupes who rush on to their own destruction. As to themselves, prohibitionists generally have nothing to lose by defeat, or to gain by victory; in the words of the Haverhill paper, "they take their defeat most gracefully."

This is high praise, coming as it does, from a source not partial towards those who are praised, for the same paper says:

It the Prohibitionists had not pressed the people and law to such unreasonable extremes, and left off some of the impracticabilities, more good would have been done, and the law remained on the statute books; but the constabulary, cider, ale and medicinal features were too much for it. It is not impossible that the new Legislature will do nothing more than abolish the constabulary and modify the present law. The "overwhelming majorities" of the people certainly do not expect any extremes, nor do we believe the Legislature so unwise as to attempt them.

About this latter clause there may be some doubt; and in regard to the former part, the New Hampshire Law has none of the features there objected to,—yet there has been the same kind of grumbling, though cider is here a lawful drink, and though there is no constabulary. In New York, the law is a License law,—yet it was grumbled at and opposed as fiercely as if it had been ultra prohibitory and oppressive.

The disorderly part of community do not take defeats gracefully; but fight for their jags with maniac fury and murderous madness,—and when defeated are filled with rage and wrath. At this no one need to be surprised; it is the natural effect of their way of living. No one should expect to see them graceful, either in defeat or in victory. That kind of grace belongs to the sober and temperate. U. T.

A MORBID VIEW OF MORNING.—Charles Lamb spoke with an intuitive, not educated or intelligent sense of the truth, when he spoke of sunrise as an indifferent affair, in which "there be gay colors and such like gauds," only half compensating for the loss of morning naps and the sweet languor of the last moments of our sleep.—Poets speak ignorantly when they talk of the "roseate morn." It is not rosy. We have watched it everywhere, on tropical seas, on far-off western plains, and here in our own hillside country. And everywhere it comes on with a ghostly gray of color, a slow chill in the air, a sad reluctance in the east, that is only sorrowful, suggestive of nothing that is gay and hopeful. It has its beauties, but not its glories.—Ex.

We don't know what stupid sluggard wrote the portion of the above which Charles Lamb didn't; but neither of them knew much about morning. We are not going to say one word in favor of early rising—though almost all animals except man and the cat and owl kind, practice it; and men who are not educated out of it, always prefer it. But after rising before the sun almost all the time for nearly twenty years—and enjoying the glories of the dawn at least equally with the close of day, we are going to assert most stoutly, that those who fail of the sunrise, lose the most beautiful part of the day. In our experience, we have enjoyed as many brilliant, warm, gorgeous, glorious risings of the god of day, as of his settings—and it is given to few mortals to rejoice in either more than we do.

— Peaches will not grow in Florida.

—By a statement in the Methodist it appears that about seventy thousand persons in this country join the Methodist Church annually on probation, but go no farther—that is, they do not come into full communion.

—An Ohio paper, mentioning the fact that sportsmen are very plenty this year, thinks that it is one of the best years ever known for healthy exercise, as a good pedestrian can walk toward any part of the compass all day without seeing any sign of fur or feathers.

— A gentleman in Geneva, N. Y., in forms the Country Gentleman that he has kept his currant bushes entirely free of the currant worm, and his quinces of the borer, by the use of coal ashes. The ground under the currant bushes was covered in the spring to the depth of five inches, and a mound was made about the stems of the quinces.

Chronicle Correspondence.

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 8.

Promises made often, and as often broken; attempts frequent, but never finished; such has been your correspondent's lack, or ill luck rather, week in and week out. Time is relentless and will not wait, and so I have not been able to send you any epistle for several issues. Every one whose studies included Latin when a school-boy, remembers the brief sentence "Tempus Fugit," and we have many reminders of its force in these days of tussle, life and business.

Building still progresses. The burnt district is fast being filled up. It is curious to note the changes made in the localities of certain kinds of business. The large wholesale dry goods, crockery and other establishments now are extending away down Middle street, which a few years since was a part of the fashionable portion of the city. Portland is increasing its wholesale and jobbing trade.—Some of the stores are very extensive, and the enterprise and expectations of capitalists are really commendable. The retail dry goods and general stores on Middle street and Congress street, are, some of them, decidedly Metropolitan. Pip's "Great Expectations" were nothing compared with those of Portlanders.

The new City Hall is a beauty. It is one of the finest in New England and will seat about 2500. The acoustic qualities of the hall are capital, the audience in the extreme corners hearing with perfect ease. The ball given at the Sheridan "powow" was the first evening use of the hall, and the guest and friends were charmed with it. En passant, Gen. Sheridan is not to be blamed for not going to Concord, N. H., in season for the reception prepared for him there. It was the fault of Augusta. The capital of Maine, as the capital of New Hampshire in times past often has done to other New Hampshire places, undertook to bluff Portland. Of course the little city of Portland, a border town "as it were," could not think of depriving the State capital of the right to welcome the "hero of Shenandoah Valley!" Portland had the first claim to Sheridan, and Concord, N. H., the next, and Gov. Chamberlain could just as well have come here, after he found Gen. S.'s time was limited, and welcomed him here on behalf of the State, as at Augusta. It was a piece of red-tape-ism that made the muss.—Concord, however, now knows how good the dose is, as some of the New Hampshire places have often been victims of that hub's assumption in times past.

Among the events of interest the past week or so have been Hon. Charles Sumner's lecture on the 13th, before the M. L. A.'s, on "Are we a Nation," an able and eloquent production. Ex-Gov. Washburne remarked to the distinguished Senator that it was "the best thing he ever heard him deliver." Truly it was the best exposition on the construction of this government we ever listened to. It ought to read by all, young and old. Another event of note has been the opening of the Portland Army and Navy Union course on the 11th with a grand concert by those choice musical artists the Germania Band of Boston. The Boston Theatre company appear at Deering Hall this week, 18th, 19th and 20th, with the great sensation of Augustus Daly, "Under the Gaslight." The company includes several well known favorites. The Park Street Unitarian Society and the First Baptist Society have held Fairs the past week or so, and realized heaps of money. The Second Parish (Payson Memorial Church) open their fair this evening, and continue through the week. So we go—lectures, concerts, fairs, &c.—loadstones for pocket books, thick and fast.

The Vice President of the Artemus Ward Monument Association has published a card inviting the printers of Maine to contribute their quota towards said monument—by setting each 1000 ems apiece for this object. E. H. Elwell, Esq., of the Portland Transcript is treasurer of the fund for this State. J. M. Adams, Esq., publisher and editor of the Argus, heads the list here with $10. A memorial tablet is being prepared in England for the monument. Poor Artemus! let the printers remember him and give their mites towards the worthy object.

The next lecture before the M. L. A.'s will be by Maj. Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, time not yet fixed. The 17th Maine Regiment, Col. T. A. Roberts commanding, has been tendered to Gen. S. as an escort, on his arrival here, which offer has been accepted. The 17th was, during a portion of its service, attached to the division of Gen. S., while of the Army of the Potomac. The date of the reception and lecture will be duly announced, and a rousing welcome will be given the gallant soldier who has been the victim of Andrew Johnson's stubborn willfulness and partisan hate.

The work on the Portland & Rochester Road is getting along finely. The grading is done to Alfred, and the frame work of the Saco river bridge is nearly completed.

The present are the days of enterprise.—The Portland Kerosene Oil Company last year erected a private telegraph from their office in the city to their works at Cape Elizabeth, a mile and a half. It is on the magnetic principle, simple and condensed, (Edmand's & Hamblet, Boston.) The Cumberland Paper Mills are also erecting a line from their office here to their mills a few miles out.

The addition of the 6:45 A. M. train from here to Boston, and the extension of the 5 P. M train from Boston to this city, over the Eastern and Boston & Maine Roads, is a great public benefit. The Superintendents of the Eastern, Boston & Maine and P. S. & P. Roads, (Messrs. Prescott, Merritt and Chase) deserve to be liberally praised for their accommodating spirit and general enterprise.

SANCHO.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—Frank Parsons Treadwell of Exeter, a soldier in the late war, and since employed in stock-raising in Colorado, was murdered near Pueblo in that Territory, Oct 20.—in his tent, probably by Mexicans, for plunder.

Mr. A. E. Sanderson of Nashua, was badly, if not fatally, injured on Saturday afternoon last, by being thrown from his carriage, his horse running away with him. His boy, who was in the vehicle with him, escaped injury.

The Concord Monitor says, "it is stated in Democratic circles that ex-President Pierce has signified his willingness to subscribe $5000 for the coming campaign, to assist New Hampshire in 'finding its fees'"

Capt. W. C Offutt, of the Massabesic House, has been the recipient of an elegant service of silver plate, from his boarders and patrons of the past season. The Massabesic House is a very popular summer resort, situated about 3½ miles from Manchester, on the Lake, and on the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad. Over twelve thousand persons registered on its books last season.

Rev A. H. Quint, D. D., of New Bedford, will deliver the oration, and George A. Marden, of the Lowell Courier, the poem, at the third annual anniversary of the Veterans' Union of New Hampshire, to be held at Concord Jan. 8th.

The fancy good store of Otis S. Smith, at Great Falls, was robbed on Tuesday night last of about $300 worth of goods. The store of H. Baxter & Co. was also broken into and $150 worth of stock carried away. Last Wednesday night Mr. Luther Paul's store was broken into and over $800 worth stolen.

Mr. Simon Fifield of Kingston died very suddenly Nov. 12th His son coming to the shop, Mr Fifield told him to call his wife, as he was feeling unwell. He followed his son to the house and immediately dropped dead.

The celebrated horse, Ethan Allen, arrived in Nashua last week. He attracted, as he everywhere deserves, much attention, and is to spend the winter at the stables of J. E. Maynard. The authorities of Nashua have purchased a pair of fine large draft horses for use on their new steam fire engine. They weigh twenty-six hundred pounds and are noble animals. Col. K. F. Worcester has been lately showing a most beautiful turnout, one that would do credit to Jerome Park. The Telegraph says that the Colonel is worthy of such a good team.

New Hampshire is the only State which has taxed U. S. Securities, but the law was declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court.

The Democratic candidate for Governor of New Hampshire lives in a town which had no cheers for Federal victories, but was jubilant over the New York riots.

In Nashua the barn of Joseph Knowlton, on Ash street, was partially destroyed by fire on Sunday evening last, probably by an incendiary; no insurance. On Monday evening the barn of Mrs Col. Greeley was also fired, but prompt discovery prevented much loss. This is also believed to have been the work of an incendiary.

AS A MEDICINE.

Old Holland Gin is the most beneficial article that can be used for all kidney complaints. Dexter's old London Dock Gin is the thing. Try it.

A DEAR ARTICLE.—Whoever buys common soap gets a dear article. Those who insist upon the grocers supplying Pyle's O K Soap, which is pure and hard, and good for laundry, bath or toilet, effect a saving of vast importance. 29

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—It is now said that Binckley was the author of the statement that Attorney Gen. Stanbery wrote a recent opinion pronouncing extra sessions of Congress unconstitutional. Binckley is one of the relic-able gentry, a pet of the President.

The new California Representatives, with a delegation from that State, have called upon the President and demanded that the Federal offices in California be taken from the Republicans and given to the Democrats.

The appointment of Edmund Cooper of Tennessee as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury is officially announced, to take effect Dec. 1. Cooper has been for some time past acting as Confidential Private Secretary to the President, and from the intimacy that exists between them it is considered that the President has selected this place for him so that he can be a check on Secretary McCulloch and Commissioner Rollins in the matter of appointments, and in the general management of the affairs of the Treasury Department. Cooper's prospects for being confirmed by the Senate are doubtful. He had a difficulty with Judge Kelley while he was a member of the last Congress, and handled the "lie" during debate.

DR. I. T. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

FARMVILLE, Louisiana, March 8, 1860.

DR. T. ALLCOCK. Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart, and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. D.'s; but truth prompts me to say that your Plasters have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a permanent cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your Plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours very truly,

AMERICAN
WALTHAM
WATCHES.

The true value of Machinery applied to Watchmaking is now for the first time rightly made, but that they are made correctly. Very few people know why a Waltham Watch should be superior to a watch of any other. In the first place, all Waltham the Watch is regarded as only a machine, to be constructed like any other machine, in the most substantial manner. The watches are good, it is because the machinery is good. Of course there must be no defect in the principle or plan of construction, no error in the sizes or shapes of the pieces of which it is composed, nothing wanting in their properties, and no error in their position. These points once thoroughly settled, it rests wholly with the machinery constructed with infinite diversity of form and function, for cutting for the pure se, to produce the finished pieces. By the use of multiplying gauges and microscopes, tests and inspection for the detection of wear in the cutting tools, and for inaccuracies in size or shape, the same degree of accuracy is secured in the finished pieces. Every part is formed to fit properly in its place Every pin may be pushed till it pinches, and every screw turned home. Should a single pivot, or jewel in motion, the balance, even under the pressure of the lightest mainspring, vibrates with a wide and free motion, and the best has the clear, ringing sound always characteristic of the Waltham. No machine is a timekeeper from the start.

The system of watchmaking now unknown in foreign countries, and is entirely original with the Waltham Company. The Company claim that by it they produce watches that cannot be equalled for every quality which makes a watch valuable. Simple in plan and correct in principle, the movement is not only beautifully finished, substantial, accurate and cheap, but is uniform in the minutest details, not easily damaged, and when repaired always as good as new. There are different grades of finish in the different varieties of watches made by the Waltham Company, as there are different sizes and shapes to suit all tastes and means; but every watch that bears the genuine trade-mark of "WALTHAM" is guaranteed to be a good one, and nobody need be afraid to buy it.

Every Watch Fully Warranted.

For Sale by all First-Class Dealers in the United States and British Provinces.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

THE REMEDY FOR CURING

Consumption, Asthma, Croup, Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppressions of the Chest or Lungs, Whooping Cough, and all Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

Its action is expectorant, alterative sudorific, sedative, diaphoretic and diuretic, which renders it one of the most reliable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or CRUDE MATTER. DESTROYS and PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the whole system into proper order, imparts a respite to the whole system. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction, even in the most confirmed cases of consumption, and will be given with fitvorable (as all other medicine) or effect the head, as it contains no opium in any manner. It is PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although the most severe and powerful in curing the system. There is no necessity for so many deaths by consumption, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

WHAT NORAH SAID.

The REPLY OF "NORAH O'NEAL," as sung with great applause at Public Concerts. The music by W. F. WILLMAN, JR.

"Is it lonely ye are then without me,
Only wait, and I'll come bye and bye;
For mesel's just enduring a misery,
And darling, I give sigh for sigh.

* * * * *

And would ye then wait till to-morrow,
While I'm alone sighing in misery to-night,
And the lane and the kiss so convenient,
Woo't meet you, my darling, to-night."

TRIAL OF THE U. S. STEAMER CONTOOCOOK.—On the 12th inst. the final trial of this new steamer was commenced at her wharf at our Navy Yard, and continued until the 17th, without stopping, making a continuous test of 120 hours, which was accomplished without the heating of journals, as we are informed by the U. S. Engineer in charge. The average revolutions at the wharf were 40 a minute, her maximum being 51, which is, as all engineers know, a severe test for the engines.

We have witnessed the running of these engines, and aside from our own verdict, which may or may not be of much weight, we understand from those thoroughly competent in such matters, that these engines have been more successful than any others of the same class ever before put into any vessel. The engines are of the class known as the "Isherwood Pattern," and were built under contract by the Providence (R. I.) Steam Engine Company. Mr. Gardner, of that corporation, who was present during the latter part of the trial, expressed himself highly pleased with the working of the machinery, which is but a just tribute to the skill and faithfulness of Mr. A. E. Baker, under whose superintendence the engines were placed in the vessel. On the part of the Navy Department, Chief Engineer Philip Inch superintended the design of the whole, and to him, conjointly with Mr. Baker, who superintended the whole trial, is the credit due for the admirable working of the machinery of this fine vessel, which we trust will long continue a pride to our Navy, a monument of the skill of our mechanics, and a visible recognition of the congratulations due to Mr. Isherwood, the Department, and the gentlemen named above.

We have hitherto given a few details in regard to the motive power of this fine vessel, constructed by Constructor Pook, and designed by Chief of Bureau of Construction Lenthal, but for the benefit of those interested in marine architecture, we annex fuller particulars in this line.

There are two back-action engines, of 60-inch diameter of cylinders, with 36 inches stroke of piston, and double ported balance-slide valves, with the original Wardell plate and Bristol rollers, worked with one of Stevenson's links. The engines are connected at right angles with each other. There are two piston rods to each piston, one rod above and the other below, the crank shaft revolving between them. The channel plate containing the air and circulating pumps is bolted to the main pillow block, and is worked by arms from the main piston rods. The channel plates have guides cast on them for the main cross heads to work on, with connection rods attached for revolving crank shaft. The feed and bilge pumps set on one side of the cross heads and are worked by arms from the main piston rods, in the same manner as the air and circulating pumps. On the top of the channel plate is bolted one of Sewell's surface condensers.

There are four of Martin's boilers, of 48 tons each, and two super heating boilers of 10 tons each, containing thirty furnaces. The main shaft is 103 feet long, and 13¼ inches in diameter. The propeller is of composition, 17 feet and 6 inches in diameter, with 28 feet mean pitch. The condenser weighs 18 tons; as it stands in the channel plate, 28 tons. Each cylinder, with steam chest and valves, has a weight of 22½ tons. The main pillow blocks, with brasses in them, weigh 5 tons each. There are three main pillow blocks, with journals 45 inches long and 13¼ inches in diameter.—The main shaft has four pillow blocks and one large thrust-bearing for receiving thrust of propeller. The screw propeller was immersed 15 feet 9 inches at commencement, and 15 feet 6 inches at end of trial.

During the whole trial, from the first starting up until the end of the final trial, not a bolt was adjusted nor the key of a journal tightened.

Mr. Baker has won for himself many friends in this city during his stay with us, by his uniformly urbane and courteous manner, and his departure will be regretted by many. We are glad to hear that there is a prospect of his again visiting us in a similar capacity, ere long.

☞ Wendell Phillips most agreeably disappointed a great portion of his audience on Monday evening by delivering a lecture more like those which in years past delighted the literary portion of America and won for him the name of "the silver-tongued orator," than like the semi-political harangues which his great interest in the questions regarding the state of the country have led him to deliver of late years. His subject was "Daniel O'Connell," and his personal knowledge of the man and intimate acquaintance with his history, aided him to present O'Connell's life in such a light as to lead the audience to concur in deciding him to be the "prince of all agitators," a man without a peer in his peculiar line of political economy.

As we have sometimes found fault with the insufficient warming of the Temple, we will take room to say, in this connection, that though the night was very cold the Temple was so nicely warmed, and looked so neat and cosy, that many of the audience were reluctant to emerge into the inclement weather out of doors.

—A hurricane swept over St. Domingo on the 30th ult., desolating the capital and destroying 200 lives.

—Shepard, who murdered his wife in Worcester, was arrested near Canterbury, Conn., by Mr. S. P. Eastman of Madison, Wisconsin, who happened to be there on business. He was handed over to the custody of Detective Shumway, who started with him for Worcester, Mass.

"What is the secret of your bread?
Than mine 'tis so much whiter,
Mine, half the time is just like lead—
Than feathers, yours is lighter."
"Well, Jane, I'll lisp it in your ear,
My skill you must not flaiter,
Gold Medal Saleratus, dear,
Now that is what's the matter!"

One trial according to directions will convince any one of its superiority and economy over all others. No household will dispense with its use after making its acquaintance.

500 MILES OF THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD.

Running West from Omaha

ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

ARE NOW COMPLETED.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company have built a longer line of railroad in the last eighteen months than was ever built by any other company in the same time, and they will continue the work with the same energy until it is completed. The Western Division is being pushed rapidly eastward from Sacramento by the Central Pacific Company of California, and it is expected that

THE TWO LINES WILL JOIN

to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.—More than one-third of the work has already been done, more than one-third of the whole line is now in running order, and more laborers are now employed upon it than ever before. More than

Forty Million Dollars in Money

have already been expended by the two powerful companies that have undertaken the enterprise, and there is no lack of funds for the most vigorous prosecution. When the United States Government found it necessary to secure the construction of the Union Pacific railroad to develop and protect its own interest, it gave the companies authority to build it such ample aid as should render its speedy completion certain. Of the available means of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, derived from the Government and its own stockholders, may be briefly summed up as follows:

1.—UNITED STATES BONDS

Having thirty years to run and being six per cents currency interest at the rate of $16,000 per mile for the road on the Plains, and at the rate of $48,000 per mile for 150 miles through the Rocky Mountains; then at the rate of $32,000 per mile for the remaining distance, for which the United States takes a second lien as security. The interest on these bonds is paid by the United States government, which also pays the Company one half the amount of its bills in money for transporting its freight, troops, mails, &c. The remaining half of these bills is placed to the company's credit, and forms a sinking fund, which may finally discharge the whole amount of this lien. The claims against the government since April of the current year amount to four and one-half times this interest.

2.—FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS.

By its charter the Company is permitted to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to the same amount as the bonds issued by the Government, and no more, and only as the road progresses. The Trustees for the bondholders are Hon. E. D. Morgan, U. S. Senator from New York, and the Hon. Oakes Ames, Member of U. S. House of Representatives, who are pledged for the delivery of these bonds to the Company in accordance with the terms of the law.

3.—THE LAND GRANT.

The United Pacific Railroad Company has a land grant or absolute donation from government of 12,800 acres to the mile on the line of the road, which will not be worth less than $1.60 at the lowest valuation.

4.—THE CAPITAL STOCK.

The authorized capital of the Union Pacific Railroad Company is $100,000,000, of which over $5,000,000 have been paid on the work already done.

The Means Sufficient to Build the Road.

Contracts for the entire work of building 914 miles of first-class railroad west from Omaha, comprising much of the most difficult mountain work, and embracing every expensive structure, having been made with responsible parties (who have already finished over 600 miles), at the average rate of sixty-seven thousand dollars (eight dollars ($68,068) per mile. This price includes all necessary shops for construction and repairs of cars, depots, stations and all other incidental buildings, and also locomotives, passenger, baggage and freight cars and other requisite rolling stock, to an amount that shall not be less than $6,000 per mile. Also the grading of the remaining one hundred and eighty-six of the eleven hundred miles assumed to be built by the Pacific Company to be 400,000 dollars.

THE TOTAL COST OF ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES WILL BE AS FOLLOWS:

914 miles, at $ 68,068	$62,250,012
186 miles, at 50,000	10,750,000
Add discounts on bonds, surveys, &c.	4,500,000
Amount	$82,445,012

As the U. S. Bonds are equal to money, and the Company's own First Mortgage Bonds have a ready market, we have as the

AVAILABLE CASH RESOURCES for BUILDING ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES:

U. S. Bonds	$ 9,328,000
First Mortgage Bonds	29,328,000
Capital stock paid in on the work now done	5,340,750
Land Grant, 1,280,000 acres, at 1.00 per acre	21,120,000
Total	$65,145,750

The Company have ample facilities for supplying any deficiency that may arise in means for construction. This may be done wholly or in part by additional subscriptions to the capital stock.

Active inquiry has already been made for a portion of these lands, and arrangements are now proposed to offer a part of them for sale. When their whole value will not be available for some years to come, they will remain a very important security for the money to the Company. The Illinois Central Railroad Company are selling at from $6 to $12 per acre, and other land grant companies in the West are receiving equal prices for similar properties.

Future Business.

The most skeptical have never expressed a doubt that when the Union Pacific Railroad is finished the immense business that must flow over it, as the only railroad connecting the two grand divisions of the North American continent will be one of the wonders of railway transportation; and as it will have no competitor, it can always charge remunerative rates. The Pacific Mail Steamship Company of New York is now running a regular line of its splendid steamers between San Francisco and China and Japan, which is doubtless the pioneer of many lines that will traverse the Pacific Ocean laden with the teas, spices and other products of Eastern Asia. Exceedingly cheap very heavy or bulky goods of comparatively low values, shortness of time decides the direction of freights, and most of these cargoes will find their natural transit over the Union Pacific Railroad.

It is quite within bounds to say that its traffic will be limited only by the capacity of the line, and that no other road will find it available track to necessary. California and Oregon must not only be supplied with means of transport for passengers, mail, treasure and other freight, but the inhabitants of Dacotah, Colorado, Utah, Idaho and Montana will communicate with the older States almost entirely by this road. It will be the avenue to all the great mining district, which is only awaiting this ready means of communication to receive a population that will develop its vast mineral and other resources, and which of itself would furnish ample business for a railway line.

Earnings from Way Business.

While the through business of the Company will be amply remunerative, it is still in the future, but the local business on the part of the road in operation has been most satisfactory.

During the quarter ending July 31, an average of 325 miles of the Union Pacific Railroad was in operation. The Subcerintendent's Report shows the following results:

EARNINGS.

Passengers, Freight, Telegraph, Mails, &c.	$722,755 54
Transportation of Contractors' material and men	479,283 41
Total	$1,202,038 95

EXPENSES.

Fuel, Repairs, Offices, Conductors, Trains, &c.	$295,530 92
Net Earnings to balance	907,508 03
Total	$1,203,038 95

The net operating expenses on the commercial business for the quarter were $27,986 50 The account for the COMMERCIAL BUSINESS stands as follows:

Earnings for May, June and July	$733,755 54
Expenses " " "	237,986 50
Net Profit	$485,789 04

The amount of bonds the company can issue on 35 miles is $56,000 per mile is $2,240,000. In ninety days, three months will have passed, the sum is $56,00 : add 40 per cent premium, to correspond with currency earnings, is $140,000—showing that the net earnings of the quarter were more than four times the interest on the First Mortgage bonds on the length of road.

First Mortgage Bonds,

whose principal is so amply provided for, and which are held as thoroughly secured, must be classed among the safest investments they pay

SIX Per cent in Gold.

and are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, and accrued interest at six per Cent in currency from July 1.

Many parties are taking advantage of the present high price of Government stocks to exchange for these bonds, which are over FIFTEEN PER CENT. CHEAPER, and at the current rate of premium on gold, pay

Over Nine Per Cent. Interest.

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS.

THE

CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,

THE WESTERN HALF OF THE

GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE

ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

being constructed with the AID and SUPERVISION OF THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is the only line on one of the most important LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD, as it is the sole link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense Overland travel must pass, and the Principal Portion of the Main Steam Line between the Two Oceans.

Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Bay of San Francisco, the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, contiguous to all the great Mining regions of the Far West, and will meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. About 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the summit of the Sierra Nevada. Within a few days 35 miles, now graded, will be added, and the track carried entirely across the mountains to a point in the Great Salt Lake Valley, whence further progress will be easy and rapid. Iron materials and equipment are ready at hand for 300 miles of road, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction

The local business upon the completed portion surpasses the previous estimate. The earnings for the quarter ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS,	OPERATING EXPENSES,	NET EARNINGS,
$487,579 61	$86,548 17	$401,031 17

or at the rate of two millions per annum, of which more than three-fourths are net profit on less than 100 miles worked. This is upon the actual legitimate traffic of the road, with its terminus in the mountains, and with only the normal rate of government transportation, and is quite exclusive of the materials carried for the further extension of the road.

The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $95,000.

And to this an ever expanding through traffic and the proportions of the future business become immense.

The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall connect and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain ranges.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between the San Francisco and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the Central Pacific will have in operation in the completion of 855 miles $28,592,000, or at the average rate of $33,000 per mile—not including the absolute grant of 10,000,000 acres of the Public Lands, by becoming, as they certainly are, the magnificent enterprise, and by waiving its first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bondholders, for which the Company's act is urgently INVITES THE CO-OPERATION OF PRIVATE CAPITALISTS, and has carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

The Company offer for sale, through us, their

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent, Coupon Bonds.

Principal and interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York city. They are in sums of $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons at the rate of six per cent. per annum. Six per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st added in currency, at which rate they yield nearly

Nine per Cent. upon the Investment.

These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as the Bonds granted by the United States to aid the road, and are a first lien upon a completed, equipped and productive railroad, in which have been invested Government subsidies, stock subscriptions, donations, surplus earnings, etc., and which is worth more than three times the amount of First Mortgage Bonds which can be issued upon it.

The Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds have all the assurances, sanctions and guaranties of the Pacific Railroad act of Congress, and have in addition several noticable advantages over all other classes of railroad bonds.

First—They are the superior claim upon altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the through line.

Second—Beside the fullest benefit of the Government subsidy, (which is a subordinate lien,) the road receives the benefit of large donations from California.

Third—Fully half the whole cost of grading 800 miles of eastern road, 300 Hundred miles concentrated upon the 150 miles now about completed.

Fourth—A local business already yielding threefold the annual interest liabilities, with advantageous rates payable in coin

Fifth—The principal as well as the interest of its Bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds to Trustees, Executors, Institutions and others as an eminently sound, reliable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

Morning Chronicle.

THE GREAT HANLON TROUPE of twenty male and female artists from Europe, make their first appearance in our city on Friday evening, and as their stay is limited to two days only, we would urge all to go early to secure seats, as hundreds will no doubt be turned away nightly. The following is from a late Boston paper:

"Another crowded house greeted the Hanlons last evening. The entertainment was rapturously applauded, but the new aerial feat, "The Three Flying men of the Air," by the brothers—William, George and Alfred Hanlon—created the greatest enthusiasm. It is, undoubtedly, one of the most thrilling and perilous acrobatic acts ever executed. The brothers all move in concert, swinging and leaping with pendulum like regularity, and if a deviation of an inch is made when the interpid William makes his life leap, we are inclined to think it would be one into eternity, as the distance he would fall would be some forty or fifty feet. In this act the brothers are suspended head downward, at the furthest extremity of the trapeze, where two slender bars are attached to a long wooden frame work; the third brother swings off from the centre, and is caught in the hands of one of the brothers at the end, who, by a powerful impulse, launches him into the air, where the interpid gymnast turns a complete summerset and is caught again with the rapidity of lightning by the brother who is awaiting him at the other end.

Its termination ends in a whirlwind of applause, such only as this gymnastic trio elicit. The Hanlons must evidently be impressed with the idea that there is no limitation to muscular training, for they are always surprising the public with some new and terrific feat, which seems to defy accomplishment. They have that grace in execution, eas-like agility and suppleness which we never before saw exhibited, and seeming gymnastic impossibilities are by them executed with such a dash and daring as to justly entitle them to rank as the champion olympiasts of the world. There is Harry Gurr, the swimmer, whose wonderfull performances are always pleasing; Ethardo, the youthful gymnast; the learned poodles; the trick pony and performing goat,—form a combination of talent which cannot be excelled."

FIRE ON A RAILROAD.—A freight train on the Buffalo and Erie Railroad, laden with crude oil from Brockton for Buffalo, took fire near Irving on Monday afternoon, destroying twenty-one cars, the bridge over Mud creek and about 600 feet of the track. The accident was occasioned by a car mounting a frog going out of a switch, and the friction caused the crude oil to ignite.

CABLE ITEMS.—A dispatch from Alexandria brings the intelligence that the American Consul General at that port, Charles Hale, Esq., has induced Ismail Pasha, Viceroy, to issue a decree permitting the return to Egypt of the American missionaries and native Christian converts who had been exiled from that country.

At Paris Nov. 18, the French Chambers assembled. The Emperor opened the session, with a speech, wherein he affirmed that their was no longer any objection to German unity and consolidation on the part of the French Government.

— Miss Margaret Stone, aged 112 years, died on Sunday, in Pensylvania, from injuries received from accidentally falling down stairs on the Saturday previous.

THE RED GLOW OF SUNRISE AND SUNSET.—As is well known to scientific readers, no satisfactory explanation has yet been given of the red glow and splendor of sunrise and sunset. The phenomenon is one of those questions in natural philosophy which wait for a solution. Among the latest attempts at a solution is that by Dr. E. Lommel in Poggendorff's Annalen, in which he shows it to be an effect of diffraction of light as viewed through a series of dark, or partially dark screens. He lays it down as an axiom that a point of white light, viewed through a sufficient number of groups of screens, appears not merely reddish of itself but also appears surrounded by a still more strongly red-colored aureole of diffracted light.

Herein consists the explanation. The lower strata of the atmosphere are full of minute corpuscular bodies—dust, organic and inorganic, particles of carbon in smoke and watery particles. They serve the purpose of the screens, and when the sun is low, the rays traversing a long range of atmosphere undergo diffraction, and after superimposition of adjacent points of light, the effect of redness is depended. Distant snow-sloops and glaciers, as in the Alps, and clouds near the horizon, come under the influence, and also often show a purplish red color. Aqueous vapors play an important part in the phenomenon, best seen when the whole morning or evening sky is lit with briliant ruddy glow. A mere red glow, without brilliance, is occasioned by the solid particles in the atmosphere. The sun looks red through smoke, and through the clouds of fine sand blown up in the desert.

☞ At New York, Nov. 19, a delegation from the municipal authorities of Boston, visited the Mayor's office, for the purpose of obtaining some information relative to the operation of the Excise law, with a view to the adoption of a similar law in Boston. They were directed, however, for information on the subject to the Excise Commissioner at the Police Headquarters in Mulberry street.

☞ At Richmond, Va., Nov. 19, Rev. Newman Hall of England, addressed a meeting of 3000 blacks at the African Church. The address urged them to forget their past wrongs, and preserve peace in the future. Gov. Pierepont and Gen. Browne occupied seats on the stand.

—Gen. Sherman writes to Gen. Grant's headquarters that he will continue with the Peace Commissioners until they finish their labors, and he expects to reach Washington about the 1st of December.

—Chief Justice Chase, while at Richmond last week, was not visited by any of the ex-rebels; even those who are members of the Richmond Bar refrained from paying their respects as is customary.

—A workman was prevented from passing through the garden of the Luxenbourg, because the regulations forbid persons without cravats from entering the grounds. "I suppose it is all right," he said, "but it is hard to exclude me because I don't wear a cravat, when you let twenty statues in who haven't a pair of pants among them."

—Gov. Ward, Chairman of the National Union Republican Committee, has written a letter to the Soldiers' and Sailors' Union, in which he congratulates them for having declared in favor of Gen. Grant as the next President, and says that the Union party in 1868, with Gen. Grant as their candidate, will achieve a great triumph.

American and Foreign Patents.
E. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington† under the Act of 1837.
No. 78 State street, (opposite Kilby street,) Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to procure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, Bonds, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS; every one of which was decided in his favor by the Commissioner of Patents.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. URIAH. MASON."
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can not employ a man more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,"
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.
The following names from its large list of purchasers are given for reference:

Caution
To Females in Delicate Health.
DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No. 7 Exchange St., Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri or Fluor Albus, Suppression and other menstrual derangements, are all treated on new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a very few days. So invariably certain is this new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the most desperate soon rejoices in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women than any other hysician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations for those who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1867

AT THE TEMPERANCE CONVENTION held in Palmer, Mass., one speaker said that it appeared to be a judgment of God that Joseph A. Foad and John A. Andrew had been stricken down at this time, as both had labored for a license law; and another said, "Would to God that John A. Andrew had died before 1867, and been saved from the blot which his action in regard to a license law had left on his memory."

These personal and pointed remarks are strongly condemned by some of the free rum papers—but however some may doubt their truth or propriety, we feel sure that if both the distinguished deceased alluded to, had eaten and drank less themselves, they would not have been thus suddenly cut off before living out half their days of usefulness.

EX-GOV. Andrew did mighty service for the Union in time of the rebellion; but we think he did very much to counter-balance all that by his advocacy of license and praise of liquor afterwards—the which, we are sure, he could not have been hired to do had he been a teetotaller. Total abstinents don't commonly die of apoplexy before reaching fifty years.

DOCTORS DIFFER.—Rev. Newman Hall, in a temperance lecture in New York some time ago, said, in alluding to drunkeness in England and America:

"In America he had seen but three or four drunken men; in England he saw as many nightly. He blushed and grieved over the drunkenness and vice of Great Britain, and he should be grieved to see any nation brought down to the level of England in this respect."

In Grace Church, Providence, last Sunday night, Bishop Clark of Rhode Island said on the same subject:

"In the five months I have been absent, I have never seen in Great Britain or Europe, four men or a single woman intoxicated. There is more drunkenness in the United States than is to be found among the same number of people anywhere else on the face of the earth."

Well, well: (says Uncle Toby), we know Bishop Clark too well to doubt his intentions,—he means to speak the truth.—And we have no doubt that Dr. Hall intends the same. But the difficulty in both cases is, that the gross drunkards of a foreign country do not parade themselves to be reviewed by a distinguished clerical or genteel visitor. This is the great reason why many of our people cannot see much drunkenness in France. They don't go into the dens where it burrows.

BOURBONS IN SOUTH CAROLINA.—The address of the Conservative Convention of South Carolina is quite lengthy.—The following extract will show its general tone:

"We, feeling the responsibility of the subject and occasion, enter our most solemn protest against the policy of investing the negro with political rights. The black man is what God and nature and circumstances have made him. That he is not fit to be invested with those important rights was no fault of his, but the fact is patent to all that the negro is utterly unfitted to exercise the highest functions of the citizen.

Truly the negro is not in fault here.—"God and nature and circumstances have made him" a free citizen. The great circumstance was the rebellion of the slavocracy, with the intent to make the "domestic institution" general and perpetual in the United States, or to destroy us as a nation. But the result destroyed the institution and strengthened the nation. This result calls forth the grave and stupid talk of which the above is a specimen.

☞ A private letter from Tortola, dated Nov. 1, makes a brief reference to the hurricane which swept over the island on the 29th of October, but it makes no mention of any general loss of life. The writer states, however, that the family of Sinclair Aryant, resident magistrate at "Roadtown," as the settlement at the harbor is called, were drowned, and also that during the storm a fearful fire broke out, which destroyed many houses. The report of the drowning of 10,000 persons is believed to be greatly exaggerated.

☞ The Boston Herald's Washington special says:

Some Democrats here assert that they have sounded Gen. Grant as to whether he would consent to run as their candidate for President, and they state that he declared under no circumstances would he be the Democratic candidate.

☞ The Dickens is to pay in Boston, it seems, notwithstanding he ridiculed the hub and all America so severely on his former visit. Tickets go like hot cakes, for his readings. We are glad we are not among his admirers.

—Intimate friends of the President say that he fears a radical plot.—Boston Herald.

Exactly so; "Tyrants are always cowards," as an old story reads,—and in delirium tremens there are often fears of imaginary dangers.

—Weston is to commence his fourth trial to walk a hundred miles in twenty-four hours at or near Pittsfield, Ohio, when he will be 933 1-2 miles on his journey. People with him think he cannot do it.

BANKRUPTCY.—The Manchester American learns that over eighty cases have been entered in this State under the national bankruptcy act, and that generally the petitioners are men who, by losses in trade or speculation, have become embarrassed, and have for years been restrained in the transaction of business, and now honestly come forward and relinquish what property they have, and avail themselves of the benefits of the act. While others, the minority of cases, are those in which the indebtedness is small, sometimes but a trifle, comparatively, above the cost of obtaining a discharge through the agency of the act.

Louis Brunelle, an employee in the works of Messrs. Eaton & Ayer, Nashua, ran a "pool bit" completely through his hand, lengthwise.

Quite a religious interest has been created in the Congregationalist Society of Lee, by the earnest and eloquent exhortations of Rev. J. T. Avery of Ohio, during the last few weeks.

Three suspicious wagon peddlers were recently arrested in this city for passing counterfeit script in Lee and Newmarket—by the exertions of Rev. Mr. Comings of Lee, who followed the fellows hither. But nothing could be proved against them.

BUSINESS IN NEWBURYPORT.— The Newburyport Herald says that not in twenty years has Newburyport closed a business season so unprofitable as the last. An account of stock to-day would probably show a shrinkage of from half a million to a whole million of dollars in the twelve months. Ship building is nearly reduced to nothing, shoe manufacturing has been exceedingly dull, the factories have done a losing business through the whole year, freighting ships have not paid, and the large fishing fleet has not earned its expenses.—This condition of things, coupled with the high prices, will make a hard winter.

FIGHT FOR A MEDAL.—It is amusing, if such a term can be applied to most equivocal proceedings, to read the vindictive controversy in the Boston and New York papers, between the Messrs. Chickering and Steinway, respecting the Gold Medal business at the Paris Exposition. Long before the prizes were awarded, correspondents confidingly assured the public that Chickering or Steinway (as they were interested) was the delight of piano manufacturers, and the eighth wonder of the world. After the distribution, each promulgated far and wide that he had been awarded the first prize over all competitors, although finally, both have had tacitly to admit that the Grand International Medal for Paris was won by Broadwood & Sons, of London, the three greatest French manufacturers, Erard, Pleyel and Herz not competing, on account of their being members of the Imperial Jury.

Now the simple fact, underlying thousands of dollars' worth of advertised controversy, is, that both Messrs. Chickering and Steinway received an ordinary gold medal, of which some 900 have been awarded. The gold medal dodge having been played out, the contestants now concentrate their energies to convince the public that their individual medal is the grand proof of superiority in the manufacture of the best American piano—that is of the only two firms representing this branch of American skill at Paris.

Steinway glorifies over the fact that his name was printed first on the list (after Broadwood) and accuses Chickering of having falsified said list, while Chickering triumphantly displays his decoration of the Legion of Honor, as awarded over and above the medal of his musical rival. Then Chickering reveals that in 1862 the vaunted and elsewhere advertised first prize of the Steinways, stood insignificantly eighth on the list. To which Steinway retorts, by proving that the equally mendacious Chickering, who for sixteen years has deceived the public with his story about the first prize at the London Exposition in 1851, absolutely stood next to "nowhere" on that august roll of honor.

The official report of the Paris Exposition not being ready before the end of October, such statements and counter-statements cannot but weaken the faith of the public in both these bcuses, for the case must be flimsy and desperate which impels a resort to such recriminations.—N. Y. Express.

—The Haytien authorities have annulled the treaty with St. Domingo and recalled their Minister. The Dominican forces are reported already on the Haytien frontier.

—By authority of Government officials, a party of men have begun to work upon the sunken hull of the New Ironsides at League Island, Philadelphia, to raise it.

—In 1866, the credit business of the country was 85 per cent., and the cash 65. During the present year it will be 20 per cent. credit, and 80 cash, which shows that the people are becoming more sensible.

—The Georgia papers contain a Thanksgiving proclamation from Gov. Jenkins, with hardly a trace of sackcloth and ashes in it, a well written recognition of the fact that the people of that State "have much to be thankful for, and very much to pray for."

—Returns from Florida show that the Convention has been carried by a decided majority of the registered voters. Nearly all the blacks voted, and but few whites. A large number of negroes are elected to the Convention, and in one county three out of four delegates are negroes.

—Mrs. Mary G. Archer, an operative in the rag room of the Upper Paper Mill at Greenville, Conn., in the course of her duties Friday afternoon, was overhauling an old pair of corsets, when out dropped as her feet a couple of twenty-franc gold pieces, from what appeared to be a pocket in that garment.

SCRAPS FROM WASHINGTON.—A Washington special says the President is said to be much displeased with the evidence given before the Judiciary Committee by Commissioner Rollins, but it is not known how he came into possession of the evidence.

[Not known! pooh, pooh—are there no copperheads or conservatives on this Committee?]

Henry Sherman of the law branch of the Third Auditor's Office, was the author of the article declaring extra sessions of Congress unconstitutional.

[He deserves a leather medal for his assiduteness.]

The rebel General Imboden has filed an application in the Circuit Court for a mandamus forbidding Gen. Schofield from interfering with him in casting his vote at any election. If the application is refused he will carry the matter to the Supreme Court.

OFFICIAL NEWS FROM CRETE.—Cretan official accounts dated Oct. 20, ridicule the efforts of Ali Pacha to turn the Islanders from their inflexible determination to become a part of the Kingdom of Greece. The Russian, Prussian and French commanders continue to convey non-combatants to Greece, the Grand Vizer's remonstrance against this being treated by them with contempt. The war is being resumed with increased violence, and will not close until after annihilation of Turkish rule.

A great sensation has been produced in Crete by a spirited manifesto of an American lady, the wife of Dr. Hill, the American Missionary and English Legation Chaplain at Athens, addressed to a certain Elizabeth Kantaxaki, a Christian woman, who is employed as a spy by the Turks. Mrs. Hill earnestly condemns the efforts of a Christian to betray the cause of Christ and Liberty by serving the Sultan of Turkey.

GOLD MEN TROUBLED.—At New York on Tuesday afternoon, there was quite an excitement at the Gold Board. Mosby, the notorious rebel guerilla chief, visited the Board, and the President invited him upon the platform. Many members objected, and business was suspended for about an hour to discuss the matter. The President was finally sustained, but the glorification of an ex-rebel created great dissatisfaction among a portion of the members. Some of them, however, did about as much mischief during the war as Mosby did. The President was only acting in his real character.

☞ At Montreal, the ferry boat St. Marie took fire in the middle of the river on Saturday. Ten horses were burned to death, but the boat reached her dock in season to land the passengers.

Another fire took place at midnight in a large wooden house on Forfar street, and the occupants—a man named Shaw, his wife and two children—were burned to death.

RETRACTED HIS PLEA.—John J. Pettingill, who pleaded not guilty to an indictment in the United States Circuit Court, Boston, charging him with passing a counterfeit Treasury note of the denomination of $50, and was put on trial, retracted his plea, and, pleading guilty, was sentenced to imprisonment in Dedham jail for three years.

DR. CHARLES JEWETT.—This able advocate of temperance has been lecturing the past month in New York State, addressing large audiences every night, and has awakened a new interest in the cause. He will spend several weeks in Pennsylvania, commencing in November.

FROZEN WATERS.—Both ends of Lake Champlein froze over on the night of Nov. 18, and the Connecticut River froze on the 19th, at Springfield, Mass. The N. Y. State Canal is frozen at Buffalo.

☞ Halleck's words, "None know thee but to love thee, none name thee but to praise," may be fairly applied to Phalon's Night-Blooming Cereus. No one who once uses the perfume ever relinquishes it, and rosy lips are never weary of commending and recommending it.—Norwich Courier. 6

WILBUR FISK says the morals, refinement and intellectuality of any people may be known by the food they eat. This is true.—Whoever knew a benevolent, noble, high-toned, generous, intellectual man reared on sour or alkaline bread? Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus imparts no alkaline flavor, produces the most delicious food, and prevents, by its action on the stomach, most diseases incident to that organ. 8

THERE ARE TWO SPECIAL QUALITIES which determine and fix the superiority of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S NEW STYLE IMPROVED HAIR RESTORER or DRESSING, in one bottle over all other preparations for the Hair. First, the prompt, quick action, great growth, life and vigor that it is sure to give the Hair, never failing by a few applications, to restore Gray or White Hair to its natural color, imparting to the Hair a delightful aroma, fresh, delicate and unobjectionable in any climate. Second, its easy application without any previous preparation of the Hair; without that sticky and disagreeable sulphur odor found and complained of in all other preparations. It never soils the skin or linen.—Ladies will find it a standard Toilet Luxury to dress their Hair. It retains the hair in any desired position, and is cooling, healing and cleansing to the scalp, removing immediately all scurf, dandruff and pimples. Price One Dollar. Sold by all Druggists. n21—1m

HAS your father secured a Certificate of the Washington Library Company of Philadelphia, in aid of the Riverside Institute for educating orphans? Each Certificate costs a dollar, with a beautiful engraving, worth more than a dollar at retail, and secures besides a present at the Great Distribution by the Company, and an equal chance that the present may be one worth thousands of dollars. A wonderful plan of benevolence, you will say, but it is true, and it is attested by good men. Read advertisement. 3

A DEAR ARTICLE.—Whoever buys common soap gets a dear article. Those who insist upon the grocers supplying Tyler's O K Soap, which is pure and hard, and good for laundry, bath or toilet, effect a saving of vast importance. 29

ESCAPED FROM THE STATE, BUT FELL INTO THE HANDS OF UNCLE SAM.—On Friday last U. S. General Inspector Hayes made a seizure at the American House, Newburyport, kept by Mr. Daniel Hamblet, of two full casks of whiskey marked vinegar, and twelve empty casks that had contained whiskey. The law forbids the false marking, which was probably done some time since to escape the State Constables while it was being conveyed over the railroad; but that does not now save it from confiscation.

NOT GOLD ONLY,

BUT

RICH, FRUITY, LUSCIOUS

WINES!

California is making grand strides in her agricultural products and is fast withdrawing herself as a purchaser of the manufactures of the various branches of industry she once demanded. She stands a warning voice to the time-worn vineyards of Europe, and enters the lists as a fresh young combatant for the production of wines from her own rich and increasing vineyards.—The time has come when it is simply ridiculous for any one house to lay claim to especial advantages or peculiar privileges for the sale of

THE WINES OF CALIFORNIA.

As well might they claim a monopoly of the cotton trade.

C. A. RICHARDS & CO.

do not receive or sell all the wines which California produces, but they do claim to have at all times a very large quantity on hand of all the best kinds, and their advantages for getting the best, and getting them at the lowest market value, are such as to enable them to offer them at prices which today are lower than any other house which sells California Wines of equality. We bottle five kinds. They are,—

"Angelica,"

"Muscatel,"

"Still Champagne,"

"Hock" and

"Port,"

Also "California Brandy."

They are all perfectly pure, and may be relied upon in sickness or in health. The Angelica and Muscatel are rich, sweet wines. The Hock is fully equal to the medium grades of Rhine wines. The Port is actually better than many of the high cost Ports from Oporto. We sell these wines in any required quantity, from a single bottle to a THOUSAND CASES, and are ready at all times to exhibit samples, or to send them to any address.

D.'s; but truth prompts me to say that your Plasters have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a permanent cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your Plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. AMERICAN

WATCHES.

The true value of Machinery applied to Watchmaking is not that by its use watches are rapidly made, but that they are made correctly. Very few people know why a Waltham Watch should be superior to any other. In the first place, a Waltham Watch is regarded as only a machine, to be constructed like any other machine, on mechanical principles. If the watches are good, it is because the machinery is good. Of course there must be no defect in the principle or plan of the movement—no mistake in the size or shape of the part of which it is composed—nothing wanting in their properties, and no error in their positions. These points once thoroughly settled, gets wholly within the machinery, constructed with infinite diversity of form and function expressly for the purpose, to produce the finished pieces. By means of multiplying gages and microscopes, tests and proofs, the defect or detection of wear in the cutting tools, and for faults and flaws in steel or stone, are made to accompany the work in every stage, from beginning to end. As a necessary result, the watch goes together a perfect machine. Every part is formed to fit exactly in its place. Every part may be pushed till it pinches, and every screw turned home. Instead of a sluggish and feeble action, the balance, even under the pressure of the lightest main spring, vibrates with a wide and free motion, and the best has the clear, ringing sound always characteristic of the Waltham Watch. The machine is a timekeeper from the start.

This system of watchmaking is unknown in foreign countries, and is entirely original with the Waltham Company. The Company claim that by it they produce watches that cannot be equalled for every quality which makes a watch valuable. Simple in plan and correct in principle, the movement is not only beautifully finished, substantial, accurate and cheap, but is uniform in the minutest details, not easily damaged, and when repaired always as good as new. There are different grades of finish in the different varieties of watches made by the Waltham Company, as there are different sizes and shapes to suit all tastes and means; but every watch that bears the genuine trade-mark of "WALTHAM" is guaranteed to be a good one, and nobody need be afraid to buy it.

Every Watch fully Warranted.

For Sale by all First-Class Dealers in the United States and British Provinces.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

THE REMEDY FOR CURING

Consumption, Asthma, Croup, Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppressions of the Chest or Lungs, Difficult Breathing, and all Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

Its action is expectorant, alterative, sudorific, sedative, diaphoretic and diuretic, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration and causes the patient to throw off the phlegm; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS and PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the blood to its proper action and imparts strength to the whole system. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction, even in the most confirmed cases of consumption, and not to produce costiveness (as do most remedies) or effect the head, as it contains no opium in any form. It is PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. There is no necessity for so many deaths by Consumption when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

DR. SCHENCK'S NEW OFFICE.

☞ DR. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, has opened an office on second floor of No. 35 HANOVER STREET, Boston, where he will be professionally at home for a few days from 9 to 3. Every person complaining with Consumption or any disease leading to it, is invited to call on him. He does not fee, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the charge is five dollars.

Dr. Schenck can explain to patients very correctly the stage of their disease and how to use his medicines, namely, his Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills, or when to use the Respirometer; but by it he can tell exactly how far the lungs are gone, and what part; also whether it is Tubercular, Pulmonary, Bronchial or Dyspeptic Consumption, or whether it is merely an ulcerated throat and catarrh, or from Liver Complaint.

His medicines have full directions, so any one can take them without seeing him, but if they live near by and are well enough, it is best to see him. All three of his medicines are required in nearly every case of lung disease, for it is impossible to cure Consumption unless the stomach and liver is kept in perfect order. To get lung in a healing condition the stomach must be cleansed, and an appetite for good rich food created, so as to make good blood, before the lungs will begin to heal; then the chills and night sweats will stop, and the expectoration become free and easy.

He keeps a full supply of medicines at his rooms, which can be had at all times.

Price of Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents.

Local.

☞ The charms of a rural residence (not particularly at this season, or during such weather as we have had this week—for this item was suggested to us by a brief ride, and partly written several days ago, on a beautiful Indian Summer afternoon,) are less appreciated, or at any rate, it seems to us, less availed of and enjoyed, in this vicinity, than in any place we know of which is in itself so beautiful in its natural surroundings. Else would not so fine an estate as that of Hon. Wm. Simes at Greenland, be in the market a single week; or the Parsons farm, which can be made one of the most profitable and beautiful in the county.

But while it is to be regretted that our good old city should be built and keep building, in such a huddle; it is pleasant for us to observe the few who choose what we deem the better plan of having a little more breathing room. Among those on the Gravelly Ridge Road, great improvements have recently been made externally in the residences of Mr. H. R. Stoddard and Mr. Frank Jones, on either side of that road at the junction with North street.

Calling in upon our old and always hospitable friend Mr. Jones for a brief stop, it was pleasant to note the marked changes his efficient and liberal hand is bringing about in the fine estate he now occupies.—[And this is not printed because the host is now a candidate for public position, but in spite of that fact.] Inside, gas, water and furnace fixtures all over the house, render that great structure as comfortable, as it is sightly from without. A new and spacious stable, for horses only, and carriages—a separate building — has been built; and while beautiful in external appearance, is most conveniently and judiciously arranged, and finished in the neatest manner inside, entirely with chestnut wood oiled. It is thoroughly lighted and ventilated; and the manure is all thrown out, as the proprietor will allow none beneath his horses or carriages.

Five horses, some of them very valuable, constitute his home stock. In the cattle barn, two pair of very handsome oxen, numerous blood swine, and mows of fragrant hay, with piles of succulent roots, would delight the eye of any good farmer.

In the fields, also, the hand of a master is everywhere visible. By a liberal use of manures, the yield of the place is being greatly increased. Among other things, we walked through a field of cabbages, raised with horse and hog manure which old farmers said would kill them all—and the heads were as big as a bushel basket, and weigh from 20 to 30 lbs. each. Their neighbors, the turnips, did equally well.

And besides thus improving the original Sparbawk or Myers premises, Mr. Jones has purchased the Dodge field, so called, of 16 acres, in his rear; and with the use of a corps of sappers and miners, has reclaimed it from an almost useless and unproductive swamp and forest, to a beautifully level and well drained valley, which another season will blossom as the rose. We write this amidst a snow storm, but the memory of that brief visit is pleasant yet.

☞ Hon. James W. Patterson, United States Senator from New Hampshire, spent the day Tuesday in visiting the various Departments at the Navy Yard, and Seavey's Island, recently purchased by Government. Mr. Patterson is alive to the wants of his constituents, and their interests will not suffer at his hands. It will be found that the Senate have something to say in regard to the appointments or removals of officers at this Station.

Senator Patterson is deservedly one of the most popular men in the State—a ripe scholar and an orator of the first order—his talents will give him a commanding position in the Senate, while his genial manner will ever win him hosts of friends.

Nov. 20.—Edward Tobin pleaded guilty to a charge of being a common drunkard, and was sentenced to hard labor in the House of Correction for two months, and to pay $4.63 costs.

William Burkley, for drunkenness, was fined $3 and $3.69 costs.

☞ The Concert announced for this evening, at the Temple, will be one of the best ever given here, or anywhere else, as to that matter. Camilla Urso is perfection on the violin—as much to the acceptance of the veriest tyro in music, as to the most finished professor; and to hear her is a conviction for a life time. Dr. Guilmette is one of the most magnificent basses and thorough musicians, and the others of the Company, we presume, are capable assistants. All who have any music in their souls, should attend this Concert.

☞ Rockingham County Bonds, a safe and good investment, may still be had at the Rockingham Bank in this city.

☞ We accidentally omitted to mention at the time, that the benefit Concert by Father Kemp's Old Folks Company, resulted in $40 for the family of the late Mr. Chas. D. Perry. The Troupe were very liberal in their arrangements, considering that only four of the present members ever sang with or knew the deceased.

☞ John J. Pettengill, for passing $50 counterfeit greenbacks in Springfield, Mass., on Tuesday, was convicted in the U. S. District Court, Boston, and sentenced to three years in the Dedham jail. Pettengill, we are told, was formerly a substitute broker in this city.

☞ We acknowledge numerous courtesies at the hands of Chas. G. Conner, Esq., Clerk of the S. J. Court, during its long session in this city—now in its sixth week.

☞ Wednesday, Nov. 20th, gave us a couple of inches of snow—just enough to spoil the promise of skating for the boys.

500 MILES

OF THE

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD.

Running West from Omaha

ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

ARE NOW COMPLETED.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company have built a longer line of railroad in the last eighteen months than was ever built by any other company in the same time, and they will continue the work with the same energy until it is completed. The Western Division is being pushed rapidly eastward from Sacramento by the Central Pacific Company of California, and it is expected that

THE ENTIRE GRAND LINE

to the Pacific will be open for travel in 1870.—More than one-third of the work has already been done, more than one-third of the whole line is now in running order, and more laborers are now employed upon it than ever before. More than have already been expended by this two powerful companies that have undertaken the enterprise, and there is no lack of funds for its most vigorous prosecution. When the United States Government found it necessary to secure the construction of the Union Pacific Railroad to develop and protect mails own interest, it granted the companies authorized to build it such ample aid as should render its speedy completion beyond a doubt.—The available means of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, derived from the Government and its own stockholders, may be briefly summed up as follows:

Forty Million Dollars in Money

1.—UNITED STATES BONDS

Having thirty years to run and being six per cent. currency interest at the rate of $16,000 per mile for 247 miles on the Plains; then at the rate of $48,000 per mile for 150 miles through the Rocky Mountains; then at the rate of $32,000 per mile for the remaining distance, for which the United States takes a second lien as security. The interest on these bonds is paid by the United States government, which also pays the company one-half the amount of its bills in money for transportation its freight, troops, mails, &c. The remaining half of these bills is placed to the company's credit, and forms a sinking fund which will pay the principle on the whole amount of this lien. The claims against the government since April of the current year amount to four and one-half times this interest.

2.—FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS.

By its charter the Company is permitted to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to the same amount as the bonds issued by the Government, and no more, and only as we road progresses. The interest on the bondholders are the Hon. D. D. Morgan, U. S. Senator from New York, and the Hon. Oakes Ames, Member of U. S. House of Representatives, who are responsible for the delivery of these bonds to the Company in accordance with the terms of the law.

3.—THE LAND GRANT.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company has a land grant or absolute donation from the government of 12,800 acres to the mile on the line of the road, which will not be worth less than $1.50 at the lowest valuation.

4.—THE CAPITAL STOCK.

The authorized capital of the Union Pacific Railroad Company is $100,000,000, of which over $6,000,000 have been paid on the work already done.

The Means Sufficient to Build the Road.

Contracts for the entire work of building 914 miles of first-class railroad west from Omaha, comprising much of the most difficult mountain work, and embracing every expense except surveying, have been made with responsible parties (who have already finished over 500 miles), at the average rate of sixty-eight thousand and fifty-eight dollars ($68,058) per mile. This price includes all necessary shops for construction and repairs of cars, depots, stations and all other incidental buildings, and also locomotives, passenger, baggage and freight cars and other rolling stock, to an amount that shall not be less than $6,000 per mile. Allowing the cost of the remaining one hundred and eighty-six miles of eleven hundred miles assumed to be built by the Pacific Company to be $60,000 per mile,

THE TOTAL COST OF ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES WILL BE AS FOLLOWS:

914 miles, at $68,058.....$62,205,012
186 miles, at 60,000.....11,160,000
Add discounts on bonds, surveys, &c. ' 4,500,000

Amount.....$82,845,012

As the U. S. Bonds are equal to money, and the Company's own First Mortgage Bonds have a ready market, we have as the

AVAILABLE CASH RESOURCES for BUILDING ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES:

U. S. Bonds.....$29,328,000
First Mortgage Bonds.....29,328,000
Cash actually paid in on the work now done.....5,329,750
Land Grant, 14,080,000 acres, at 1.00 per acre.....14,080,000

Total.....$85,145,750

The Company have ample means for supplying any deficiency that may arise in means for construction. This may be done wholly or in part by additional subscriptions to capital stock.

Active inquiry has already been made for a portion of these lands, and arrangements are now proposed to offer a part of them for sale. While the whole value will not be available for many years to come, they will remain a very important source of revenue to the Company. The lands of the Illinois Central Railroad Company are selling at from $6 to $12 per acre, and other land grant companies in the west are receiving equal prices for similar properties.

Future Business.

The most skeptical have never expressed a doubt that when the Union Pacific Railroad is finished there will be a large business to be done over it, as the only railroad connecting the two grand divisions of the North American continent will be one of the richest and most valuable transportation; and as it will have no competitor, it can always charge remunerative rates. The Pacific Mail Steamship Company of New York is now running a regular line of its splendid steamers between San Francisco and China and Japan, which is doubtless the pioneer of many others that will traverse the Pacific Ocean laden with the teas, spices and other products of Eastern Asia. Excepting some very heavy or bulky articles of comparatively low values, shortness of time decides the direction of freights, and most of these will find it their natural transit over the Union Pacific Railroad.

It is quite within bounds to say that its traffic will be limited only by the capacity of the line, and that no other road will find a double track so necessary. California and Oregon must not only be supplied with means of transport for passengers, mail, treasure and other articles, but the inhabitants of Dacotah, Colorado, Utah, Idaho and Montana will communicate with the older States almost entirely by that road. It will be the avenue to all the great mining district, which is only awaiting this ready means of communication to receive a population that will develop the vast mineral and other resources, and which of itself would furnish ample business for a railway line.

Earnings from Way Business.

While the through business of the Company will be amply remunerative, it is still in the future, but the local business on the part of the road in operation has been most satisfactory.

During the quarter ending July 31, an average of 225 miles of the Union Pacific Railroad was in operation. The Superintendent's Report shows the following results:

EARNINGS.

Passengers, Freight, Telegraph, Mails.....$722,755 54
Transportation of Contractors' Material and men.....478,283 41

Total.....$1,201,038 95

EXPENSES.

Fuel, Repairs, Offices, Conductors, Trains, &c.....$356,530 92
Net Earnings to balance.....807,508 03

Total.....$1,201,038 95

The net operating expenses on the commercial business for the quarter were $427,966 50. The account for the COMMERCIAL BUSINESS stands as follows:

Earnings for May, June and July.....$733,755 54
Expenses.....357,966 50

Net Profit.....$365,789 04

The amount of bonds the company can issue on 225 miles at $16,000 per mile is $3,600,000. Interest in gold, three months at 6 per cent, on the sum is $78,000; add 40 per cent premium, to correspond with currency earnings, is $109,200—showing that the net earnings for the quarter were more than four times the interest on the First Mortgage Bonds on this length of road.

First Mortgage Bonds,

whose principal is so amply provided for, and whose interest is so thoroughly secured, must be classed among the safest investments. They pay

Six Per Cent. in Gold,

and are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, and accrued interest at Six Per Cent in currency from July 1.

Many parties are taking advantage of the present high price of Government stocks to exchange for these bonds, which are over FIFTEEN PER CENT. CHEAPER, and at the current rate of premium on gold, pay

Over Nine Per Cent. Interest.

SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received in Portsmouth by FIRST NATIONAL BANK, and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau street, and by

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS,

THE

CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,

THE WESTERN HALF OF THE

GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE

ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

being constructed with the AID and SUPERVISION OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the most IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD, as it is the sole link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense Overland travel must pass, and the Principal Portion of the Main Steam Line between the Two Oceans.

Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Pacific, eastward across the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, contiguous to all the great Mining Regions of the Far West, and will meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. About 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the summit of the Sierra Nevadas. Within a few days 35 miles, now graded, will be added, and the track carried entirely across the mountains to a point in the Great Salt Lake Valley. Hence further progress will be easy and rapid. Iron, materials and equipment are ready at hand for 300 miles of track, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction.

The local business upon the completed portion surpasses all previous estimates, and figures for the quarter ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

Gross Earnings.	Operating Expenses.	Net Earnings.
$487,579 61	$86,54847	$401,031 17

or at the rate of two millions per annum, of which more than three-fourths are net profit on less than 100 miles worked. This is upon the actual, legitimate traffic of the road, with its terminal points and its connections only the normal ratio of government transportation, and is exclusive of the materials carried for the further extension of the road.

The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $125,000.

Add to this an ever-expanding through traffic and the immense profits of the future business become immense.

The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward UNTIL it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain range.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between the San Francisco and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the Central Pacific will have under its control a population of 865 miles $28,592,000, or at the average rate of $33,000 per mile—not including an absolute grant of 10,000,000 acres of land on Public Lands. By becoming a joint investor in the magnificent enterprise, and by waiving its claim to the Land Grant, the First Mortgage Bondholders, the GENERAL GOVERNMENT IS EXPECTED TO INVITE THE CO-OPERATION OF PRIVATE CAPITALISTS, and has carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

The Company offer for sale, through us, their

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds.

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York city. They are in sums of $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are offered, for the present at 95 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st added in currency, at which rate they yield nearly Nine per Cent. upon their investment.

These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as the Bonds granted by the United States, and are secured, as to said issue, by a first lien upon a completed, equipped and productive railroad, in which have been invested Government bonds, their subsidies, donations, sinking funds, surplus earnings, etc., and which is worth more than three times the amount of First Mortgage Bonds which can hereafter issue upon it.

The Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds have all the assurances, sanctions and guaranties of the Government and the Act of Congress, and are in addition several noticable advantages over all other classes of railroad bonds.

First—They are the superior claim upon altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the through line.

Second—Beside the fullest benefit of the Government subsidy, (which is a subordinate lien,) the road receives the benefit of large donations from California.

Third—Only half the whole cost of grading 800 miles eastward of San Francisco is concentrated upon the 150 miles now about completed.

Fourth—A local business already yielding threefold the annual interest liabilities, with advantageous rates payable in coin.

Fifth—The principal as well as the interest of its Bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds to Trustees, Executors, Institutions and others as an eminently sound, reliable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

PATENTED JUNE 18, 1867.

This celebrated Patent Skirt is pronounced by hundreds of ladies who have given it a thorough trial, to excel all other Skirts ever offered to the public. The chief points of its excellence are, PERFECTION IN FIT, upon a new principle just invented. Equal distribution of weight around the waist-band, so that every skirt is PERFECTLY BALANCED. Entire Freedom from cluster to Under Clothing. The Bustle Springs are fastened together in front, and made as one complete hoop. A double support down the front of the skirt where support is most needed. PREVENTS the Skirt from SAGGING. Every Skirt is stamped with its positive waist-size and length upon the band, and the relative proportion of the hoops to the waist-band is perfect in every Skirt. It is Absolutely INDISPENSABLE to the Hoops to work up around the wearer while standing or sitting in a crowd. Sold at BACHMAN & CO'S, o29 Portsmouth, N. H.

Morning Chronicle.

THE PROHIBITORY LIQUOR LAW.—The Watchman and Reflector, the leading organ of the Baptists in New England, has the following remarks upon the popular verdict in the recent election, and of the duty of temperance men, in the aspect of affairs:

It was a mistake to enact a law of such extreme provisions that men of the highest moral worth could honestly condemn it; that religious men, faithful ministers of Christ, could array themselves against it in their very fidelity to their Master. These men may have been in the wrong, but they were at least so honestly, and the attitude of a few such weighed more against the law than ten times the number of equally good men could weigh in its favor.

It is, in the first place, to secure the wisest and most effective license law that is possible under the circumstances. Let us comprehend the difference between what is abstractly best and what is practically feasible. Let us extremists recognize the difference between a legistative hail and a pulpit. Let the minority labor in unison with good and true men in the majority to give us such a law as will limit the dire evil of intemperance within the narrowest bounds.

It is, in the second place, to feel more fully than ever before the presence of the moral demands imposed by the temperance reform.

☞ At a celebration of the recent Copperhead victories by the pupils of a female seminary at Georgetown, in Kentucky, all the girls were required to wear the rebel badge—red, white and red—on their arms. One young lady who refused was threatened with punishment for noncompliance. The Lexington Statesman says the girl persisted in her refusal and threw the emblem into the fire. It is asserted that the school girls were instructed to provide themselves with Confederate flags. The masculine students of the Agricultural College of Kentucky University, at Lexington, seem animated by the same spirit. The flag, which has been raised over the college, was torn down on Saturday night and afterward found on the street with the following notice pinned to it: "No negro bureau flag shall float over the Agricultural College while I am a student of the same. A Lover of Right." Comment is needless.

CHIVALRY.—Was there ever before such an impudent pretense as that of the Southerners to the sole inheritance in these degenerate days, of the old times chivalry and knighthood. How ludicrous is the contrast between these two passages; the first a newspaper of last week; and the other from the old ballad of "Robin Hood's Death:"—Tribune.

SOUTHERN CHIVALRY, XIXTH CENTURY.

"As E. A. Pollard was passing the Maltby House he was approached by the son and nephew of H. A. Wise, each of whom fired a shot at Pollard, one of the shots passing through his right arm, he having his wife on his left arm at the time."

ENGLISH CHIVALRY, XIITH CENTURY.

Robin Hood has been bled to death by the Prioress of Kirkley Abbey, and Little John wants "—to burn fair Kirkley Hall

And all their nunnery."

"Now nay, now nay," quoth Robin Hood,
That boon I'll not grant thee;
I never hurt woman in all my life,
Nor man, in woman's company."

THE BEST EDUCATION.—They say that apprenticeship is distasteful to and out of fashion with the boys of our days; if so, I regret it for their sakes. To the youth who asks, "How shall I obtain an education?" I would answer, "Learn a trade of a good master." I hold firmly that boys may thus better acquire the knowledge they need than by spending four years in college.—Autobiography of Horace Greeley.

—There are 414 names on the voting list in Essex, Mass., more than half of which are comprised in four family names: 108 Burnhams, 46 Storys, 41 Andrews and 21 Lows.

—An American invention for instantaneously lowering and detaching small boats from the side of a vessel when under full headway, has been adopted by the French navy, after trial by the French fleet at Toulon.

A SAFE CERTAIN AND Speedy Cure FOR Neuralgia, AND ALL Nervous DISEASES.

Its Effects are Magical.

It is an UNFAILING REMEDY in all cases of Neuralgia Facialis, often effecting a perfect cure in less that twenty-four hours, from the use of no more than TWO OR THREE PILLS.

No other form of Neuralgia or Nervous Disease has failed to yield to this WONDERFUL REMEDIAL AGENT.

Even in the severest cases of Chronic Neuralgia and general nervous derangements—of many years standing—affecting the entire system, its use for a few days, or a few weeks at the utmost, always affords the most astonishing relief, and very rarely fails to produce a complete and permanent cure.

It contains no drugs or other materials in the slightest degree injurious, even to the most delicate system, and can ALWAYS be used with PERFECT SAFETY.

It has long been in constant use by many of our MOST EMINENT PHYSICIANS,

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE.
Prescribed by Physicians for
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS AND INVALIDS.
As a Tonic, it has no equal, causing a good appetite and building up the system of the most debilitated.
As a Diuretic it imparts a healthy action to the Glands, Kidneys and Urinary Organs; and as a Stimulant
to Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.
As a Blood Purifier, it is superior, being one of the best alteratives known in the medical pharmacopoia.
The qualities of SAMBUCI are "multum in parvo," being a sure cure for Dropsy, Diuretic, Alterative, Diaphoretic and Soporific.
N. B.—Vinum bonum bonum sanguinem facit.
SPEER'S SAMBUCI is a pure juice wine with a fine flavor, rich body and pleasant aroma. It is peculiarly adapted for weak and debilitated persons, the aged and infirm, and benefitting ladies and children.
Be sure the signature of ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J., is over the cork of the bottle.

The Chronicle.

—Clerical rates—Curates.—N. Y. Gaz.

—Baron Von Havre, Secretary of the Belgium Legation, is about to marry one of the lady clerks in the Treasury Department.

—The debts of President Lincoln, when he was killed, amounted to thirty-eight dollars and thirty-one cents. Few men in public life keep their accounts so strictly in hand.

—A rumor comes from New Orleans that the Ghioni opera troupe, containing over 20 persons, have been murdered by Mexican bandi tti.

—There is a strong counter-current in the tide of Irish emigration, and many steamers bound for the old country take out four hundred or more returning emigrants.

—One of the oldest inhabitants says that for thirty years he does not remember of the mercury running so low for twenty-four hours so early in November as on Monday.

—The French Exhibition having closed on the 4th inst., the Paris newspapers congratulate the Parisians upon the happy prospect of being delivered for a time from the visits of their provincial cousins, who have lived upon their metropolitan relatives.

—In a pecuniary point the Pope would make a nice financial operation by allowing the King of Italy to appropriate his kingdom. The Roman States owe a debt of four hundred and sixty million of francs, and the ordinary revenue scarcely pays the interest on the debt.

—A diminutive colored man, about 50 years of age, living in Frogtown, southwest of the Capitol, Washington, and well known to many of the residents of that locality as "Jeff," is now living with his third wife, and has been the father of thirty children. Of the thirty all were boys, with one exception.

—Recently, as a Gloucester furniture dealer was repairing a sofa, he discovered a valuable gold chain under the cushion. Upon making inquiries he learned that the lady who owned the sofa had lost the chain twelve years ago, and its disappearance had always remained a mystery.

—By an incendiary fire on Sunday morning, the barn of Harvey Chase at Valley Falls, R. I. was entirely destroyed. There were also burned three horses, two cows and five swine, the hay with which the barn was filled, and a considerable quantity of grain. Lost $4000, and no insurance.

—The farm connected with the Agricultural College at Amherst (locally nicknamed and known as the "Bucolic Institute"), has produced this year 225 tons of hay, 70 tons of corn fodder and straw, 700 bushels of oats, 900 bushels of corn, 400 bushels of potatoes, 500 bushels of turnips, and 160 bushels of squashes.

— John Hale, the "veteran horse thief" of Maine, who has spent fifty of his eighty years in a state prison, has wealthy relatives who would gladly give him a home. He said to an acquaintance a short time since that if he could only die with a stolen horse in his possession before he was detected by the owner, he should be perfectly happy.

—The Duke of Argyll tells a good story. He was travelling with the Duke of Northumberland in a first class carriage on the North-eastern Railway. At one of the stations a little commercial traveller got in. The three chatted familiarly until the train stopped at Alnwick Junction. Here the Duke of Northumberland got out, and was met by a train of flunkeys and servants. The traveller said to his remaining companion, "That must be some great swell." The Duke replied that he was the Duke of Northumberland. "Bless me," exclaimed the bagman, "and to think that he should have been so affable to two little snobs like us!"

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.
The following names from its large list of purchasers are given for reference:

WHAT NORAH SAID.
The REPLY OF "NORAH O'NEAL," as sung with great applause at Public Concerts. The music by W. S. WELLMAN, Jr.
"Is it lonely ye are then without me,
Only wait, and I'll come bye and bye;
For meself 's just entirely as lonely,
And darling, I give sigh for sigh.
And would ye then wait till to-morrow,
While the moon shines in heaven so bright,
And the lane and the kiss so convenient,
Wont I meet you, my darling, to-night."
Price 35 cts. Sent post-paid. OLIVER DITSON & CO. Publishers, 277 Washington street, Boston.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1867

☞ The Boston Journal of Thursday says:

The State Temperance Alliance yesterday resolved that they are "unalterably opposed" to a license law. The people of Massachusetts, by their votes, have said they are in favor of such a law. The people must rule.

No doubt the people will rule,—and no doubt their representatives will make a license law in Massachusetts the coming winter. We shall see what it is, and in the course of a year or two, how it works. If they do any good by it, no citizens will be more rejoiced than those who have opposed it. We shall see.

GEN. SHERMAN recently made an eloquent speech before the Army of Tennessee, in which he reviewed some of the stirring scenes of the late war which put down the rebellion. In it he discusses, as follows, the question, Will the Rebels Regain their "Lost Cause?"

"I have often been asked by my fellow-soldiers, when troubled by the reports of the disturbed condition of things at the South, whether, after all, our labors had not been in vain? Whether we might not again be called on to repeat the scenes of 1865 and 1864? Or whether the rebels, defeated in battle, might not in the burly-burly of time and politics regain their "lost cause," and their lost pride?

On these points I feel no great solicitude, but whether I can convey to your minds the same conviction I will not say. History rarely goes backward, and events in the west are usually as real as the granite rock which we stand. Surely, no men ever had a more glorious cause than we, and ever, in my judgment, did war so completely fulfil its natural office. When we laid down our arms and each man returned to his chosen vocation, not an armed rebel remained to question the national authority; and if perfect subordination and tranquility have not resulted, we must look for the cause in the nature of things, or in the civil administration of our Government. The former lays within my province, but the latter is not a fair topic of discussion for the soldier, who is sworn to obey the laws of his country duly enacted, and the orders of his superiors. * * *

Look to the South, and you who went with me through that land can best say if they too have not been fearfully punished. Mourning in every household, desolation written in broad characters across the whole face of their country, cities in ashes and fields laid waste, their commerce gone, their system of labor annihilated and destroyed. Ruin, poverty and distress everywhere, and now pestilence adding the very cup sheaf to their stack of misery; her proud men begging for pardon and appealing for permission to raise food for their children; her five million of slaves free, their value lost to their former masters forever. How any Southern gentleman, with these facts, plain and palpable, everywhere staring him in the face and recorded forever in the book of history can still boast of his "Lost Cause," or speak of it in language other then of shame and sorrow, passes my understanding, and instead of being revived, I know that their Lost Cause will sink deeper and deeper into infamy as time more keenly probes its hidden mysteries and reveals them to the light of day.

If our friends at the South will heartily and cheerfully join with us in this future course, I, for one, would welcome them back, our equals, but not our superiors, and lend them a helping hand. But, if like spoiled children, they will cling to the dead past and shut their eyes to the coming future, I would only call their attention to that wave of emigration that has swept over our land from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and must soon turn back and flow South. They may oppose, but their opposition will be as vain as it was for them to try and stop the army of the Tennessee, which swept the length and breadth of their land. The next war of Northern invasion will not desolate their land, but will fructify and regenerate it."

—A poor vagabond in England was recently sentenced to three months' imprisonment, with hard labor, for the crime of sleeping in a gentleman's barn.

—Mrs. Mary Clark, widow of Ichabod Clark of North Berwick, Me., died recently, aged 92 years. She was the mother of twelve children, her descendents of three generations numbering 225. Fifty of them were soldiers in the Union army.

—There is a great deal of property in the New Orleans real estate market seeking purchasers. There is also an unusual number of houses and stores to be rented. Prices are a little lower than they were last year.

— The New York Herald suggests that it is the opponents of Gen. Grant who object to his silence on political topics, and that they are filled with the spirit which animated Job when he exclaimed, "Oh, that mine enemy would write a book."

—It is said in Washington, on the strength of private correspondence from Mexico, that Juarez has agreed to permit the transportation of military stores through Mexican territory to Arizona, by the United States.

—Alexander T. Stewart, the famous dry goods millionaire of New York, it is said, will erect a block of dwellings to cost $1,000,000, and to be forever the home of the workingwomen of New York. It is to be a home where women may find food and shelter at prices within their reach, and whatever revenue it may yield is to be employed in the erection of other like institutions.

NEW HAMPSHIRE Democrats have put one of the most consistent and persistent of Copperheads in nomination for Governor. The Republicans, with Onslow Stearns as their candidate, can easily defeat him.—Boston Transcript.

Yes, Mr. Transcript, but the Republicans, with Walter Harriman, the present able and honored chief magistrate, as their candidate, would make the defeat surer and the majorities larger. We look for his certain re-nomination and re-election. Stearns is persistent in his endeavors, having been prominent for years, but railroad men are at a discount in the Granite State just now. The time was when they controlled the political destinies of New Hampshire,—one manager going so far as to declare that his road "carried the Legislature in his breeches pocket"—but the yoke bore too hard and the people threw it off, and since that time have wisely fought shy of railroad monopolies.

If certain signs, which seldom fail, (even in dry weather,) are to be relied upon, the political finger indicates Adj. Gen. Nott Head—the most popular man in the State —as the one to succeed Hadriman,—not this year, but next. Energetic, progressive and capable, Gen. Head would make a model Governor.—Salem Enterprise.

☞ In the case of steamer "Lady of the Lake," which was burned to the water's edge, last week, while at her wharf at Wolfeborough, the origin of the fire is unknown. It was first discovered by the engineer, who gave the alarm and aroused the other persons sleeping on the boat, consisting of Capt. Sanborn and crew, all of whom barely had time to save themselves, excepting the pilot, who got out his trunk. We regret to learn that Capt. Sanborn lost all his clothing and about $700 in money.—The boat arrived about 5 o'clock the previous evening, and as late as 8 o'clock the engineer examined the engine-room and boilers, and discovered nothing out of the way. The boat had been thoroughly repaired within a year, and was worth probably from $20,000 to $25,000. She was insured for $13,000.

REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE.—At Concord Wednesday evening one of the largest and most enthusiastic meetings ever held by the Republican State Committee in New Hampshire held sessions at the Phœnix Hotel. Hon. Austin F. Pike of Franklin, Chairman. Nearly every member of the Committee was present, together with a large delegation of prominent Republicans from all quarters of the State. The first business transacted was the fixing the times and places for the conventions:

STATE CONVENTION.—At Concord, Wednesday, December 18.

COUNCILLOR CONVENTIONS.—District No. 1; At Exeter, January 9.

SENATORIAL CONVENTIONS.—District No. 1; at South Newmarket, January 10.
Second—At Kingston, January 10.
Fifth—At Rochester, December 20.
Sixth—At Alton, December 19.

COUNTY CONVENTIONS.—Rockingham —At Exeter, January 9.
Strafford—At Rochester, December 20.
Belknap—At Gilford, December 21.
Carroll—At Tamworth, December 24.

The preliminary arrangements were then made for an active, thorough and energetic political campaign.

About twenty influential and well posted gentlemen addressed the meeting on the present political situation in the State, giving their views as to the best manner of conducting the present contest.

In was the opinion of all present that Gov. Harriman's majority of last year can be largely increased in the approaching election. A committee was sent out to invite His Excellency to address the Convention. The Governor responded in person and made some brief but spirited and eloquent remarks.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—The old Depot and other Buildings at the Boston & Maine Railroad, at Exeter, were sold at auction last week.

A man in Chester says that on Tuesday at daybreak his thermometer stood at 7°; at day-light, 5½°; at seven in the evening, 8°; at eight o'clock, 8°, and at 9, 7°. At two o'clock on Wednesday morning it marked 5½°; at seven o'clock 16°, and after sunrise 20°.

☞ The Salem Enterprise nominates Natt Head for our next Governor Of course Gov. Harriman will be put in, another year, and we have thought it probable that Mr. Stearns would succeed him. Natt is a young man yet, and a live one.

☞ Gen. Mower, at New Orleans, has just issued an order removing several justices and clerks, who were "obstructions" in the way of reconstruction, and appointing others to their places.

—The cannibals of Fiji have murdered and eaten Rev. S. Baker, a Wesleyan missionary, and six Christian natives. A British gunboat has gone to punish the murderers.

— The official vote of the State of Georgia is as follows: Number of registered voters 188,647; votes cast 106,410; for Convention 102,283; against 4127; majority for Convention 98,156; number of whites voting for Convention about 36,500.

— Advices from Chili announce the wreck of the American ship Asia near Cape Horn, August 21st, bound for California and loaded with coal. Captain Cousen and 18 of the crew have reached Valparaiso. They were cast on a small island with only one barrel of biscuit, where they remained 20 days, suffering terrible hardships before they were rescued.

ENCOUNTER WITH ROUGHS.—About 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Thomas Norton, tailor, was quietly passing along Myrtle street, Boston, where he was met by three roughs, one of whom asked if he had any shoe strings to sell, and at the same moment attempted to grap a pair of pants which Norton had on his arm. Norton pushed the fellow away, and was instantly knocked down. He regained his feet, when another of the party knocked him down the second time, but Norton immediately got up, and drawing his knife stabbed the last assailant in the lower part of the abdomen, so that a portion of his entrails protruded from the wound. This fellow proved to be Michael Foley, alias Timothy Scanlan, and his wound was considered of so serious a nature that he was conveyed to the City Hospital. The two accomplices of Foley were subsequently arrested, and gave their names as Wm. H. Kelly and Wm. McCarty. Norton sustains a good reputation, and he deserves credit for his vigorous defence and his severe treatment of the robber.

CABLE ITEMS.—At London, Nov. 19, Parliament was opened in accordance with the Royal proclamation. The Queen was not present, and a Royal Commission read the speech from the throne, which is in substance as follows:

"King Theodore having rejected all the demands of Great Britain for the release of her subjects, cruelly and without just cause imprisoned by him, Her Majesty has ordered an effective but to send a military expedition to Abyssinia, and reference is made to the supply bills needful to defray the expenses of the war.

The invasion of the Papal territory is now over, and the hope is expressed that the Emperor Napoleon will soon withdraw his forces from Italy, and avoid unfriendly relations with Victor Emanuel.

Fenianism repressed in Ireland, has taken the form of organized violence and murder in England, where it must also be suppressed by the firm fulfillment of the law and by the loyalty of the people."

The speech concludes with the promise that Her Majesty's Government will bring before Parliament Reform bills for Scotland and Ireland and other domestic measures of an important character.

In the House of Commons, Lord Stanley made some explanations of recent events on the Continent. He said England had been invited to join a general European Conference, but had refused to do so unless a distinct plan of action was first proposed. Lord Stanley thought that participation in such a Congress would only add to the responsibility of England without doing any good.

Inquiry was made as to whether the Government had received any official information of the reported calamity at the island of Tortola. Mr. Adderly, Under Sec. for the Colonies, replied that the Colonial Office had received no such advices from its correspondents in the West Indies, and said that the story of the disappearance of the island beneath the sea was doubtless a great canard.

The Bank of Italy is about to issue notes of the denomination of one franc each, to supply the deficiency in the smaller metallic currency.

The speech of the Emperor Napoleon at the opening of the French Chambers pleases the Italians, who believe that the ultimate gratification of the wishes of Italy is implied in the words of the Emperor, if not actually promised.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the New York Times says that Gen. Grant's testimony before the Judiciary Committee was neither radical nor conservative; it was a plain, business-like statement of his views, brought out by a catechism from a Democratic member. It will not make a sensation, and very likely it will disappoint some people with "great expectations;" but it will add to Gen. Grant's reputation for practical wisdom, moderation and commonsense.

FALSE REPORT.—A dispatch from Richmond, Va., a day or two since, reported that a negro in that city made an incendiary speech. It turns out that he was only repeating the language of the Examiner, which had said that the streets of Richmond would run with blood, and then said if that issue were forced upon them by the whites, they (the blacks) must meet it.

—Most of the Democratic officeholders in Kentucky of the Union wing of the party have been removed, and their places filled with rebels and their sympathizers.

—The Ponds on the Common and Public Garden, Boston, were well covered with young skaters Wednesday, sundry of whom slid into unfrozen spots and came out very damp. The police urgently insisted that all such should go home instanter, and generally they did. Thin ice is apt to be slippery.

—In northeastern Sweden an early frost this year has ruined the corn crop, in consequence of which a population of seventy thousand is left without provisions in the long winter of the high latitudes. Already bread can hardly be bought, and the peasants are eking out life with roots and the bark of trees.

A DEAR ARTICLE.—Whoever buys common soap gets a dear article. Those who insist upon the grocers supplying Pyle's O. K. Soap, which is pure and hard, and good for laundry, bath or toilet, effect a saving of vast importance. 29

Departed spirits of the mighty Dead,
Behold what pies and cakes and bread
Mothers feed their children!

If parents knew what poisons they fed their young in adulterated food, they would not wonder at decayed teeth, weak eyes and premature decay in their children. Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is warranted, not only perfectly pure, but to produce, when used according to directions, nicer, lighter and more inviting food than any other saleratus or soda. 9

—Prof. Loomis suggests a very uncomfortable theory with regard to the safety of the earth itself. He thinks it not impossible that sufficient steam might be generated in the burning centre of the world to blow the whole globe to pieces.

DR. J. F. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

FARNVILLE, Louisiana, March 4, 1860.

DR. T. ALLCOCK, SIR: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart, and have tried everything known, the puzzle of medicine from the very best M. D.'s; but truth prompts me to say that your Plasters have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a permanent cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your Plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they do invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and carry off all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours very truly,

Holloway's Pills and Ointment.—Neuralgia, the Dolloureux. The doctrine that quinine and carbonate of iron were the only remedies for the dolorous neuralgia is now exploded. Holloway's Ointment will procure the speediest alleviation of pain, and a few applications suffice for a permanent cure. Thousands who have experienced a radical benefit from its use are prepared to vouch for the correctness of this statement. In gout, rheumatism, lumbago and sciatica, it is equally efficacious. AMERICAN

WATCHES.

The true value of Machinery applied to Watchmaking is not that by its use watches are rapidly made, but that they are made correctly. Few people know why a Waltham Watch should be superior to any other. In the first place, a Waltham Watch is regarded as only a machine, to be constructed like any other machine, on mechanical principles. If the watches are good, it is because the machines are good. Of course there must be no defect in the principle or plan of the movement—no mistake in the sizes or shapes of the piece of steel or wheel composed—nothing wanting in their properties, and no error in their positions. These points once thoroughly tested and proved to agree with the theory, constructed with infinite diversity of form and function expressly for the purpose, to produce the finished pieces. By means of multiplying gauges and microscopes, tests and inspection for the detection of wear in the cutting tools, and for faults in the pieces, a piece of steel or wheel is accompany the work in every stage from beginning to end. As a necessary result, the watch goes together a perfected machine. Every part is formed to fit properly in its place. Every pin may be pushed till it pinches, and every screw turned home, instead of a struggle and feeling of strain, the balance, even under the pressure of the lightest mainspring, vibrates with a wide and free motion, and the ear hears the clear, ringing sound always characteristic of the Waltham Watch. The machine is a timekeeper from the start.

The system of watchmaking is unknown in foreign countries, and is confined exclusively to the Waltham Company. The Company claim that by it they produce watches that cannot be equalled for cheapness and quality which makes a watch valuable. Simple in plan and correct in principle, the movement is not only beautifully finished, substantial, accurate and strong, but it is uniform in the minutest details, not easily damaged, and when repaired always as good as new. There are different grades of finish in the different varieties of watches made by the Waltham Company, as there are different sizes and shapes to suit all tastes and means; but every watch that bears the genuine trade-mark of "WALTHAM" is guaranteed to be a good one, and nobody need be afraid to buy it.

Every Watch fully Warranted.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!
THE REMEDY FOR CURING
Consumption, Asthma, Croup, Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppressions of the Chest or Lungs, Difficult Breathing, and all Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

Its action is expectorant, alterative, sudorific, sedative, diaphoretic and diuretic, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm; CLEANSES THE STOMACH AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action and imparts strength to the whole system. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction, even in the most confirmed cases of consumption, and not to produce costiveness (as do most remedies) or effect the head, as it contains no opium in any form. It is PECULIARLY ADAPTED to the most delicate child, although an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. There is no necessity for so many deaths by consumption, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if on taken in time.

SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS.
A Certain Cure for Diseased Liver and the many Derangements and Maladies which are caused by a morbid condition of that organ.

To give the public a clear understanding of the mode in which SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS produce those wonderful effects which are attested by thousands of reliable witnesses, we present a brief and its functions, which will make the operation of this powerful medicine perceptible to every man's understanding.

The liver is supplied with blood vessels, nerves and absorbents, like other organs, and has to secrete and prepare the bile. It likewise filters the blood and separates that fluid from all impurities. Hence the necessity of a healthy liver to the proper performance of this function! If the liver is diseased, it cannot purify the blood, and if that is sent through the lungs, brain and other parts in a morbid condition, the consequence is jaundice, biliousness, obstruction of the kidneys, gravel, and many other complaints more or less painful and dangerous. But a little of this bile in enough to make a man sick and uncomfortable, and unfit for the performance of any of the duties of life. And when the whole mass of the system very often ends in pulmonary consumption.

The circulation of the blood is conducted in this manner:—The heart sends the vital current down through the arteries; it passes through the flesh, taking up all impurities in its progress; then the mixed blood passes back through the veins, and passes to the liver to be purified. It is impossible to cure consumption, scrofula, or scarcely any other kind of disease while the liver, the important organ, the liver, is diseased. It is for that reason that "regular physicians" rarely cure consumption. They usually begin their treatment with the use of some cough medicine, the base of which is morphia or opium in some shape, which looks up the liver instead of relaxing the secretions, giving a tone to the stomach, and producing a healthy flow of bile. Dr. Schenck's will strengthen the system, purify the blood, and ripen and heal ulcers on the lungs.

A volume would be required to give a brief account of the remarkable cures performed by Dr. Schenck's medicines, viz: Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills—all of which are accompanied by full directions for the use of them.

DR. SCHENCK will be professionally at his rooms every week, 32 Bond street, New York, and 36 Hanover street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer the charge is five (5) dollars. His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers. Also a full supply at all times at his rooms. Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each $1 50 per bottle, or $7 50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT, Doe, J.—Angell H. Jacobs and John C. Jacobsen vs. A. J. Shorey and N. F. Mathes. This is an action brought to recover the amount of two notes given by Shorey to the plaintiffs, (who are wholesale liquor dealers in New York,) for goods bought by Shorey in his own name. The plaintiffs contend that Mathes was a copartner with Shorey, and liable as such. Shorey has become defaulted, and appeared as a witness. Evidence was offered to prove that his reputation for truth was bad. The alleged copartnership was denied by Mathes. The case was given to the jury on Wednesday evening, after which the court arose and adjourned to this morning, when the counsel addressed the jury. Then follow the usual charge of the court, and the jury retired. Verdict for plaintiffs.—Hatch for plaintiffs, Wheeler of Dover, Frink, and William H. Hackett for Mathes.

Thursday afternoon,—Simes & Farley vs. Wm. P. Healey. This is an action of review. The plaintiffs are tea merchants in Boston, and in 1863 sold one J. F. Hickey, whom they knew, 13 chests of tea, for which he gave a note signed J. F. Hickey & Co. The plaintiffs claim that Healey was a partner of Hickey, who turned out insolvent, and the plaintiff sued Healey.—The evidence was mostly as to statements of Hickey and Healey. Healey denied the existence of a partnership at the time the goods were sold. The goods were consigned by Hickey to a broker in New Orleans, who sold them for his account and paid proceeds to him, and never went into Healey's possession, and he was not aware of the purchase of the tea. Goodall for plaintiff, Hackett for defendant. Verdict for defendant.

Charles Tuttle vs. Chas. W. Carter.—Action of trevor for one gold watch worth $200 and $25 in National Bank notes, property of the plaintiff, which he delivered to deft. in exchange for a booby hack which Carter proposes to sell to Tuttle, and which T. claims was not as valuable as represented. Tuttle is a hotel keeper at Amesbury, and claims that he came to Portsmouth and found the property of a very poor quality, and not worth over $25. Defence, trade made on Sunday. Mace and Hatch for plaintiff, Frink for defendant.

A REMARKABLE CASE OF ABSENT-MINDEDNESS.—A man from a neighboring town came to our city within a few days, with a horse and baggage wagon, with the intention of purchasing a load of barrels,—not whiskey barrels, but apple barrels. He hitched his horse—which, by the way, was a borrowed team—on Market street, and commenced perambulating the place in search of his load; but strange it is to say, that in the evening he made his way home, some three or four miles, on foot, and did not discover his mistake until he arrived there, when he had to retrace his march in pursuit of his team,—which had been taken by the humane to one of our city stables, and comfortably housed from the pelting snow storm.

This reminds us of a somewhat similar incident which occurred at the old Daniel Street Post-office in this city several years ago. A physician, who likes a good horse, and always has one or more, rode for his mail, and forgetfully walked home—and calling for his team at the stable after dinner, was asked where the morning rig-out was—and going to the P. O., found "Jimmy" all quiet and patient, though he had been standing there unhitched four hours, and was an animal of the highest mettle and great speed.

☞ Five or six weeks since, George A. Pillsbury, of Concord, while assisting some relatives into the cars, had his pocket picked of $46 and coupons to the value of $114. He kept very quiet about the matter, and confided his loss to a detective officer of this city, who, on Wednesday evening last, had the satisfaction of returning the coupons to Mr. P. Of course the money, from the impossibility of identification, was not recovered.

☞ In speaking of the fine building on Camp street, New Orleans, occupied by the Crescent Mutual Insurance Company, the Picayune of that city pays this tribute to Thos. A. Adams, a Son of Portsmouth:—Mr. Adams, the President of this company, is one of our most esteemed citizens, and the success of the company he represents reflects the ability he has exercised in its control.

Communication.

The Postmaster of Exeter has succeeded in getting a through mail to Boston, on the nine o'clock morning train.

Why is it that a place the size Portsmouth, which has had a nine o'clock train for several years, must wait till 2 o'clock P. M. before its first mail reaches Boston? L.

☞ We have not seen the "given" name of Shepard, the Worcester wife murderer, published, but it is thought here that it may be Lorenzo Dow Shepherd, who was formerly a lightkeeper in this harbor, and married a Greenland girl, who was divorced; and he was a villain generally. From the published accounts, it would seem that the two men at the house of the murderer were scared out of their wits, if they had any, or they would have knocked the villian in the head with a chair before he could effect his purpose.

THE WONDERFUL HANLONS, about whom so much has been written and said, will appear at the Temple to-night, and the prospect is that an immense audience will be present, for everybody is talking of this great troupe. The following is from the Boston Post of a late date:

* * * Then followed the still more remarkable and thrilling performance of the "Three Flying men of the Air," by the Hanlon Brothers. It is impossible to describe our feelings on witnessing this daring feat. We see the men ascend the ropes and their position on the rope step above. Then follow all the remarkable movements and contortions of the acrobats, swinging at full length in mid air while holding on by the feet to the trapeze above—now suspended by the hands, and the next instant being held to it by the feet with heads downward, and flying from one to the other, until the scene approaches the awful and terrific, and the nerves of the audience fairly quake for the safety of the intrepid performer. Language fails to give an adequate description of the effect thus produced. We boldly pronounce the William, George and Alfred Hanlon combination the grandest affair that has ever visited us, and in point of wonderful attraction, extraordinary skill, immeasurably superior to anything we ever before witnessed.

☞ On Thursday evening the Republicans of this city nominated Hon. Ezra A. Stevens as their candidate for Mayor at the coming municipal election, he having 349 out of 374 votes cast.

POLICE COURT, Nov. 21.—George W. Brown was fined $3 and $3.86 costs, for being drunk.

☞ Orders have been received to fit the new steamer Contoocook for sea within fifty days; when she will go into commission as the flagship of the North Atlantic Squadron.

☞ At Larrabee & Sons' Harness Manufactory, nice Saddlery Goods we know can be bought at less than Boston prices. See their advertisement this morning.

☞ Many New England Lyceums will regret to learn from Mr. G. W. Curtis, that a pressure of public duties compels him to abandon all his engagements to lecture.

Pensions, Bounty, Arrears of Pay and Prize Claims prosecuted

500 MILES
OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD,
Running West from Omaha
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
ARE NOW COMPLETED.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company have built a longer line of railroad in the last eighteen months than was ever built by any other company in the same time, and they will continue the work with the same energy until it is completed. The Western Division is being pushed rapidly eastward from Sacramento by the Central Pacific Company of California, and it is expected that

THE ENTIRE GRAND LINE

to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.—More than one-third of the work has already been done, more than one-third of the subsidies is now earning, and more laborers are now employed upon it than ever before. More than

Forty Million Dollars in Money

have already been expended by the two powerful companies that have undertaken the enterprise, and there is no lack of funds for its most vigorous prosecution. When the United States Government found it necessary to secure the construction of the Union Pacific Railroad to develop and protect its own interest, it gave the companies authorized to build it such ample aid as should induce its speedy completion. The available means of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, derived from the Government and from its stockholders, may be briefly summed up as follows:

1.—UNITED STATES BONDS

Having thirty years to run and being six per cent. currency interest at the rate of $16,000 per mile for 517 miles on the Plains; then at the rate of $48,000 per mile for 150 miles through the Rocky Mountains; then at the rate of $32,000 per mile for the remaining distance, for which the United States takes a second lien as security. The interest on these bonds is paid by the United States government, which also pays the company the half the amount of its bills in money for transporting its freight, troops, mails, &c. The remaining half of these bills is placed to the company's credit, and forms a sinking fund which may finally discharge the whole amount of this lien. The claims against the government at once April of the current year amount to four and one-half times this interest.

2.—FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS.

By its charter the Company is authorized to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to the same amount as the bonds issued by the Government, and as more, and only as the road progresses. The Trustees for the bondholders are the Hon. E. D. Morgan, U. S. Senator from New York, and the Hon. Oakes Ames, Member of U. S. House of Representatives, who are responsible for the delivery of these bonds to the Company in accordance with the terms of the law.

3.—THE LAND GRANT.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company has a land grant or absolute donation from government of 12,800 acres to the mile on the line of the road, which will not be worth less than $1.50 at the lowest valuation.

4.—THE CAPITAL STOCK.

The authorized capital of the Union Pacific Railroad Company is $100,000,000, which over $6,000,000 have been paid on the work already done.

The Means Sufficient to Build the Road.

Contracts for the entire work of building 914 miles of first-class railroad west from Omaha, comprising much of the most difficult mountain work and embracing every variety of surveying, have been made with responsible parties (who have already finished over 600 miles), at the average rate of sixty-eight thousand and fifty-eight dollars ($68,058) per mile. This price includes all necessary shops for construction and repairs, depots, stations and all other incidental buildings, and also locomotives, passenger, baggage and freight cars and other requisite rolling stock, to an amount that shall not be less than $7,500 per mile. Allowing these for the remaining one hundred and eighty-six of the eleven hundred miles assumed to be built by the Pacific Company to be $68,058 per mile,

THE TOTAL COST OF ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES WILL BE AS FOLLOWS:

914 miles, at $68,058 ..... $62,205,012
186 miles, at 30,000 5,580,000
Add discounts on bonds, surveys, &c. ... 4,500,000

Amount $32,445,012

As the U. S. Bonds are equal to money, and the Company's own First Mortgage Bonds have a ready market, we have the

AVAILABLE CASH RESOURCES for BUILDING ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES:

U. S. Bonds $29,828,000
First Mortgage Bonds 28,228,000
Capital stock paid in on the work now done 5,599,750
Land Grant, 1,536,000,000 acres, at 1.50 per acre 21,120,000

Total $85,145,750

The Company have ample facilities for supplying any deficiency that may arise in means for construction like may be required, in part by additional subscriptions to capital stock.

Active inquiry has already been made for a portion of these lands, and arrangements are now proposed to offer a part of them for sale. When their whole value will not be available for some years to come, they will remain a very important source of revenue to the Company. The lands of the Illinois Central Railroad Company are selling at from $6 to $12 per acre, and other land grant companies in the West are receiving equal prices for similar properties.

Future Business.

The most skeptical have never expressed a doubt that when the Union Pacific Railroad is finished the immense business that must flow over it, as the only railroad connecting the two grand divisions of the North American continent will be one of the wonders of railway transportation; and as it will have no competitor, it can always charge remunerative rates. The Pacific Mail Steamship Company of New York is now running a regular line of its splendid steamers between San Francisco and China and Japan, which is doubtless the pioneer of other lines that will traverse the Pacific Ocean laden with the teas, spices and other products of Eastern Asia. Excepting some very heavy or bulky articles of comparatively low values, shortness of time decides the direction of freights, and all of these cargoes will find their natural transit over the Union Pacific Railroad.

It is quite within bounds to say that its traffic will be limited only by the capacity of the line, and that no other road will find a double track necessary. California and Oregon must not only be supplied with means of conveyance for passengers, mail, treasure and other freights, but the inhabitants of Dacotah, Colorado, Utah, Idaho and Montana will consume in part the wares the states almost entirely by this road. It will be the avenue to all the great mining district, which is only now beginning fully to realize the importance of attention to receive a population that will develop its vast mineral and other resources, and which of itself would furnish ample business for a railway line.

Earnings from Way Business.

While the through business of the Company will be amply remunerative, it is still in the future that the local business to be done by the road in operation has been most satisfactory.

During the quarter ending July 31, an average of 253 miles of the Union Pacific Railroad was in operation. The Superintendent's Report shows the following results:

Net Earnings to balance 807,608 03

Total $1,203,038 95

The net operating expenses on the commercial business for the quarter were $27,956 50. The account for the COMMERCIAL BUSINESS stands as follows:

Earnings for May, June and July $753,755 54
Expenses " " " 287,986 50

Net Profit $485,289 04

The amount of bonds the company can issue on 253 miles at $16,000 per mile is $4,048,000. Interest in gold, three months, at 6 per cent. on this sum is $13,00; add 40 per cent premium, to correspond with currency receipts, $18,200—showing that the net earnings for the quarter were more than four times the interest on the First Mortgage Bonds on this length of road.

First Mortgage Bonds,

whose principal is so amply provided for, and whose interest is so thoroughly secured, must be classed among the safest investments. They pay

Six Per Cent in Gold,

and are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, and accrued interest at six Per Cent in currency from July 1.

Many parties are taking advantage of the present high price of Government stocks to exchange for these bonds, which are over FIFTEEN PER CENT. CHEAPER, and at the current rate of premium on gold, pay

Over Nine Per Cent. Interest.

SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received in Portsmouth by FIRST NATIONAL BANK, and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau street, and by

A Repository of Fashion, Pleasure and Instruction.
HARPER'S BAZAR.

The Publishers commenced on November 1st, the issue of HARPER'S BAZAR, a Weekly, Illustrated Family Journal, devoted to Fashion and Home Literature. Their aim is two-fold: to supply the existing need of a weekly Fashion newspaper, and to combine therewith a first-class literary journal which will be indispensable to every household.

Arrangements have been made, at an immense cost, with the most celebrated of the Fashion Papers of Europe, especially with the famous Revue des Modes of Paris, to furnish the same to them in advance, so that henceforth the fashions will appear in Harper's Bazar simultaneously with their publication in Paris and Berlin—an advantage enjoyed by no other journal in the country.

The patrons of Harper's Bazar will receive every fortnight large pattern-plates, containing from forty to fifty full-sized patterns of ladies', Misses' and children's bonnets, cloaks, dresses, under-clothing and other articles, accompanied with the necessary descriptions and directions, and occasionally an elegantly Colored Fashion Plate of the size of Harper's Weekly.

HARPER'S BAZAR will contain 16 folio pages of the size of HARPER'S WEEKLY, printed on superfine calendered paper, and will be published weekly.

SUBSCRIPTIONS, 1868.

The Publishers have perfected a system of mailing BAZAR which supplies the Magazine, Weekly and Bazar promptly to those who prefer to receive their periodicals directly from the office of Publication.

The postage on Harper's Magazine is 24 cents a year, which must be paid at the subscriber's post office.

The postage on Harper's Bazar is 20 cents a year, which must be paid at the subscriber's post-office.

TERMS: Harper's Bazar, one year, $4.

Ten Copy of either the MAGAZINE, WEEKLY or BAZAR will be supplied gratis for every Club of FIVE Subscribers at $4 each, in one remittance; or Six Copies for $20.

Back Numbers supplied at any time.

 Sub criptions sent from British North American Provinces must be accompanied with 24 cents additional to prepay United States postage. Address HARPER & BROTHERS, o31 FRANKLIN SQUARE, New York.

YOUR MISSION.

If you cannot on the ocean sail
Among the swiftest fleet,
Rocking on the highest billows,
Laughing at the storms you meet,
You can stand among the sailors,
Anchored yet within the bay,
You can lend a hand to help them,
As they launch their boats away.

If you are too weak to journey
Up the mountain steep and high,
You can stand within the valley,
While the multitude go by.
You can chant in happy measure,
As they slowly pass along;—
Though they may forget the singer,
They will not forget the song.

If you have not gold and silver
Ever ready to command,
If you cannot towards the needy
Reach an ever open hand,
You can visit the afflicted,
O'er the erring you can weep,
You can be a true disciple,
Sitting at the Saviour's feet.

If you cannot in the conflict
Prove yourself a soldier true,
If where fire and smoke are thickest
There's no work for you to do:
When the battle-field is silent,
You can go with careful tread,
You can bear away the wounded,
You can cover up the dead.

Do not then stand idly waiting
For some greater work to do;
Fortune is a busy goddess,
She will never come to you.
Go and toil in any vineyard,
Do not fear to do or dare,
If you want a field of labor,
You can find it anywhere.

—The Tennessee Legislature has before it a bill for the protection of wool-growers, by which dogs will be taxed $2 a head.—One dog to each family will be exempt.

—A family difficulty occurred at Blandville, Ky., the other day, and during its progress T. D. Campbell shot his brother-in-law, A. J. Worden, and his neice, a young woman of eighteen. Peace having been restored, Campbell shot himself.—This is Kentucky plantation fashion, we suppose.

—The Gove street grammar school house in Pawtucket was burned Tuesday evening, in consequence of overheating the chimneys. Loss $6000. Very poor policy it is to build a chimney so thin as is often done now-a-days,—only the width of one brick in thickness. To save $60 or less, Pawtucket loses $6000.

—Mazzini has issued several fiery manifestoes, in which he calls on the Italians to rise and barricade the streets, and revolutionize. He terms Victor Emmanuel's proclamation as "an insult to our country, a menace to our liberties, an act of cowardice intolerable to all who possess a spark of Italian pride."

—The New Orleans Crescent says of the "tournaments" which have occurred lately in the South: "Cotton picking is a more honorable occupation than such tomfoolery under Malbrino's helmet and in a decorated flowing shirt. There may be amusement in it, but it is boy's play, as dignified as leap-frog, and not half as commendable.—It is not mimic war, but absurd and half-developed gammon."

is the oldest paper in the country; and with the enlargement last week, is now the largest in the State—and the cheapest, at $2 per year, six copies for $10. It is now printed in quarto form, and containing 48 columns, and is ready for delivery at the Office of the Daily Chronicle, at six cents per copy. New subscribers for 1868 will receive the paper until Jan. 1st free of charge. The Gazette contains all Local items from the Daily Chronicle, and will be found especially interesting to natives of Portsmouth abroad. Copies in wrappers for mailing may always be had at the office.

Patent Elastic Ventilating INNER SOLES.

They are a sure and perfect Remedy for cold or sweaty feet.

They will relieve RHEUMATISM and NEURALGIA.

They are a perfect Elastic Cushion under the feet of the wearer, a substitute for the ELASTICITY OF YOUTH to the aged.

They work as air pumps under the feet when walking, and raise the feet above the contact of dampness or cold.

They encourage and absorb the Natural Perspiration of the feet, purify the BLOOD, and contribute to the HEALTHY condition of the system.

They may be worn inside of Rubber Boots without slippers, and will prevent the bad results of the perspiration of the feet.

They may be worn with thin soled leaky boots in any walking with perfect safety.

They are of GREAT VALUE to the health of SCHOOL CHILDREN, who are liable to sit all day with damp, cold feet, and sow the seed of disease.

They are the Cheapest Inner Soles in the Market.

One pair will outwear eight pairs of any other Inner Sole known to us.

Sold by Boot and Shoe Dealers. Retail price $1 per pair. Circulars and Certificates sent free. At wholesale only by E. A. HILL, Proprietor, No. 4 Union street, Boston, Mass.

Certificate from H. Williams, Esq., Treasurer of the Worcester Railroad,

BOSTON, Oct. 22, 1867.

MR. HILL:—I have used PATENT ELASTIC VENTILATING INNER SOLES through a portion of the last winter with great satisfaction, as a means of keeping the feet warm and dry.

Being troubled with tender feet, I have continued their use with lighter boots through the summer, and find them to exceed my anticipations, keeping them DRIED AND COOLED in hot weather, and giving an agreeable elasticity in walking.

Very truly yours,

BORACE WILLIAMS.

THE RICHEST MAN IN THE WORLD.

Extract of a Letter from Baron Solomon Rothschild, PARIS, 8th April, 1864, 35 Rue Fauby. St. Honore.

Will you be kind enough to have forwarded to me here 200 bottles of your Indian Liniment; for you will send at the same time your account, I will forward you the amount through Messrs. Baring Brothers, New York.

Baron Solomon Rothschild having recommended to many of his friends Major LANE'S LINIMENT, and they being desirous to procure it, he should advise him to establish a depot in Paris.

THE INDIAN LINIMENT,

As a relief, ever ready; as a killer of pain, taken inwardly, or outwardly applied, has no equal.—For the relief and cure of Rheumatic Neuralgic Affections Sprains, Bruises, &c., it is unequalled.—It is also most efficacious taken inwardly, in the cure of Pain in the Stomach, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, &c., and is without exception the Most Wonderful Pain Remedy in the World. For LIFE should be without it. Every TRAVELER by land or sea should have a bottle. MINERS and FARMERS residing at a distance from Physicians should keep it handy on hand. In cases of accidents and sudden attacks of Stomach Complaints, its value cannot be estimated. Inquire for MAJOR LANE'S INDIAN LINIMENT and take no other. Price 30 Cents per bottle. For sale at wholesale and retail by Demas Barnes & Co., New York; Wm. Read & Sons, Boston; 186 Greenwich street, N. Y.; F. C. Wells & Co., 192 Fulton street, N. Y.; Chas. N. Crittenden, 38 Beekman st., N. Y., and by respectable Druggists throughout the world. None genuine unless signed by JOHN THOS. LANE, and countersigned by J. LANE & CO., Proprietors, 163 Broadway, N. Y. Send for circular.

—Anger is one of the sinews of the soul; he that wants it hath a maimed mind.

—If a man maketh me keep my distance, the comfort is, he keepeth his own at the same time.

—Is there no way to bring home a wandering sheep, but by worrying him to death?

—If a man would register all his opinions upon love, politics, religion, learning, &c., beginning from his youth, and so go on to old age, what a bundle of inconsistencies would appear at last!

DUST AND GIRLS.—A few Sabbaths since Eda was allowed to go to Sabbath School, her first time, and there she learned the startling intelligence that she was made of dust. Little Eda's mind was fully impressed with the importance of the great truth, as was evinced by her frequent reference to the subject, in the shape of questions answerable. One morning, however, she propounded a stunner, which brought down the house. Intently watching her mother sweeping, as if to learn the art she must finally practice, saying not a word, her eyes rested on the little heap of dirt accumulated by her mother's broom. Just as the dirt was to be swept into the street, the little philosopher burst forth with "Ma, ma! why don't you save the dust to make some more little girls?"

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.

Adams' Novelty Skirt.
PATENTED JUNE 18, 1867.
This celebrated Patent Skirt is pronounced by hundreds of ladies who have given it a thorough trial, to excel all other Skirts ever offered to the public. The chief points of its excellence are, PERFECTION IN FIT, upon a new principle just invented. Equal distribution of weight around the waist-band. Entire flexibility. Elegantly BALANCED. Entire Freedom from injury to Under Clothing. The Bustle Springs are fastened together in front, and made in one with the hoop. A double support down the front of the skirt where support is most needed. PREVENTS the Skirt from SAGGING. Every Skirt is stamped with its positive waist size and length upon the band, and the relative proportion of the hoops to the waist-band is perfect in every Skirt. It is Absolutely IMPOSSIBLE for the Hoops to work up around the wearer while standing or sitting in a crowd. Sold at BACHMAN & CO'S.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1867.

AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY, N. Y.—The business flourishes. The society has just added seven new presses, and a steam engine of thirty horse power has been exchanged for one of sixty. With twenty-three power presses and one hand press, it can make six thousand volumes a day; and still it is believed that increased facilities for the manufacture of books will be called for.

CONGRESS reassembled Nov. 21, at noon, and both houses proceeded at once to business.

In the Senate, Mr. Edmunds of Vermont introduced a bill declaring that all government bonds, (unless specifically exempted) are payable, principal and interest, in coin.

Mr. Wilson of Mass. moved for a repeal of the cotton tax.

Mr. Sumner brought forward the bill for negro jurymen in the District of Columbia, (a copy of the bill passed last year and pocketed by the President.)

In the House, the Democrats, encouraged by their recent successes, thought proper to commence by an aggressive movement.—So they attacked the newly elected Tennessee members. Mr. Brooks of N. Y. was especially eloquent in his denunciations of the disloyalty of some of them, for which Mr. Dawes gave him some sharp punctures, turning the laughter against him. The Tennesseans were admitted by a decisive party vote.

A SHORT CUT TO SPECIE PAYMENT. The Tribune thunders for immediate return to coin basis, as follows. After stating our great coin deposit and our crops and general resources, it closes thus: "All that is needed, in our view, is a simple notice over the door of the Treasury: 'The United States have resumed specie payment.' Every railroad, steamboat company, every mortgagee, bondholder, or receiver of a fixed income of any sort, would be interested in sustaining the Government in this return to solvency. Every holder of a greenback in the Rocky Mountains or on the Pacific slope would be likewise interested in sustaining a step which would make his paper money worth at least its face in coin. And, if all the insolvent, rickety, kite-flying interests were to combine to break the government and force it back into non-redemption, we are confident that they could not draw one hundred millions of coin from the Treasury. The spirit might be ever so willing, but the flesh would be weaker than dishwater." Good—good.

NEWSPAPORIAL.—Hon. E. F. Pillsbury is to become associated with the political management of the Maine Democrat, which is to start at Biddeford, in its enlarged form, on the 1st of January. We have also heard that Capt. E. S. Morris of Portland is to take a position there. Mr. Shaw declares that he shall have the largest list of any paper in Maine.

NORTH CAROLINA.—The returns are meagre, but the Convention has been called by a large majority, and the radicals elected a majority of delegates. Very few negroes have been elected, but a number of extreme radicals have been. The conservatives have lost many counties under their control by their indifference.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—Returns from eight counties show 3735 black votes and 71 white. This will be about the proportion throughout the State. Not one vote is known to have been cast against the Convention.

The negro list Registrar, who in August arrested a white citizen and encouraged negroes to violence, has been sentenced by the military commission to imprisonment for six months at hard labor.

☞ Fourteen persons were admitted to Rev. Charles Beecher's church in Georgetown, Mass., the first Sabbath in November, and there is a good deal of religious interest in his congregation. The Essex North Conference, after a protracted discussion at its late meeting in Newburyport, rescinded its action taken in 1863 and 1864, whereby Mr. Beecher's church was suspended from fellowship with that Conference.

☞ A Cleveland, Ohio, dispatch of Nov. 21, says Weston expects to reach Toledo to-night, after thirty miles travel from 4:30 this P. M. He is in fine spirits and condition. The roughs attempted to jump upon him at Fremont, but were prevented by the police.

☞ A Cincinnati item of Thursday says, three ladies killed by the collision at Lockland were sisters and named Morgan. The man who was killed was named Jackson, and was from Boston.

☞ Harper's Monthly for December commences the 36th volume. It has three illustrated articles and the usual amount of interesting matter. The January number will contain the opening chapters of a new serial by the author of "John Halifax." A. Williams & Co., Boston; James F. Shores, Jr., Portsmouth.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—There is good sleighing in Concord.

Frank M. Morrill, Hooksett, was arrested Thursday morning for getting his house insured at a high rate, and then hiring a man named Young to burn it in July last. Both are in custody.

The New Hampshire Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church is to meet at Lawrence, Mass., April 1, 1868, Bishop Baker presiding.

The Congregational society in Greenland have given their pastor, Rev. Edward Robie, leave of absence for the benefit of his health, and he takes a voyage to Bombay and back in the ship Sagamore, which sails from Boston this week.

S. F. White, merchant, of Chicago, died in Concord Friday morning, at the residence of his brother, Nath'l White.

In consequence of ill health, C. V. Dearborn, Esq., has disposed of his interest in the Nashua Telegraph to O. C. Moore, Esq., Register of Probate for Hillsborough County. Mr. Moore was formerly connected with the Manchester American.

At a meeting of the grantees of the Nashua & Epping Railroad, Chas. F. Tarbell of Pepperell was chosen Superintendent, and J. D. Otterson of Nashua, Treasurer.

☞ In Concord, Thursday, John P. Young of Sandwich and Frank M. Morrill of Hooksett, arrested for alleged incendiarism, pleaded not guilty, and after examination were held in the sum of two thousand dollars and three thousand dollars. They went to jail.

Daniel O'Hearn is in jail at Manchester, charged with breaking open a meat shop in the night, and stealing money. The thief was found asleep in the building in the morning, with the money in his pocket! He says he was drunk, and don't remember anything about breaking or stealing. Very likely he tells something near the truth.

Communication.

EXETER, Nov. 22.

To the Editor of the Chronicle, and all whom it may concern:—Where are the Officers of the Rockingham County Fair, they cannot be found? Have they gone up in a balloon? We think they had better settle their bills before the next annual meeting; unless they are settled, you will hear more next time. O. T. K., Exeter.

BURGLAR ARRESTED.—David N. Rogers of Dover, N. H., who was in 1865 convicted of stealing harnesses, and sentenced to five years in the State Prison, but through the influence of a member of the State Senate, was pardoned out after serving two years and four months, was last evening arrested in Danvers by Capt. Boynton of the State Police, on a charge of burglary at Newbury, in five places in one night, about a month ago. He was taken to the police station in Salem.—Salem Register.

TAXATION OF GOVERNMENT BONDS. This is a popular idea, but there are difficulties which will probably prevent its realization, in the direct form for which its advocates contend. In the first place it would give foreigners an advantage over our own citizens, for the bonds which would be held by them would escape taxation, and the tendency would be to drive them all abroad, while the country would be drained of specie to pay the interest. Even if the bonds were held at home, many of them would escape taxation, as large sums invested in Banks, State bonds, &c., now escape. The State of New Hampshire has a debt of two or three millions, which is represented by its bonds. How large a portion of these bonds pay any tax in the State? Most of them have gone where no tax upon them can be collected. In a tax on the bonds of the U. S., wealthy States, like New York and Massachusetts, where large amounts of them are owned, would derive the chief benefits of it—New Hampshire and other States whose citizens hold comparatively but small sums getting but little.

The bonds of the Government, issued in former years, were exempt from a tax, and at has always been the policy to issue them in this form—the high price which they thus command being more than an offset for the loss of interest. At the present time the Government will doubtless find its advantage in consolidating its debt as fast as it matures, into 5 per cent. bonds, as proposed by Secretary McCulloch. This would be equal to a tax of one per cent on the holder, it would compel foreign bondholders to pay their share of it, and the tax thus reserved would go for the benefit of the whole people, as it ought to.—Dover Enquirer.

GEN. MOWER, commanding at New Orleans, has just removed the Lieut. Governor, Secretary of State, Treasurer and other officers,—all impediments in the way of reconstruction.

—A fertile race—Beaver hats scudding before a hurricane.

—A practical chest expander—A burglar's outsider.

—The bread question is one of great interest just now, and it is natural to ask "What are bakers?" An exchange says they are "regular loafers."

—Exporters of British ale are complaining of the ravages of a beetle, which eats holes in casks and lets the precious fluid run out.

—The Pine Ridge Colliery, near Wilkesbarre, Pa., having been closed for several days to quench the burning fire damps, an attempt was made to open it, when an explosion took place, which killed 3 men and badly wounded two more. The ruins will be flooded with water, as the only means of extinguishing the fire.

METHODISTS IN THE U. S.—The statistics of the Methodist E. Church for the year, are as follows: Members, 1,114,763, a net gain for the year of 112,579—the net gain for two years, 1866 and 1867, being 215,504, more than 23 per cent. of the whole church. Travelling ministers, 7989; increase, 413; local preachers, 8935, increase, 333; the total ministerial force of the Church, 16,935, distributed into 68 annual Conferences. 676 houses of worship, more than two per day, counting only week days, have been built during the year, and 255 parsonages, adding nearly seven millions of dollars to the church property.

The Sunday School shows increase. More than a million of scholars are reported, and 175,000 teachers.

The Centenary returns are nearly all in, and the jubilee contribution will amount to eight millions of dollars. One paper declares this to be the "grandest voluntary contribution to religion ever made in one year in Christendom."

☞ T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, will issue on the 7th prox., a new work by Mrs. E. D. E. N. Southworth, in one large duodecimo volume, entitled "The Widow's Son." Price $2 in cloth, or $1.50 in paper. The Philadelphia Daily Press says of it:

Mrs. Emma D. E. N. Southworth, one of the most popular living American novelists, has completed a new work of fiction, entitled "The Widow's Son," which will be published on Saturday, Dec. 7, by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, 306 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. The plot, wholly different from that of any previous production of this gifted author, is literally founded upon fact, and great care has been successfully applied to present the leading characters as they actually lived, thought and acted. Having seen the work in advance, we can speak confidentially as to its merits.

—In New York, E. T. Wood, the newly appointed Collector of the third Internal Revenue District, took possession of his office Tuesday afternoon and made a clean sweep of deputies and clerks, appointing as his deputy a lawyer who has defended many parties whose stills have been seized for being run in violation of the Internal Revenue laws.

☞ Halleck's words, "None know thee but to love thee, none name thee but to praise," may be fairly applied to Phalon's Night-Blooming Cereus. No one who once uses the perfume ever relinquishes it, and rosy lips are never weary of commending and recommending it.—Norwich Courier. 6

THE WASHINGTON LIBRARY COMPANY are steadily and rapidly progressing in their good work, and through their admirable and philanthropic plan, they will soon have sufficient funds on hand to found a home for the orphans of the soldiers and sailors who fell during the late war. Every person should buy a ticket and those who have done so should duplicate the same, so as to multiply their chances for the grand present of $40,000 and so become wealthy in a moment, and feel, during the remainder of this life, that it was through a benevolent object that wealth has become a fixed fact. Other presents of a smaller value will be given to each shareholder at the grand distribution. As every shareholder purchases his share of stock, he is presented with a magnificent steel-plate engraving, worth more at retail than the price of a share. An engraving and a present is guaranteed for every dollar invested. Read advertisement. 4

I CARE not how lofty he carries his head,
The wretch who dares poison our cake and our bread—
Living, he should forfeit respect and renown,
And doubly, in dying, should he go down,
To the vile dust from whence he sprung,
Unwept, unhonored and unsung.

Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is warranted to possess no deleterious properties, produces the nicest bread, pies and cakes, while its salutary influence it exerts on a weak stomach is invaluable. 10

THERE ARE TWO SPECIAL QUALITIES which determine and fix the superiority of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S NEW STYLE IMPROVED HAIR RESTORER or DRESSING, in one bottle over all other preparations for the Hair. First, the prompt, quick action, great growth, life and vigor that it imparts to give the daily, never failing, by a few applications, to restore Gray or White Hair to its natural color, imparting to the Hair a delightful aroma, fresh, delicate and unchangeable in any climate. Second, its easy application without any previous preparation of the Hair; without that sticky and disagreeable sulphur odor found and complained of in all other preparations. It never soils the skin or linen.—Ladies will find it a standard Toilet Luxury to dress their Hair. It retains the hair in any desired position, and is cooling, healing and cleansing to the scalp, removing immediately all scurf, dandruff and pimples. Price One Dollar. Sold by all Druggists. n21—1m

NOT GOLD ONLY,

BUT

RICH, FRUITY, LUSCIOUS

WINES:

California is making grand strides in her agricultural products and is fast withdrawing herself as a purchaser for the manufacturers of the various kinds of wines and liquors now demanded. She sends a warning voice to the time-worn vineyards of Europe, and enters the lists as a fresh, young combatant for the production of wines from her own rich and increasing vineyards.—The time has come when it is simply ridiculous for any one to longer lay claim to especial advantages or peculiar privileges for the sale of

THE WINES OF CALIFORNIA.

As well might they claim a monopoly of the cotton trade.

C. A. RICHARDS & CO.

do not receive or sell all the wines which California produces, but they do claim to have at all times a very large quantity on hand of all the best kinds, and their advantages for getting the best, and getting them at the lowest market value, are such as to enable them to offer them at prices which to-day are lower than any other house which sells California Wines of equality. We bottle five kinds. They are,—

"Angelica,"
"Muscatel,"
"Still Champagne,"
"Hock" and
"Port,"
Also "California Brandy."

They are all perfectly pure, and may be relied upon in sickness or in health. The Angelica and Muscatel are rich, sweet wines. The Hock is fully equal to the medium grades of Rhine wines. The Port is actually better than many of the high cost Ports from Oporto. We sell these wines in any required quantity, from a single bottle to a THOUSAND CASES, and are ready at all times to exhibit samples, or to send them to any address.

AMERICAN
WALTHAM
WATCHES.

The true value of Machinery applied to Watchmaking is not that by its use watches are rapidly made, but that they are made correctly. Very few people know why a Waltham Watch should be superior to any other. In the first place, at Waltham Watch Factory, the machinery is the only machine, to be constructed like any other machine, on mechanical principles. If the watches are good, it is because they are made correctly. Of course there must be no defect in the principle or plan of the movement—no mistake in the sizes or shapes of the pinions. If these are all composed—nothing wanting in their properties, and no error in their positions. These points once thoroughly settled, it rests wholly with the machinery, constructed with infinite diversity of form and function expressly for the purpose, to produce the finished pieces. By means of multiplying guages and microscopes, tests and inspectors, for the detection of wear in the cutting tools, and for faults and flaws in steel or stone, are made to accompany the work in every stage from beginning to end. As a necessary result, the watch goes together a perfect machine. Every part is formed to fit properly, and to its place, and cannot be pushed till it pinches, and every screw turned home. Instead of a sluggish and feeble action, the balance, when in motion, is under the influence of light, but unfailing, vibrates with a wide and free motion, and the beat has the clear, ringing sound always heard in a perfect Waltham Watch. The machine is a timekeeper from the start.

This system of watchmaking is unknown in foreign countries, and is entirely original with the Waltham Company. It is only by such means that they produce watches that cannot be equalled for every quality which makes a watch valuable. Simple in plan and correct in principle, the movement is not only beautifully finished, substantial, accurate and cheap, but is uniform in the minutest details, not easily deranged, and when repaired always as good as new. There are different grades of finish in the different varieties of watches made by the Waltham Company, as there are different sizes and shapes to suit all tastes and means; but every watch that bears the genuine trade-mark of "WALTHAM" is guaranteed to be a good one, and nobody need be afraid to buy it.

Every Watch fully Warranted.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

THE REMEDY FOR CURING

Consumption, Asthma, Croup, Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppressions of the Chest or Lungs, Difficult Breathing, and all Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

Its action is expectorant, alterative sudorific, sedative, diaphoretic and diuretic, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS and PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs, brings the liver to its proper action and imparts strength to the whole system. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction, even in the most obstinate cases of consumption, and not to produce costiveness (as do most remedies) or effect the head, as it contains no opium in any form. It is PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. There is no necessity for so many deaths by consumption when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

DR. SCHENCK, THE LUNG DOCTOR.

☞ The Proprietor of SCHENK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, the inventor of SCHENK'S RESPIOMETER, the only instrument that can be certainly detect the slightest murmur of the respiratory organs.

Their great importance to Dr. SCHENCK, to know the exact condition of the lungs, whether it is Tuberculous, Pulmonary, Bronchial, Pleuritic, or Dyspeptic Consumption, and whether it is both lungs or only one that are diseased.

It requires constant and long practice to become familiar with every sound or rattling of a diseased lung in all its numerous forms. Patients come to Dr. SCHENCK to get examined that have been examined by their family physicians, who told them that their lungs were sound, when by a close examination with the Respirometer, it is often found that it is an affection of the bronchial tubes and that the healthy membrane of the liver and tone of the stomach, the sufferer is soon restored to health. Sometimes medicine that will stop a cough or relieve pain leads to the patient's locks up the liver, stops the circulation of the blood—hemorrhages follows, and, in fact, stopping the action of the very organs that cause the cough.

Dr. Schenck will be professionally at his rooms everywhere, the 26th day of each month, at Hanover street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer the charge is $5. His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers, also a good supply at all times at his rooms. Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen; Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.—GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover street, Agents for Boston. For sale by all druggists.

THE REALLY GREAT PLASTER,
ALLCOCK'S PORous,
Have the compactness of kid, and the flexibility of a silk glove.
DR. I. T. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

FARNVILLE, Louisiana, March 8, 1850.

DR. T. ALLCOCK, Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic dicease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart, and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. D.'s; but truth prompts me to say that your Plasters have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a permanent cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your Plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours very truly,

Local.

☞ The concert Thursday night was eminently enjoyed by a large and fashionable audience. All the performers acted well their parts. Camilla Urso played her violin as only she can—and with her wonted good nature, responded to the encore again and again. She is as impertturbable, implacable, as Gottschalk himself; but she could not help smiling at the persistent applause which called for two extra pieces on one occasion in the second part. Her playing is a benediction indeed—not "conviction," as the types made us say before.

Dr. Guilmette sang superbly, and portrayed his pieces to the life. Mr. McDonald is a very pure tenor, and more nearly resembles the silver-tongued Brignoli than any other we over heard. Miss Hermo is a fine contralto, and very pleasing in appearance; she sang an old favorite, "Down the burn, Davy love," splendidly, as it is specially adapted to her voice. We hope to hear her, and all the company, again.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT—Doe, J.—Friday, in case of Tuttle vs. Carter, a verdict was returned for the plaintiff in the sum of $145. The case will go to the Law Term on a question of law.

Michael Buckley vs. Frank B. Johnson and Horace F. Pickering. Action for assault, where the plaintiff claims he was violently arrested by the defendants, beaten with handcuffs, and dragged through the streets of Portsmouth. The defendants claim that they were Police Officers of the city of Portsmouth, and arrested the plaintiff on a warrant issued against him, which he resisted. The evidence of the plaintiff shew that he received rough usage,—but the jury must decide whether or no the circumstances justified such treatment. Hatch for plaintiff, Goodall and Frink for defendants.

THE HANLON TROUPE is one of the largest which ever travelled, and the best of the sort ever seen. They gave an "immense" entertainment at the Temple last evening, to a very good audience; and will give other exhibitions of their wondrous performances and hair-breadth 'scapes, this afternoon and evening. We could multiply words and pile up adjectives superlatively high, in attempting to describe their feats; but they must be seen to be appreciated, and all who feel interested, of course will improve this rare opportunity to witness them. Their power to "stand on the little end of nothing whittled out picked," is as much beyond the attainment of common mortals, as the performance of miracles was of old to those witboot faith. Tickets, both for the matinee and evening performance, may be had at Preston's drug store.

☞ The Dover Enquirer copies our story of the Stars and Bars man's damages being paid by buying up his old paper, and says, "If not true, it undoubtedly might have been. And we have pretty good information that it is the fact."

☞ Henry C. Wright of Boston, the great Apostle of Peace and other reforms, will address the citizens of Portsmouth on afternoon and evening of Sunday, Nov. 24th, at 2 1-2 and 7 o'clock, at the New Congress Hall. The public are invited.

☞ A Portsmouth correspondent of the Boston Journal, speaking of the nomination of Mr. Stevens for mayor, says:

Mr. Stevens is the present State Senator from this district, and one of the most popular men in this State. He is a thorough business man, and possesses great financial ability. His first objects are economy in city affairs, and a true interest in State and National matters, regardless of side issues.

☞ We see now that the name of the Worcester wife murderer is given as James E. Shepard—but that does not prove he is not the same known here as Lorenzo—who has also sometimes elsewhere called himself John. It would seem improbable there could be two such villains named Shepard.

☞ It is reported that the editor of the rebel hand organ, and other such-like worthies, have gone to Washington to influence removals and appointments at this Navy Yard.—This to affect City and State Elections, of course.

☞ In Massachusetts, by official count, Gov. Bullock received 98,308 and Adams 70,360 votes. Last year the vote stood: Bullock, 61,980, Sweeser, 26,671. So Gov. B. gets 6,326 more votes than last year, while Adams gets 43,689 more than Sweeser did last year.

☞ At Louisville, Kentucky, great distress is apprehended from the recent closing of several of the largest manufactories, on account of the scarcity of coal. Near Knoxville a fire is raging in the mountain forests, filling the whole country with smoke, and doing immense damage to property.

GOLD, Friday, 139 1-4.

—A sort of surprise party of railroad officials went up to Skowhegan, on the P. & K. Railroad, last week, and had a big supper at the big Brewster House. This is said to have been a preliminary movement towards the union of the Eastern and Portland & Kenn-bec Railroads, thus making Skowhegan the end of the Eastern Railroad, instead of Portland.—Portland Transcript

500 MILES
OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD,
Running West from Omaha
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
ARE NOW COMPLETED.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company have built a longer line of railroad in the last eighteen months than has ever been built by any other company in the same time, and they will continue the work with the same energy until it is completed. The Western Division is being pushed rapidly eastward from Sacramento by the Central Pacific Company of California, and it is expected that

THE ENTIRE GRAND LINE

to the Pacific will be open for travel in 1870.—More than one-third of the work has already been done, more than one-third of the whole line is now in running order, and more laborers are now employed upon it than ever before. More than

Forty Million Dollars in Money

have already been expended by the two powerful companies that have undertaken the enterprise, and there is no lack of funds for the most vigorous prosecution. When the United States government found it necessary to secure the construction of the Union Pacific Railroad to develop and protect its new interest, it proposed the companies authorized to build it such ample aid as should render its speedy completion beyond a doubt.—The available means of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, derived from the Government and its own stockholders, may be briefly summed up as follows:

1.—UNITED STATES BONDS

Having thirty years to run and being six per cent. currency interest at the rate of $16,000 per mile for 547 miles on the Plains; that at the rate of $48,000 per mile for 150 miles through the Rocky Mountains; then at the rate of $32,000 per mile for the remaining distance, for which the United States takes a second lien as security. The interest on these bonds is paid by the United States government, which also pays the company one half the amount of its bills in money for transporting its freight, troops, mails, &c. The remaining half of these bills is placed to the company's credit, and forms a sinking fund which may finally discharge the whole amount of this lien. The claims against the government since April of the current year amount to four and one-half times this interest.

2.—FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS.

By its charter the Company is permitted to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to the same amount as the bonds issued by the Government, and no more, and only as the road progresses. The Trustees for the bondholders are Hon. Fred. E. Dwight, U. S. Senator from New York, and the Hon. Oakes Ames, Member of U. S. House of Representatives, who are responsible for the delivery of these bonds to the Company in accordance with the terms of the law.

3.—THE LAND GRANT.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company has a land grant or absolute donation from the government of 12,800 acres to the mile on the line of the road, which will not be worth less than $1.50 at the lowest valuation.

4.—THE CAPITAL STOCK.

The authorized capital of the Union Pacific Railroad Company is $100,000,000, of which over $60,000,000 have been paid on the work already done.

The Means Sufficient to Build the Road.

Contracts for the entire work of building 914 miles of the Union Pacific railroad west from Omaha, comprising much of the most difficult mountain work, and embracing every expense except surveying, have been made with responsible parties (who have already finished over 500 miles), at the average rate of sixty-eight thousand and fifty-eight dollars ($68,058) per mile. This price includes all necessary shops for construction and repairs of cars, depots, stations and all other incidental buildings, and also locomotives, passenger, baggage and freight cars and every requisite rolling stock, to an amount that shall not be less than $6,000 per mile. Allowing the cost of the remaining one hundred and eighty-six miles, the eleven hundred miles assumed to be built by the Pacific Company to be $69,000 per mile.

THE TOTAL COST OF ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES WILL BE AS FOLLOWS:

914 miles, at $68,058.....$62,206,012
186 miles, at 90,000.....16,740,000
Add discounts on bonds, surveys, &c.: 4,500,000

Amount.....$82,445,012
As the U. S. Bonds are equivalent to cash, the Company's own First Mortgage Bonds have a ready market, we have as the

AVAILABLE CASH RESOURCES for BUILDING ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES:

U. S. Bonds.....$29,328,000
First Mortgage Bonds.....29,328,000
Capital stock paid in on the 60 % done.....5,369,750
Land Grant, 11,089,000 acres, at 1.00 per acre.....21,120,000

Total.....$85,145,750

The Company have ample facilities for supplying any deficiency that may arise in means for construction. This may be done wholly or in part by additional subscriptions to capital stock. Active inquiry has already been made for a portion of these lands, and arrangements are now proposed to offer a part of them for sale. While their whole value will not be realized for some years to come, they will remain a very important source of revenue to the Company. The lands of the Illinois Central Railroad Company are sold, ranging at from $6 to $12 per acre, and other land grant companies in the West are receiving equal prices for similar properties.

Future Business.

The most skeptical have never expressed a doubt that when the Union Pacific Railroad is finished the immense business of travel, both over it, as the only railroad connecting the two grand divisions of the North American continent will be one of the wonders of railway transportation; and as it will have no competitor, it can always charge remunerative rates. The Pacific Mail Steamship Company of New York is now running a regular line of its splendid steamers between San Francisco and China and Japan, which is doubtless the pioneer of other lines, that will traverse the Pacific Ocean and include the teas, spices and other products of Eastern Asia. Excepting some very heavy or bulky articles of comparatively low values, almost all of time discides the direction of freights, and most of these cargoes will find their natural transit over the Union Pacific Railroad.

It is quite within bounds to say that its traffic will be limited only by the capacity of the line, and that no other road will be built to relieve it to necessary. California and Oregon must not only be supplied with means of transport for passengers, mail, treasure and other wants of the inhabitants of Dacotah, Colorado, Utah, Idaho and Montana will communicate with the older States almost entirely by this road, as it is the avenue to all the great mining district, which is only awaiting this ready means of communication to receive a population that will develop its vast mineral and other resources, and which of itself would furnish ample business for a railway line.

Earnings from Way Business.

While the through business of the Company will be amply remunerative, it is still in the future, but the local business on the part of the road in operation has been most satisfactory.

During the quarter ending May 31, 1867, an average of 325 miles of the Union Pacific Railroad was in operation. The Superintendent's Report shows the following results:

EARNINGS.

Passengers, Freight, Telegraph, Mails, Express	$723,765 54
Transportation of Contractors' Material and men	479,383 41
Total	$1,203,038 95

EXPENSES.

Fuel, Repairs, Offices, Conductors, Trains, &c	$295,539 92
Net Earnings to balance	907,503 03
Total	$1,203,038 95

The net operating expenses on the commercial business for the quarter were $27,999 56, account for the COMMERCIAL BUSINESS stands as follows:

Earnings for May, June and July	$733,755 54
Expenses " " "	287,966 59
Net Profit	$485,789 0

The amount of bonds the company can issue on 325 miles at $16,000 per mile is $5,200,000. Interest in gold, three months at 6 per cent. on this sum is $78,000, which, at 40 per cent. premium, will correspond with currency earnings, is $109,200—showing that the net earnings for this quarter were more than four times the interest on the First Mortgage Bonds on this length of road.

First Mortgage Bonds,

whose principal is so amply provided for, and whose interest is so thoroughly secured, must be classed among the safest investments. They pay

Six Per Cent in Gold,

and are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, and accrued interest at Six Per Cent in currency from July 1.

Many parties are taking advantage of the present high price of Government stocks to exchange for these bonds, which are over FIFTEEN PER CENT. CHEAPER, and at the current rate of premium on gold, pay

Over Nine Per Cent. Interest.

SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received in Portsmouth by FIRST NATIONAL BANK, and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau street, and by

THE FARMER FEEDETH ALL.

BY CHAS. GODFREY LELAND.

My lord rides through his palace gate,
My lady sweeps along in state,
The sage thinks long on many a thing,
And the maiden muses on marrying;
The minstrel harpeth merrily,
The sailor plows the foaming sea,
The huntsman kills the good red deer,
And the soldier wars without a fear;
But fall to each whate'er befall,
The farmer, he must feed them all.

Smith hammereth cherry red the sword,
Priest preacheth pure the Holy Word,
Dame Alice worketh broidery well,
Clerk Richard tales of love can tell,
The tap-wife sells her foaming beer,
Dan Fisher fisheth in the mere,
And courtiers rustle, strut and shine,
While pages bring the Canary wine;
But fall to each whate'er befall,
The farmer, he must feed them all.

Man builds his castle fair and high,
Wherever river runneth by,
Great cities rise in every land,
Great churches show the builder's hand,
Great arches, monuments and towers,
Fair palaces and pleasing bowers;
Great work is done, be it here or there,
And well man worketh everywhere;
But work or rest, whate'er befall,
The farmer he must feed them all.

GEN. HOWARD.—The well-informed Washington special of the Boston Advertiser says:

"The President has not yet issued an order mustering Gen. Howard out of his volunteer rank, and he will not do so at all if the advice of Gen. Grant is followed. Gen. Grant says that Gen. Howard's duties are more important and laborious than those of a department commander. The Freedmen's Bureau act gives him few or none of the extras or perquisites of department commanders, but confines him to the pay and rations of his rank. Gen. Grant thinks, therefore, that he should be allowed to retain his major-generalship, and has so represented to the President. In case he is mustered out, Gen. Grant is of opinion that Congress should make his pay, while at the head of the bureau, equal to his present pay, which is about the same as that of a brigadier-general acting as department commander."

MURDER TRIAL AT ALBANY.—The trial of Judson W. Palmer, for the murder of his father-in-law, Archibald N. Stevens, has commenced. The parties all resided in a country town. One morning last spring the prisoner ran off with and was married to Stevens' daughter. The father started on horseback and overtook the newly married ones at the house of a neighbor, where they had locked themselves in a room on learning of his approach. The old gentleman broke open the door, and a bloody struggle ended in the death of Stevens. The indictment reads for murder in the second degree not premeditated. The wife of the prisoner is in attendance at the trial.

— New York claims that buildings are going up in that city worth fifty million dollars.

THE NEW-HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE.

is the oldest paper in the country; and with the enlargement last week, is now the largest in the State—and the cheapest, at $2 per year, six copies for $10. It is now printed in quarto form, and containing 48 columns, and is ready for delivery at the Office of the Daily Chronicle, at six cents per copy. New subscribers for 1868 will receive the paper until Jan. 1st free of charge. The Gazette contains all Local items from the Daily Chronicle, and will be found especially interesting to natives of Portsmouth abroad. Copies in wrappers for mailing may always be had at the office.

CHEAP!

Reasons why you can buy Cheap of H. S. BODGE.

1st. He buys for cash and sells for cash.
2d. His rent is low and expenses light.
3d. Profits small, and he's bound to sell.
4th. He gets his goods direct from first hands, thereby saving one or two profits—hence on original cost.

THE RICHEST MAN IN THE WORLD.

Extract of a Letter from Baron Solomon Rothschild.

PARIS, 8th April, 1864, 25 Rue Faubv. St. Honore.

Will you be kind enough to have forwarded to me here 300 bottles of your Indian Liniment; if you will send at the same time your account, I will forward you the amount through Messrs. BELMORE & Co., New York.

Baron Solomon Rothschild having recommended to many of his friends Major LANE'S LINIMENT, and they being desirous to procure it, he should esteem it a favor to establish a depot in Paris.

THE INDIAN LINIMENT,

As a relief, ever ready; as a killer of pain, taken inwardly, or outwardly applied, has no equal.—For the relief and cure of Rheumatic and Neuralgic Affections, Sprains, Bruises, &c., it is unequalled. It is also most efficatious taken inwardly in the cure of Cholera, Cramps and Pains in the Stomach, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, &c., and is without exception the best Wonderful Panacea the world affords. No FAMILY should be without it. Every TRAVELER by land or sea should have a bottle. MINERS and FARMERS residing at a distance from Physicians should keep it constantly on hand. In case of accidents and sudden attacks of Stomach Complaints, its value cannot be estimated. Inquire for Major LANE'S INDIAN LINIMENT, and take no other. Price 50 Cents per bottle. For sale at wholesale and retail by Demas Barnes & Co., 21 Park Row, N. Y.; Gale & Robinson, 186 Greenwich street, N. Y.; F. C. Wells & Co., 192 Fulton street, N. Y.; Chas. N. Crittenden, 38 6th Ave. N. Y., and by respectable Druggists throughout the World. None genuine unless signed by JOHN THOS. LANE, and countersigned by J. T. LANE & CO., Proprietors, 163 Broadway, N. Y. Send for circular.

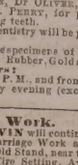
SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE.

Prescribed by Physicians for FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS AND INVALIDS.



As a Tonic, it has no equal, causing an appetite and building up the system of the most debilitated.

As a Diuretic, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands, Kidneys and Urinary Organs; very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

As a Blood Purifier, it is superior, being one of the best alteratives known in the medical pharmacopœia.

The qualities of SAMBUCI are "unsurpassed," being at once a Tonic, Diuretic, Alterative, Diaphoretic and Soporific.

N. B.—Viewed from a vegetable standpoint, Speer's Sambuci is a pure juice wine with a fine flavor, rich body and pleasant taste. It is especially adapted for weak and debilitated persons, the aged and infirm, and beneficial for ladies and children.

Be sure the signature of ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J., is over the cork of the bottle.

STUFFING THE BOXES.—At the late Democratic State Convention in Concord, it appears by the list of delegates published in the Patriot, showing the name and residence of each, that there were exactly five hundred and ninety-one delegates entitled to a place in the Convention. It is scarcely possible that all these were present, but in the first ballot there were six hundred and sixty-three votes cast; three hundred and twelve for Sinclair, three hundred and three for Hibbard, and forty-eight for all others. On this ballot there were seventy-two more votes cast than there were delegates in the Convention.

Sinclair being ahead on the first ballot, that fact was relied upon to give him the nomination on the next trial, as it did, and the aggregate vote shrunk to six hundred, still being nine more than the whole number of delegates.

The Concord Statesman says, "it is believed by some of the trustworthy Democrats in this city, and they do not hesitate to declare their belief, that Mr. Hibbard received votes enough on the first ballot to have given him the nomination in a fairly managed convention. Some persons hostile to him threw fraudulent votes enough to give him a defeat.

"What a nice set of people these would be to manage the Treasury Department, who cannot refrain from sharp practices in a Convention of their own party."

—How old people are getting to be! A couple in North Hampton, N. H., celebrated the seventieth anniversary of their marriage the other day, and every paper we take up has a notice of some centenarian. This living to be 100 years old is getting to be altogether too common.—Portland Transcript.

WM. SPENCER, alias Brockaway, and Hannah his reported wife, have been arrested in New York and taken to New Jersey, as the counterfeiters of 7-30 and 5-20 U. S. Bonds,—and gave bail in $40,000, which the woman had in her pocket! Five other persons are known to be implicated with them.

☞ It is said that Gen. Grant has suspended Gen. Mower's orders removing State officials in Louisiana, till Gen. Hancock arrived.

GOLD, Saturday, 139 7-8.

—In the U. S. Congress, Mr. Powell of Tennessee will contest Mr. Butler's seat, the latter being a prominent rebel.

—The Methodist Parsonage at Tremont, Me., was burned Saturday morning, 16th inst. The pastor, Rev. R. F. Stinson, had his face and hands badly burned.

—John M. Chase was knocked down, gagged and robbed of $600, in Newburyport, on Tuesday night of last week, as he was going from his store to his house.

—The carpenter and blacksmith shops of the Great Western Railway at Hamilton, C. W., were destroyed by fire Tuesday night, 19th inst. Loss heavy.

—Five inches of snow fell at Kendall's Mills, Me., week before last, and the Kennebec at that point is frozen over, embedding 75 large rafts in the ice.

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!

URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.
The following names from the large list of purchasers are given for reference:

Portsmouth.

Caution
To Females in Delicate Health.
DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No. 7 EDDICOTT St., Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri or Fluor Albus, suppression and other menstrual derangements, are all treated on new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a very few days. So invariably certain is this new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women than any other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations for those who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1867.

JEFF. D.—A Richmond dispatch of Nov. 21 states that Jefferson Davis is expected to reach there on Saturday in company with Charles O'Connor, one of his counsel. His counsel will object to his being tried by Judge Underwood and a negro jury. One reason why they object to Underwood is that the Rev. Paul Bagley, who visited Mr. Davis in Montreal last summer, saw Judge Underwood on his return to Virginia, and he (Underwood) said to him, "Well, I hope you will have nothing more to do with him (Davis). I will have him convicted, confiscate his lands, sell them to the negroes at fifty cents an acre, and you can go down there and get a good place to preach to them." Another cause of challenge stated by his counsel is the fact that when Judge Underwood was before the Judiciary Committee he was asked whether Jeff Davis could be convicted in Richmond, and he is said to have replied that he could pack a jury which would convict him; but he could not be convicted otherwise. This was before the inauguration of negro juries. His counsel will object to a negro jury, first, because having such a jury will be illegal; and second, because it is not possible that any negro jury can be, in point of fairness or capacity, competent to try him. If the Court overrules the objections of the counsel and determine to try him by a negro jury, his counsel will withdraw and leave the prisoner tupo devorandum.

Richmond dispatches are not always reliable, and perhaps the Rev. Paul Bagley may not be any more so; but the public have lost much of their interest in Jeff. D. and his trial. Some of the objections are ludicrous. The criminal, his partisans and his lost cause are a pitiable set, and with the help of A. J. & Co., are likely to remain so. We see it stated that Rev. Paul Bagley is applying for the Chaplaincy of the Senate. If he is the same Paul who is an attendant on Jeff. D., his case may be doubtful.

Just after writing the above we perceive that another Richmond dispatch of the 22d says Jeff. D. has arrived there, and adds:

"His counsels deny the report that they have an intention of resisting a trial before Judge Underwood."

Nevertheless, we publish the whole as a specimen of the trash which comes from Richmond.

☞ We learn from Washington that the indications there now are, that Congress will issue a new Bond, with which to cancel and take up the old as fast as possible—to be taxable by the Government, say at 1 per cent., to be divided among the States according to representation. This would satisfy the West and South, because bonds are mainly held in the North and Europe, and the European part of the tax would be enough to give New England about the fair share of the tax, according to the amount owned with us.

The plan would be open to some objections, but seems as likely to succeed as anything we have yet heard proposed. There are decided objections to putting the bonds subject to local taxation,—but by collecting the whole tax and dividing to the States, to be by them distributed, as the tax on Government Banks now is,—would answer the demands of the people, and it is thought would satisfy them. It might enable the States to assume the town war debts, and pay them, from a sinking fund created by this tax on bonds.

WHO PAID FOR THE POWDER!—The Dover Enquirer says, the looseness with which the Democracy of Dover went into the matter of burning gun-powder the other day, excited some remark, even among the prudent members of their own party, who had fears that they might be called upon to help pay a swinging bill therefor. But that was undoubtedly all settled beforehand, by one of their liberal men who never does anything by the halves, and who, though he may "blush to find it fame," deserves all the credit thereof, as well as to be nominated by the democracy for Governor, when his party gets tired of running Sinclair. The Concord Monitor, in its report of the doings of the D State Convention, gives the following

"Geo. H. Pierce of Dover was nominated as the candidate for Railroad Commissioner, by acclamation; whereupon an enthusiastic young man from Strafford county, who appeared as though he might have come recently from Bascom's grocery, and was in good and regular standing in Nashy's church at the Confederate X Roads, called for 'three cheers for George H. Pierce, the man who fired one hundred guns for ——.' He did not complete his sentence for a vigorous pulling of his coat tail caused him to turn around, when a conversation ensued, in which the only words audible were, 'He didn't;' 'I say he did, too;' and the young gentleman sank to his seat, leaving the Convention and the world in doubt as to what Mr. G H Pierce fired the hundred guns for.—When we ascertain, we will let our readers know."

—The Star says that the whole range of the White Mountains were clearly visible from Portland last Thursday, their tops all covered with snow.

—Mr. Andrew Dow of Biddeford, Me., died suddenly on the 16th inst. He was sitting in a chair at home, when his head was seen to drop, and he soon after expired. He was a respected citizen, aged about 60 years.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—The correspondent of the Wolfeborough News writes from Freedom: Present indications are that turkeys must roost lower in market prices this year than for several years past. There are ample numbers of them raised, and buyers do not seem to be after them as is the case usually—some years even buying them afore they had been fattened."

The portrait of Gov. Bartlett recently placed in the State House by his decendants, is pronounced a correct copy of the original. Why do not the relatives of other governors complete the series? There is yet room in the Executive Chamber.

The people of Bedford have within a year contributed $8000 for religious and benevolent purposes. First, they raised a fund for their retired pastor, amounting to $1,500; then fitted up a parsonage, at a cost of $3,000; then erected a mounment to the memory of Rev. Mr. Savage, costing $400; have recently raised $1,000 to repair the church, $450 for the purchase of an organ, and pay their pastor $1,200 a year.

Upon page 297 of Rev. Dr. Bouton's History of Concord is found a plan of Main Street, as it was in 1798. It represents that highway as it was when, if an additional mechanic came into town, the inquiry was made, "How's he going to get a living?" He hasn't got no land."

It is said there was a policy for $2000 on the Gilmanton church; a circumstance that, if substantiated, the Statesman says, "will prove that the proprietors are men of more forethought than owners of most houses of worship throughout the State.—There is probably no insurance whatever on two-thirds of all the church property in New Hampshire."

The Freewill Baptist meeting house in Bristol has undergone extensive repairs and alterations, and been enlarged.

Saturday night, at Great Falls, Baxter & Cram's boot and shoe store was broken into and $535 worth of stock taken. Tuesday night, Smith's Periodical Depot was entered and goods to the amount of $300 carried away, including $150 worth of pocket knives. Wednesday night the boot and shoe manufactory of L. W. Paul, situated on the Berwick side, was entered and robbed of about $800 worth of boots and shoes.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—On Tuesday night Mr. John M Chase of Newburyport concluded a contract and received in payment for upholstering a church in Seabrook, N. H., some $600. On his way to the depot to take the cars for N. he had to pass through a piece of woods, where he was seized by the throat by some unknown person, pressed to the ground, and his money demanded. A struggle ensued, which resulted in the escape of Mr. Chase, who ran to the first house, related his story, and secured company to the depot, where he took the cars for N., arriving at 6½ o'clock. Upon his arrival he immediately hastened to his place of business in Market Square, and there busied himself in unpacking a lot of goods arrived from Boston during his absence, after which he started for his residence at the south part of the city. When in the vicinity of Harrison street, a lonely locality, some person from behind hoodwinked him, and before he could raise an alarm he was felled to the ground by a heavy blow in the side, his hands tied behind his back, and his mouth filled with paper, which was tied in as a gag, and there he was relieved of his money.—Newburyport Herald.

DARTMOUTH COALEGE. — Dr. Dixi Crosby, LL. D., who succeeded the late Dr. Mussey in the Professorship of Surgery in the Dartmouth Medical School in 1838, proposes to retire from active connection with the school next year. He will then have completed his thirtieth course of lectures. Dr. Crosby is the only member of the Medical faculty of 1838 now retaining position in the institution. Dr. Oliver W. Holmes was then Professor of Anatomy and Physiology, and Hon. Joel Parker, LL D., of Medical Jorisprudence. During his residence at Hanover Dr. Holmes is said to have familiarized himself with the scenery and surroundings of the beautiful town of Haverhill, N. H.,—the "Ox-bow village" of his recent story of "The Guardian Angel." The medical school is in prosperous condition, and graduated forty students the present year.

Peyton R. Freeman, of the class of 1796, is the oldest living graduate of Dartmouth College; and not a member of the three subsequent classes is surviving. Mr. Freeman is 95 years of age, and resides at Hanover. Of the class of 1801, in which Daniel Webster graduated, Hon. Aaron Loveland of Norwich, Vt., and Dr. Asahel Stone are the only survivors. To the former, Webster says, in a letter reviewing his college course, that he conceded the supremacy in Greek.—Boston Advertiser.

MOUNT VESUVIUS.—A dispatch dated Naples 21, says that Mount Vesuvius famous for its volcanic eruptions, is still pouring forth an immense volume of fire. Seven distinct streams of the molton mass have been formed, and as they press on in their winding paths down the sides of the tremendous mountain, a scene is presented which is magnificient in the extreme.

— At Fort Wayne Ind., Nov. 22, the General Council of the Lutheran Church of North America, after a friendly discussion of two days, adopted the proposed Constitution with great unanimity. There are now fully organised 12 synods, nearly 1000 congregations, and over 130,000 communicants represented.

ARMY REPORTS.—No reports have been received from Generals Sheridan and Sickles, but they will make reports at some future time on the condition of their late districts. Gen. Canby, Pope, Schofield and Ord have sent in their reports. Gen. Sherman, who has made his report, hopes for immediate peace with the Indians, and recommends the employment of Indians in the service. From July 1 to Sept. 20, 124 wagon trains passed over the Plains, taking nearly 5000 men, 500 women and about the same number of children, nearly 6000 mules, 12,000 oxen, and about 1000 horses. Gen. Thomas reports everything quiet in his department, but that the people show disloyal tendencies.

On the subject of Military Commanders of the reconstructed districts, it is understood that Gen. Grant will hold the following opinion: The Military Commanders, so far as their districts are concerned, are held in subordination to him, (Gen. Grant,) and to the War Department in their military capacities, but in their civil characters they are entirely independent of both, except in the matter of removals and appointments. He feels in that while they are independent in their military spheres, there is not one of them who would not yield a positive and entire submission to any expressed wish of the civil administration placed over them by the Constitution and acts of Congress. Gen. Grant entirely approves of the manner in which the several district commanders have discharged their duties.

☞ Since the establishment of the Newsboys' Lodging House in New York, it has furnished to these vociferous lads more than three hundred thousand lodgings and two hundred thousand meals. Their savings since 1854 have amounted to $14,501; and the few pennies they have paid nightly for a meal and a bed have contributed nearly $15,000 towards the expenses of the Lodging House—so that in the space of thirteen years nearly $30,000 have been paid or saved by the boys.

☞ Herbert M. Hall, a clerk employed by Little, Brown & Co., Boston, and who is but seventeen years old, and has been in the service of the firm about a year, and hails from New Hampshire, where his parents now reside,—has been arrested for stealing his employers' letters from the Post Office. He acknowledges that he has abstracted money from letters that came into his possession since August, but did not state the amount. Upon searching his trunk a package of one hundred and twenty envelopes, with their manuscript contents, were found, most of them purporting to have contained sums of money, many to large amount.

WEST INDIES.—Severe shocks of earthquake occurred on the 18th at San Juan, the principal port and capital of Porto Rico.

Divers were working in the Bay of St. Thomas to discover the treasure sunk in the late hurricane, and were meeting with success. Five millions in specie went down in the Rhone.

The story of the submersion of the Island of Tortola, first received from New York, proves to be utterly without foundation. Tortola suffered severely from the recent hurricane, but remains at its usual elevation above the face of the sea.

PROGRESS.—The progress of the arts and sciences for the last few years have marched on with gigantic speed from the past, we may even conclude that a few years more will develop combinations by which we may successfully navigate the air. Whether this shall ever be accomplished or not, the discovery and manufacture of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus, by elevating the culinary sciences, has proved a far greater boon to man. 11

ENGLAND is excited over the intended execution of some Fenian convicts at Manchester.

☞ W. H. Hill, Jr., & Co. advertise a long list of holiday books, that will be found nicely gotten up and very popular.

—Secretary Stanton, when in Pittsburg, spoke in warm and decided terms of General Grant, and gave such indorsement of him as only those having had his opportunies for judging can give.

—A wager was laid last week that an amateur pedestrian of Portland could not walk five miles inside of fifty-six minutes. The affair was decided at the Forest City Park, and the distance was walked with ease in 52:44.

—In the case of Mr. W. K. A. Hoitt, charged with setting fire to his store in Boston, the Grand Jury found no bill, and Mr. Hoitt was honorably discharged.

—King Theodore of Abyssinia is made an "awful example" of negro supremacy by a correspondent of the National Intelligencer, who thinks him "probably as enlightoned a negro as lives."

A DEAR ARTICLE.—Whoever buys common soap gets a dear article. Those who insist upon the grocers supplying Pyle's O K Soap, which is pure and hard, and good for laundry, bath or toilet, effect a saving of vast importance. 29

WHAT NORAH SAID.

THE REPLY OF "NORAH O'NEAL," as sung with great applause at Public Concerts. The music by W. F. WELLMAN, Jr.

"Is it lonely ye are then without me,
Only wait, and I'll come bye and bye;
For meself's just entirely as lonely,
And darling, I give sigh for sigh.

And would ye then wait till to-morrow,
While the moon shines in heaven so bright,
And the lane and the kiss so convenient,
Wout I meet you, my darling, to-night."

AMERICAN

WALTHAM

WATCHES.

The true value of Machinery applied to Watchmaking is not that by its use watches are rapidly made, but that they are made correctly. Very few people know why a Waltham Watch should be superior to any other. In the first place, at Waltham, the Watch is regarded as only a machine, to be made by machinery. Any other machine, on mechanical principles. If the watches are good, it is because the machinery is good. Of course the machinery must be so defined in form or plan of the movement—no mistake in the sizes or shapes of the pieces of which it is composed—nothing wanting in their properties, which should be superior in their positions. These points once thoroughly settled, it rests wholly with the machinery, constructed to determine identity of form and function expressly for the purpose, to produce the finished pieces. By means of multiplying gauges and measuring tools, of the finest precision for the detection of wear in the cutting tools, and for matching and laws in steel or stone, are made to accompany the work in every stage from beginning to end. As a necessary result, the whole is put together a perfect machine. Every part is formed to fit properly in its place. Every pin may be pushed, if a pinion, and every screw turned home, instead of a sluggish and feeble action, the balance, even under the pressure of the lightest running, vibrates with a wide and free motion, and the beat has the clear, ringing sound always characteristic of the Waltham Watch. The machine is a time-keeper from the start.

This system of watchmaking is unknown in foreign countries, and is entirely original with the Waltham Company. The Company claim that by it they produce watches that cannot be equalled for every quality which makes a watch valuable. Simple in plan and correct in principle, the movement is not only beautifully finished, substantial, accurate and cheap, but is uniform in the minutest details, not easily damaged, and when repaired always as good as new. There are different grades of finish in the different varieties of watches made by the Waltham Company, as there are different sizes and shapes to suit all tastes and means; but every watch that bears the genuine trade-mark of "WALTHAM" is guaranteed to be a good one, and nobody need be afraid to buy it.

Every Watch fully Warranted.

For Sale by all First-Class Dealers in the United States and British Provinces.

By means of multiplying gauges and measuring tools, of the finest precision for the detection of wear in the cutting tools, and for matching and laws in steel or stone, are made to accompany the work in every stage from beginning to end. As a necessary result, the whole is put together a perfect machine. Every part is formed to fit properly in its place. Every pin may be pushed, if a pinion, and every screw turned home, instead of a sluggish and feeble action, the balance, even under the pressure of the lightest running, vibrates with a wide and free motion, and the beat has the clear, ringing sound always characteristic of the Waltham Watch. The machine is a time-keeper from the start.

This system of watchmaking is unknown in foreign countries, and is entirely original with the Waltham Company. The Company claim that by it they produce watches that cannot be equalled for every quality which makes a watch valuable. Simple in plan and correct in principle, the movement is not only beautifully finished, substantial, accurate and cheap, but is uniform in the minutest details, not easily damaged, and when repaired always as good as new. There are different grades of finish in the different varieties of watches made by the Waltham Company, as there are different sizes and shapes to suit all tastes and means; but every watch that bears the genuine trade-mark of "WALTHAM" is guaranteed to be a good one, and nobody need be afraid to buy it.

Every Watch fully Warranted.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

THE REMEDY FOR CURING

Consumption, Asthma, Croup, Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Influenza, Oppression of the Chest or Lungs, Difficult Breathing, and all Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

Its action is expectorant, alterative, sudorific, sedative, diaphoretic and diuretic, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS and PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action and imparts strength to the whole system. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction, even in the most confirmed cases of Consumption, and not to produce costiveness (as do most remedies) or effect the head, as it contains no opium in any form. It is PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, and though an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system, there is no necessity for so many deaths by consumption, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

THE-REALLY GREAT PLASTER,
ALLCOCK'S POROUS,

Have the compactness of kid, and the flexibility of a silk glove.

Dr. L. P. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

FARNVILLE, Louisiana, March 8, 1850.

DR. T. ALLCOCK, Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for three months, and also disease of the heart, and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. D.'s; but truth prompts me to say that your Porous Plasters have me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a permanent cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your Plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours very truly,

Local.

☞ Our City Election takes place tomorrow. The two candidates for Mayor are before the people. We have no word to say for or against either—except that both fairly represent their respective parties. Let each man choose for himself this day, whom he will serve—which cause he prefers should be successful, the Democratic or Republican. We regard the result of this local election, as it will be regarded abroad—as of more importance in its prospective effect on State and National politics, than on home matters even—and so would caution every man to look well to his vote before he throws it.

☞ A most disgraceful fracas occurred at the meeting held in the Ward Room of Ward One, on Saturday evening, for the revision of the check list. As near as we can learn the facts, not having been personally present, the Selectmen of the Ward kept on with the business required of them until after ten o'clock, when they very properly adjourned until Tuesday morning. It appears there were a large number of persons claiming the right to have their names enrolled among the citizens of Portsmouth, coming from whence we know not, and under the inflammatory counsels of political demagogues these men blocked up the stairway and prevented the egress of the revisionary board until about midnight. In the meantime a disturbance occurred, during which one man was so badly beaten as to have to be taken home by his friends. As this was not a final meeting for its purpose, we think our Democratic friends have made a grand mistake in the matter, and if the era of mob law is to be inaugurated in this city, the law-abiding citizens are fortunate to be thus early warned in relation thereto. Judge Doe has recently charged in relation to this matter, and transgressors may hope for no easy road in this violation of the law. In New Orleans it has been the custom for many years to close all the bar-rooms on election days, and from the good results shown there from this practice, we hope to see it inaugurated here at our election.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT, PORTSMOUTH—Doe, Judge.— Saturday.— In case Buckley vs. Johnson and Pickering, the Jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $150. This closed the trial of causes by jury.

The Court will be held at the office of the Clerk of U. S. Circuit Court in this city on Monday at half past eleven, A. M., to hear arguments in the case Nutter and wife vs. De-Rochemont, which was tried by the Court at the beginning of the term; and for the purpose of disposing of any other unfinished business of the term.

☞ It must be a very desirable position to be Police Officer of Portsmouth or Boston—and when a rowdy, drunk or sober, resists arrest, and force necessary to secure him is used, to fine said officer roundly for doing their duty and preserving the peace! We don't object to deeming all men innocent till proved guilty; but we do go in for law and order, and regard the safety of one Officer's little finger of more importance than the heads of a hundred brawlers or even accused criminals. We hope there are friends enough of good government—in fact, or any government—in this city, who will subscribe $1 each to pay the fine and expenses of our City Marshal and his Assistant. For if Officers are not sustained, how can they sustain the laws?

☞ A. J. Shorey was brought before U. S. Commissioner Hackett on Saturday, on charge of attempting to sell counterfeit currency. District Attorney Rand ap ared for prosecution; Wm. B. Small for defendant. Shorey was ordered to give $1000 bonds for his appearance before the U. S. Circuit Court, and failing to do so, was placed in the hands of U. S. Deputy Marshal John J. Leavitt. Albert R. Hatch, Esq., becoming responsible, Shorey was allowed to go at liberty until Monday morning.

POLICE COURT, Nov. 22.—Peter Sullivan, for maliciously breaking glass in the shop of Charles E. Gray, was ordered to give bonds in $100 for his appearance before the S. J. Court, in default of which he was committed.

☞ We understand that in the court martial convened to try the charges preferred against Gen. Gates, all of the specifications, seventeen in number, were in effect quashed, and the General, after his three-score years of service, comes unscathed out of an ordeal which might have crushed a younger man with no such record of faithful service to show—though, to be sure, the charges were of little account, even if sustained.

☞ Asst. Surgeon George S. Fife has been detached from duty on board the apprentice ship Portsmouth, and placed on waiting orders.

☞ Those in want of Millinery Goods of any description, are referred to the advertisement of C. N. Shaw & Co., in this morning's issue.

Communication.

☞ We do not pretend to be better judges of the evidence than the jury which has just brought in a verdict against certain city officers for being over-zealous in the performance of their duty, neither do we consider that we have so fair a chance of knowing the real facts in the case as those who have listened to all the testimony on both sides thereof; but we do wish to say that from our watching of the police record from day to day, week to week, month to month and year to year, that we were prepared to assert that our officers have not had held out to them the inducements to the faithful performance of their duty which in other places is a guarantee that every officer is faithful and fearless in the performance of the duties which he is appointed to fulfill. Of the particular case in question we say nothing as to its merits or demerits, but we do know that in even larger places than this, complaints against its corrective force are more infrequent than with us, from the fact that those who resist the process of law by violence generally find an additional penalty imposed therefor. $500 MILES
OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD,
Running West from Omaha
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
ARE NOW COMPLETED.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company have built a longer line of railroad in the last eighteen months than was ever built by any other company in the same time, and they will continue the work with the same energy until it is completed. The Western Division is being pushed rapidly eastward from Sacramento by the Central Pacific Company of California, and it is expected that

THE ENTIRE GRAND LINE

to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.—More than one-third of the work has already been done, more than one-third of the whole line is now in running order, and more laborers are now employed upon it than ever before. More than

Forty Million Dollars in Money

have already been expended by the two powerful companies that have undertaken the enterprise, and there is no lack of funds for its most vigorous prosecution. When the United States Government found it necessary to secure the construction of the Union Pacific Railroad quickly and protect its own interest, it gave the companies authorized to build it such ample aid as should render its speedy completion beyond a doubt.—The available means of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, derived from the Government and its own stockholders, may be briefly summed up as follows:

1.—UNITED STATES BONDS

Having thirty years to run and being six per cent. currency interest at the rate of $16,000 per mile for 547 miles on the Plains; then at the rate of $48,000 per mile for 150 miles through the Rocky Mountains; then at the rate of $32,000 per mile for 350 remaining distance, from which the United States takes a second lien as security. The interest on these bonds is paid by the United States government, which also pays the company one half the amount of its bills in money for transporting its freight, troops, mails, &c. The remaining half of these bills is placed to the company's credit, and for this a sinking fund which will finally discharge the whole amount of this lien. The claims against the government since April of the current year amount to four and one-half times this interest.

2.—FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS.

By its charter the Company is permitted to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to the same amount as the bonds issued by the Government, and no more, and only as the road progresses. The first mortgage bondholders are the Hon. E. D. Morgan, U. S Senator from New York, and the Hon. Oakes Ames, Member of U. S. House of Representatives, who are responsible for the delivery of these bonds to the Company in accordance with the terms of the law.

3.—THE LAND GRANT.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company has a land grant or absolute donation from government of 12,800 acres to the mile on the line of the road, which will not be worth less than $1.50 at the lowest valuation.

4.—THE CAPITAL STOCK.

The authorized capital of the Union Pacific Railroad Company is $100,000,000, of which over $8,000,000 have been paid on the work already done.

The Means Sufficient to Build the Road.

Contracts for the entire work of building 914 miles of first-class railroad west from Omaha, comprising much of the most difficult mountain work, and embracing every expense except surveying, have been made with responsible parties (who have already finished over 500 miles), at the average rate of sixty-eight thousand and fifty-eight dollars ($68,058) per mile. This price includes all necessary shops for construction and repairs of cars, depots, stations and all other incidental buildings, and also locomotives, passenger, baggage and freight cars and other requisite rolling stock, to an amount that shall not be less than $6,500 per mile. Allowing the cost of the remaining one hundred and eighty-six of the eleven hundred miles assumed to be built by the Pacific Company to be $30,000 per mile,

THE TOTAL COST OF ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES WILL BE AS FOLLOWS:

914 miles, at $68,058.....$62,205,012
186 miles, at 30,000..... 10,740,000
Add discounts on bonds, surveys, &c.'.. 4,700,000

Amount.....$82,445,012

As the U. S. Bonds are equal to money, and the Company's own First Mortgage Bonds have a ready market, we have as the

AVAILABLE CASH RESOURCES for BUILDING ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES:

U. S. Bonds.....$29,328,000
First Mortgage Bonds..... 29,328,000
Capital stock paid in on the work done..... 5,329,750
Land Grant, 11,039,000 acres, at 1.00 per acre..... 21,120,000

Total.....$85,145,750

The Company have ample means for any deficiency that may arise in means for construction. This may be done wholly or in part by additional subscriptions to capital stock.

Active inquiry has already been made for a portion of these lands, and arrangements are now in progress to offer a part of them for sale. While their whole value will not be available for some years to come, they will remain a very important source of revenue to the Company. The lands of the Illinois Central Railroad Company are selling at from $6 to $12 per acre, and other land grant companies in the West are receiving equal prices for similar properties.

Future Business.

The most skeptical have never expressed a doubt that the Union Pacific Railroad is finished the immense business that must flow over it, as the only railroad connecting the two grand divisions of the North American continent will be one of the richest orders of railway transportation; and as it will have no competitor, it can always charge remunerative rates. The Pacific Mail Steamship Company of New York now running a regular line of its splendid steamers between San Francisco and China and Japan, which is doubtless the pioneer of other lines, that will traverse the Pacific Ocean laden with the teas, spices and other products of Eastern Asia. Excepting some very heavy or bulky articles of comparatively low values, shortness of time decides the direction of freights, and most of these will be sent by the Morning Chronicle.

THE WITCH RIDE.
BY J. C. PEABODY.

An o'er true tale the Salem witches told,
How devils came with whip and spur and rein,
And rode them mighty up and down the wold,
And at the cock-crow bro't them home again.

Though the grim Puritan with gallows-rope
And fire and water fought the fiends of hell,
Still in the darkness with our souls they rope,
Still in our day they ride their race as well.

More than the quaint old Mather dreamed or knew,
Are these sad souls by demon passions driven,
'Neath scorpion whips, their life-long journey through,
Past earthly joy, and past the gate of Heaven.

A motley crew go on this goblin ride,
With ghoul-like leaders spurring in the van—
Passion, Revenge, Ambition, Lust and Pride
Forever preying on the heart of Man.

Ah! little deem we in the crowded street
What "witch-marks" 'neath the comliest robes are hidden;
Nor how the haggard brows and hurrying feet
Proclaim how hard the restless souls are driven.

But only in the dark the devil drives,
So says the legend, and if for the light
The enchanted victim humbly prays and strives,
When the day dawns he straightway takes his flight.

—U. S. Marshal Gould of Connecticut, had his pocket picked of a wallet containing $300, in the cars at New Haven on Tuesday of last week.

—Chief Justice Chase considers that all United States bonds should be paid in specie, and favors a uniform currency throughout the world. He also thinks that our present banking system will be adopted by all civilized nations.

—In Mrs. Lincoln's house at Springfield, Ill., in a glass frame, is set a piece of Laura Keen's dress which she wore on the evening of the President's assassination. It bears a dark crimson stain which she received as she supported the martyr's head in her arms when she hastened from the stage to the box where he fell.

—Last week, says the Frankfort Commonwealth, the rebel Democratic Quartermaster General of Kentucky made a clean sweep of the Union ex soldiers employed in his department, and filled them places with those who, like himself, had served in the rebel army. That is quite natural—the democratic party uniting with the rebel lost cause. Nobody need to be surprised at it.

—Professor Julius Degmier, formerly of Erie, Pa., was arrested in Nashville on Monday, 18th inst., on a charge of embezzlement of United States funds, while acting as Deputy Collector at Erie in 1865. The defalcations amounted to about $60,000. Mr. Degmier admitted the defalcation soon after it was made, and has ever since been endeavoring to secure the money to reimburse the Government, but without success. Unsuccessful oil speculations were at the bottom of the trouble.

— An interesting breach of promise case created much interest among the fair sex at Augusta last week. Miss Eleanor Lawrence of Gardiner, a young lady of family, and prepossessing appearance, claimed $10,000 damages of L. Draper Cook, of the same place, because he broke his promise to marry her and married another. She was attended in court by four sisters and her father, and a host of sympathizing female friends. Cupid at court is not so attractive as at church, but he is sure to draw a crowd anywhere.

THE RICHEST MAN IN THE WORLD.
Extract of a Letter from Baron Solomon Rothschild.
PARIS, 9th April, 1864, 35 Rue Fauby St. Honore.
Will you kindly have forwarded to me here 200 bottles of your Indian Liniment; if you will send at the same time your account, I will forward you the amount through Messrs. BELMONT & Co., New York.
Baron Solomon Rothschild having recommended it to many of his friends, Major LANE'S LINIMENT, and they being desirous to procure it, he should advise him to establish a depot in Paris.

THE INDIAN LINIMENT,
As a relief, ever ready; as a killer of pain, taken inwardly, or outwardly applied, has no equal.—For the relief and cure of all Bowel complaints, Affections, Sprains, Bruises, &c., it is unequalled.—It is also most efficatious taken inwardly, in the cure of Cholera, Cholera Infantum, &c. and will absolutely cure Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, &c., and is without exception the Most Wonderful Panacea the world affords. LANE'S LINIMENT should be without it. Every TRAVELER by land or sea should have a bottle. MINERS and FARMERS residing at a distance from Physicians should keep it constantly on hand. In case of accidents and sudden attacks of Stomach Complaints, its value cannot be estimated. Inquire for Major LANE'S INDIAN LINIMENT, and take no other. Price 50 Cents per bottle. Sold by Druggists and retail by Dealers Barnes & Co., 21 Park Row, N. Y.; Gale & Robinson, 38 Green street, N. Y.; F. C. Wells & Co., 192 Fulton street, N. Y.; Chas. N. Crittenden, 48 6th Ave., N. Y.; and by respectable Druggists throughout the world. None genuine unless signed by JOHN THOS. LANE, and countersigned by J. T. LANE & CO., Proprietors, 163 Broadway, N. Y. Send for circular.

BOSTON, Oct. 22, 1867.
MR. HILL:—I have used PATENT ELASTIC VENTILATING INNER SOLES, and consider a portion of the last winter with great satisfaction, as a means of keeping the feet warm and dry.
Being troubled with tender feet, I have continued their use with lighter boots through the summer, and find them to exceed my anticipations, keeping them warm in cold weather, and giving an agreeable elasticity in walking.
Very truly yours,
HORACE WILLIAMS.

☞ An account of the meeting of the United States Commissioners with the chiefs of Indian tribes thus shows that the Indian has a "weak spot" as well as those whose skin is other than copper hue: "Tall Bull, who is quite a warrior, refused to sign, and gave as a reason that the chiefs had all signed, and there was no occasion for his signing. General Harney said, 'D— you, sign;' but Tall Bull stood in sullen defiance and said 'No.' Senator Henderson then said to him: 'We want you to sign because you are a warrior and a brave. We want your name. The Great Father wants to see and read the name of Tall Bull, the big brave.' This was an approach to Mr. Tall Bull on the blind side, and he at once walked up to the table and made his mark."

THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—The New York Herald, with D. H. Craig in the background, starts a new opposition Associated Press on January 1st. They declare that they will print cable news twenty-four hours ahead of the old association, and thus compel the New York and the outside press to come over.—Philadelphia Star.

— Mecklenburg, Germany, has lost twelve per cent of its population in ten years by emigration to the United States.

— Rev. Henry W. Foote, Minister of King's Chapel, Boston has, returned from Europe in good health, and resumed his pastoral duties last Sunday.

— Government has sold to a menagerie nine of the famous camels imported for beasts of burden several years ago and sent to the southwest.

— Bangor will petition the next legislature for an act prohibiting the deposit in the Penobscot of any slabs, edgings, sawdust or other refuse from the sawmills, which in some places are now twenty feet deep and have almost completely obstructed navigation.

— As an instance of the fearful results of Radical rule in Tennessee, it is stated that the railroads of that State, under the careful supervision of Gov. Brownlow, will pay into the State Treasury on the 1st of January next, $600,000, thus strengthening Tennessee to grapple with her financial difficulties.

— Gen. Butler has requested the Secretary of the Treasury to order that fishing vessels may be considered during the winter as bonded warehouses for their surplus salt, thus saving the expense of carrying it ashore and depositing it in bonded warehouses. If the Secretary does not issue the order, the General will ask Congress to pass a law establishing it.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington' under the Act of 1837.
No. 78 State street, (opposite Kilby street,) Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, Bonds, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS; every one of which was decided in his favor by the Commissioner of Patents.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can not employ a man more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.

THE LOSS OF THE FLYING FISH.—On the 28th day of October, our gallant little bark, the fishing schooner Flying Fish, lay at anchor in the roads between two of the Islands of the Shoals. The crew on board, including the skipper, numbered four. At the close of the day the weather had a threatening look, and wind piped stronger and louder from the Northeast; but we had good ground tackling —it had been recently overhauled—and we had no reason to fear that it would not hold through the tempest storm. The sun had set, darkness crept upon the sea, and the wild storm shrieked like a host of the spirits of darkness and tempests; we sat together, gathered around a small stove in the cabin, with a single hanging lantern, swinging about with the motion of our tossing vessel.

At about ten o'clock the storm had increased so much as to excite our fears lest our cable and anchors would not be able to resist such fury, and we decided that three of the four should take one of the dories, pull to the shore near by and procure an additional hawser with which to render our position more secure.—They embarked on their perilous trip, taking all the oars (three in number) that were on board, leaving me to await their return with the line. Amid the darkness and the roaring waves their frail craft passed out of my sight, and I waited with patience for several hours for some indication of their return, but they came not. Shutting myself up in the lonely cabin, I counted the minutes as they passed so slowly into hours, until the night was far spent, but not the force of the storm. Its wailing was terrific, intermingled now and then by a tremendous shock, when some wave struck heavier than its fellows upon the bows and thundered its cataract of waters seething to the very stern.

At last, when the clock which hung in the cabin indicated the hour of four in the morning, I was roused from my half dreamy state by a crash at the forward part of the vessel, and for a moment thought she had been struck by another vessel. Immediately clambering upon deck and creeping forward, holding by whatever I could lay my hands on, I found to my horror that the cables had torn away the entire windlass—all was gone by the board, and I was floating away at the mercy of the storm. Sheltering myself as well as I could, I awaited my fate, and could see by the direction of White Island light that I was sweeping down directly upon that Island. "Steadily and calmly," the revolving light seemed to say as it shone out upon the white caps of the waves, and steadily and calmly I waited the shock, which came in a very few minutes.—She struck quartering upon the side of a shelving rock, and then slid grating off into the gulf of waters again. Another wave lifted her, and again she struck. I had crept forward by the light of the reflector, and was holding by the forward rigging, with the hope of a favorable chance of escape; but again the grating sound, and she fell off into the sea. A glance seaward showed me a giant wave, with high lifted crest, coming tearing toward my foundering bark; my heart quailed, for I thought it was all over with me. On came the wave, and amid the thunder of the concussion I clung closer and stronger to the rigging, although I was entirely submerged; and as soon as I could get my breath and saw the rebound of the waters, I looked over the side and found that the wave had landed my end of the vessel upon a rock. With a spring I was over the taffrail in a moment. Dropping upon the slippery rock, I scrambled up out of the reach of the next sea that broke over the ill-fated craft and carried her back, to again thrust her upon the rocks, until, long before sunrise, she was broken into a thousand fragments.

Upon that rock, in the midst of the wild storm, within the friendly beams from the light-house, I knelt and gave thanks to the Hand that had so mercifully, and it seemed to me miraculously, preserved my life. I found a kind welcome with the keeper of the light-house, and when the storm had abated I had the happiness to learn that my three companions were also saved. They were unable to return to the vessel, Their thole pins having broken, they were mercifully driven by the wind into a harbor at Star Island. And this is the story of the loss of the Flying Fish, with no insurance, excepting the life insurance mercifully provided by a kind Father. X.

WESTON was to start on his last attempt to do his hundred miles in twenty-four hours Monday morning, from Waterloo, Indiana, 137 miles from Chicago. Should he succeed in the feat he will have two days and up to noon on Thursday to do the remaining thirty-seven of the 1237 3-4 miles of his walk.

AT MANCHESTER, Eng., three Fenians, Allen, Larkin and Gould, were hung Nov. 23, for the murder of a policeman in a riot. Their admirers gave them a great funeral ovation on Sunday, but there was no disturbance.

☞ A rumor at Washington, that a majority of the Judiciary Committee in the House would report in favor of Impeachment, is said to have induced some gold gamblers to buy largely in hopes of a rise, if the House should go that way. No doubt there would be a rise, and then, probably, a fall.

Gazette Correspondence.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. '67.

Dear F.,—I have been thinking of you of late; I suppose it is because your dues are becoming habitual with us. Our worthy Uncle Samuel stands ready with his depreciated greenbacks, to bear to you the currency that cancels all our fall dues.

Our biennial election is over, and the result you have had electric notes of, and that the Democrats have carried everything worthy of note. It is not purely a copperhead victory; but by means of local issues, the Union ranks became disaffected, and thus aided the one-idea party into power and place. Corrupt Conventions, controlled by bold politicians, assembled to dupe the people by forced nominations, have met with a signal reproof in the vox populi of a free and independent people.

One of the greatest of these issues is Labor, or versus the Chinese in our midst. The steady immigration of this class among us, and their adaptation to the wants of a new country, (cheap labor,) has acted in competition with the Irish portion of this city. The latter are jealous of their rivals, and seem to think that the Asiatics have no right to come here and work, because, forsooth, Pat wants sons of the Emerald Isle to come over and enjoy the luxury of using the pick and shovel for $2.50 per day. Hence they have "Anti-Coolie" Clubs organized in every ward in the city, to concentrate their votes at the polls in the silly (Fenian) hope of defeating the intent of the constitution of the United States.

Politicians seized upon this hobby and rode into office, crying out to Pat, "Me no likee Chinaman! No, no! me no sube Chinese, and we will stop their long tails (hair) from flying down from the rice fields of China." Pat looked after them, and swinging his hat, gave "three cheers for the dimecratic party, sure, an' a tiger." The Chinese are all right, and go ahead the same as ever, singing "Hi yah—Ah Sam Kee," while the tilting baskets pendant from his shoulder-pole, go swinging to and fro as he wends his way along. We have a host of good people in our city and State, and we think that our country will be conducted on in safety in the opening future, and freedom and a free press will always speak for themselves.

The fruit season is waning, though there is an abundance for all, and each year rolls round with its horn of plenty. And I think we have never seen and ate so many strawberries. They came by the tons from the beautiful valley of Santa Cara. Here I will subjoin a table showing what the market now affords to lovers of fruit: Apples 5 to 8 cents per pound, pears 4 to 10 c., plums 6 to 15 c., figs 12 to 15 c., peaches 4 to 12 1-2 c., Nectarines 10 to 12 1-2 c., blackberries 14 to 20 c., strawberries 40 to 50 c., quinces 6 to 8 c., German prunes 12 to 15 c., oranges 50 to 75 c. per doz., lemons $1 to $1 50 per doz., limes 50 to 75 c. per doz., Grapes—Black Morocco, 20 to 25 c. per lb., Wh. Frontignan 6 to 8 c., Black Malvasia 10 to 15 c., Isabella 8 to 12 1-2 c., Sweetwater 6 to 8 c., Muscat d' Alexandria 12 1-2 to 15 c., Black Hamburg 8 to 12 1-2 c., Flame Tokay 20 to 25 c., Native 5 to 8 c. These are the prices of fruit in the city, and could you but handle a few of the Black Hamburg and the choice and rare Muscatel grapes, you would say of a truth, "give me the land where the vines grow such lovely fruit."

The wheat crop continues to come in; the prices are steady at $1.80 per bushel, while flour is selling in quantities for $5.25 to $6.25 per bbl., and the demand from afar is so great that the export trade continues quite active—more so than on any previous year.—Prior to this writing, a large number of ships had on with flour and wheat have made their exit to other shores. And though it is only a week or so, the export demand is so great that 21 sail of vessels, with a total tonnage of 17,843 are loading, and will carry away some 20,000 tons of wheat, the larger portion of which goes into the docks of Liverpool. This item alone will show what immense quantities of wheat drift from our Pacific this season. We are satisfied, so long as its equivalent in gold is deposited in our treasure vaults.—This reminds me that our own "California Bank," with a capital of $5,000,000, has just declared its usual dividend of one per cent. on its capital for the month of August.

Commerce is yet an infant of days with us, as our merchants seek largo paying investments, and as opportunity offers, they keep up a steady increase of water craft; and our bay, one of the handsomest in the world, will soon have the cream of the oceans gathering on its surface. Sailing by canvas is too slow, and instead, steam ships and boats of every size and description are accumulating to do the work, as the ports are distant and time is precious. There are six lines of large ocean steamers, two of them for Panama and Nicaragua, the first three times a month and the latter once a month, carrying mails, freight and passengers to New York and other distant ports, one to Mexico, for the ports of Guaymas, Mazatlan and La Paz; another to Hong Kong in China, and Kanagawa, Japan; one for New Archangel, Sitka, touching for passengers at Victoria, and the sixth piles between this port and the Sandwich Islands at the port of Honolulu. There are five distinct lines of steamers which run along the coast and into domestic ports, among which are Santa Cruz, Soquel, Salinas, Monterey, San Simeon, San Louis Obispo, Santa Barbara, San Padras, Anahiem, San Diego, on the south; while on the north they touch at Eureka (Humboldt Bay), Trinadad, Crescent City, Umhqua River and Portland, Oregon. In addition to these lines we have a large number which ply on the bay and rivers, and these form the soft coal found at Mount Diablo, two or three hours' sail up the mouth of San Joaquin River.

The largest class of steamers have been put on the China and Japan route, and the Colorado, the Great Republic and China are well fitted for this new enterprise in the onward march of our nation. The means and appliances of the age to travel are augmenting to keep pace with our growing wants. Some of our merchants have sent merchandise to Utah by way of the Colorado River to Collville, and thence to Salt Lake City. To meet the demand for goods by this route, some small steamers are about to be sent down to navigate on the Colorado River, and connect with the ocean line which now piles on the Gulf of California.

It is now suggested that on the completion of the Pacific Railroad we shall have a line of Australian steamers to connect with ports in New Zealand and Australia. The distance in nautical measure is 5,864 miles from Wellington to this city, and 700 miles nearer than the present route via Panama. This is only another link in our steam marine, and in connection with the "cable," Her Majesty can send a dispatch to Sidney in thirty days.—Travellers can then leave London, and in twelve days reach New York, and 6 days to San Francisco and twenty-five days by steamer, can arrive at Auckland, Melbourne and other ports, all in forty-three days from continent to continent, to the far off islands of the sea.

The island lines of railroad are making giant strides towards the great Mormon city, and will thus open up a vast inland country, with capacities of unlimited extent, and where millions of unborn humanity are yet destined to flourish as the green bay tree. The Pacific Central is to connect with the Union line, and is pushing east down into the Carson Vale, and thence along the Humboldt to meet the Union at or near Salt Lake. They have 150 miles in running order, and as soon as the Summit Tunnel, that taps the Sierra range, is fully passable, the cars will run down the sink of the Humboldt; and the day is not distant when the Chinese employed to build this road, will meet with their brethren polygamists in Brigham Young's great harem, and congratulate him on the sweets of a hundred wife-fold.

[Concluded to-morrow.]

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—G. W. Bean, formerly of the Stark Mills, Manchester, but latterly of Lewiston, Me., has been appointed Superintendent of the Great Falls Manufacturing Co. Major J. F. Angell, of the Stark Mills, goes to Great Falls to take charge of the carding department.

Eben Hadley had his pocket picked while entering the cars at Manchester on Wednesday.

In Concord, Young and Morrill have been committed to jail to await trial on a charge of incendiarism.

A fire in Concord, at 3 o'clock Sunday morning, damaged the Monitor printing materials, the building where the paper is printed, and stocks of goods under the same room, in all about $10,000. Origin of fire unknown, perhaps incendiary. About 7 o'clock the same morning, the South Church in Concord was on fire, "caused by some defect in flue or furnace." There should not be such defects in new houses. Damage not great.

In Manchester on Friday night, John G. Brennan, aged 12 years, was killed by getting in front of a mule carriage to clean it while the machinery was moving. He was caught between the carriage and the beam, and was terribly crushed.

Charles Gage, of Bedford, had his hand injured on Thursday last, while at work in a steam saw mill at Auburn, so that it was necessary to amputate a finger and part of the thumb.

Wm. Kenney, a trackman on the Northern N. H. Railroad, was found dead on the track in Boscowen, Monday morning, having been run over probably, by the night freight train. He leaves a wife and five children.

☞ In Jamaica, there have recently been two shocks of earthquake; and there are now fears of a negro insurrection about Christmas, perhaps in revenge for the Eyre murders.

☞ We are indebted to the publishers in Boston for a copy of the fine Portrait of Dickens, advertised in our paper this morning. It is a handsome picture, and warranted a true likeness.

☞ A fire, (supposed incendiary), at Plymouth, Mass., Monday morning, destroyed property worth $10,000.

—On account of the wildness of the game, the sportsmen of Canton, Illinois, are unable to get within shot range, and are shooting ducks with a small cannon captured from Jeff Thompson in the early days of the war. They load it with powder and shot, and make it scatter widely, and thus shoot into flocks of ducks at long range.

Fly, lingering moments, fly, oh fly!
I thirst, I pant, I long go try
The bread, the cake, the chicken pie
That my good wife has made.

Thus sang a jolly mechanic who for three long years had dined at a restaurant, but whose wife had recently commenced using Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. Try it, ye lonely wives, it never fails to bring husbands home to their meals. 12

HAS your Mother secured a Certificate of the Washington Library Company of Philadelphia, in aid of the Riverside Institute, for educating orphans? Each certificate costs a dollar, with a beautiful engraving, worth more than a dollar at retail, and secures besides, a present at the Great Distribution by the Company, and an equal chance that the present may be one worth thousands of dollars. "A thing of beauty is a joy forever," besides thousands of dollars may be secured by a benevolent act. Read advertisement. 6

THERE ARE TWO SPECIAL QUALITIES which determine and fix the superiority of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S NEW STYLE IMPROVED HAIR RESTORER or DRESSING, in one bottle over all other preparations for the Hair. First, the prompt, quick action, great growth, life and vigor that it is sure to give the hair, never failing by a few applications, to restore Gray or White Hair to its natural color, imparting to the Hair a delightful aroma, fresh, delicate and unexhaustible. Second, the peculiarity of its application without any previous preparation of the Hair; without that sticky and disagreeable sulphur odor found on and stained in all other preparations. It never soils the skin or linen.—Ladies will find it a standard Toilet Luxury to dress their Hair, to retain the Hair in any desired position, and is cooling, healing and cleansing to the scalp, removing immediately all scurf, dandruff and pimples. Price One Dollar, sold by all Druggists. n21—1m

A DEAR ARTICLE.—Whoever buys common soap gets a dear article. Those who insist upon the grocers supplying Tyler's O.K. Soap, which is pure and hard, and good for laundry, bath or toilet, effect a saving of vast importance. 29

☞ Halleck's words, "None know thee but to love thee, none name thee but to praise," may be fairly applied to Phalon's Night-Blooming Cereus. No one who once uses the perfume ever relinquishes it, and rosy lips are never weary of commending and recommending it.—Norwich Courier. 6

WINES!

California is making grand strides in her agricultural products and is fast withdrawing her patronage as a purchaser in manufacturers of the various branches of industry she once demanded. She sends a warning voice to the time-worn vineyards of Europe, and asks them the lists as a fresh, young combatant for the production of wines from her own rich and increasing vineyards.—The time has come when it is simply ridiculous for any one to pay duties or any claim to especial advantages or peculiar privileges for the sale of

THE WINES OF CALIFORNIA.

As well might they claim a monopoly of the cotton trade.

C. A. RICHARDS & CO.

do not receive or sell all the wines which California produces, but they do claim to have at all times a very large quantity on hand of all the best kinds, and their advantages for getting the best, and getting them at the lowest market value, are such as to enable them to offer them at prices which to-day are lower than any other house which sells California Wines of equality. We bottle five kinds. They are,—

"Angelica,"
"Muscatel,"
"Still Champagne,"
"Hock" and
"Port,"

Also "California Brandy."

They are all perfectly pure, and may be relied upon in sickness or in health. The Angelica and Muscatel are rich, sweet wines. The Hock is fully equal to the medium grades of Rhine wines. The Port is actually better than many of the high cost Ports from Oporto. We sell these wines in any required quantity, from a single bottle to a THOUSAND CASES, and are ready at all times to exhibit samples, or to send them to any address.

AMERICAN
WALTHAM
WATCHES.

The true value of Machinery applied to Watchmaking is not that by its use watches are rapidly made, but that they are made correctly. Very few people know why a Waltham Watch should be superior to any other. In the first place, a Watch may be said to be regarded as only a machine, to be constructed with due regard to proper principles. If the watches are good, it is because the machinery is good. Of course there must be no defect in the principle or plan of the movement—no mistake in the sizes or shapes of the pieces of which it is composed—nothing wanting in their proportion, or error in their positions. These points once thoroughly settled, it rests wholly with the machinery, constructed with infinite nicety of form and adaptation expressly for the purpose, to produce the finished pieces. By means of multiplying gauges and micrometers, the most perfect exactness and detection of wear in the cutting tools, and for inuits and dues in steel or stone, are made to accompany the work in every step from beginning to end. As a necessary result, the watch goes together a perfect machine. Every part is formed for the work in its place. Every pin may be pushed till it pinches, and every screw turned home. Instead of a sluggish and feeble action, the impulse, even under the pressure of the lightest mainspring, operates with a wide and free motion, and the best has the clear, ringing sound always characteristic of the Waltham Watch. The machine is a marker or from the start.

This system of watchmaking is unknown in foreign countries, and is entirely original with the Waltham Company. The Company are thereby it they produce watches that cannot be equalled for every quality which makes a watch valuable. Simple, plain and correct in principle, the movement is not only beautifully finished, substantial, accurate and cheap, but is uniform in the minutest particular, not easily thrown out, and when repaired always as good as new. There are different grades of finish in the different varieties of watches made by the Waltham Company, and they are of different sizes and shapes to suit all tastes and means; but every watch that bears the genuine trade-mark of "Waltham" is guaranteed to be a good one, and nobody need be afraid to buy it.

Every Watch fully Warranted.

For Sale by all First-Class Dealers in the United States and British Provinces.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!
THE REMEDY FOR CURING

Consumption, Asthma, Croup, Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppressions of the Chest or Lungs, Difficult Breathing, and all Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

Its action is expectorant, alterative, sudorific, sedative, diaphoretic and diuretic, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm. CHANGES THE SECRETIONS and PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action and imparts strength to the whole system. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction, even in the most confirmed cases of consumption, and not to produce costiveness as do most remedies for effect the final, as it contains no opium in any form. It is PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although powerful enough to control the most terrifying the system. There is no necessity for so many deaths by consumption, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

Local.

☞ Among the leaders of the mob—for it deserves no other name—at the First Ward Meeting Saturday night, was Mr. Frank Jones, the Democratic candidate for Mayor, who should not only have been ashamed of his company—the foreign voters to "go on" the check list, we presume, being the producing cause of the row—but might well, it would seem, be ashamed of himself.

We care not whom we hit; this Chronicle always stands up for law and order. We denounced alike the Jenkins cleaning out, the Maine Law row and the draft riot, the sacking of the Sure and Bars, and the Greenland Town Meeting break-up; and we now and here protest against this latest unlawful and inexcusable disturbance. It is mean business enough, at the best—this naturalizing and shoving in (to rule and overrule intelligent men) ignorant foreign voters, most of whom should be kept out by a law requiring all to be able to read their ballots—without endeavoring to intimidate and browbeat public election officials.

And in saying this we do not know, nor care to know, the particulars of the case, further than that the Selectmen adjourned their meeting when they saw fit; for while we have no more respect for the sharp practice, whether on one side or the other, which is generally understood to work in favor of the party holding the ballot machinery, the Ward Officers are responsible before the law for any malfeasance, and there is not the least excuse for outlawry.

It is to be hoped, for the sake of a free ballot; that these Ward Officers—who are an experienced, and we have no doubt a fair and impartial Board, will make ample provision to-day to sustain themselves in whatever decisions they may make.

[The Republican men and papers in the interior, condemn the move in toto, and denounce it as part of a plan to overslaugh the check lists at many points in the State, by intimidating Selectmen.]

☞ From the wretched squalor of a large portion of the operatives, and the tumble-down character of the manufactories in the old world, while the hand-loom wrought out the marvels in the way of fabrics to clothe the nations,—fabrics whose warp was cotton, or silk, or wool, but whose woof was human life bartered for a pitiful sustenance while it yet lingered,—the idea has become almost a settled conviction that a manufacturing town or city must of necessity be a seething hive of bustling humanity, forbidding in architectural aspect and lacking in those essentials which go to make an agreeable location for a residence.

Since the introduction of imported machinery, the aspect of this branch of industry has vastly improved in its surroundings. Men do not invest tens and hundreds of thousands of dollars in machinery, to trust the same in inferior buildings; and the consequence is that to-day many of the finest and most massive buildings in the country are found among our factories;—well lighted, well ventilated, and in realizing the traditional idea of "a factory." We call to mind one building in particular, near the banks of the Ohio river, in Cannelton, Indiana, which from architectural beauty and pleasant surroundings impressed us as favorably as any edifice seen in a trip of half a score thousand miles, and which we were surprised to learn from one of the operatives swarming therefrom at bell-time, was a "cotton factory."

We are hardly enough of a manufacturing community to have noticed particularly this change, but the fact of its existence should remove much of that old feeling of hostility which has long presented an almost insurable barrier to the establishment of many industrial pursuits in our midst. Our pleasant old town would be none the less pleasant to our mind, were the steady breathing of the steam engine more frequent within our borders. Our one factory that is in operation, the Kearsage Mill, all summer long shows a great velvet lawn, with neatly-trimmed and luxurinnt hedge-rows—a breathing spot and ornament to the neighborhood. Now, since "lighting-up time," the spectacle it presents after nightfall to the passers over the North Mill bridge is very fine. The many windows of the huge building are all aglow, from the basement to the eves, and the motion of the machinery imparts its vibrations to the gas burners, reminding one of Tennyson's description of the Caliph of Bagdad's pavilion:

"The four-score windows all alight
As with the quintessence of flame,
A million tapers flaring bright
From twisted silvers looked to shame
The hollow-vaulted dark, and streamed
Afoot upon the mooned domes
In inmost Bagdad."

☞ We dislike and despise all noisy demonstrations and rejoicings on account of political "victories," so called,—no matter by what party. And we hope that if—as we presume there is little reason to doubt,—the Republicans elect their ticket to-day, there will be no outward public "celebration" of the event. Let the party who used in the old Town Meetings, to stay all night,—and whom it would now seem have brought the same tactics down to control Ward Meetings—let them have all the benefit of such barbarous proceedings, which we deem altogether beneath the dignity of those who intelligently employ the ballot:

"That weapon which descends as still
As snowflakes fall upon the sod;
And executes the freeman's will,
As lightning does the will of God."

☞ The Philharmonic Society rehearse this week on Tuesday (this) evening promptly at 7 o'clock. Mr. Day is director, Miss Miller pianist.

GOLD, Monday, 140 1-2.

☞ The result of Portsmouth election was never watched for with more interest abroad and at home, than it will be to-day. All we ask is, that every man vote, somehow—let all do as seemeth them good; only act. If you think the rebels were patriots, and Jeff. Davis right, vote for the Democrats; if you regarded the war for the Union as worth fighting, don't desert the cause of Republicanism to-day. That's all there is of it.

POLICE COURT, Nov. 25.—John Collins, on a charge of being a common drunkard, was sentenced to hard labor in the House of Correction for thirty days, and to pay $5.27 costs.

John Rickey, on a similar charge, was sentenced to one day's hard labor in the House of Correction and to pay $4 80 costs.

☞ We are glad to learn that the veteran General Gates, of Fort Constitution, has been released from arrest"—acquitted of all charges—by the court martial before which he was recently brought, on various trifling complaints of Maj. Fuller. The verdict in case of Gates vs. Fuller has not been rendered yet.

☞ The Pope has ordered the release of all the Garibaldian prisoners who were taken by the Papal troops. It is said Garibaldi is sick in his prison.

☞ A Concert for Thanksgiving night is advertised by Miss Ellis and an English Opera Troupe from Boston.

☞ Ralph Waldo Emerson will lecture before the People's Lyceum on Wednesday evening.

☞ The Portland, Saco & Portsmouth Railroad Co. have just finished a beautiful and convenient station house on the line of their road at Oak Hill, Scarboro. A new freight depot has also been put up on the opposite side of the road. At West Scarboro, where the cross road leads to Old Orchard Beach, and where the travel, in the summer season especially, is getting to be considerable, a new freight depot has been built recently, and the station building thoroughly refitted in a very neat manner.—The P., S. & P. R. R. seems bound to show itself a power in the great chain of iron rails.

☞ The dancers are anticipating a fine time at Congress Hall upon Thanksgiving Eve. Further particulars can be gleaned by a glance at our Amusement Column.

☞ We learn that the endeavors of some of our Democratic politicians, to remove certain master workmen at the Navy Yard, and send Chief Engineer Roberts to sea, have failed. Andy evidently feels ticklish about his own position.

— A steam fire engine has been sent to Alaska.

— The New Orleans Picayune is opposed to "procuring white labor,"; it says: "We want white men here to go to work themselves and not procure labor. The system of mercantile farming which has so long cursed the South, and bred dubt and idleness, must cease or our decay will become ruin."

500 MILES
OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD,
Running West from Omaha
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
ARE NOW COMPLETED.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company have built a longer line of railroad in the last eighteen months than was ever built by any other company in the same time, and they will continue the work with the same energy until it is completed. The Western Division is being pushed rapidly eastward from Sacramento by the Central Pacific Company of California, and it is expected that

THE ENTIRE GRAND LINE

to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.—More than one-third of the work has already been done, more than one-third of the whole line is now in running order, and more laborers are now employed upon it than ever before. More than

Forty Million Dollars in Money

have already been expended by the two powerful companies that have undertaken the enterprise, and there is no lack of funds for its most vigorous prosecution. When the United States government found it necessary to secure the construction of the Union Pacific railroad to develop and protect its own interest, it granted to companies authorized to build it such ample aid as should render its speedy completion beyond a doubt.—The available means of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, derived from the Government and its own stockholders, may be briefly summed up as follows:

1.—UNITED STATES BONDS

Having thirty years to run and being six per cent. currency interest at the rate of $16,000 per mile for 517 miles on the Plains; then at the rate of $48,000 per mile for 150 miles through the Rocky Mountains; then at the rate of $32,000 per mile for the remaining distance, for which the United States takes a second lien as security. The interest on these bonds is paid by the United States government, which also pays the company one-half the amount of its bills in money for transporting its freight, troops, mails, &c. The remaining half of these bills is placed to the company's credit, and forms a sinking fund which will finally discharge the whole amount of this lien. The claims against the government since April of the current year amount to four and one-half times this interest.

2.—FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS.

By its charter the Company is permitted to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to the same amount as the bonds issued by the Government, and no more, and only as the road progresses. The Trustees for the bondholders are the Hon. E. D. Morgan, U. S. Senator from New York, and the Hon. Oakes Ames, Member of U. S. House of Representatives, who are responsible for the delivery of these bonds to the Company in accordance with the terms of the law.

3.—THE LAND GRANT.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company has a land grant or absolute donation from the government of 12,800 acres to the mile on the line of the road, which will not be worth less than $1.50 at the lowest valuation.

4.—THE CAPITAL STOCK.

The authorized capital of the Union Pacific Railroad Company is $100,000,000, of which over $6,000,000 have been paid on the work already done.

The Means Sufficient to Build the Road.

Contracts for the entire work of building 914 miles of line have been made by the Company, comprising much of the most difficult mountain work, and embracing every expense except surveying, have been made with responsible parties who have already finished over 245 miles, at the average rate of sixty-eight thousand and fifty-eight dollars ($68,058) per mile. This price includes all necessary shops for construction and repairs of cars, depots, stations and all other incidental buildings, and also locomotives, passenger, baggage and freight cars and other requisite rolling stock, to an amount that shall not be less than $6,000 per mile. Allowing the cost of the remaining one hundred and eighty-six of the eleven hundred miles assumed to be built by the Pacific Company to be $90,000 per mile,

THE TOTAL COST OF ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES WILL BE AS FOLLOWS:

914 miles, at $68,058.....$62,205,012
186 miles, at 90,000 16,740,000
Add discounts on bonds, surveys, &c.· 4,500,000

Amount.....$82,445,012

As the U. S. Bonds are equal to money, and the Company's own First Mortgage Bonds have a ready market, we have as the

AVAILABLE CASH RESOURCES FOR BUILDING ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES:

U. S. Bonds.....$29,328,000
First Mortgage Bonds..... 29,328,000
Capital stock paid in on the work now done..... 5,329,750
Land Grant, 14,080,000 acres, at 1.00 per acre..... 21,120,000

Total.....$85,145,750

The Company have ample facilities for supplying any deficiency that may arise in means for construction. This may be done wholly or in part by additional subscriptions to capital stock.

Active inquiry has already been made for a portion of these lands, and arrangements are now proposed to offer a part of them for sale. While these sales will not be available for some years to come, they will remain a very important source of revenue to the Company. The lands of the Illinois Central Railroad Company are selling at from $6 to $12 per acre, and other land grant companies in the West are receiving equal prices for similar properties.

Future Business.

The most sceptical have ever expressed a doubt that when the Union Pacific Railroad is finished the immense business that must flow over it, as the only railroad connecting the two grand divisions of the North American continent will be one of the wonders of railway transportation; and as it will have no competitor, it can always charge remunerative rates. The Pacific Mail Steamship Company of New York is now running a regular line of its splendid steamers between San Francisco and China and Japan, which is doubtless the pioneer of other lines that will traverse the Pacific Ocean laden with the teas, spices and other products of Eastern Asia. Excepting some very heavy or bulky articles of comparatively low values, shortness of time decides the direction of freights, and hence these cargoes will find their natural transit over the Union Pacific Railroad.

It is quite within bounds to say that its traffic will be limited only by the capacity of the line, and that no other road will find a double track necessary. California and Oregon must not only be supplied with means of transport for passengers, mail, treasure and other products, but the inhabitants of Dacotah, Colorado, Utah, Idaho and Montana will communicate with the other states almost entirely by this road. It will be the outlet to all the great mining district, which is only awaiting this ready means of communication to receive a population that will develop its vast mineral and other resources, and which of itself would furnish ample business for a railway line.

Earnings from Way Business.

While the through business of the Company will be amply remunerative, it is still in the future, for the present the local business on that part of the road in operation has been most satisfactory.

During the quarter ending July 31, an average of 252 miles of the Union Pacific Railroad was in operation. The Superintendent's Report shows the following results:

EARNINGS.

Passengers, Freight, Telegraph, Mails, $723,755 54
Transportation of Contractors' Material and men..... 479,283 41

Total.....$1,203,038 95

EXPENSES.

Fuel, Repairs, Offices, Conductors, Trains, &c.....$395,530 92
Net Earnings to balance..... 807,508 03

Total.....$1,203,038 95

The net operating expenses on the commercial business for the quarter were $227,966 50. The account for the COMMERCIAL BUSINESS stands as follows:

Earnings for May, June and July.....$733,755 54
Expenses " " " 227,966 50

Net Profit.....$485,789 04

The amount of bonds the company can issue on 235 miles at $16,000 per mile is $3,760,000. Interest in gold, three months at 6 per cent. on this sum is $56,400; add 40 per cent premium, to correspond with currency earnings, is $140,000—showing that the net earnings for this quarter were more than four times the interest on the First Mortgage Bonds on this length of road.

First Mortgage Bonds,

whose principal is so amply provided for, and whose interest is so thoroughly secured, must be classed among the safest investments. They pay

Six per Cent in Gold,

and are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, and accrued interest at six per cent in currency from July 1.

Many parties are taking advantage of the present high price of Government stocks to exchange for these bonds, which are over FIFTEEN PER CENT. CHEAPER, and at the current rate of premium on gold, pay

Over Nine Per Cent. Interest.

SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received in Portsmouth by FIRST NATIONAL BANK, and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau street, and by

CONTINENTAL NAT. BANK No. 7 Nassau St.
CLARK, DODGE & Co., Bankers, 51 Wall St.
JOHN J. CISCO & Son, Bankers, 33 Wall St.

And by the Company's advertised Agents throughout the United States, of whom maps and descriptive pamphlets may be obtained on application. Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. n6—3m

Morning Chronicle.

GARIBALDI, who has again just figured so extensively in European affairs, is over sixty, having been born in Nice, July 4, 1806. For more than thirty years he has been engaged in revolutionary enterprises, and in fighting by sea and land, being a sort of amphibious warrior, the son of a mariner, and himself educated to that profession, but is equally skillful and experienced in the leadership of volunteer armies. His life has been one of great and varied adventure in almost all parts of the world—at one time in Turkey, at another in South America, and again in Italy. At one time he was in the service of Uruguay, fighting valiantly for the Republic, chiefly at sea, though sometimes on land. Afterwards we find him teaching mathematics in Montevideo.

"Again, in 1848, he went from South America, with a portion of the Italian Legion, to Piedmont, where he rendered gallant, though unavailing, services against the Austrians. In 1849, when the French expedition to restore the Pope appeared before Rome, he greatly distinguished himself by his heroism and partial success. Having been banished from Sardinia, he came to New York in 1850, and supported himself by making candles in a manufactory on Staten Island. Afterwards he resumed his vocation as a mariner, and made some voyages in the Pacific. He afterwards returned to Nice, and lived there in retirement until the war with Austria, in 1859, when the Sardinian government invited him to form a corps, which became celebrated as the "Hunters of the Alps," and his services throughout the war were of the most importance.

The late events in Italy indicate that the daring adventurer has a strong hold on the imaginations of the people, who, whether they approve his projects or not, always admire a man who will fight for his ideas, and who does not, like some other plotters of revolution, content himself with fomenting disturbances, the brunt of which must be borne by other men. The generous qualities of Garibaldi, combined with his daring courage and romantic career, have gained admiration for the individual among many who have no sympathy with his cause. At the same time he often neutralizes the influence of his personal popularity by rash and indiscreet enterprises.

It appears to be admitted that Mr. Seward offered to Garibaldi the highest rank then known in our army, if he would accept a commission under the U. S. Government, at an early period of the late war.—Garibaldi declined, because the war was then alleged to be waged to restore the Union and not to abolish slavery.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE.
Prescribed by Physicians for
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS AND INVALIDS.

As a Tonic, it has no equal, causing an appetite and building up the system in the most debilitated
As a Diuretic it imparts a healthy action to the Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary Organs; very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.
As a Blood Purifier, it is superior, being one of the best alteratives known in the medical pharmacopœia.
The qualities of SAMBUCI are "unitum in persona," being at once a Tonic, Diuretic, Alterative, Diaphoretic and Soporific.
N B—Vinum bonum bonum sanguinem facit.
SPEER'S SAMBUCI is a pure juice wine with a fine flavor, rich body and delightful taste. It is peculiarly adapted for weak and debilitated persons, the aged and infirm, and benefitting ladies and children.
Be sure the signature of ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J., is over the cork of the bottle.

☞ The Boston Commercial Bulletin pays this tribute to the Kearsage Mills of this city:

"An excellent article of shirting is now manufactured by the Kearsage Mills of Portsmouth, N. H., which for fineness and evenness of thread, as well as for strength and durability, is most remarkable. The Kearsage mill, it will be remembered, was originally built for the manufacture of spool cotton; but under its new management has been making fine shirting for ladies and gentlemen's wear; and shirts made from this choice material cannot have much question respecting its durability These goods are branded Kearsage As, and will be found well worthy the attention of the trade. Messrs. Henry J. Gardner & Co. are the selling agents for Boston and New York.

The Kearsarge Mills were formerly called Portsmouth Steam Factory, and were first engaged in the manufacture of lawns, —afterwards of spool cotton.

☞ From the Minneapolis (Minn.) Daily Tribune of Nov. 20, we copy the following notice of an absent Son of Portsmouth. By the way, our absent sons seem to be winning in all sections that recognition of their business capacities for which our city does not afford ample scope:

ROPE WALK IN ST. ANTHONY.—It is perhaps unknown to a majority of our readers that a ropewalk is in operation in St. Anthony, and has been for some months past, at the foot of the hill near the University. Mr. David Young is the proprietor, and although his buildings are small and rudely constructed, and his facilities limited, he has been doing a very thriving business since he located there in May last. What Mr. Young lacks is capital to develope and build up his enterprise, which will undoubtedly be an important one at the Falls at no distant day. He certainly does not lack in experience, for his trade was learned in Portsmouth, N. H., more than forty-five years since, and all those years he has devoted to the business. He has completed a walk four hundred feet in length, and manufactures bed cords, clothes lines, window lines twine, etc., in large quantities, finding ready sale for it as fast as made. Lack of machinery alone prevents his making the larger kinds of rope. He is without hemp to work upon, at present, but expects a supply in a day or two, when those having a curiosity to see the process of rope making will be enabled to gratify it.

☞ Mrs. Ellen Piper was examined before U. S. Commissioner Stanley at Manchester, on Monday, for passing counterfeit $10 greenbacks. U. S. District Attorney Rand appeared for the prosecution, and Bradb'y P. Cilley for the defence. She furnished bonds for her appearance to answer the charge before the grand Jury, at Portsmouth, on the 8th of May next.

☞ At the end of three or four dark, foggy, thawy days, Tuesday afternoon's sun shone out for a little season on "a continent of mud."

☞ The dwelling-house and land, corner of State and Winter streets, a very desirable location, is offered for sale at auction today.

WHAT NORAH SAID.
The REPLY OF "NORAH O'NEAL," as sung with great applause at Public Concerts. The music by W. F. WELLMAN, Jr.

"Is it lonely ye are then without me,
Only wait, and I'll come bye and bye;
For meself 's just entirely as lonely,
And darling, I give sigh for sigh.

And would ye then wait till to-morrow,
While the moon shines in heaven so bright,
And the lane and the kiss so convenient,
Wont I meet you, my darling, to-night."

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1867.

IMPEACHMENT.—The Judiciary Committee have presented to the U. S. House of Representatives a Report recommending the Impeachment of Andrew Johnson, acting President. This Report is signed by four members, being a majority of the Committee. A minority report, against Impeachment, has also been presented.

The House ordered the Reports, and other documents accompanying, to be printed; and assigned them to Dec. 4 for consideration.

Some papers have large extracts or abstracts of the Reports, and the Washington letters abound in guesses as to majorities in the House, and two-thirds in the Senate. We do not know that our guesses would be any better than theirs; and shall not trouble our readers with them.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—A man in Kensington, some days ago, worked out his highway tax in the night. The surveyor had notified him to come on a certain day at 9 o'clock, without adding A. M. or P. M. The man chose the latter, and came with team and men at 9 in the evening, and worked till 5 in the morning, eight hours.

Mrs. Woodward, of Sandown, presented her husband with three children at a birth last Friday.

A runaway horse, in Exeter, last week, rushed through the street with a wagon, which he finally left against a post on the sidewalk, and dashed into Hoyt's stable, where the trap door being open, he plunged down into the manure vault, greatly surprised, and somewhat disgusted. After some hours he was got out.

The principal topic which engrosses the attention of the people of Sandown, is the new railroad from Rochester to Nashua.—This road being built by the shortest route, must inevitably pass through Sandown.

The house of Mr. Benj. Weeks, at Dover Neck, was destroyed by fire last Friday morning, together with all the contents.—The loss is about $700, with no insurance. The cause of the fire is unknown.

A granite monument, 14 feet high, has been erected in Dublin, in memory of Rev. Dr. Leonard.

Hoosac Division, Sons of Temperance, was organized in Kensington, Nov. 14.

The late Gov. Bartlett's parents were residents of Amesbury, Mass., and the house is still standing at the Ferry, where he was born. Josiah Bartlett was the last "President" of New Hampshire under the old Constitution, and the first Governor, under the Constitution of 1792. In 1795, at the age of sixty-five, he closed a useful and honorable life.

A young lady in Milan was disappointed in a love affair and took poison. She did not take enough to accomplish her purpose, and is now suffering severely for her folly.

In a certain part of the town of Lee, called New Town Plains, a poor girl, said to be not very bright, (probably so) has been declared by the doctor to be dangerously sick of dropsy. The last news from her was that her dropsy had been "dropt," and it is presumed that it cried lustily, as other new comers do.

An interesting Revival has lately occurred in Lee. It is proposed, we understand, to organize a Congregational Church, then to ordain a minister, who has preached there a dozen years; and finally, some of the old professors think they could do without the old minister, or perhaps get a new one, after that.

Robert Sheppard, the manager of the Shaker Society at Canterbury since the death of David Parker, is reported to have had connection with the followers of Ann Lee, and given in his adhesion to the world. His wife still remains with the society. Elder Kame is now the manager of the society's affairs.

THE FISHING INTEREST.—Gen. Butler, in examining the Treasury regulations concerning the fishing interests, has discovered that the French fishermen, who receive a bounty of five francs per quintal on their fish, are permitted to bring it to this country and to so repack it in our bonded warehouses that it comes into competition with the fish caught by our fishermen, who receive no bounty. At the request of Gen. Butler, Sec. McCulloch has directed Hon. Timothy Davis of Gloucester to examine and report on this subject.

The Sec. of the Treasury has decided to issue instructions to Collectors, to permit fishermen to give bonds for three years, for the payment of duties on so much of their salt as they do not use. This will obviate the necessity of making the fishing vessels bonded warehouses, as the fishermen will now have an opportunity to make a second trip, and use their surplus salt without removing it from their vessels.

☞ A temperance society of young women has been organized in Conneautville, Crawford county, Pa., who pledge themselves to have nothing to do with young men who use intoxicating liquors. It is said by an exchange that the old maids will be wonderfully increased by this arrangement.

Well, who wouldn't prefer to be an old maid, rather than a drunkard's wife or widow?

Gazette Correspondence.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. '67.

[Concluded from yesterday.]

The Summit Tunnel will pass under or through a range of mountains covered with perpetual snow, and there are some small towns among the Sierras which have fifteen or twenty feet of snow covering an entire village, while its occupants come up through openings and traverse with snow-shoes to their neighborn, whose chimney-tops are seen protruding up,—the curling smoke showing where their dwellings are. I was told that last winter, under these circumstances, a Sunday School was kept up during the season. They have, as temporary guide-boards for those who travel over buried towns, shingles nailed to the trees, that the wayfaring man may not go astray. In the summer these "guide shingles" are seen away up on the top of a branchless trunk, denoting the snow-depth of the winter months.

While speaking of the mountains, I must relate to you a night and day on Lake Bigler. A friend of mine made a trip to this Sierra Lake, in whose lap its waters extend some 60 miles long by fifteen wide. He built a rude cabin on the lake shore, on its eastern side.—Headquarter established, a raft was hastily constructed of logs; and with daddle he was ready to start, and laying in some provisions and his trusty rifle, pushed out on the bosom of its limpid water.

When we are high up on some mountain side, your desire is to know how high you are, and so you gaze down into the valley below and tremble at the altitude which which gives you such bellevues of the green vale beneath. So with my friend who, attracted by the transparency, peered down, down into its cavernous depths—and the rocks and clefts of massive boulders, tinted as if by an artist, glowed in brilliant hues. And while thus engaged, he came near the trunk of a tree about 75 feet high and ten feet above the surface, where it is broken off fifteen inches in diameter, while its base is four or five feet, resting on the bottom of the lake.

Here we come to a little cove, and listen—we hear disturbed a score of wild ducks, who now rise on the wing, with a weary, warm motion, and are soon lost to view. Game is very abundant, but the scenery is so beautiful we cannot spare a moment from Nature's lavish display. We pass under an immense shelving rock—a peculiar feature of rocks here, that protrude out in a horizontal position, forming a cavern of great magnitude, where the witches of the wave may have their great gatherings, or it may be where the echoes of the lake find a grand sepulture.

A little further on a furious wind arose, and blew with such violence that the raft was turned for the shore to get under its friendly protection, as night was approaching. So we selected a place sheltered by some tall pines. Here the raft was secured to the rocks, a fire was lighted in the hollow of an old tree, and being full of pitch, the column of fire rose up grandly, and as the atmosphere was just in tone, the immense sheet of fire rose and lighted up the lake for miles around—the vast area of water glimmering with scintillations of light, while mountain shone in splendor. The majestic, bold, jutting cliffs reared their lofty burnished sides, flushed with the brazen glare, while here and there a forest of pines, whose varied groups rose in picturesque array like giants in olden time, marshalled in full regalia for a grand review.

Beyond the illumined way, the sky was of a pitchy darkness, and made the dim vista appear as if of one rounded arch—a perfect one stratified in conglomerate confusion. Thus the beautiful scene was viewed by us as we lay on the rocks near the fire. Amid such a tumult of fire, all animal life was aroused, and among the snaky tribes we were warned by a friendly rattle that we had better take lodgings on the raft. Just at this moment the old tree had burnt off, and came down with a tremendous crash, and night cast her sable mantle over the scene.

Morning came, and we fancied we could see a distant town, where the tall spires rose and the smoke curled lazily up; and this was a reminder that we were out of provisions, and must hasten to the town and get breakfast.—So we plied our paddles, and for weary hours we toiled on; but as we neared the town, or where we thought we saw it, nothing was to be seen except perhaps an old Indian camp fire in a tree stump. Such is a mirage on the Lake, and we were twenty miles from our cabin—where a weary, famishing journey brought us at night to headquarters on terra firma.

Having had a glimpse of Lake Bigler, we will remark that there are a world of varied novelties strewn by the hand of nature all over the State of California, and the traveller is well repaid for his trouble in visiting them. The Mineral Springs are becoming very popular as a healthful resort. Soda and Sulphur Springs abound, and near them is Borax Lake, where borax is manufactured by the ton, and finds a ready market. The time has arrived for those who have the means to visit the wonders of this coast, and that of China and Japan.

The adaptation of our valleys for fruit has induced many to cultivate the vine and fig tree and strawberries by the hundred acres.—The vineyard fruits pressed and other fruits dried, are now finding their way East. Lusk & Co., of the Pacific Fruit Market, shipped to New York one hundred boxes of dried fruits, consisting of peaches, pears, nectarines, apricots and spices.

Mr. Gould, proprietor of extensive vineyards in Santa Clara County, is packing a lot of grapes, which Wells, Fargo & Co. can lay down in the New York market in twenty-five days from the time they are picked from the vines. Won't California astonish the older States with her fruits when the transcontinental railroad is completed?

I must not omit to speak of the Hop cultivation. A Mr. Coe, near San Jose, has some 50 acres, and his crop is very abundant. He employs some 100 Chinamen to work on his rancho. In Sonoma, Sacremento and San Diego Counties, it is said to be successful.—One planter in the southern portion of the State has 30 acres in vines, which he calculates will produce 1000 pounds to the acre, which at 50 cents will realize $15,000 gross receipts. Vines planted in Stockton to ten foot portions, thrive finely and produce large quantities of hops. Brewers hold our hops in high esteem, because they possess more of the active principle, lupuline, and are are of fine flavor. Such is the demand for hops by Lager Beer brewers, that the consumption is very great.

We are progressing in all the arts and sciences and shall make a good report in due time. Yours truly, J. E. W. C.

☞ Last week, one of the most novel of turf contests took place at the Riverside Park, Boston. The race was between two Indians and three horses—the Indians to run three miles and a quarter and the horses six miles. The names of the Indians were Young Deer-foot and Steep-rock, and the horses Empress, McClellan and Jessie Wales. The horses won, in 16:15, to the men's 16:43. The horses trotted two miles in 5:19, three miles in 8:01, four miles in 10:43, five miles in 13:27, and six miles in 16:15—an average of 2:42 1-2. The Indians ran a mile, beginning at the end of the odd third mile, in 4:10, two miles in 9:20, and three miles in 15:38—showing that the second mile was run in 5:10, and the third in 6:18. Men have often run half as fast as horses trot; but it is the extra quarter mile won in this case. Of course both the two legged and four legged animals run one at a time, by turns.

UNCLE BARNEY'S FORTUNE: By Mrs. May, is one of the Little Pitcher stories, in a little neat volume of 160 pages, illustrated. It is just issued by Wm. H. Hill, Jr., & Co., Boston, and for sale by J. H. Head in this city. It will be a pleasant and saleable addition to this class of Christmas and New Year presents, and a pleasant book for any season.

BREACH OF PROMISE.—In the case of Lawrence vs. Cooke, for breach of promise of marriage, tried at Augusta last week, the jury on Wednesday returned a verdict of $8000 for the plaintiff. The amount claimed was $10,000. Gen. Shepley takes exceptions and will carry the case up to the full court.

THE SACO COURIER.—Messrs. Butler & Place of the Biddeford Union, are making arrangements for the establishment of an independent paper, neutral in politics, in the city of Saco, to be called by the above title. This with the Biddeford Union, will be equal to a semi-weekly paper.

☞ A Boston hack driver charged double price for carrying a lady passenger; but though she agreed to this beforehand and paid it, all the Courts decided that the City Ordinance must be complied with, and fined the driver.

— One of the most interesting and pleasant occasions of the season came off at the residence of James Goodwin, Esq., in Eliot, on the evening of the 18th inst.—it being the 25th anniversary of their marriage life, and what is termed a "silver wedding." The house was filled to overflowing by the numerous personal friends of Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin. A large number of appropriate and valuable articles of silver plate were presented. Remarks appropriate to the occasion were made by Horace Parker, Esq., and others.

MRS. STOWE, in her letter from Europe, attributes the premature decay of teeth in America to the baneful effect of caustic alkalies in bread. Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is warranted to obviate this objection, and to possess no deleterious properties, but by its healthful action on the stomach to prevent their decay, and to take one-third less than any other to do the same work. 13

FRANKLIN'S WHISTLE.—Dr. Franklin, when a child, paid all his money for a whistle that was useless to himself, and a great annoyance to his friends. He "was sold," but not so badly as those who buy the health-destroying common Saleratus found in our markets. Pyle's Saleratus is pure and wholesome. Sold by grocers everywhere, in pound packages. 20

☞ The Missionary Herald for December has for its frontispiece an engraving of three grave and reverend seignors, viz., Goodell, Schauffler and Riggs, as they sat in Constantinople, translating the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments, into the Eastern languages.

Penn'a Salt M'fg Co.'s Renowned

SAPONIFIER:

(Patents of 1st and 8th Feb., 1869,) on

CONCENTRATED LYE!

Two Cents only for every pound of Soap.

DIRECTIONS.—Dissolve one box of Lye in 2½ pounds (pints) of hot water, in an iron pot. Heat in another pot or pan 5 lbs. of clean fat or grease. Take off the fire, and into this stir slowly the dissolved lye, and keep stirring until the whole becomes well mixed and like molasses. Now pour up, and set in a warm place over night. Next day cut up into small pieces, add 6 lbs. (or pints) of water, and melt with a gentle heat, until the soap is all dissolved, then pour into a tub to cool. When cold cut into bars, which will be fit to use in about ten days.

AMERICAN

WALTHAM

WATCHES.

The true value of Machinery applied to Watchmaking is not half appreciated by those who rapidly made, but that they are made correctly. Very few people know why a Waltham Watch should be superior for every purpose to the best place, as the Waltham the Watch is regarded as only a machine, to be constructed like any other machine, on mechanical principles. When the first place, as the Waltham the Watch is regarded as only a machine, to be constructed like any other machine, on mechanical principles. When the first places are good, it is because the machinery is good. Of course there must be no defect in the principle or plan of the movement—no mistake in the sizes or shapes of the pieces of which it is composed—nothing wanting in their properties, and no error in their proportions. These points once thoroughly settled, it rests wholly with the machinery so constructed with infinite diversity of form and function to operate for the purpose, to produce the finished pieces. By means of multiplying gauges and microscopes, tests and inspection for the detection of wear in the cutting tools, and for faults and flaws in steel or brass, the operator to accompany the work in every stage from beginning to end. As a necessary result, the watch goes together—the several parts made by machinery adapted to fit properly in its place. Every pin may be pushed till it pinches, and every screw turned home, that does not disgust the finisher, and the balance, even under the pressure of the lightest mainspring, vibrates with a wide and free motion, and the beat has the clear, ringing sound always characteristic of the Waltham Watch. The machine is a timekeeper from the start.

This system of manufacture is unknown in foreign countries, and is entirely original with the Waltham Company. The Company claim that by it they can produce watches that cannot be equalled for every quality which makes a watch valuable. Simple in plan and correct in principle, the movement is not only beautifully finished, substantial, accurate and speedy, but is uniform to the minutest details, not easily damaged, and when repaired always as good as new. There are different grades of the Waltham Watch, and watches of each grade made by the Waltham Company, as there are different sizes and shapes to suit all tastes and means; but every watch that bears the genuine trade-mark of "WALTHAM" is guaranteed to be a good one, and nobody need be afraid to buy it.

Every Watch fully Warranted.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

THE REMEDY FOR CURING

Consumption, Asthma, Croup, Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppressions of the Chest or Lungs, Difficult Breathing, and all Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

Its action is expectorant, alterative sudorific, sedative, diaphoretic and diuretic, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS and PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action and imparts strength to the whole system. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction, even in the most confirmed cases of consumption, and not to produce costiveness (as do most remedies) or effect the head, as it contains no opiates in any form. It is PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, at though an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. There is no necessity for so many deaths by consumption, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

THE-REALLY GREAT PLASTER,

ALLCOCK'S POROUS,

Have the compactness of kid, and the flexibility of a silk glove.

DR. I.T. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

FARNVILLE, Louisiana, March 8, 1850.

DR. T. ALLCOCK. Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years with hypertrophy of the heart, and have tried everything known to the practic of medicine from the very best M. D's. but truth prompts me to say that your Porous Plaster have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a permanent cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your Plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate and nourish and strengthen the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours very truly.

Local.

CITY ELECTION.

[Our election returns this morning are incomplete, from the fact of our having waited for the official returns from Ward Three until too late an hour to obtain them in any other manner. The Democratic candidates in that ward are said to have a sufficient majority to give them the Mayor, with an opposing City Council. We are indebted to the clerks in Wards One and Two for their attentions.]

The Municipal Election of Tuesday was political rather than local in its aims. Mr. Stevens represented the Republican party as it has been through the war, and as it is now, for the United States, and against rebels and traitors. He received —— votes for mayor. Mr. Jones represented the Democratic party as it was during the war and as it is now. He received —— votes. Last year Mr. Dearborn had 825 votes for mayor; Mr. Jones had 841, and there were 18 scattering. Mr. Dearborn was chosen by the City Council.

The South Ward, this year, as usual gives a large majority for the ticket of the Democratic party; and the middle Ward its usual majority for the Republicans.

The contest of the day was in the North Ward, and here the Republican ticket prevailed by a small majority.

500 MILES
OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD,

Running West from Omaha

ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

ARE NOW COMPLETED.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company have built a longer line of railroad in the last eighteen months than was ever built by any other company in the same time, and they will continue the work with the same energy until it is completed. The Western Division is being pushed rapidly eastward from Sacramento by the Central Pacific Company of California, and it is expected that

THE ENTIRE GRAND LINE

to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.—More than one-third of the work has already been done, more than one-third of the whole line is now in running order, and more laborers are now employed upon it than ever before. More than

Forty Million Dollars in Money

have already been expended by the two powerful companies that have undertaken the enterprise, and there is no lack of funds for its most vigorous prosecution. When the United States government found it necessary to secure the construction of the Union Pacific Railroad to develop and protect its own interest, it gave the companies authorized to build it such ample aid as should render its speedy completion beyond a doubt.—The available means of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, derived from the Government and its own stockholders, may be briefly summed up as follows:

1.—UNITED STATES BONDS

Having thirty years to run and being six per cent. currency interest at the rate of $16,000 per mile for 517 miles on the Plains; then at the rate of $48,000 per mile for 150 miles through the Rocky Mountains; then at the rate of $32,000 per mile for the remaining distance, for which the United States takes a second lien as security. The interest on these bonds is paid by the United States government, which also pays the company one-half the amount of its bills in money for transporting its freight, troops, mails, &c. The remaining half of these bills is placed to the company's credit, and forms a sinking fund which may finally discharge the whole amount of this lien. The claims against the government since April of the current year amount to four and one-half times this interest.

2.—FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS.

By its charter the Company is permitted to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to the same amount as the bonds issued by the Government, and no more, and only as the road progresses. The Trustees for the bondholders are the Hon. E. D. Morgan, U. S. Senator from New York, and the Hon. Oakes Ames, Member of U. S. House of Representatives, who are responsible for the delivery of the bonds to the Company in accordance with the terms of the law.

3.—THE LAND GRANT.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company has a land grant of absolute fee simple from government of 12,800 acres to the mile on the line of the road, which will not be worth less than $1.50 at the lowest valuation.

4.—THE CAPITAL STOCK.

The authorized capital of the Union Pacific Railroad Company is $100,000,000, of which over $5,000,000 have been paid on the work already done.

The Means Sufficient to Build the Road.

Contracts for the entire work of building 914 miles of first-class railroad west from Omaha, comprising much of the most difficult mountain work, and embracing every expense except surveying, have been made with responsible parties who have already finished over 500 miles, at the average rate of sixty-eight thousand and fifty-eight dollars ($68,058) per mile. This price includes all necessary stops for construction and repairs of cars, depots, stations and all other incidental buildings, and also locomotives, passenger, baggage and freight cars and other requisite rolling stock, to an amount that shall not be less than $5,000 per mile. Allowing the cost of the remaining one hundred and eighty-six of the eleven hundred miles assumed to be built by the Pacific Company to be $90,000 per mile,

THE TOTAL COST OF ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES WILL BE AS FOLLOWS:

914 miles, at $68,058	$62,205,012
186 miles, at 90,000	16,740,000
Add discounts on bonds, surveys, &c.	4,509,000
Amount	$82,445,012

As the U. S. Bonds are equal to money, and the Company's Lands and First Mortgage Bonds have a ready market, we have as the

AVAILABLE CASH RESOURCES FOR BUILDING ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES:

U. S. Bonds	$29,328,000
First Mortgage Bonds	29,328,000
Capital stock paid in on the work now done	5,360,750
Land Grant, 13,080,000 acres, at 1.00 per acre	21,120,000
Total	$85,145,750

The Company have ample facilities for supplying any deficiency that may arise in means for construction. They may be done wholly or in part by additional subscriptions to capital stock.

Active inquiry has already been made for a portion of these lands, and negotiations are now proposed to offer a part of them for sale. While their whole value will not be available for some years to come, they will remain a very important source of revenue to the Company. The lands of the Illinois Central Railroad Company are selling at from $6 to $13 per acre, and other land grant companies in the West are receiving equal prices for similar properties.

Future Business.

The most skeptical have never expressed a doubt that when the Union Pacific Railroad is finished the immense business that must flow over it, as the only railroad connecting the two grand divisions of the North American continent will be one of the wonders of railway transportation; and as it will have no competitor, it can always charge remunerative rates. The Pacific Mail Steamship Company of New York is now running a regular line of its splendid steamers between San Francisco and China and Japan, which is doubtless the pioneer of other lines, that will traverse the Pacific Ocean laden with the teas, spices and other products of Eastern Asia. Excepting some very heavy or bulky articles of comparatively low value, shortness of time decides the direction of freights, and most of these cargoes will find their natural transit over the Union Pacific Railroad.

It is quite within bounds to say that its traffic will be limited only by the capacity of the line, and that no other road will find a double track so necessary. California and Oregon must not only be supplied with means of conveying passengers, mail, treasure and other freights, but the inhabitants of Dacotah, Colorado, Utah, Idaho and Montana will communicate with other States almost entirely by this road. It will be the avenue to all the great mining district, which is only awaiting this ready means of communication to receive a population that will develop its vast mineral and other resources, and which of itself would furnish ample business for a railway line.

Earnings from Way Business.

While the through business of the Company will be amply remunerative, it is still in the future that the local business on the part of the road in operation has been most satisfactory.

During the quarter ending July 31, an average of 325 miles of the Union Pacific Railroad was in operation. The Superintendent's Report shows the following results:

EARNINGS.

Passengers, Freight, Telegraph, Mails,	$733,755 54
Transportation of Contractors' Material and men	479,283 41
Total	$1,203,038 95

EXPENSES.

Fuel, Repairs, Offices, Conductors, Trains, &c.	$395,530 92
Net Earnings to balance	807,508 03
Total	$1,203,038 95

The net operating expenses on the commercial business for the quarter were $227,066 50. The account for the COMMERCIAL BUSINESS stands as follows:

Earnings for May, June and July	$733,755 54
Expenses " " "	227,066 50
Net Profit	$485,789 04

The amount of bonds the company can issue on 325 miles is $9,100,000 per mile, $2,360,000. Interest in gold, three months at 6 per cent. on this sum is $78,00 0; add 40 per cent premium, to correspond with currency earnings, is $109,200—showing that the net earnings for the quarter were more than four times the interest on the First Mortgage Bonds on this length of road.

First Mortgage Bonds,

whose principal is so amply provided for, and whose interest is so thoroughly secured, must be classed among the safest investments. They pay

Six per Cent in Gold.

and are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, and accrued interest at six per Cent in currency from July 1.

Many parties are taking advantage of the present high price of Government stocks to exchange for these bonds, which are over FIFTEEN PER CENT. CHEAPER, and at the current rate of premium on gold, pay

Over Nine Per Cent. Interest.

THE RICHEST MAN IN THE WORLD.
Extract of a Letter from Baron Solomon Rothschild, PARIS, 8th April, 1864, 25 Rue Faubv. St. Honore.
Will you be kind enough to have forwarded to me three 200 bottles of your Indian Liniment; if you will send at the same time your account, I will forward you the amount through Messrs. Belmont & Co., New York.
Baron Solomon Rothschild having recommended to many of his friends Major LANE'S LINIMENT, and they being delighted with its effects, he should advise him to establish a depot in Paris.

THE INDIAN LINIMENT,
As a relief, ever ready; as a killer of pain, taken inwardly, or outwardly applied, has no equal.—For the cure of Rheumatism and Neuralgic Affections, Sprains, Bruises, &c., it is unqualled.—It is also most efficatious taken inwardly, in the cure of Cholera, Cramps and Pains in the Stomach, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Sudden Colds, Sore Throat, Influenza, &c., and is without exception the Most Wonderful Panacea the world affords. No FAMILY should be without it. Every Planter, in any land or sea should have a bottle. MINERS and FARMERS residing at a distance from Physicians should keep it constantly on hand. In case of accidents and sudden attacks of Stomach Complaints, its value cannot be estimated. Inquire for Major LANE'S INDIAN LINIMENT, and take no other. Price 50 Cents per bottle. For sale at wholesale and retail by Demas Barnes & Co., 21 Park Row, N. Y.; Gale & Robinson, 186 Greenwich street, N. Y.; F. C. Wells & Co., 192 Fulton street, N. Y.; Chas. N. Crittenden, 58 6th Ave., N. Y., and by respectable Druggists throughout the world. None genuine unless signed by JOHN THOS. LANE, and countersigned by J. T. LANE & CO., Proprietors, 163 Broadway, N. Y. Send for circular.

Certificate from H. Williams, Esq., Treasurer of the Worcester Railroad.
BOSTON, Oct. 22, 1867.
MR. HILL:—I have used PATENT ELASTIC VENTILATING INNER SOLES through a portion of the last winter with great satisfaction, as a means of keeping the feet warm and dry.
Being troubled with tender feet, I have continued their use with lighter boots through the summer, and find them to exceed my anticipations, keeping them DRIER and COOLER in hot weather, and giving an agreeable elasticity in walking.
Very truly yours,
n6eodlw HORACE WILLIAMS.

WEATHER-BOUND.

Thou pitiless, false sea!
How like a woman thou wilt softly sigh,
With heaving breast where bubble jewels shine,
Or beckoning, toss thy foam-white arms on high,
And laugh with those blue, sunny eyes of thine.

Ah, crouching, creeping sea!
Thou tiger-cat! how, while the winds make pause
To stroke thy long, smooth back in quiet play,
Thou canst't unsheath thy velvet hidden claws
And spring all unaware upon they prey!

Thou treacherous, cruel sea!
How thou wilt show thy glittering smile at night,
Hiding thy fangs, hushing thy fiendish cry,
And rise all gentle spurt from licking white
The bones of men that underneath thee lie!

O bitter, bitter sea!
Didst thou not fawn about my naked feet.
When I stood with thee on the beach, and say
That thou wouldst bear me swiftly home to meet
My darling, waiting there in vain to-day?

Yes, thou most mighty sea!
Keep thou that promise murmured on the shore;
Put thy great shoulders to our loitering keel.
Not as in rage and wrath thou hast before—
Let the good ship ply big gigantic feel.

Thou unwearied one, O sea!
Lifting in silence, o'er the waters stilled,
The shattered fragment of a rainbow fair,
A mocking promise, ne'er to be fulfilled,
Based on the waves and broken in mid-air.

☞ Messrs. Wilson and Woodbridge, who sign the Minority Report to Congress, do not favor impeachment—but they say the President has disappointed the hopes and expectations of those who placed him in power. He has betrayed their confidence and joined hands with their enemies; he has proved false to the express and implied conditions, which underlie his elevation to power, and, in their view of the case, deserves the censure and condemnation of every well disposed citizen of the Republic. While we acquit him of impeachable crimes, we pronounce him guilty of many wrongs. His contest with Congress has delayed Reconstruction and inflicted vast injury upon the people in rebel States. He has been blind to the necessities of the times and to the demands of a progressive civilization, enveloped in the darkness of the past, and seems not to have detected the dawning brightness of the future. Incapable of appreciating the grand changes which the past six years have wrought, he seeks to measure great events which surround him, by the narrow rules which adjusted public affairs before the rebellion, and its legitimate consequences destroyed them and established others. Judge him, politically condemn him, but the day of political impeachment would be a sad one for the country. Political unfitness and incapacity must be tried at the ballot-box, not in high court of impeachment. A contrary rule might leave to Congress but little time for other business than the trial of impeachment.

—Anna Dickinson was applied to recently by a committee from the West, for a political lecture, and offered them "Breakers Ahead." She received the answer, "That will do; give us "Break his Head."

—The editor of the Albany Knickerbocker, now in Europe, discloses the fact that Admiral Farragut was almost "smothered with kisses" by the ladies of the Court of the Queen of Sweden. His officers seem to have been less lucky, as their hair is only "treasured as souvenirs and laid away in gold lockets by many of the most elegant ladies of Stockholm."

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.
The following names from its large list of purchasers are given for reference:

American and Foreign Patents.
B. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington under the Act of 1837.
No. 78 State street. (opposite Kilby street,) Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, Reissues and all papers for drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents and of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, REISSUE APPEALS, every one of which was decided in his favor by the Commissioner of Patents.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,"
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can not employ a man more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,"
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all, of which ONE or which patents have been granted, and that one after rejection. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1867.

CONGRESS is at work. On the 25th, in the House, Mr. Kelsey of New York introduce a bill declaring the effect of impeachment by the House of Representatives of the President, Vice President, or any civil officer of the United States; read twice and referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Pike offered for reference a resolution declaring that, in the judgment of the House, it is unnecessary to proceed further at present with the building and equipping of ships of war. The rules were suspended and the resolution offered and adopted.

Mr. Washburne offered a resolution declaring that in the present financial condition of the country any further purchases of territory are inexpedient, and that this House will hold itself under no obligation to vote money to pay for any such purchases unless there is greater necessity for the same than now exists. He explained that he did not intend his resolution to apply to Alaska, but he meant by it to give notice to Denmark and all the world that the House would not feel itself bound to pay for any more territory. He moved to suspend the rules.—The rules were suspended—93 to 43—and the resolution was introduced and adopted.

THE DEFEAT OF GARIBALDI.—The official French report of the battle of Montana leaves no doubt that but for the interference of the French troops, Garibaldi would have defeated the Papal forces and occupied Rome. General Failly, commander of the French troops, says the position of the Garibaldians was very strong, but "the Chassepot rifles did wonders." He adds: "Our presence at Rome was urgent in order to save it."

☞ On Monday afternoon, at Bergen, N. J., Thomas Burns, foreman of blasting operations on a railroad, went into a blacksmith shop to heat a pailful of glycerine.—Seizing a piece of red hot iron, he plunged it into the mass, which instantly exploded, killing him and seven other persons, wounding many, destroying the shop and three houses, with much other property. The account adds that all the statements show that Burns was intoxicated.

REVERE, MASS.—A meeting of the inhabitants of South Malden, duly called and fully attended, was held on the evening of Oct. 30, to hear and act upon the report of a committee previously appointed to select a new name for that beautiful place. REVERE was unanimously selected. A committee was appointed to apply to the Postmaster General for a change of the name of the Post Office, and after that to the Eastern Railroad for a change in the name of the station. Another committee was chosen to secure the incorporation of the southern part of Malden under the name of Revere, by the next Legislature. Paul Revere began the battles of Lexington and Concord by calling out the men that fought them. He was an artist, and engraved the first Continental money and many patriotic devices. He used his influence as Grand Master of the Lodge of Massachusetts, in favor of the patriotic cause. It is a little singular that no place in the Union has hitherto borne his name.

THE FINANCES.—In the U. S. House of Representatives, Nov. 26, Mr. Ross, a Democratic member from Illinois, presented a resolution, directing the Committee upon Banking and Currency to report a bill at an early day to provide for the withdrawal of the circulatory currency of the National Banks, and to supply their place with greenbacks. Gen. Farnsworth, also from Illinois, wished to have the resolution made one of inquiry instead of mandatory. This Mr. Ross objected to, and a motion was made to lay the resolution on the table, but this was lost by a vote of yeas 57, nays 101, and the original resolution was then passed. This two to one vote indicates the strong feeling in the House against the National Banks—Western men of all parties voting for the resolution.

Mr. Pike, of Maine, introduced a resolution, which the House adopted, directing the Committee on Ways and Means to inquire into the expediency of equalizing the taxation, in part, as follows:

1st. By taxing the bonds of the United States 1 per cent. per annum—the tax to be assessed and collected by the officers of the Internal Revenue Department.

2d. By authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to issue bonds, subject to State and municipal taxation, and not subject to Congressional taxation, and exchangeable for any bonds now outstanding at the pleasure of the holder; and

3d. By providing that the tax paid by the National Banks, except so much as is necessary to pay the outlay on their account by the Government, shall be paid to the Treasurers of the States in which the banks are located, and applied by them to the debts of those States.

—Mark Twain, lecturing on the Sandwich Islands, offered to show how the cannibals eat their food, if some lady would hand him a baby. The lecture was not illustrated.

Local:

☞ In Ward Two, on Tuesday, a split in the ticket for Aldermen prevented the election of John Sise, the regular nominee. The friends of J. C. Carr, not being satisfied that his name should be left from the ticket after serving but one year, as two years is the customary term, run another ticket with his name on, and so defeated a choice. Neither Mr. Sise nor Mr. Carr, we are sure, took any part in nominating or electing themselves; and Mr. Sise, on learning of the schism, requested his name to be withdrawn. But for ourselves, without referring to anybody else, we must say we think the city fortunate when it can secure the services of such men as Mr. Carr—of good business talents, and so successful in managing their own affairs; and we should go in for keeping them as long as possible.

The result was no choice, and at the adjourned meeting to fill the vacancy, Wednesday morning, Mr. Daniel H. Spinney was elected Alderman by a large majority.

This is not a rum nor copper triumph, certainly; for Mr. Spinney, besides being every way a competent man for the place, is the same who was lately mulcted in $1000 for being present when the Stars and Bars went down, and was, we believe, on the N. H. Legislative Committee last year which reported in favor of a State Constable Bill. So much for so much—and it is considerable of a muchness, we think.

☞ It might be thought from the way our Court report left the case of a brawler against City Marshal Johnson and his Assistant Pickering, that they would pay the $150 fine awarded by the jury, and so the matter end. But we thought we knew the Officers better than that—and are glad to learn they will "carry the case up." No such suit ever ought to be brought into Court; and after the charge of Judge Doe, the verdict for plaintiff seemed strange to many there. But politics works wonders at the bar, sometimes; not to mention the working of the other kind of bar on politics.

☞ It is not often that a man is at once a mechanic and an artist. Mr. T. P. Moses of this city, is well known to combine great talents in both these regards, if indeed the two can be separated or distinguished where they exist. Without having learned the use of tools except for the love of them, he has turned out many a beautiful specimen of boat, work-box or picture frame; and his skill in music and painting is greater than that of most men.

Therefore, when such a one, with his long and large experience, expresses an opinion as to a Piano, for instance, it would seem to be more weighty than almost any other testimony. Mr. Moses advertises a new and superior Piano for sale at his Music and Painting Hall; and we have no doubt many of his old friends will be glad to purchase of him—especially seeing they can scarcely do better elsewhere.

☞ Dr. Goodall has a word to say to his patrons and the public who wear teeth, this morning.

☞ Mr. Barnabee's first concert for the season is advertised for Dec. 2d, at the Temple. It will be a fine entertainment, the first of a series, for which all his admirers should secure tickets at once.

☞ Capt C. M. Pennington, Jr., U. S. A., has been ordered to Fort Constitution, in place of Maj. William D. Fuller.

☞ Concert this (Thursday) evening, at the Temple, by an English Opera Troupe, directed by Miss Ellis. See advertisement.

☞ Messrs. Hurd & Houghton, New York, desire to call special attention to the following new work to be issued this month, entitled Grandpa's House, by Helen C. Weeks, author of "Ainslee," etc., with illustrations by George G. White. 1 vol. 16mo. Price $1.50. Mrs. Weeks is known to all readers of the Riverside, by her stories of "Ainslee and Sinny." The same characteristics which have made her stories in the Magazine so delightful will be found in this book, which presents in the most graphic manner pictures of New England country life.

NATURALIZED CITIZENS ABROAD.—In the U. S. House of Representatives, Nov. 25, Mr. Robinson of New York made a speech in support of his resolution relative to the treatment of naturalized American citizens in Great Britain, and calling for the impeachment of Minister Adams. He said he intended to keep calling the attention of Congress to the question until a remedy would be applied. Within the last two years no American citizen had been allowed to visit Great Britain or Ireland without being subject to an insulting examination of their person and effects. Referring to the Abyssinian expedition, he said that Napier was marching on the enemy while Grant's sword was rusting in the scabbard, and Farragut's fleet was firing salutes to the government against which it should be operating. Ireland, he said, did not belong to England. England had never conquered Ireland, and never would, for an inferior race could certainly never conquer a superior one.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Mr. Robinson must be a crazy man, to talk such nonsense about Ireland. There is a strange notion prevalent among many of our naturalized citizens, viz., that a man may come from Germany, Ireland or Italy, swear two or three oaths and get his papers, and then rush back to his father land to do mischief and break things, under protection of his sham citizenship here,—and with the expectation that he is to be shielded from danger by our diplomacy, and if need be by our arms.

This expectation may have been realized in some cases,—but as a general thing it is unreasonable. Some valuable men among them perhaps may be worth saving,—but the most of these whiffers that try to belong in two countries, are nuisances in both, and might as well be in prison as anywhere.

THE MONTHLIES.—For $1.50 a year, "The Nursery" will be found a most profitable combination of amusement and instruction for the little ones. John L. Shorey, publisher, Boston.

The Galaxy for December contains contributions by Walt Whitman, T. W. Parsons, Olive Logan, Richard Grant White, M. A. Cary, James O. Noyes, Richard Frothingham and others. This number completes the fourth volume of the Galaxy. Price $3.50 a year. W. C. & F. P. Church, No. 39 Park Row, New York.

The Riverside Magazine for December completes the first volume of this richest of all juvenile publications, both in typography and illustrations. At $2.50 a year it is one of the cheapest and best magazines published. Hurd & Houghton, publishers, New York.

TROLL FISHING.—The Rhode Islanders' it appears, do not make Cape Ann troll fishers very welcome to their shores, and they demand that the General Assembly of the State pass a law forbidding persons from abroad coming into their waters to fish in that style, as its result if it is allowed to be continued a short time, would "be to materially diminish, if not to vitually exterminate the family of the cod fish. Troll fishing has been prohibited in the seaboard States elsewhere, and consequently the fishermen belonging to them flock to Rhode Island to ply their destructive craft.

☞ A steel Engraving of Charles Dickens, published in the "Electic" Magazine, last January, acknowledged to be an excellent likeness, is printed on paper 10 x 12, and sent postpaid for 25 cents, by B. B. Russell & Co., 55 Cornhill, Boston.

HAS your Son secured a Certificate of the Washington Library Company of Philadelphia, in aid of the Riverside Institute, for educating orphans? Each certificate costs a dollar, with a beautiful engraving, worth more than a dollar at retail, and secures besides, a present at the Great Distribution by the Company, and an equal chance that the present may be one worth thousands of dollars. He may be made rich through an act of benevolence. Read advertisement.

It takes less than any other, and will do much nicer work. It is always uniform in strength, and perfectly healthy. 14

THERE ARE TWO SPECIAL QUALITIES which determine and fix the superiority of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S NEW STYLE IMPROVED HAIR RESTORER or DRESSING, in one bottle over all other preparations for the Hair. First, the prompt, quick action, great growth, life and vigor that it is sure to give the hair, never failing, by a few applications, to restore Gray or White hair to its natural color, imparting to the Hair a delightful aroma, fresh, delicate and unchangeable in any climate. Second, its easy application without any previous preparation of the Hair; without that nasty and disagreeable sulphur odor found and complained of in all other preparations. It never soils the skin or linen.—Ladies will find it a standard Toilet Luxury to dress their Hair. It retains the hair in any desired position, and is cooling, healing and cleansing to the scalp, removing immediately all scurf, dandruff and pimples. Price One Dollar. Sold by all Druggists. n21—im

FRANKLIN'S WHISTLE.—Dr. Franklin, when a child, paid all his money for a whistle that was useless to himself, and a great annoyance to his friends. He "was sold," but not so badly as those who buy the health-destroying common Saleratus found in our markets. Flyer's Saleratus is pure and wholesome. Sold by grocers everywhere, in pound packages. 20

—The Paraguayan war is not at an end, and two decisive victories have been won by the Brazilians.

—The masons of the city of Memphis are in a bad way, and a proposition has been made by the aldermen to reduce expenses by closing the schools.

— The Government lines of telegraph across the Chesapeake Bay, it is stated are to be offered for sale These lines are very rarely used now, although during the war they were of great importance.

— A son of Mr. Shorebiah Garland, aged about ten years, was drowned on Tuesday afternoon while crossing the river near his father's house, a little more than a mile above Rochester, N. H. Two of his brothers gave the alarm, but before help arrived life was extinct.

— The loss by the burning of the foundry of Edson Bonney, at Pittsfield, Mass., Thursday evening, was about $10,000, with no insurance. The fire was set by two boys, one twelve and the other fourteen years of age, the object being to rob the house of Mr. Bonney during his absence at the fire. Both the boys have made full confession of their guilt, and implicated three other lads in previous larcenies from Mr. Bonney's dwelling, of money to the amount of $97.

—Respecting the Cooke breach of promise case at Gardiner, Me., a gentleman who formerly resided in that town informs the Portland Press that Mr. Cooke's conduct is fully authorized by a local custom which prevails in that city. From a time whereof the memory of man runneth not to the contrary," the young men and women have been in the habit of forming special intimacies, to be broken off at the end of four or five years, by mutual consent. It happened, unfortunately for Mr. Cooke, that the presiding justices did not regard this custom as having the validity of law.

NOT GOLD ONLY,

BUT

RICH, FRUITY, LUSCIOUS
WINES!

California is making grand strides in her agricultural products and is fast withdrawing herself as a purchaser for the manufactures of the various branches of industry she once demanded. She sends a warning voice to the time-worn vineyards of Europe, and enters the lists as a fresh, young combatant for the production of wines from her own rich and increasing vineyards.—the time has come when it is simply ridiculous for any one housed by claim to especial advantages or peculiar privileges for the sale of

THE WINES OF CALIFORNIA.

As well might they claim a monopoly of the cotton trade.

C. A. RICHARDS & CO.

do not receive or sell all the wines which California produces, but they do claim to have at all times a very large quantity on hand of all the best kinds, and their advantages for getting the best, and getting them at the lowest market value, are such as to enable them to offer them at prices which to-day are lower than any other house which sells California Wines of equality. We bottle five kinds. They are,—

"Angelica,"
"Muscatel,"
"Still Champagne,"
"Hock" and
"Port,"

Also "California Brandy."

They are all perfectly pure, and may be relied upon in sickness or in health. The Angelica and Muscatel are rich, sweet wines. The Hock is fully equal to the medium grades of Rhine wines. The Port is actually better than many of the high cost Ports from Oporto. We sell these wines in any required quantity, from a single bottle to a THOUSAND CASES, and are ready at all times to exhibit samples, or to send them to any address.

AMERICAN
WALTHAM
WATCHES.

The true value of Machinery applied to Watchmaking is not that by its use watches are rapidly made, but that they are made correctly. Very few people know why a Waltham Watch should be superior to any other. In the first place, at Waltham the Watch is regarded as only a machine, and constructed like any other machine, on mechanical principles. If the watches are good, it is because the machinery is good. Of course there cannot be no defect in the principle or plan of the movement, no mistake in the forms or shapes of the pieces of which it is composed—nothing wanting in their properties, and no error in their positions. When the machine is thoroughly settled, it rests wholly with the machinery, constructed with minute diversity of form and function, to produce the cutting edges, and shapes, parts and flaws in steel or stone, are made to accompany the work in every stage from beginning to end. As a consequence, the finished watch goes together a perfect machine. Every part is found to fit properly in its place. Every pin may be pushed to its position, and every screw turned home. Instead of a sluggish and feeble action, the balance, even under the pressure of the lightest mainspring, vibrates with a wide and free motion, and the beat has the clear, ringing sound always characteristic of the Waltham Watch. The machine is a timekeeper from the start.

This system of watch making is unknown in foreign countries, and is entirely original with the Waltham Company. The Company claim that by it they produce watches of that standard of excellence for every quality which makes a watch valuable. Simple in plan and correct in principle, the movement is not only substantial, finished, elegant, accurate and cheap, but is uniform in the minutest details, not easily damaged, and when repaired always can be replaced. Hence arises the equality of finish in the different varieties of watches made by the Waltham Company, as there are different sizes and shapes to watches, but not different kinds; but every watch that bears the genuine trade-mark of "WALTHAM" is guaranteed to be a good one, and honestly sold by a dealer to buy it.

Every Watch fully Warranted.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

THE REMEDY FOR CURING

Consumption, Asthma, Croup, Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppressions of the Chest or Lungs, Difficult Breathing, and all Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

Its action is expectorant, alterative, sudorific, sedative, diaphoretic and diuretic, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS and PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action and imparts strength to the whole system. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction, even in the most confirmed cases of consumption, and not to produce costiveness (as do most remedies) or effect the head, as it contains no opium in any form. It is PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. There is no necessity for so many deaths by consumption, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

Have the compactness of kid, and the flexibility of a silk glove.

DR. I. T. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

FARNVILLE, Louisiana, March 8, 1860.

DR. T. ALLCOCK, Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hysterodynia of the heart, and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. D.'s; but truth prompts me to say that your Plasters have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a permanent cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your Plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours very truly,

ON DIT, that Secretary Seward has bought part of the island of Borneo. This may be meant as a joke, but the Secretary is crazy in the matter of buying foreign territory.

ELI V. BREWSTER, republican, was elected Mayor of Dover, on Tuesday.

GOLD, Wednesday, 139 3-4.

— The mild weather has reopened navigation on Lake Champlain.

— A movement has been started in Connecticut for establishing an industrial school for indigent and exposed young girls.

—The town of Branford, England, has been afflicted with the present of a complete journal of the House of Commons for three centuries.

—Henry Ward Beecher received $25,000 from Mr. Bonner for "Norwood," and as the story was longer than was anticipated, an additional five thousand has been paid.

— At the battle of Mentano, the Chassepot rifles were fired eight or ten times in a minute, and when the soldiers held their cartridges in their hands—so as to use them without handling their cartridge boxes—they fired their pieces from twelve to fifteen times.

— A large number of wholesale pork dealers from the Eastward have held a meeting at Pittsburg, Pa., at which they unanimously voted not to purchase hogs of commission men for the next twenty days. This will have the effect to bring down the prices asked by speculators.

—Vermont sticks to the old six per cent. dodge in the matter of usury money. This will promote shaving, and some of the Green Mountain men will be done exceedingly brown. To regulate the rates of money is about as sensible as it would be to regulate the fall of rain—and as easy.

— Miss Mann, who figured so disreputably in connection with the abuse of the child Williams in Norwich, Conn., about a year ago, and whose accomplice, the child's father, is now undergoing six year's imprisonment for his cruelty, has had her bail reduced to $400, and is as good as free, as the money will be paid.

— A large number of whites voted in Mississippi, when the question was taken on calling a State Convention. Southern men are beginning to see that the proper course is to take part in public affairs, and not to waste time in waiting for the restoration of the democracy,—who may not be restored.

500 MILES OF THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD.

Running West from Omaha

ACROSS THE CONTINENT.

ARE NOW COMPLETED.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company have built a longer line of railroad in the last eighteen months than was ever built by any other company in the same time, and 1,000 miles still remain to work with the same energy until it is completed. The Western Division is being pushed rapidly eastward from Sacramento by the Central Pacific Company of California, and it is expected that to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.—More than one-third of the work is already done, more than one-third of the whole line is now in running order, and more laborers are now employed upon it than ever before. More than

THE ENTIRE GRAND LINE

Forty Million Dollars in Money

have already been expended by the two powerful companies that have undertaken the enterprise, and there is no lack of funds for its most vigorous prosecution. When the United States Government found it necessary to secure the construction of the Union Pacific railroad to develop and protect its own interest, it gave the companies authorized to build it such substantial aid as should render its speedy completion beyond a doubt.—The available means of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, derived from the Government and its own stockholders, may be briefly summed up as follows:

1.—UNITED STATES BONDS

Having thirty years to run, bearing six per cent. currency interest at the rate of $16,000 per mile for 517 miles on the Plains; then at the rate of $32,000 per mile for 150 miles through the Rocky Mountains, then at the rate of $48,000 per mile for the remaining distance, for which the United States take a second lien as security. The interest on these bonds is paid by the United States government, which also pays the company one half the amount of its bills in money for transporting its freight, troops, mails, &c. The remaining half of these bills is placed to the company's credit, and to as a sinking fund which may finally discharge the whole amount of the loan. The claims against the government since April of the present year amount to four and one-half times this interest.

2.—FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS.

By its charter the Company is permitted to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to the same amount as the bonds issued by the Government, and as second only as to security. The Trustees for the bondholders are the Hon. E. D. Morgan, U. S. Senator from New York, and the Hon. Oakes Ames, Member of U. S. House of Representatives, who are responsible for the delivery of these bonds to the Company in accordance with the terms of the law.

3.—THE LAND GRANT.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company has a land grant or absolute donation from government of 12,800 acres to the mile on 150 miles of road, which will not be worth less than $1.50 at the lowest valuation.

4.—THE CAPITAL STOCK.

The authorized capital of the Union Pacific Railroad Company is $100,000,000, of which over $5,000,000 have been paid on the work already done.

The Means Sufficient to Build the Road.

Contracts for the entire work of building 914 miles of first-class railroad west from Omaha, comprising much of the most difficult mountain work, and embracing every description of surveying, have been made with responsible parties (two have already finished over 600 miles), at the average cost of sixty-eight thousand and fifty-eight dollars ($68,058) per mile. This price includes all necessary shops for construction and repairs of cars, depots, stations and other incidental buildings, and also locomotives, passenger, baggage and freight cars and other requisite rolling stock, to an amount fully not less than $3,000 per mile. Allowing the cost for the remaining one hundred and eighty-six of the eleven hundred miles assumed to be built by the Pacific Company to be $80,000 per mile.

THE TOTAL COST OF ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES WILL BE AS FOLLOWS:

914 miles, at $68,058	$62,205,012
186 miles, at 80,000	14,740,000
Add discounts on bonds, surveys, &c.,	4,500,000
Amount	$82,445,012

As the U. S. Bonds are equal to money, and the Company's own First Mortgage Bonds have a ready market, we have as the

AVAILABLE CASH RESOURCES for BUILDING ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES:

U. S. Bonds	$29,328,000
First Mortgage Bonds	29,328,000
Capital stock paid in on the work now done	5,369,750
Land Grant, 11,089,000 acres, at $1.50 per acre	21,120,000
Total	$85,145,750

The Company have ample facilities for supplying any deficiency that may arise in means for construction. This may be done wholly or in part by additional subscriptions to capital stock.

Active inquiry has already been made for a portion of these lands, and arrangements are now proposed to offer a part of them for sale. While their whole value will not be available for some years to come, they will remain a very important source of revenue to the Company. The lands of the Illinois Central Railroad Company are selling at from $6 to $12 per acre, and other land grant companies in the West are receiving equal prices for similar properties.

Future Business.

The most skeptical have never expressed a doubt that when the Union Pacific Railroad is finished the immense business that must flow over it, as the only railroad connecting the two grand divisions of the North American continent will fix upon it one of the most important transportation; and as it will have no competitor, it can always charge remunerative rates. The Pacific Mail Steamship Company of New York is now running a regular line of its splendid steamers between San Francisco and China and Japan, which is doubtless the pioneer of many others that will traverse the Pacific Ocean laden with the teas, spices and other products of Eastern Asia. Excepting some very heavy or bulky articles of comparatively low values, shortness of time decides the direction of freights, and most of these cargoes will find their natural transit over the Union Pacific Railroad.

It is quite within bounds to say that its traffic will be limited only by the capacity of the line, and that no other road will find a double track necessary. California and Oregon must not only be supplied with means of transport for passengers, mail, treasure and other freight, but the inhabitants of Dacotah, Colorado, Utah, Idaho and Montana will communicate with the older States and Europe chiefly by this route. It is the avenue to all the great mining district, which is only awaiting this ready means of communication to receive a population that will develop its vast mineral and other resources, and which of itself would furnish ample business for a railway line.

Earnings from Way Business.

While the through business of the Company will be amply remunerative, it is in the future, but the local business on the part of the road in operation has been most satisfactory.

During the quarter ending July 31 an average of 235 miles of the Union Pacific Railroad was in operation. The Superintendent's Report shows the following results:

EARNINGS.

Passengers, Freight, Telegraph, Mails, Transportation of Contractors' Material and men	$723,755 54 479,283 41
Total	$1,203,038 95

EXPENSES.

Fuel, Repairs, Offices, Conductors, Trains, &c	$295,630 92
Net Earnings to balance	907,508 03
Total	$1,203,038 95

The net operating expenses on the commercial business for the quarter were 39.00—Per account for the COMMERCIAL BUSINESS stands as follows:

Earnings for May, June and July	$733,755 54
Expenses " " "	287,966 60
Net Profit	$485,789 0[illegible]

The amount of bonds the company can issue on 235 miles at $16,000 per mile is $5,360,000. Interest in gold, three months, at 6 per cent. on this sum is $80,000, add 40 per cent. premium, to correspond with currency earnings, $112,000—showing that the net earnings for this quarter were more than four times the interest on the First Mortgage Bonds on this length of road.

First Mortgage Bonds,

whose principal is so amply provided for, and whose interest is so thoroughly secured, must be classed among the safest investments. They pay

Six Per Cent. in Gold,

and are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, and accrued interest at six per cent. in currency from July 1.

Many parties are taking advantage of the present high price of Government stocks to exchange for these bonds, which are over FIFTEEN PER CENT. CHEAPER, and at the current rate of premium on gold, pay

Over Nine Per Cent. Interest.

C. DWIGHT HANSCOM.

They Have Never Been Beaten.

The PIANO FORTES manufactured by Messrs. HALLET, DAVIS & CO., of Boston, have never been excelled.

The subscriber has sold and used them for many years, and they have proved equal in all respects to any other make, and superior to most.—Pianos which I sold to parties in this city from FIFTEEN to TWENTY YEARS ago, are giving perfect satisfaction to-day.

A splendid new 7 octave Instrument, fresh from their mint, may be seen at his COURTING IN THE SEASON.

I luv to kourt in Winter,
The mani gurls I no.
When awl around is dreery,
And kurved up with sno;
I luv to kourt in Winter,
Becaws the old folks dred
The cold and stormi weather,
And horri oph to bed.

I luv to kourt in Spring-time,
When awl is brite and gay,
When Natur smiles so sweetly,
Two chase the kold away;
I luv to kourt in Spring time,
Becaws the gurls, you no,
They luk so awful pretty
In dresses kut so low.

I luv to kourt in Summar,
When awl things are in blume,
And yet I think that kourting
Will ever be mi dume,
For I have asked just 21
Of awl the gurls I no,
To have me for their lavin one,
And they have answered—No!

☞ The New York Tribune facetiously says that the treaty with the Indians "includes every troublesome tribe except the Kon-trak-tahs, the Ingen-a-gents, and Fron-tee-set-tahs." Upon which the Traveller remarks that "these three tribes are the most troublesome of all, and though their skins are white and they may think their blood is blue, they have done more to bring about Indian wars, which are the most costly of all wars—not even excepting secession wars—than has been done by all the redskins that ever lived and been killed by bullets or brandy since the days of Powhattan and Pocahontas."

The great Manchester Print Works at Manchester, have given notice that the pay of their employs will be reduced 12 1-2 per cent. after the first of next month. The Stark Mills have given notice of a reduction without stating the amount. Both corporations, it is said are losing money fast.

The house of Mr. Stephen Merrill of Deerfield was destroyed by fire last week, as was also the residence of a Mr. Gutherson of the same town.

JEFF DAVIS' Trial is postponed to the 4th Wednesday in March, for the sake of having Judge Chase to preside. If this comes to pass, a curious spectacle will be presented, viz., the impersonation of slaveocracy coming to be tried before an early abolitionist, whose name was cast out as evil on this account.

MURDER AND ROBBERY.—At St. Louis, Nov. 25, a young German, named Klenger, shot his employer, Henry Writter, in the head, and then broke Writter's wife's skull, and then robbed the house of $40 and disappeared. Writter and his wife are in a very critical condition. The real cause of the tragedy is not known.

NO RECESS OF CONGRESS.—The House concurred in the Senate resolution to adjourn the present session at noon Monday, so that there can be no recess, as the second session will commence at that hour. Both Houses adjourned over till Monday to keep Thanksgiving.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE.

Prescribed by Physicians for

FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS AND INVALIDS.

As a Tonic, it has no equal, causing an appetite and building up the system of the most debilitated.

As a Diuretic, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands, Kidneys and Urinary Passages, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

As a Blood Purifier, it is superior, being one of the best alteratives known in the medical pharmacopeia.

The qualities of SAMBUCI are "unitum in personæ," being at once a Tonic, Diuretic, Alterative, Diaphoretic and Soporific.

N B.—Panax Ginseng Senega Sanguinaria Yucca.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI is a pure juice wine with a fine flavor, rich body and pleasant taste. It is peculiarly adapted for weak and debilitated persons, the aged and infirm, and especially for sick and children.

Beware the signature of ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J., to cover the cork of the bottle.

— While President Lincoln's child lay dead at the White House, a Western office seeker persistently sought an interview with him in order to procure a place about to be vacated by resignation. The President reminded the applicant of his domestic calamity, saying that the time for such business as his was unseasonable. "Well" —said the fellow—"how soon does the funeral come off?"

— Robert J. Walker, in response to a request from President Johnson, has written his views of the financial position. He holds retrenchment is of the utmost importance in every department of the Government. Expansion, he says is repudiation; contraction is destruction. An immediate return to specie payment, by issuing a foreign loan of six per cent, of three hundred millions is the course to pursue in his judgment. It is understood that the President will elaborate many of these points in his forthcoming message.

— One of our Alabama exchanges, apparently impressed with the notion that it can better the reconstruction convention by loading it with harsh epithets, says of the members:

"They are drunk, drunk with power; they, the lowborn and low lived things who were only created to grovel in the festering and seething dirt of a sewer, and who happen now to sit on decent chairs like human beings."

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified enconiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.
The following names from its large list of purchasers are given for reference:

Portsmouth.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1867.

—The Machias (Me.) Union says that a sale of liquors at public auction was duly advertised by the Collector of Customs of that Port. The auctioneer was on the ground all ready to sell, but no person appeared to bid, which must be taken as evidence that a large stock has been laid in, or the people have abandoned the use of liquors.—Exchange.

Not exactly that. It is not true that ALL "the people have abandoned the use of liquors"—but it is true that a very considerable portion of them have done so.—About the "stock" we can't say; but the purchaser, if there had been one, who bought a cask, might be suspected of keeping liquor for sale. Or the secret dealers there might form a ring to prevent a bid.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.—Onesius Peaslee and his second wife were brought before the Saco police court, for brutal treatment of his son, aged seven years. The little fellow was left nights in an open room on a pile of shavings, with no covering except a salt bag, and was otherwise cruelly treated by his inhuman father and brutal step-mother. Five dollars and cost! ! !

A young woman, Miss Lydia Ross, of Saco, attempted to drown herself, one morning, by walking into the water from the Dock, alleging as a reason that she was tired of living. She was rescued by some persons near by, when she made strong efforts to throw herself in again; but, after considerable struggling, was taken away, the only result of her rash act being rather a cold bath. One more unfortunate!

Mr. James Nickerson of Saco had his foot taken off by an up-and-down saw in one of the mills.

The Pepperell and Laconia Companies, Saco, have now ready to ship for China 250 bales each of drills. All the drills and jeans which the Company can make up to January are sold.

Mr. Edwin C. Frost, of Mousam village, while walking between his store and the post office, at noon on Thursday, fell in the street and lived but a few minutes. He was 53 years old.

THE NEW ENGLAND CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC.—The enterprise recently inaugurated at the Boston Music Hall by Prof. Tourjee, is one of the most promising movements of the past year. It is nothing less than the establishment of a fully organized Musical University, where, for a single insignificant fee, a pupil may enter upon a full course of musical education, vocal, instrumental and theoretical, under the most eminent instructors in the country.

Prof. Tourjee inaugurated the system of class teaching fifteen years since, in this State, and after spending much time in preparation for his work, studying under the best masters, and visiting all the principal conservatories of Europe, established several years ago, in Rhode Island, under the modest title of a "Musical Institute," the first proper conservatory in this country. Its success has been abundant, and it now continues under the name of the "Providence Conservatory of Music."

The New England Conservatory, at the Boston Music Hall, since its opening in February, has registered over twelve hundred names. The impetus which such an university must give to the cause of sound musical education can hardly be estimated. The enterprise is a noble one, and our citizens are evincing their interest in its success by extending it a generous support.—Boston Musical Times.

☞"Prang's Chromo" is a neat little paper, "A Journal of Popular Art," the first number of which is just issued by L. Prang & Co., of 155 Washington street, Boston, where the exquisite Chromo Paintings are now printed (or the prints painted, as you prefer,) which are fast not only taking, but filling, the place of real oil pictures, and are in no wise inferior—in fact, as Mrs. H. B. Stowe says, can't be told from them when in frame. Mrs. Stowe and Mr. Parton give Prang's works unqualified praise, as do all other judges of the fine arts, and all who appreciate such potent means of popular education in the love of the beautiful. Mr. J. H. Foster is agent for Prang & Co., and will supply any picture from their large and attractive catalogue, at the printer's or painter's price. What more suitable or acceptable for a present on any occasion?

☞ In Massachusetts, by official count, Gov. Bullock received 98,306 and Adams 70,860. Last year the vote stood: Bullock 91,360, Sweetser 26,671. So Governor Bullock gets 6526 votes more than last year, while Adams gets 43,689 more than Sweetser did last year.

☞ At Louisville, Ky., great distress is apprehended from the recent closing of several of the largest manufactories on account of the scarcity of coal. Near Knoxville a fire is raging in the mountain forests, filling the whole country with smoke, and doing immense damage to property.

— Benjamin Reynolds and Curtis J. Braley, while intoxicated left New Bedford Monday of last week with a load of lumber. The horse it appears ran away and both were thrown out. Braley was so severely wounded and frozen that he died on Thursday, and Reynolds may not recover from his injuries.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—Those farmers in New Hampshire engaged in sheep husbandry are keenly disappointed at the long continued and discouraging depression in the wool market. Forty cents a pound is reported to be about the ruling average price for the first quality of domestic fleeces. It is estimated that at the commencement of the present year there were about 311,824 sheep in New Hampshire, of which Rockingham County had 11,847.

The Mirror says there is considerable talk about building a railroad from Parker's Station in Goffstown, to New Boston. If parties on the line are sufficiently liberal, a track may be laid the coming season.

General James Wilson of California lectured at Nashua last week on the Golden State. Gen. Wilson, or "Long Jim," was familiarly known in this State twenty-five years ago, and enjoyed wide fame as a stump speaker of the old Whig school. He had no superior, if any equal, in the country, and the generation that is passing away will vividly recall his captivating eloquence and striking figure. He is now quite seventy years of age, and has resided in California many years.

The Dover Enquirer says the bones of those old democrats whose Bible was the New Hampshire Patriot, and who could not contain themselves for joy when John Quincy Adams was defeated by General Jackson forty years ago, would rest uneasily in their graves could they know that their party in this State had degenerated to such a degree that one of Adams' descendants, bearing his hated name, was now brought here to make democratic speeches and instruct the party in the way they should go!

The Democrats of Manchester nominated James A. West as candidate for Mayor.

The fall term of the Christian Institute at Wolfeborough has closed. The examination was conducted by N. A. Moulton, Esq., of Newburyport, and Rev. John W. Haley of Somerset, Mass.

The Coos Republican is strong in the faith that time will dispel all formidable opposition, and cars of the Montreal Road will in due time reach Lancaster and the Grand Trunk.

The Enquirer says the municipal election at Dover was rather a sleepy affair on the part of the Republicans, while the Democracy were wide awake, throwing a larger vote than they have brought out at a City election for years past, and "slopping" over in Ward 1 by one vote, and in Ward 4 by two. In the latter Ward, however, the Republicans elect the most important Ward Officers, and retain their usual ascendancy in the two large central Wards, 2 and 3. The result has been affected more by local than political questions, which will have no interest at a general election.—Eli V. Brewster, the Republican candidate for Mayor, had 595 votes; Luther C. Kimball, Democratic, 529; Republican majority 66.

Hon. William E. Chandler of this State, who has resigned the position of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, will, it is said, resume the practice of his profession in Washington.

Six or eight thousand dollars' worth of butter was seized at Newport and White River Junction, by the customs officers of Newport, for an alleged attempt to defraud the revenue. This butter was bought in Canada by A. B. Nelson of Derby Line, and was shipped for Boston.

Mr. Selden F. White, formerly of Lancaster, but more recently a merchant in Chicago, died at the residence of his brother, Nathaniel White, Esq., of Concord, last week, after a protracted illness.

Mr. George W. Ingerson, a well known citizen of Lancaster, died on Saturday last from a sudden attack of paralysis, aged 65 years.—Mr. Ingerson was formerly for many years Jailor of the County, and was one of the oldest members of North Star Lodge of Masons now living, having entered in 1825.

The Steamer Chocorua made her last appearance at Wolfeborough for the season on Thanksgiving morning. She shipped over 12 tons of poultry at that place during the week previous.

A brilliant sophomore in Dartmouth College, when recently interrogated by a professor as to the word passover, replied that it signified the crossing of the Red Sea by the Israelites!

A few evenings since, while the Democrats of Hopkinton were rejoicing over the election returns, with music and a procession, a festive young Republican got into the Congregational Church and tolled the bell ten minutes; when some excited Democrats found their way into the building, and the young man scampered out through a window and eluded the search of his pursuers. The incident had a dampening effect on the exercises of the evening.

☞ The telegraph reports here that Weston arrived at his goal in Chicago, Thursday at 10 o'clock, with two hours to spare,—but he didn't do his one hundred miles in a day, at all.

WESTON, the walker, had a great reception at Chicago by 50,000 people. He is to tarry there two weeks; and so try for 100 miles in 24 hours, on a racing track.

PACIFIC RAILROAD PROGRESS.—The Great Pacific Railroad, about which so much has been said, already assumes the phase of a great fact certain to be accomplished. By entrusting the wonderful enterprise to two great companies instead of one, it seems the undertaking will be the sooner carried through. The Union Pacific Railroad Company, building the Eastern half, have already pushed, with great energy, their track to the foot slopes of Rocky Mountain ranges, having built 500 miles of road in about two years. The Central Pacific Railroad Co., beginning at the Pacific side and working eastward, have accomplished a more prodigious work even, in carrying their track across California and over the Sierra Nevada range into the Salt Lake Basin. Although this work is all included within 150 miles, in point of difficulty and resistance overcome, it is more than equivalent to all that has been done on the eastern end. The crossing is made by practicable grades at an elevation of 7,000 feet above the sea-level, and a few days hence, it is thought, will witness the passage of the trains from the wharves of Sacramento to the mines of Nevada. Already a locomotive is on the eastern slope of the range.

It appears, moreover, that the Pacific Railroad will not have to wait for the complete overland connection to be made a paying investment; but it is in its beginnings a financial success. This is especially true of the Western half, where there is already a large settlement along its route—for it appears that with the track halted at the summit of the mountains, whence the passengers and freight had to be transferred to stages and wagons, the business has been so large during the summer as to bear comparison with the best roads in the country, and so profitable as to almost challenge belief. The inevitable traffic of such a line when completed, will obviously require a double track at an early day, and even two sets of tracks within the next twenty years.—When a laborer or an emigrant can be transported from New York to San Francisco for one hundred dollars, we may expect a wholesale flitting to the El Dorado of the West, and the Great Port on the North Pacific Ocean will become second only to New York.

It is well understood that the Government furnishes, out of its credit, a large proportion of the means necessary to carry out this enterprise; and the Californians have generously added greatly to the means for the construction of their end of it. All this will be repaid fourfold in the development, prosperity and good order assured to our Western domain, to say nothing of the enlargement of our trade with Eastern Asia. The Central Pacific Company have an army of nearly 10,000 men employed on the work, and expect to build about 260 miles across the Salt Lake Basin during next year. This will bring their road contiguous to the Great Gold and Silver Mining Regions of the Salt Lake Basin; and in 1870 we may hope to see the through line finished.

The Central Pacific Railroad Company are offering the First Mortgage Bonds of their Road for sale to persons seeking safe, desirable investments. By reference to their advertisement in another column, the foundation and assurances of these securities will be found fully set forth.

INTO THE LIGHT; OR THE JEWESS.—This is a handsome volume of 322 pages, published by Loring, Boston, and for sale here by Mr. Shores. It appears to be written by a lady, C. A. O. The life it portrays is pure, romantic, intellectual. The story is based on the progress of the heroine —"Naomi," a lovely Jewess—from the shadows of Judaism "into the light" of Christianity. It is a book of religious sentiment and high moral tone. A contemporary calls it "an attractive Christmas gift to young or old, sure to lift their thoughts to high themes, and give correct views of life and duty. The author is a lady of rare attainments, and, judging by this production, wields her pen with deep earnestness and true Christian feeling."

— The Louisville papers give a decision of Judge Swayne, of the United States Supreme Court, on the Civil Rights law. He says; "We entertain no doubt of the constitutionality of the act in all its provisions."

The Gulf Stream is still a mystery to the expounders of Physical Science, whether it is propelled by the trade winds, or from the motion of the earth upon its axis, or, as we think, through a subterranean passage and pressure from the Pacific Ocean, which would give it its temperature and saline qualities. At all events, its general influence upon the climate of Europe is a great blessing, but not greater than Hewick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus to the American people. 15

"Hope is the anchor to the soul."

And such a hope as is obtained by those afflicted with premature baldness, or any disease of the scalp, in the purchase of a bottle of "Barrett's Hair Restorative," can never be taken from you. Sold by all Druggists. 7

THERE ARE TWO SPECIAL QUALITIES which determine and fix the superiority of MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S NEW STYLE IMPROVED HAIR RESTORER or DRESSING, in one bottle over all other preparations for the Hair. First, the prompt, quick action, great growth, life and vigor that it is sure to give the Hair, never failing, by a few applications, to restore Gray or White Hair to its natural color, imparting to the Hair a delightful aroma, fresh, delicate and unchangeable in any climate. Second, its easy application without any previous preparation of the Hair; without that sticky and disagreeable sulphur odor found and complained of in all other preparations. It never soils the skin or linen.—Ladies will find it a standard Toilet Luxury to dress their hair. It retains the hair in any desired position, and is cooling, healing and cleansing to the scalp, removing immediately all scurf, dandruff and pimples. Price One Dollar. Sold by all Druggists. w31—1m

FRANKLIN'S WHISTLE,—Dr. Franklin, when a child, paid all his money for a whistle that was useless to himself, and a great annoyance to his friends. He "was sold," but not so badly as those who buy the health-destroying common Saleratus found in our markets. Hyde's Saleratus is pure and wholesome. Sold by grocers everywhere, in pound packages. 30

☞ The counterfeiters of foreign perfumery pay but a poor compliment to the sagacity and taste of American ladies, if they expect them to buy their simulated "extracts" when Phalon's Night-Blooming Cereus—the finest article of the kind in any country—is obtainable everywhere.—Appleton Crescent.

—Brig Levi Stevens, from Boston for San Francisco, spoken September 24, off Cape Horn, reported five of her crew washed overboard the day previous in Straits of Lemaire.

Secure Profitable Investment.

THE
CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,
First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds.

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, represent the preferred claim upon one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD as it is the only link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense overland travel must pass, and the Main Trunk Line across the Continent.

The Road is now nearly completed from Sacramento to the Richest Mining Regions in the Salt Lake Basin, and is being rapidly carried forward by the largest force of laborers ever employed by any Railroad Company on this continent.

The natural, legitimate, commercial business of the road surpasses all previous expectation, and is profitable beyond parallel, even among the oldest roads in existence. The Earnings and Expenses for the Quarter ending Oct. 31, were as follows, IN GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS,	OPERATING EXPENSES,	NET EARNINGS,
$593,817 02	$102,086 61	$491,730 41

The result, however, would have been far greater but for the inability of wagon teams to forward the freight and passengers from the temporary terminus in the mountains.

The United States Government and the State and Cities of California have so aided and fostered the great Enterprise, that the Company will assume very light annual Interest obligations, and will have following ample Resources at command for the Construction:

DONATIONS in Lands, Bonds, Concessions, &c. (without lien)	$12,800,000
CAPITAL STOCK, Net Earnings, &c. (no lien)	11,000,000
LOANS (subordinate lien)	5,000,000
U. S. SUBSIDY BONDS, 725 miles, (subordinate lien)	25,517,000
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS	24,517,000
Resources first 725 miles	$77,834,000

The FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS are in sums $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are offered for sale, for the present, at 95 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st, in currency, at which rate they yield nearly NINE PER CENT. UPON THE INVESTMENT.

These Bonds, authorized by the Pacific Railroad Acts of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same extent only as the Bonds granted by the Government, and are the prior lien upon the whole valuable property furnished by the above Resources. The purpose special assurances and advantages over other Corporate Securities, and are destined to rank among THE BEST INVESTMENTS IN THE WORLD, from their unusual attractions of safety, soundness and profit.

CONVERSIONS OF GOVERNMENT SECURITIES INTO Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds,

now realize for the holders from 12 to 18 per cent. Advantage, with the same rate of interest.

Bonds can be obtained through the subscribers directly, or thro' responsible Banking agencies.

DIRECTIONS FOR MAKING YOUR OWN SOAP
WITH YOUR WASTE GREASE!
Penn'a Salt Mf'g Co.'s Renowned SAL SODA CONCENTRATED
SAPONIFIER:
(Patents of 1st and 8th March, 1859,) OR
CONCENTRATED LYE!

Two Cents only for every pound of Soap.

DIRECTIONS.—Dissolve one box of Lye in 2½ pounds (pints) of hot water, in an iron pot. Melt in another pot or pan 5 lbs. of clean fat or grease. Take off the fire, and into the latter slowly the dissolved lye, and keep stirring until the whole becomes well mixed and like molasses. Now cover up, and set in a warm place for about a week. Next day cut up into small pieces, add 6 lbs. (or pints) of water, and melt with a gentle heat until the soap is all dissolved, then pour into moulds to cool. When cold cut into bars, which will be fit to use in about ten days.

Beware of Counterfeits.—In particular to ask for PENN'A SALT MFG'G CO.'S SAPONIFIER. d1—cowdawly

AMERICAN
WALTHAM
WATCHES.

The true value of Machinery applied to Watchmaking is not that by its use watches are rapidly produced than they are perfectly correctly. Very few people know why a Waltham Watch should be superior to any other. In the first place, a Waltham Watch may be regarded as only a machine, to be constructed in accordance with correct, on mechanical principles. If the watches are good, it is because the machinery is good. Of course there must be no defect in the principle or plan of the movement—no mistake in the sizes or shapes of the pieces of which it is composed—nothing wanting in the symmetry of form and error in their positions. These points once thoroughly settled, it rests wholly with the machinery, constructed with infinite diversity of form and precision expressly for the purpose, to produce the finished pieces. By means of multiplying gauges and microscopes, tests and inspections to be made at each stage of the cutting tools, and for faults and flaws in steel or stone, are made to accompany the work in every stage, from beginning to end. As a necessary result, the watch goes together a perfect machine. Every part is formed to fit properly in its proper place, and no

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

THE REMEDY FOR CURING

Consumption, Asthma, Croup, Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppressions of the Chest or Lungs, Difficult Breathing, and all Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

Its action is expectorant, alterative sudorific, sedative, diaphoretic and diuretic, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm. CHANGES THE SECRETIONS and PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action and imparts strength to the whole system. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction, even in the most confirmed cases of consumption, and not to produce costiveness (as do most remedies) or effect the head, as it contains no opium in any form. It is PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, at though an active and powerful remedy for curing the system. There is no necessity for so many deaths by consumption, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will protect it, if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.
